than routine repair work shall be authorized by the Chief Administrative Officer or by the heads of departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer only after detailed estimates have been prepared and submitted by the head of the department concerned. Any public work or improvement costing less than $1,000 and not performed by the use of City and County labor, materials and supplies, shall, if not performed under contract, be covered by written order or agreement which shall be based on not less than three bids, notice of which shall be given by three days' posting.

It shall be the duty of the Controller to determine, where practicable, the unit cost of work done by the City and County for the purpose of determining whether similar work could be done under public contract at a lower cost.

The Controller shall maintain records of bids filed by departments in relation to the total direct and indirect cost of each such work and shall report thereon periodically to the Mayor and Chief Administrative Officer. The Controller may refuse to approve contracts with a department shown to be repeatedly underbidding on contract work and failing to complete same within the contract price.

Section 10. The Board of Supervisors hereby declares that in an actual emergency created by weather conditions, fire, flood, or other unforeseen conditions of unusual character, or the breakdown of any plant, equipment, structure, street or public work, necessitating immediate emergency repair or reconditioning to safeguard the lives or property of the citizens or the property of the City and County or to maintain the public health or welfare, such repair, reconditioning or other emergency work may be executed in the most expeditious manner by the department head responsible therefor, who shall, if the emergency permits, first secure the approval in writing of the Chief Administrative Officer, if the emergency work is to be done or ordered by any department under his jurisdiction or, for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer, the approval in writing of the president of the board or commission concerned, or of the Mayor. If the emergency does not permit such approval to be obtained before work is commenced said approval as hereinabove mentioned shall be obtained as soon thereafter as it is possible to do so.

The department head concerned shall notify the Controller immediately of the work involved and the estimated cost thereof.

Section 11. Whenever any preferential in favor of local manufacturers or industry is provided by state law or ordinance or resolution of the Board of Supervisors, the same shall apply to contracts under this ordinance.

Section 12. This ordinance does not affect or apply to street improvement work or to other public work, the cost or expense of which is or will be assessed in whole or in part against private property.

Section 13. All the terms and provisions of Section 98 of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco shall be applicable to and become a part of any and all contracts entered into pursuant to the terms and provisions of this ordinance.

Section 14. Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), approved January 6, 1932, is hereby repealed.

Explanation.

Present Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), approved January 6, 1932, was not workable for many reasons.

The title merely read "for public work or improvement to be performed at the expense of the City and County or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury or out of trust moneys under the control of or to be assessed, or to be collected by the City and County." This is in violation of the 1918 Improvement Act, which takes care of work performed under assessments.

The time limits provided in the original ordinance under Section 2 precluded a department from awarding a contract in case of an emergency.

Section 86 of the Charter provides that no expenditure can be made unless certificate of the Controller is first obtained. The present ordinance did not provide for this.

The present Charter provides methods of procedure for credits, modifications and extras. Present ordinance did not provide for this section.

Present ordinance provides for a certified check or certificate of deposit in amount not more than 10 per cent of the amount of bid. This has been changed to read "not less than 10 per cent." Present ordinance would have permitted a man to accompany his bid by a check of 1 per cent if the directing head was willing to approve same.

Present ordinance did not provide for inspection of work. This has been included in new ordinance.

The present ordinance prohibits an article or articles from being made in a prison. This has been changed to read "no article or articles furnished under contract made under the provisions of this ordinance shall have been made in a prison or by convict labor."

In the main, every section of the Charter pertaining to contracts for public work or improvements have been taken care of in the present ordinance. Meetings were held weekly for two months, which contractors, representatives of labor unions, Director of Works, manager of the utilities, and all interested in contract work, as well as the Controller, who sat in, in an advisory capacity, attended, and the ordinance as now drawn appeared to meet with the approval of all concerned. The City Attorney also sat in with the committee at all its meetings and approved such legislation.

This is a separation of the present ordinance and involves only what is in the title. It will necessarily be followed by another ordinance which will set up the procedure for the Purchaser of Supplies as this ordinance now sets up the procedure for the Department of Public Works, the Utilities Commission and others.

Copy of this ordinance has heretofore been sent to each member of the Board.

Respectfully submitted,
ANDREW J. GALLAGHER, Chairman,
Supervisors' Committee on Charter Installation.

Supervisor Gallagher requests Contract Procedure Ordinance be postponed three weeks.

Whereas, open violation of the law is apparent on all sides and enforcement is becoming less and less effective; and

Whereas, the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act have been primarily responsible for the condition of social unrest, disrespect for law, corruption in public office, domination by gangsters and racketeers, all tending to break down law and order, and with great injury to the moral and social life of our people; and

Whereas, under the present vicious system of uncontrolled liquor distribution great sums of money are diverted from legitimate and useful commerce to unlawful pursuits; and

Whereas, great agricultural industries in California are in a state of deplorable depression and farmers are in dire need; and

Whereas, modification of the law to permit the sale of light wines and beer will, through taxes to be imposed upon such activities, result in great benefit to the heavily burdened citizens; and

Whereas, the California Vineyardists' Association has joined with the American Legion, the American Federation of Labor, the American Bar Association, the American Medical Association, the Hotel Men's Association and many other great and representative organizations in a movement for the modification of the present drastic and unreasonable prohibition law; and

Whereas, it is clearly apparent that the majority of the American people are wholeheartedly in favor of a modification of the Volstead Act, and that the only difficulty in officially and authoritatively expressing their will for modification lies in the cumbersome and involved procedure necessary to effect a change by their own action; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Board of Supervisors, officially representing 650,000 people in the City and County of San Francisco, does now reaffirm its declaration of December 7, 1931, and does memorialize the President and Congress of the United States to:

1. Squarely and fairly meet the prohibition issue and to divorce the problem from political considerations.

2. Make an honest effort to comply with the wishes of the majority of the people on the prohibition question, and

3. Immediately lift the ban of Federal prohibition as to those products which are not in fact intoxicating.

Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the President and Vice-President of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to the members of the California delegation in Congress.

Buddy Poppies Sale.

Supervisor Roncovieri presented:

Resolution No. 205, as follows:

Whereas, the San Francisco County Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, will conduct their annual sale of "Poppies," a copyrighted product made in government hospitals by disabled veterans and purchased from these disabled veterans by this organization; and

Whereas, this "Poppy" sale will take place during the latter part of Memorial Week, ending May 30th, and the artificial flowers will be sold by volunteer and unemployed workers of the organization for the benefit of the welfare, relief and widows' and orphans' funds of the San Francisco County Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, which funds are dispensed throughout the year in cases of extreme distress; and

Whereas, this is a commendable project and all citizens who can afford to do so are asked to wear the "Poppy," which bears the tag, "Made by a Disabled Veteran"; and

Whereas, since the last sale of "Poppies" the sum of $5,000 in relief moneys was dispensed by the San Francisco County Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, among unemployed veterans, meals to the number of over 200,000 being served at the "Veterans of Foreign Wars Kitchen," 221 Fourteenth street. This worthy project was originally established by San Francisco Post No. 58 of the organization, later taken over by the San Francisco County Council in conjunction with other veteran groups and with donations of food amplified by the city employees' fund of the City and County of San Francisco. "The Kitchen" can be pointed to as one of the outstanding relief projects started as a result of the sale of "Poppies." The "barrel drive" for groceries recently held, whereby groceries were collected from various stores and distributed to worthy families, also was financed by "Poppy" funds.

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors in meeting assembled do hereby indorse the annual "Poppy" sale of the San Francisco County Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, and the American Legion Auxiliary, and do commend this worthy enterprise to the attention of the citizens for their support and consideration.

Purchaser of Supplies.

On recommendation of Supervisors' Committee on New Charter Installation.

Bill No. 76, Ordinance No. 9.0861, as follows:

Establishing a method by which materials, equipment, supplies and contractual services shall be purchased, and establishing the procedure for and regulating the entering into contract for supplies for the City and County, and repealing Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series).

Be it ordained by the people of the City and County of San Francisco, as follows:

Section 1. All departments shall file estimates of material, supplies equipment and contractual services at such times and in such manner as shall be determined upon by the Purchaser of Supplies. All purchases shall be made by the Purchaser of Supplies on requisition of the department desiring the same, except that for materials, supplies, equipment and contractual services in common use by more than one department, or used in large quantities by a department, the Purchaser of Supplies may purchase for stock on the basis of the total of such requisitions or estimates previously filed when approved by the Chief Administrative Officer.

All purchases in the open market, except for patented or proprietary articles and except for minor amounts, and except for fresh fruits and vegetables, shall be based on at least three quotations. The Purchaser of Supplies shall keep a record of such quotations and a register of all informal awards. All articles defined as "patented" or "proprietary" articles shall be listed and filed with the Chief Administrative Officer and the Controller, and the Purchaser may advertise for bids on the basis of specifications for such articles or other articles made and sold for the same purpose in accordance with the provisions of Section 88 of the Charter.

The Purchaser of Supplies, in cooperation with the officials of the several departments, shall provide for the standardization of materials, supplies and equipment in accordance with the use to which the various articles are to be put, and shall provide for adequate specifications for materials, supplies and equipment used in large quantities, or in common use by more than one department.

Section 2. When the expenditure involved shall exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), the Purchaser shall let such contract to the lowest reliable and responsible bidder not less than ten (10) days after completion of advertising by publication. Provided, that if the Purchaser of Supplies believes that the public interest would be best served by accepting other than the lowest gross price or unit cost bid, and the contract is entered into with another bidder, he shall make a written report to the Chief Administrative Officer, the Mayor and the Controller, with the reasons for failure to accept such lowest bid. Provided, further, that all contracts shall be awarded for materials, supplies, equipment and contractual services to the lowest reliable and responsible bidder only when the quality of the product offered and delivered is considered. Notice of award shall be published.

Section 3. The Purchaser of Supplies shall have power to sign any contract when the estimated expenditure thereunder is not in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00). Any contract involving the expenditure of over two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) shall require the joint approval of the Purchaser of Supplies and the Chief Administrative Officer, provided that no obligation involving the expenditure of money shall be incurred unless certification of the Controller is first obtained in accordance with Section 86 of the Charter.

Section 4. The Purchaser of Supplies, with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, may reject any and all bids and readvertise for bids. When bids are called for material, supplies, equipment and contractual services and no bid is received, or where all bids received are for the same total amount or unit price, the Purchaser of Supplies may purchase the commodities called for in the open market, provided, however, that the price paid in the open market shall not exceed any bid price received for the same commodities.

Section 5. In any case, when the expenditure for the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment or contractual services shall, as estimated by the Purchaser of Supplies, exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), the bids heretofore referred to shall be sealed, directed to the Purchaser of Supplies, and shall be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank in the City and County of San Francisco, payable on sight to the City and County of San Francisco, the amount of which shall be fixed by the Purchaser of Supplies and named in the advertisement, which amount shall not exceed ten per cent of the estimated cost of the materials, equipment, supplies or contractual services to be furnished, and shall not be less than the sum of one hundred dollars, provided that any regular or continual bidder may, in lieu of the certified check above mentioned, file a corporate surety bond, in an amount to be fixed by the Chief Administrative Officer and the Controller, to serve as surety for a period of one year that said bidder shall, during said period, enter into any and all contracts awarded to him on the basis of bids filed by him, and with provision for proper forfeiture under said bond in any case of failure, neglect or refusal so to do.

Notices inviting sealed bids under the conditions of this section must be published for two (2) consecutive days in the official newspaper and at least five (5) calendar days must intervene between the date of last publication and the time for filing such sealed bids or proposals. Such notices shall state in general terms the conditions of the proposed award, and if progressive payments are to be provided under any contract, in accordance with section 96 of the Charter or if any contract is to be let on the basis of a gross price or cost per unit of work to be performed, or on the basis of time of completion with liquidated damages for every day during which the contract is uncompleted beyond such specified date in accordance with section 97 of the Charter, such notice shall so state. Each advertisement for bids shall contain the reservation of the right to reject any and all bids.

All bids shall be filed on forms furnished by the Purchaser of Supplies, and all bids not so filed shall be rejected. All bids received as herein provided shall be opened by the Purchaser of Supplies at a time and place to be stated in the advertisement for proposals in the presence of all bidders who attend, and after tabulation bidders may inspect the bids. Bids with alterations or erasures therein shall be rejected. When specifications do not include alternative proposals, statements or communications accompanying bids which serve to qualify, such bids shall not be considered in making awards, and will disqualify bids on related items. All articles supplied shall be subject to inspection and rejection by the Purchaser of Supplies.

Section 6. In case of any contract for the purchase of materials, supplies or equipment or contractual services, the Purchaser of Supplies shall require a corporate surety bond in the sum of not less than ten per cent of the aggregate award, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract.

The Controller shall approve the sufficiency and qualifications of all sureties as required under the provisions of this ordinance.

If any bidder to whom the contract is awarded under the provisions of this section shall for ten (10) days after such award fail or neglect to enter into the contract and file the required bond, the Purchaser of Supplies shall deposit such certified check in the Treasury for collection and the amount thereof shall be retained by the City and County as liquidated damages for the failure of said bidder to enter into said contracts and under no circumstances shall the certified check be returned to such defaulting bidder, and if the bidder's obligation to enter into said contract is evidenced by a continuing bond, said Purchaser of Supplies shall determine the amount of forfeiture thereunder, which shall be not less than the specified amount of certified check required in the call for bids; provided, however, that upon the recommendation of the Purchaser of Supplies, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, the Board of Supervisors, by resolution, may approve the return of said check.

Each contractor must save, keep, bear harmless and fully indemnify the City and County and any of its officers or agents from all damages, or claims for damages, costs, or expenses in law or equity that may at any time arise or be set up for any infringement of the patent rights, copyright or trademark of any person or persons in consequence of the use by the City and County, or any of its officers or agents, of articles to be supplied under said contract and of which the contractor is not the patentee or assignee or has not the lawful right to sell the same.

Section 7. When a contractor fails to deliver an article of the quality he has contracted to furnish within the time specified in his bid, such article may be bought in the open market by the Purchaser of Supplies and if a greater price than that named in the contract be paid for such article, the excess price will be charged to and collected from the contractor or the sureties on his bond.

No article or articles furnished under any contract made under the provisions of this ordinance shall have been made in a prison or by convict labor.

No contract shall be assigned except upon the approval of the Purchaser of Supplies.

The Purchaser of Supplies shall require from all bidders information concerning their experience and financial qualifications, as provided by general law relative to such investigations authorized by departments of public works, and shall take such information into consideration in the award of any contract.

All contracts shall be executed in triplicate: the original to be retained by the Purchaser of Supplies; one copy to be filed with the Controller, and one copy to be given to the contractor.

Any contractor who fails to live up to the terms of his contract may, by the joint action of the Purchaser of Supplies and the Controller, be declared an irresponsible contractor, and shall not for a period of one year be awarded any further contract unless on the joint action of the Purchaser of Supplies and the Controller such disqualification is removed.

Section 8. The Purchaser of Supplies shall establish rules and regulations for the purpose of this ordinance. Department heads may make emergency purchases of materials and supplies with the consent of and in accordance with the rules established by the Purchaser of Supplies, but no such purchase shall be in greater amount than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars.

Section 9. Wherever any preferential in favor of local manufacturers or industry is provided by state law or ordinance or resolution of this Board of Supervisors the same shall apply to contracts under this ordinance.

Section 10. All the terms and provisions of section 98 of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco shall be applicable to and become a part of any and all contracts entered into pursuant to the terms and provisions of this ordinance.

Section 11. Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

EXPLANATION.

This ordinance must be finally passed with the Contract Procedure Ordinance, now pending on final passage, since the provisions of both ordinances are contained in Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), now in effect and hereby repealed.

Budget Proceedings

April 30, 1932.

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco.

Gentlemen: Pursuant to Section 72 of the Charter I am transmitting herewith the annual Budget for the fiscal year 1932-1933.

The most scrupulous care has been exercised by me to the end that the Budget for the coming fiscal year be kept as low as possible without impairing the efficiency of our City government.

I do not consider that adding to the army of unemployed by discharging needed workers from their positions tends to improve our financial status. Neither do I believe that lowering the standard of wages is a constructive solution of our problem. Both of these policies merely emphasize the economic stringency. In my opinion our most earnest efforts should be devoted to the creation of payroll; to the inauguration of needed public improvements that will employ large numbers of our citizens; to the encouragement and protection of private enterprise; to cooperation of Federal, State and municipal agencies in the adoption of a unified program of development and a unified program of relief while the emergency continues. I have felt it incumbent on me to confine my efforts to limiting expenditures to meet the present economic conditions.

You will note, upon a close examination of this Budget, in comparison with that of the fiscal year 1931-1932, that there has been a substantial decrease in the allowance to many departments, totaling approximately $1,000,000.

San Francisco is not wanting in the measures adopted for relief. The following is a list of the amounts that are applied directly to caring for those in distress:

(A)	Laguna Honda Home	$ 494,545
(B)	City and County Hospital	1,043,556
(C)	Emergency Hospitals	196,754
(D)	Relief of the blind	85,000
(E)	Relief of the aged	325,000
(F)	Relief of widows and orphans	180,000
(G)	Feeble-minded Home	130,000
(H)	Maintenance of minors	650,000
(I)	Relief of unemployed	1,000,000
	Total	$4,104,855

The following increases in mandatory items are included in the Budget:

Bond interest and redemption	$327,628
Golden Gate bridge judgment	23,437
Tax judgments	15,050
Playgrounds	102,200
War Memorial	70,000
Total	$538,315

When we consider that the Budget for the Department of Health has been maintained at a figure lower than for the fiscal year 1931-32, and at the same time provision made for taking care of 160 additional patients in the County Hospital and 150 additional patients in the Relief Home, or a net increase in both institutions of approximately 12 per cent, it will, I think, be realized that we look forward to a degree of increased efficiency and marked economy in the conduct of these institutions.

The same applies to every other department of the City government. We have not decreased the appropriation of the County Welfare Department, because we anticipate that there will be more urgent need of relief during the coming winter than heretofore existed. I have not been motivated by the desire to secure economy at the expense of a humane recognition of the rights of our citizens in distress to the means that are necessary for livelihood.

Much of the expenditure for relief would be obviated were it possible to employ those who are able and willing to work and to whom the forced acceptance of charity is abhorrent.

The stress of work incident to the adoption of the new Charter and the preparation for the first time in our City's history of a balanced Budget have made it physically impossible to present an absolutely accurate picture of our financial status for the coming fiscal year. So this Budget is presented with a view to possible subsequent revision.

The fate of the Hetch Hetchy bond election, which will be decided tomorrow, will have a marked influence on our finances for the coming fiscal year, and if the bonds fail to carry we must provide maintenance charges for our tunnels amounting to possibly $1,000,000 a year. The $250,000 which we must pay to the Federal government under the terms of the Raker Act must be met.

I am pleased to report that there has been practically no increase in tax payment delinquencies during the past fiscal year. Our tax rate will continue to be maintained as the lowest of any city of equal size in the United States.

Our Police Department, which has maintained a splendid reputation for preventing organized crime, will be maintained at its present high degree of efficiency. To decrease the personnel of this department to an appreciable extent would be to invite the gangster and racketeer to make San Francisco their headquarters. This element now fully realizes that San Francisco has no place for the undesirable citizen with criminal proclivities.

To decrease the standard and efficiency of our Fire Department would reflect itself in an increase of insurance rates and jeopardize the lives of our citizens.

Certain expenditures are mandatory under the new Charter. These include a minimum of 10 cents on the tax rate for the maintenance of our park system; a minimum of 7 cents for playground development and maintenance; a minimum of 4 cents for library upkeep and maintenance. The Budget recommendation for the Park of $793,000 and the Recreation Department of $555,100 is based on the assessment roll of 1931-1932; providing, that should the assessment roll for 1932-1933 show a decrease, the maximum allowed to the Park will be not over 10 cents and for the Department of Recreation not over 7 cents, as provided in the Charter as a minimum requisite. I have specified, however, that the pension provision for City employees in these departments be paid out of the mandatory allotments for park, playground and library maintenance. Heretofore the pension allowance was over and above the minimum provision specified in the Charter.

Care of the aged, the blind and indigent has been amply assured by the allowances to the various departments affected. No reduction has been made for street lighting, it being my intention to supply additional lights where needed in outlying districts and decrease the number on thoroughfares that are over-illuminated. The maintenance of our streets, of our sewers, of our public buildings will not be diminished in efficiency.

The drastic changes necessitated by the new Charter have, in my opinion, proven advantageous to the development of our community. While no human document of this character is perfect, and inevitably modifications must be introduced, I believe that our new Charter has proven effective toward attaining the goal for which our City is striving, namely: the most efficient type of city government at the absolute minimum of cost to the taxpayer. Despite the fact that the new Charter has been in effect for but three months, San Francisco's affairs are now being conducted on a better business basis than prevailed under our former charter.

To summarize, the amount of money to be raised by taxes in the 1931-1932 Budget was $32,618,563; the amount to be raised from taxes, including intangibles, for 1932-1933 is $32,430,118. This saving has been made despite the fact that a minimum of $1,000,000 is recommended in the 1932-1933 Budget for relief of the needy, as against $700,000 provided in the Budget for the present fiscal year.

Also an emergency fund of $300,000 is provided in the Budget for the coming fiscal year, as against an emergency fund of $100,000 for the present fiscal year. Most of this emergency fund could be devoted to relief should the emergency become critical enough to warrant such additional expenditure.

At this time I take occasion to call to the attention of your honorable Board and to the citizens at large the generosity with which municipal employees have committed themselves to a contribution of $1,500,000 for relief purposes. This subscription has been entirely voluntary and merits the gratitude not only of those who will be the recipients of relief but also the thanks of the overburdened taxpayer.

As stated in the first paragraph of this message, the Charter provides that the Mayor submit "the estimated tax rate required by such proposed Budget." Accordingly, under date of April 29th, I addressed the following letter to Hon. Russell Wolden, Assessor of the City and County of San Francisco:

"In conformity with Section 72 of the Charter of the City and County, it is necessary that the Mayor transmit to the Board of Supervisors with the City Budget an estimate as to the probable tax rate for the coming fiscal year.

"To comply with this provision it is essential that I have from you an estimate as to what will be the assessment roll for the fiscal year 1932-1933.

"Will you kindly furnish me this information forthwith, as my Budget must be transmitted to the Board of Supervisors before May 1st."

On the same date I received the following reply from Assessor Wolden:

"Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of April 29th, in which you request 'an estimate as to what will be the assessment roll for the fiscal year 1932-1933'."

"It is impossible for me to submit the estimate requested.

"Under the State law the Assessor has from the first Monday of March to the first Monday of August to compile the assessment roll.

That period totals 147 days. In that time the Assessor must value, for taxation purposes, 156,000 parcels of land, 125,000 buildings and in excess of 250,000 personal property declarations. When you realize that only 54 days have elapsed since the first Monday of March, you will appreciate the manifest impossibility of submitting, at this time, an estimate of a total that will not be established until another 90 days have elapsed.

"I recognize your obligation under Section 72 of the Charter to submit with your Budget 'the estimated tax rate required by such proposed Budget,' but I am constrained to believe that the section in question imposes an obligation on you that is impossible of intelligent fulfillment.

"My present reluctance to submit an assessment roll estimate is in strict consonance with past practice.

"On July 2, 1928 (in an official communication addressed to the Board of Supervisors at the time that the assessment roll was being transmitted to them), I deemed it advisable to notify the Board of Supervisors that in the future the Assessor would be forced to decline to submit estimates of assessment roll totals.

"In a period of economic stress, such as the present, when all known standards of value are distorted, it would, in my opinion, be economically unsound to submit an assessment roll estimate; and I must, with all due respect to you, your Honor, refrain from so doing."

From this correspondence you will appreciate that the only logical basis for an estimated tax rate for the coming fiscal year will be to assume, for the sake of comparison, the same assessment roll for 1932-1933 as for 1931-1932.

On the basis of this assumption our tax rate for the coming fiscal year would be $4.02 per $100 of assessed valuation, as against $4.04, our present tax rate.

Should there be a noticeable decrease in our assessment roll, your attention is called to the following excerpt from the letter of the Controller, dated April 30, 1932, transmitting the Annual Appropriation Ordinance:

"This Budget ordinance presents a radical departure from anything that has heretofore been attempted in San Francisco, or, in fact, in budgetary procedure generally, in that the Controller, subject to the approval of the Mayor, is empowered to establish budgetary allotments by months or by quarters, and that he may, based upon periodic resurveys of all anticipated receipts, withhold approval of contemplated expenditures until assured that collection of estimated receipts will be made in sufficient amounts to balance expenditures. Adoption of this procedure will constitute a most valuable check against overspending, or a loss in revenue due to a reduction in the assessment roll, and insure the successful carrying out of the year's financial program."

Adoption of this procedure will enable the Controller, with the approval of the Mayor, to reduce the allotment for expenditures should the necessary revenues not be realized as anticipated.

I do not believe that the minimum appropriation of $1,000,000 for the needy should be reduced. In the event that the emergency becomes graver, and present indications point to that as a probability, it will be necessary for me to make a recommendation for an increased appropriation for relief.

The work of the preparation of this Budget, together with the detail of changing the procedure from the provisions of the old charter to the new have involved an amount of labor on the part of every department head, which I know the City recognizes with gratitude. I also sincerely thank the civic organizations which day after day and night after night for the past six weeks have met in my office with helpful suggestions for various economies and needed alterations. I appreciate this spirit of general cooperation, without which it would have been impossible for the Mayor or the City administration to function effectively in advancing San Francisco to the destiny to which its natural advantages entitle our City.

Respectfully,

ANGELO J. ROSSI, Mayor.

(N. B. Budget referred to is now in the hands of the Board.)

The following appropriation ordinance was presented by the Mayor of San Francisco to the Board of Supervisors on May 2, 1932.

J. S. DUNNIGAN,

Annual Appropriation Ordinance, 1932-33.

(Code No. 9.051)

Bill No. 75, Ordinance No. 9.05116, as follows:

An ordinance appropriating all estimated receipts and all estimated expenditures of the City and County of San Francisco for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. The several amounts of estimated receipts, income and revenue enumerated herein are hereby provided for and appropriated to the several funds and/or departments indicated in this ordinance for the purpose of meeting appropriations herein provided. Such estimated receipts, revenue and income are computed on the accrual basis and cash received in payment thereof either before or after the close of the fiscal year shall not be considered as income or revenue but as payment on account.

The several amounts of proposed expenditure for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, are hereby appropriated to the several funds and/or departments as enumerated herein. Each department for which an expenditure appropriation is herein made shall be authorized to use the amount of moneys so appropriated for the purposes specified in this appropriation ordinance subject to the limitations provided herein.

Appropriations for bond interest or redemption, fixed charges and other appropriations not allocated to a specific department shall be subject to the administration of and expenditure by the Chief Administrative Officer, for the respective purposes for which such appropriations are made.

Liabilities incurred and expenditures made under expenditure appropriations herein enumerated shall in no case exceed the amount of each such appropriation, unless the same shall have been increased by supplemental appropriations made in the manner provided by Section 80 of the Charter. Liabilities incurred and expenditures made for permanent employments shall in no case exceed the number of, and the salary or wage for, employments in each class as enumerated in the annual salary ordinance, except as additional employments may be authorized under the provisions of the Charter.

Where appropriations are made for specific projects or purposes which may involve the payment of salaries or wages, the head of the department to which such appropriation is made, or the head of a department authorized by contract or interdepartmental order to make expenditures from each such appropriation, shall file with the Controller, when requested, an estimate of the amount of any such expenditures to be made during the ensuing period.

Items of proposed expenditure that are designated herein as appropriated for the use of a department only to the extent that fees or other revenues are collectible therefor, or reimbursement is recollectible in full from the departments, persons or institutions for which the service is rendered, shall be subject to limitation by the Controller to the amount of such receipts or collections. Each department head to whom such a provisional appropriation is made shall file with the Controller monthly an estimate in detail of the proposed expenditures for the ensuing period, also a statement of the amount of expenditures made and the receipts or reimbursements received or receivable since the last report.

The term "department" as used in this ordinance shall mean department, bureau, office, utility, board, or commission, as the case may be. The term "department head" as used herein shall be as defined in Section 20 of the Charter.

Section 2. The Controller is hereby authorized and directed to set up appropriate accounts, as provided by Section 76 of the Charter, for the items of receipts and expenditures appropriated herein, subject to the provisions of the Charter dealing with the appropriation and transfer of funds, the certification of obligations and the payment of warrants.

Section 3. The sums appropriated by this appropriation ordinance to the several departments shall be expended in accordance with a schedule of allotments, monthly or quarterly as determined by the Controller, and agreed to by the Mayor for departments under his jurisdiction and/or the Chief Administrative Officer.

The Controller in issuing warrants or in certifying contracts or purchase orders or other encumbrances, pursuant to Section 89 of the Charter, shall consider only the allotted portions of appropriation items to be available for encumbrance or expenditure, and shall not approve the incurring of liability on any allotment in excess of the amount of such allotment. In case of emergency or unusual circumstance which could not be anticipated at the time of apportionment, an additional allotment for a period may be made on the recommendation of the department head and that of the Mayor or Chief Administrative Officer and the approval of the Controller.

The several items of expenditure appropriated to the several departments being based upon estimated receipts, income, or revenues which may not be fully realized, it shall be incumbent upon the Controller to revise estimates monthly. If such revised estimates indicate a potential shortage, the Controller may hold in reserve an equivalent amount of the expenditure appropriations set forth herein until the collection of the amounts as originally estimated is assured.

Section 4. After the allotment schedule has been established or fixed, as heretofore provided, it shall be unlawful for any department or officer to expend or cause to be expended a sum greater than the amount set forth for the particular activity in the said allotment schedule so established, unless an additional allotment is made, as provided in Section 3.

Section 5. The existing special and trust funds are hereby continued, and the receipts in, and expenditures from, each such fund are hereby appropriated in accordance with law and the conditions under which each such fund was established.

The Controller is authorized to set up additional special and trust funds as they may be created by additional bequests or other conditions.

Section 6. The several amounts of estimated receipts herein appropriated, and each fund or department to which such appropriation is made, are as follows:

BUDGET PROCEEDINGS

The following matters were continued until public hearing, Tuesday, May 17, 1932, at 10 a. m.:

April 30, 1932.

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco.

Gentlemen: Pursuant to Section 72 of the Charter I am transmitting herewith the annual Budget for the fiscal year 1932-1933.

The most scrupulous care has been exercised by me to the end that the Budget for the coming fiscal year be kept as low as possible without impairing the efficiency of our City government.

I do not consider that adding to the army of unemployed by discharging needed workers from their positions tends to improve our financial status. Neither do I believe that lowering the standard of wages is a constructive solution of our problem. Both of these policies merely emphasize the economic stringency. In my opinion our most earnest efforts should be devoted to the creation of payroll; to the inauguration of needed public improvements that will employ large numbers of our citizens; to the encouragement and protection of private enterprise; to cooperation of Federal, State and municipal agencies in the adoption of a unified program of development and a unified program of relief while the emergency continues. I have felt it incumbent on me to confine my efforts to limiting expenditures to meet the present economic conditions.

You will note, upon a close examination of this Budget, in comparison with that of the fiscal year 1931-1932, that there has been a substantial decrease in the allowance to many departments, totaling approximately $1,000,000.

San Francisco is not wanting in the measures adopted for relief. The following is a list of the amounts that are applied directly to caring for those in distress:

(A)	Laguna Honda Home	$ 494,545
(B)	City and County Hospital	1,043,556
(C)	Emergency Hospitals	196,754
(D)	Relief of the blind	85,000
(E)	Relief of the aged	325,000
(F)	Relief of widows and orphans	180,000
(G)	Feeble-minded Home	130,000
(H)	Maintenance of minors	650,000
(I)	Relief of unemployed	1,000,000
	Total	$4,104,855

The following increases in mandatory items are included in the Budget:

Bond interest and redemption	$327,628
Golden Gate bridge judgment	23,437
Tax judgments	15,050
Playgrounds	102,200
War Memorial	70,000
Total	$538,315

When we consider that the Budget for the Department of Health has been maintained at a figure lower than for the fiscal year 1931-32, and at the same time provision made for taking care of 160 additional patients in the County Hospital and 150 additional patients in the Relief Home, or a net increase in both institutions of approximately 12 per cent, it will, I think, be realized that we look forward to a degree of increased efficiency and marked economy in the conduct of these institutions.

The same applies to every other department of the City government. We have not decreased the appropriation of the County Welfare Department, because we anticipate that there will be more urgent need of relief during the coming winter than heretofore existed. I have not been motivated by the desire to secure economy at the expense of a humane recognition of the rights of our citizens in distress to the means that are necessary for livelihood.

Much of the expenditure for relief would be obviated were it possible to employ those who are able and willing to work and to whom the forced acceptance of charity is abhorrent.

The stress of work incident to the adoption of the new Charter and the preparation for the first time in our City's history of a balanced Budget have made it physically impossible to present an absolutely accurate picture of our financial status for the coming fiscal year. So this Budget is presented with a view to possible subsequent revision.

The fate of the Hetch Hetchy bond election, which will be decided tomorrow, will have a marked influence on our finances for the coming fiscal year, and if the bonds fail to carry we must provide maintenance charges for our tunnels amounting to possibly $1,000,000 a year. The $250,000 which we must pay to the Federal government under the terms of the Raker Act must be met.

I am pleased to report that there has been practically no increase in tax payment delinquencies during the past fiscal year. Our tax rate will continue to be maintained as the lowest of any city of equal size in the United States.

Our Police Department, which has maintained a splendid reputation for preventing organized crime, will be maintained at its present high degree of efficiency. To decrease the personnel of this department to an appreciable extent would be to invite the gangster and racketeer to make San Francisco their headquarters. This element now fully realizes that San Francisco has no place for the undesirable citizen with criminal proclivities.

To decrease the standard and efficiency of our Fire Department would reflect itself in an increase of insurance rates and jeopardize the lives of our citizens.

Certain expenditures are mandatory under the new Charter. These include a minimum of 10 cents on the tax rate for the maintenance of our park system; a minimum of 7 cents for playground development and maintenance; a minimum of 4 cents for library upkeep and maintenance. The Budget recommendation for the Park of $793,000 and the Recreation Department of $555,100 is based on the assessment roll of 1931-1932; providing, that should the assessment roll for 1932-1933 show a decrease, the maximum allowed to the Park will be not over 10 cents and for the Department of Recreation not over 7 cents, as provided in the Charter as a minimum requisite. I have specified, however, that the pension provision for City employees in these departments be paid out of the mandatory allotments for park, playground and library maintenance. Heretofore the pension allowance was over and above the minimum provision specified in the Charter.

Care of the aged, the blind and indigent has been amply assured by the allowances to the various departments affected. No reduction has been made for street lighting, it being my intention to supply additional lights where needed in outlying districts and decrease the number on thoroughfares that are over-illuminated. The maintenance of our streets, of our sewers, of our public buildings will not be diminished in efficiency.

The drastic changes necessitated by the new Charter have, in my opinion, proven advantageous to the development of our community. While no human document of this character is perfect, and inevitably modifications must be introduced, I believe that our new Charter has proven effective toward attaining the goal for which our City is striving, namely: the most efficient type of city government at the absolute minimum of cost to the taxpayer. Despite the fact that the new Charter has been in effect for but three months, San Francisco's affairs are now being conducted on a better business basis than prevailed under our former charter.

To summarize, the amount of money to be raised by taxes in the 1931-1932 Budget was $32,618,563; the amount to be raised from taxes, including intangibles, for 1932-1933 is $32,430,118. This saving has been made despite the fact that a minimum of $1,000,000 is recommended in the 1932-1933 Budget for relief of the needy, as against $700,000 provided in the Budget for the present fiscal year.

Also an emergency fund of $300,000 is provided in the Budget for the coming fiscal year, as against an emergency fund of $100,000 for the present fiscal year. Most of this emergency fund could be devoted to relief should the emergency become critical enough to warrant such additional expenditure.

At this time I take occasion to call to the attention of your honorable Board and to the citizens at large the generosity with which municipal employees have committed themselves to a contribution of $1,500,000 for relief purposes. This subscription has been entirely voluntary and merits the gratitude not only of those who will be the recipients of relief but also the thanks of the overburdened taxpayer.

As stated in the first paragraph of this message, the Charter provides that the Mayor submit "the estimated tax rate required by such proposed Budget." Accordingly, under date of April 29th, I addressed the following letter to Hon. Russell Wolden, Assessor of the City and County of San Francisco:

"In conformity with Section 72 of the Charter of the City and County, it is necessary that the Mayor transmit to the Board of Supervisors with the City Budget an estimate as to the probable tax rate for the coming fiscal year.

"To comply with this provision it is essential that I have from you an estimate as to what will be the assessment roll for the fiscal year 1932-1933.

"Will you kindly furnish me this information forthwith, as my Budget must be transmitted to the Board of Supervisors before May 1st."

On the same date I received the following reply from Assessor Wolden:

"Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of April 29th, in which you request 'an estimate as to what will be the assessment roll for the fiscal year 1932-1933'."

"It is impossible for me to submit the estimate requested.

"Under the State law the Assessor has from the first Monday of March to the first Monday of August to compile the assessment roll. That period totals 147 days. In that time the Assessor must value, for taxation purposes, 156,000 parcels of land, 125,000 buildings and in excess of 250,000 personal property declarations. When you realize that only 54 days have elapsed since the first Monday of March, you will appreciate the manifest impossibility of submitting, at this time, an estimate of a total that will not be established until another 90 days have elapsed.

"I recognize your obligation under Section 72 of the Charter to submit with your Budget 'the estimated tax rate required by such proposed Budget,' but I am constrained to believe that the section in question imposes an obligation on you that is impossible of intelligent fulfillment.

"My present reluctance to submit an assessment roll estimate is in strict consonance with past practice.

"On July 2, 1928 (in an official communication addressed to the Board of Supervisors at the time that the assessment roll was being transmitted to them), I deemed it advisable to notify the Board of Supervisors that in the future the Assessor would be forced to decline to submit estimates of assessment roll totals.

"In a period of economic stress, such as the present, when all known standards of value are distorted, it would, in my opinion, be economically unsound to submit an assessment roll estimate; and I must, with all due respect to you, your Honor, refrain from so doing."

From this correspondence you will appreciate that the only logical basis for an estimated tax rate for the coming fiscal year will be to assume, for the sake of comparison, the same assessment roll for 1932-1933 as for 1931-1932.

On the basis of this assumption our tax rate for the coming fiscal year would be $4.02 per $100 of assessed valuation, as against $4.04, our present tax rate.

Should there be a noticeable decrease in our assessment roll, your attention is called to the following excerpt from the letter of the Controller, dated April 30, 1932, transmitting the Annual Appropriation Ordinance:

"This Budget ordinance presents a radical departure from anything that has heretofore been attempted in San Francisco, or, in fact, in budgetary procedure generally, in that the Controller, subject to the approval of the Mayor, is empowered to establish budgetary allotments by months or by quarters, and that he may, based upon periodic resurveys of all anticipated receipts, withhold approval of contemplated expenditures until assured that collection of estimated receipts will be made in sufficient amounts to balance expenditures. Adoption of this procedure will constitute a most valuable check against overspending, or a loss in revenue due to a reduction in the assessment roll, and insure the successful carrying out of the year's financial program."

Adoption of this procedure will enable the Controller, with the approval of the Mayor, to reduce the allotment for expenditures should the necessary revenues not be realized as anticipated.

I do not believe that the minimum appropriation of $1,000,000 for the needy should be reduced. In the event that the emergency becomes graver, and present indications point to that as a probability, it will be necessary for me to make a recommendation for an increased appropriation for relief.

The work of the preparation of this Budget, together with the detail of changing the procedure from the provisions of the old charter to the new have involved an amount of labor on the part of every department head, which I know the City recognizes with gratitude. I also sincerely thank the civic organizations which day after day and night after night for the past six weeks have met in my office with helpful suggestions for various economies and needed alterations. I appreciate this spirit of general cooperation, without which it would have been impossible for the Mayor or the City administration to function effectively in advancing San Francisco to the destiny to which its natural advantages entitle our City.

Respectfully,
ANGELO J. ROSSI, Mayor.

(N. B. Budget estimates referred to is now in the hands of the Board.)

The following appropriation ordinance was presented by the Mayor of San Francisco to the Board of Supervisors on May 2, 1932.

J. S. DUNNIGAN,

Annual Appropriation Ordinance, 1932-33.
(Code No. 9.051)

Bill No. 75, Ordinance No. 9.05116, as follows:

An ordinance appropriating all estimated receipts and all estimated expenditures of the City and County of San Francisco for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. The several amounts of estimated receipts, income and revenue enumerated herein are hereby provided for and appropriated to the several funds and/or departments indicated in this ordinance for the purpose of meeting appropriations herein provided. Such estimated receipts, revenue and income are computed on the accrual basis and cash received in payment thereof either before or after the close of the fiscal year shall not be considered as income or revenue but as payment on account.

The several amounts of proposed expenditure for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, are hereby appropriated to the several funds and/or departments as enumerated herein. Each department for which an expenditure appropriation is herein made shall be authorized to use the amount of moneys so appropriated for the purposes specified in this appropriation ordinance subject to the limitations provided herein.

Appropriations for bond interest or redemption, fixed charges and other appropriations not allocated to a specific department shall be subject to the administration of and expenditure by the Chief Administrative Officer, for the respective purposes for which such appropriations are made.

Liabilities incurred and expenditures made under expenditure appropriations herein enumerated shall in no case exceed the amount of each such appropriation, unless the same shall have been increased by supplemental appropriations made in the manner provided by Section 80 of the Charter. Liabilities incurred and expenditures made for permanent employments shall in no case exceed the number of, and the salary or wage for, employments in each class as enumerated in the annual salary ordinance, except as additional employments may be authorized under the provisions of the Charter.

Where appropriations are made for specific projects or purposes which may involve the payment of salaries or wages, the head of the department to which such appropriation is made, or the head of a department authorized by contract or interdepartmental order to make expenditures from each such appropriation, shall file with the Controller, when requested, an estimate of the amount of any such expenditures to be made during the ensuing period.

Items of proposed expenditure that are designated herein as appropriated for the use of a department only to the extent that fees or other revenues are collectible therefor, or reimbursement is recollectible in full from the departments, persons or institutions for which the service is rendered, shall be subject to limitation by the Controller to the amount of such receipts or collections. Each department head to whom such a provisional appropriation is made shall file with the Controller monthly an estimate in detail of the proposed expenditures for the ensuing period, also a statement of the amount of expenditures made and the receipts or reimbursements received or receivable since the last report.

The term "department" as used in this ordinance shall mean department, bureau, office, utility, board, or commission, as the case may be. The term "department head" as used herein shall be as defined in Section 20 of the Charter.

Section 2. The Controller is hereby authorized and directed to set up appropriate accounts, as provided by Section 76 of the Charter, for the items of receipts and expenditures appropriated herein, subject to the provisions of the Charter dealing with the appropriation and transfer of funds, the certification of obligations and the payment of warrants.

Section 3. The sums appropriated by this appropriation ordinance to the several departments shall be expended in accordance with a schedule of allotments, monthly or quarterly as determined by the Controller, and agreed to by the Mayor for departments under his jurisdiction and/or the Chief Administrative Officer.

The Controller in issuing warrants or in certifying contracts or purchase orders or other encumbrances, pursuant to Section 89 of the Charter, shall consider only the allotted portions of appropriation items to be available for encumbrance or expenditure, and shall not approve the incurring of liability on any allotment in excess of the amount of such allotment. In case of emergency or unusual circumstance which could not be anticipated at the time of apportionment, an additional allotment for a period may be made on the recommendation of the department head and that of the Mayor or Chief Administrative Officer and the approval of the Controller.

The several items of expenditure appropriated to the several departments being based upon estimated receipts, income, or revenues which may not be fully realized, it shall be incumbent upon the Controller to revise estimates monthly. If such revised estimates indicate a potential shortage, the Controller may hold in reserve an equivalent amount of the expenditure appropriations set forth herein until the collection of the amounts as originally estimated is assured.

Section 4. After the allotment schedule has been established or fixed, as heretofore provided, it shall be unlawful for any department or officer to expend or cause to be expended a sum greater than the amount set forth for the particular activity in the said allotment schedule so established, unless an additional allotment is made, as provided in Section 3.

Section 5. The existing special and trust funds are hereby continued, and the receipts in, and expenditures from, each such fund are hereby appropriated in accordance with law and the conditions under which each such fund was established.

The Controller is authorized to set up additional special and trust funds as they may be created by additional bequests or other conditions.

Section 6. The several amounts of estimated receipts herein appropriated, and each fund or department to which such appropriation is made, are as follows:

In Memoriam—Captain Robert Dollar.
(Code No. 5.91)

Resolution No. 230, as follows:

Whereas, Captain Robert Dollar, Pioneer of the Pacific, who was born to the era of the white spread of canvas and who furthered each advance in ocean transport, has passed to his haven; and

Whereas, most significant and inspiring in the life of "The Grand Old Man of the Pacific" was his rise from humble environment by individual effort, indefatigable industry, and an integrity of principle that never faltered, to a position that ranked with that of any man of his generation; and

Whereas, the establishment and maintenance of business interests in Oriental markets reflected his confidence in the growth of the Pacific trade and his faith that San Francisco had a magnificent future because of it; and

Whereas, this pioneer shipowner of the Pacific Coast has enriched the colorful history of the State of California as a leader in civic and commercial activities; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Board of Supervisors does hereby publicly express its genuine sorrow at the passing of Captain Robert Dollar, whose maritime conquests glorified San Francisco and made shipping history to perpetuate his fame; and be it Further Resolved, That this resolution be spread on the minutes of this meeting and a copy be sent to the family of the late Captain Robert Dollar.

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Brown, Canepa, Colman, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, McSheehy, Miles, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Spaulding, Stanton—15.

Urging Congress to Enact a Statute Imposing a Severe Penalty for the Crime of Kidnaping.
(Code No. 5.2)

Resolution No. 226, as follows:

Whereas, on the night of March 1, 1932, at Hopewell, New Jersey, Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., the son of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, one of the nation's most distinguished and honored citizens, was taken from his crib in a condition of ill health and spirited away from the bosom of his adoring family; and

Whereas, this most appalling and unfortunate event has focused the attention of the entire world upon a consideration of the gravity of the crime involved; and

Whereas, the despicable act of kidnaping far surpasses in its heart-rending effects the commission of any other crime, in that it causes untold and incessant mental anguish through speculation as to the victim's fate; it suppresses the freedom of other children, whose parents are justifiably apprehensive for their safety; it looks for monetary enhancement to the purest and noblest of sentiment—the irresistible love for her baby with which the Almighty has charged every mother, and it seeks for its prey the most innocent, the most inoffensive, the most helpless and the most favored of God's creatures; and

Whereas, the act of kidnaping, when perpetrated by a rational person, has not one scintilla of justification under any conceivable circumstances; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Board of Supervisors does hereby memorialize Congress and does urge that body to enact a statute (the terms of which shall be strictly construed by the judiciary) imposing a severe penalty upon those guilty of kidnaping where done under such circumstances as to give the Federal authorities jurisdiction; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States, the Vice-President, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to the members of the California delegation in Congress.

Adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Brown, Canepa, Colman, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, McSheehy, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Spalding, Stanton—13.

Absent—Supervisors Miles, Shannon—2.

PUBLIC HEARING ON BUDGET.

Adolph Uhl was granted the privilege of the floor and read the following statement:

Board of Supervisors, City and County of San Francisco.

Gentlemen: I respectfully urge the adoption by your honorable Board of the following economies, aggregating $1,019,408, and thereby a reduction in the tax rate of approximately 15 cents:

	Saving
1. One chauffeur for the Mayor in place of two	$ 2,400
2. Refusal to increase salary of Mayor's senior clerk stenographer from $175 to $225	600
3. Reduce the Supervisors' staff of clerks from 15 to 10, including Finance Committee stenographer	15,900
4. Postpone planting paths, Mt. Davidson, temporarily	6,000
5. Adjustment and economies street lighting	50,000
6. Postpone this year following items:
Redwood Empire Association	12,500
California State Chamber of Commerce	10,000
7. The Tax Collector, in addition to his other duties, to act as Director of Finance and Records	6,000
8. No objection to the appropriation for repairs of the Fine Arts Palace, $35,000, but the opening of the Fine Arts Palace should be postponed for at least one year; that would release the $24,000 appropriated from Park Funds for maintenance, and inasmuch as the Beach Chalet lost $10,000 last year the Chalet should be closed for at least one year; that would provide funds for the repairs to Fine Arts Palace	35,000
9. Suggest following the precedent of Philadelphia and Detroit in closing their museums three days a week. Close DeYoung Museum Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, and close California Palace of the Legion of Honor Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. Dismissal of organist, who plays one hour on Saturdays and Sundays, $43 an hour. Total saving	50,000
10. Reduce the Recorder's force three additional copyists.	7,200
11. Reduce plumbing inspectors (three)	8,640

12. Saving on three autos for above	1,440
13. Eliminate sub-foreman janitor	2,280
14. Eliminate foreman-laborer, Division of Stores	2,340
15. Eliminate two assistants, purchasing, $250 each, and one at $275	9,300
16. Eliminate two building inspectors	5,400
17. Saving on two autos for above	900
18. Refuse increase in salary of clerk-stenographer from $175 to $250, transferred from Mayor's to Chief Administrator's office	900
19. Cut blue-print and photostat supplies	2,000
20. Reduce plumbers from seventeen to twelve	13,500
21. Forego purchase of Parcel 3, Mills Field	105,000
22. Closing Mills Airport	54,048
23. Operation of only one fireboat	81,000
24. Inclusion of auto plate tax and motor bus revenue toward payment of interest on highway bonds	44,000
25. One cent increase in carfare	493,000
Total savings	$1,019,408

Consolidation of telephone will undoubtedly result in a saving of many thousands of dollars. No reason why any department except police should have private exchanges.

Mr. Edmondson, representing the Redwood Empire Association, was heard in favor of continuing the activities of said organization, declaring that its advertising campaign had brought about a big influx of tourist trade to Northern and Central California, especially during the past year. He opposed the recommendation of Adolph Uhl to postpone item of $12,500 for this year.

W. M. Strother, secretary of the DeYoung Museum, was also heard, urging that adequate provision be made for the DeYoung Memorial Museum and the Palace of the Legion of Honor. He protested against the recommendation that said institutions be operated on half time. He also protested against discharge of organist at the Palace of the Legion of Honor, as suggested.

Paul Ost, Chief Electrical Engineer of the Public Utilities Commission, being sent for, was interrogated and answered as follows:

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: What about the matter of the duplication of lights, for instance, on Hyde street, Mr. Ost? The matter which Mr. Uhl mentioned, of the duplication of the standards on Geary and Hyde and other places, four or five standards on a corner?

MR. OST: There have already been cut out on streets adjacent to Hyde sixteen or seventeen lamps; that has already been done six weeks ago. The standards are still there, but they are not lighted, and the City is not being charged for them.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: This reduction by the Mayor, do I understand you to intimate that that means there will be no more money in the Budget and no lights, new lights, can be given the outlying districts, or will you be able to make economies so some lights may be given to the now sparsely lighted districts?

MR. OST: We plan on doing that so that there will be a little slack to take care of lights where they are the most needed; you have a request in now, I believe, for one particular place where there is urgent need of lights being placed, and that will be taken care of.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I am anxious to know, Mr. President, through you, just what the Public Utilities Commission intends to do in the matter of the outlying districts. In other words, Mr. President, my question goes to this point, my question goes to the point if, in addition to the reduction mentioned—the figure made by the Mayor is the same as this—what I am trying to find out is whether that means that these dimly-lit districts will have to forego for one year any additional lights, or can economies, and will economies, be made to allow, say, twenty-five or fifty thousand for this purpose? That to me is a very important matter, and I wonder if Mr. Ost could be prepared by tomorrow, some time, to give me an idea on that?

MR. OST: I think I could give it to you now just as well.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I would like to hear it, if you don't mind.

MR. OST: The amount of increase, annual increment, has been in the neighborhood of fifteen thousand dollars a year——

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: For how many years?

MR. OST—Fifteen thousand has been the rate of increase——

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: How long back?

MR. OST: It varies from year to year, but that is about the way it has been running.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Are you sure of those figures?

MR. OST: Yes, sir.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: For how long? Ten years back?

MR. OST: I wouldn't say. Perhaps that long, but for some time——

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Well, for five years?

MR. OST: The entire amount of our lighting bill has been increasing at that rate; that is, taking it over a period of five or six years, there have been quite a few gas lamps that have been taken out gradually and changed over to electric, and there have been a number of other changes gone in which have caused that increase.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Now, so that I may not misunderstand you, and to use your own words, there has been an increase in our lighting cost of about fifteen thousand a year for the past five years. Is that right?

MR. OST: That is correct.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: What is our lighting costing this year?

MR. OST: We are running about $865,000.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: And do I understand last year it was $850,000 and the year before $835,000?

MR. OST: Yes, sir.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: And the year before $820,000?

MR. OST: Approximately.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: You are sure of those figures?

MR. OST: Approximately, yes, sir.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I am going to trace it down; in the neighborhood of fifteen thousand for the last five years?

MR. OST: That has been approximately the rate of increase for the past few years.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I would like the answer to the question I put here a few minutes ago. If you are not familiar with it, Mr. Ost, I will have it read to you——

MR. OST: No, I can answer it, Mr. Supervisor. We cannot, out of the present Budget, figure on making any such increases in lighting as have been requested and suggested; not at this time.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Then the answer to my question is that it cannot be done? You cannot figure on economies out of which it can be done?

MR. OST: Not without cutting down the lights to a point where we are going to have a great many complaints. We are trying to distribute the cuts in lighting in such a manner as to avoid complaints and the diminution of lighting in any particular district to a point where the lighting is not going to be satisfactory, and it is quite a lot of trouble to do that.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Your answer substantially is that except in urgent cases the dimly-lighted districts, except in imperative cases, must forego any additional lights for the coming year. Is that correct?

MR. OST: That is correct, yes, sir.

Cyril Tobin, representing Agricultural District No. 1, urged an appropriation of $350,000 in the Budget to match $250,000 to be provided by the State for the construction of a permanent Live Stock Show in the vicinity of Visitacion Valley, declaring that it would be a splendid investment for San Francisco, giving employment to thousands and attracting commerce and trade from all parts.

Mr. Fuller, representing the Community Chest, called attention to the dire need of funds to care for thousands in distress, and urged that ample provision for same be made.

Mr. Kingsbury, representing the War Memorial, also addressed the Board as to the needs of said institution, and requested that no reduction be made of the estimates submitted.

RECESS.

At 12 noon the Board took a recess until 2 p. m.

REASSEMBLED.

At 2 p. m. the Board of Supervisors reassembled, all members heretofore noted being present.

J. F. Kelly, representing the Central Council of Improvement Clubs, was heard respecting various items of the proposed budget.

Miss Foster was heard as to necessity of adequate appropriations for health conservation.

Wm. H. Nanry, Municipal Research Bureau, disavowed responsibility for the 93-page Budget as published in the Daily News. He opposed creation of new positions, which, he said, should be filled by present employees by transfer to the department needing their service.

RECESS.

Whereupon, the Board took a recess until Tuesday, May 17, 1932, at 10 a. m.

J. S. DUNNIGAN, Clerk.

TUESDAY, MAY 17, 1932, 10 A. M.

In Board of Supervisors, San Francisco, Tuesday, May 17, 1932, 10 a. m.

The Board of Supervisors reassembled for the purpose of hearing the public on the proposed Budget for the fiscal year 1932-1933.

CALLING THE ROLL.

The roll was called and the following Supervisors were noted present:

Supervisors Breyer, Brown, Hayden, Havenner, McSheehy, Miles, Peyser, Power, Spaulding, Stanton—10.

Absent—Supervisors Canepa, Colman, Gallagher, Roncovieri, Shannon—5.

William Cooper, president of the Citizens' Association of Voters, was heard as to the necessity of cutting the Budget to the lowest figure.

He particularly protested against the expense of printing the Budget estimates in the official newspaper.

Archie Mooney, representing the San Francisco Building Trades, was heard in condemnation of the alleged recommendation of Adolph Uhl suggesting curtailment of employments. He declared that such a policy would aggravate rather than alleviate the depression.

George Gerhardt, secretary of the Civic League of Improvement Clubs, read the following statement, addressed to the Mayor:

"The Civic League of Improvement Clubs and Associations has for the past two months given its main attention to the consideration of the municipal Budget, with the viewpoint of making recommendations to your Honor for determining upon a Budget which will

"First: Protect the taxpayer, already suffering from a burden beyond his ability to bear.

"Second: Provide municipal relief to the great army of the unemployed.

"Third: Provide for the operation of the municipal government by eliminating duplication of work and cutting unnecessary expenses by centralization, without affecting the efficiency of such departments.

"The Civic League, in its twenty-six years of existence, has been in touch with the practical operation of the municipal departments more than any other organized body functioning in the public interest, and approaches, therefore, the Budget not alone from the standpoint of theory, but also from the standpoint of practical and essential municipal operation, but in checking off all the various items of the various departments it has accepted the figures of the Bureau of Governmental Research without wasting additional energy for such labor.

"I, as chairman of the Budget Committee of the Civic League, have cooperated, as representative of the Civic League, with the Citizens' Budget Committee, and while agreeing with the major portions of its recommendations, have not agreed, on behalf of the Civic League, with many vital principles involved.

"Dealing with the question of municipal employees and their salaries, the Civic League is of the opinion that the municipal employee, by agreeing to contribute voluntarily a certain percentage of his salary, thus creating a fund of $1,500,000 for the relief of the unemployed, has fully met his share and thus fully discharged his duty in connection with the relief problem.

"The Civic League does not subscribe to the contention that municipal employees are all overpaid for their work, knowing that during the peak period of industrial activity their attempts to obtain increases in salaries in line with increases granted by business houses and industries, were not met, except in a few cases, and they were given assurances by the authorities that the question would be dealt with when standardization of salaries, as provided in the Charter, had been worked out. This has never taken place.

"The Civic League does not accept the contention that the present depression salaries now paid by business houses and industries, where men and women are forced to accept almost any salary offered to them, should apply to municipal employees. The Civic League believes that it is the duty of a municipal government to maintain reasonable standards of wages without materially lowering the American standard of living. The employees' contribution to municipal relief constitutes a drastic reduction in their salaries.

"The Civic League does not subscribe to the theory that by discharging employees of the city government who for a lifetime have given their work carrying out the duties of the municipal government, or by putting them on a 'five days' pay basis,' is helping at all, but adds to the prevailing depression—realizing that the money earned by this middle class is the life-blood of financial circulation, and that by sending men into the street to join the army of the unemployed, the tensity of the problem would thus be increased rather than lessened.

"The Civic League is of the opinion that the policy of financial corporations and men of great wealth in denying credit regardless of security is the main factor responsible for the lack of confidence, and that national and State governments must approach the problem of industrial and business stagnation from that source in order to bring about a speedy change of conditions prevailing.

"Dealing with the question of municipal relief, the Civic League subscribes to the demand that the municipal government must contribute fully and more than its share to provide for the feeding and housing of thousands of unemployed. However, in doing so, we must not add a burden upon the property owners who are already suffering beyond their capacity to meet taxes imposed upon them.

"The Civic League recommends that if, by men trained in dealing with the problem of relief, the amount asked from the City is accepted as correct, in addition to the $1,500,000 subscribed by the municipal employees, an amount of $1,750,000 be included in the Budget, provided that such addition would not increase the present tax rate of $4.04. But in the event that the inclusion of the additional $1,750,000 would increase the tax rate above $4.04, the Civic League recommends that the City then reduce its contribution in the tax rate to $1,000,000, in addition to the $1,500,000 contributed by the municipal employees, and that the remaining $750,000 needed for relief be provided for by private subscription from those whose means will permit them to make an additional sacrifice in the present crisis.

"The Civic League also believes that additional sums of money might be obtained for relief purposes by State legislation, such as the fund for the maintenance of roads and highways, in addition to the gasoline tax, which latter provides more for construction than for maintenance, or by other legislative measures to be enacted by the State to meet the emergency.

"We are conscious that never before has there been a task of such importance placed upon the shoulders of a Mayor of San Francisco than the preparation and submission of the Budget as provided for under the new Charter.

"We cannot agree that with the passing of the new Charter the millennium, as predicted, has arrived as yet. We believe that the Charter is full of defects, more so by omissions than commissions, and that a great many changes will have to be made in order to put the municipal government upon a sound and economic operating basis.

"It is well known that with the coming fiscal year City employees will not be able to obtain their salaries in full until December, when taxes are payable, by reason of the fact that there are no funds available from which to borrow unless the Hetch Hetchy bonds carry and are sold. If, as stated above, such should prove the case, municipal employees needing money for their sustenance are likely to be forced into the hands of usurers—a condition which would reflect great discredit upon San Francisco.

"We, the Civic League, Mr. Mayor, supported you in your recent election, believing in and having faith and confidence in you. The Civic League has never asked for political patronage and seeks only the good of our City.

"The Civic League, as a practical body, knows that the office of chief executive is a political one and must in a practical way deal with the question of patronage. The Civic League, in opposition to the Citizens' Budget Committee, believed that when you recommended the creation of an inspector of complaints and showed the necessity for same, we should have faith in your recommendation and have such office created, with an appointment to be made at your discretion.

"The Civic League, however, as a matter of principle, does not support the resolutions now before the Board of Supervisors creating new positions as secretaries for the Art Commission and secretaries for the Permit Bureau, when present employees fully trained in that line of work, such as clerks of the Board of Supervisors, can be assigned to those positions without additional expense increasing the tax rate.

"We are here, supporting the administration of our choice, and join the Citizens' Budget Committee in their detailed recommendation for you to consider the reduction of any unnecessary functions in many of the departments, and to make possible the centralization of work which will bring about a reduction in municipal expenses, the providing of municipal relief and the maintaining of a tax rate not to exceed $4.04."

George Skaller, president of the Civic League and chairman of its Budget Committee, also addressed the Board.

Frank MacDonald, representing the Building Trades Council, was heard, urging the wisdom of not cutting wages or reducing employments at this time, as calculated to increase the depression rather than to relieve it.

Harvey Toy, representing the Citizens' Charter Committee, expressed his confidence in the Board and thanked it for the consideration given to suggestions from the organizations which he represented, but hoped that everything would be done to keep the Budget down to the lowest possible figure, in view of the widespread distress and the inability of many property owners to meet their taxes this year.

Whereupon, at 1 p. m., on motion of Supervisor Miles, the Budget was taken into the hands of the Board, and a recess was declared until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

To the Honorable, the Board of Supervisors, City Hall, San Francisco.

Gentlemen: Herewith is a copy of a letter received from Honorable Duncan Matheson, Treasurer of the City and County of San Francisco, suggesting that a change be made in the budget for the Treasurer's Office, saving the city $1,200 a year.

I concur in the suggestion of Captain Matheson, and recommend its adoption.

Respectfully,

ANGELO J. ROSSI, Mayor.

San Francisco, May 2, 1932.

Honorable Angelo J. Rossi, Mayor, San Francisco, California.

My dear Mayor: I respectfully suggest that a slight change be made in the budget for the Treasurer's Office, which will save $1,200 a year for the City, the change to be as follows:

That the position of Cashier at $5,100 a year be eliminated, and that the budget provide for two Head Clerks at $3,900 per year each, and that one of said Head Clerks be designated Head Clerk-Cashier.

If these changes are made it will not affect the Civil Service rating of any of the employees in the office, because there are now two Head Clerks employed in the office.

Opinion of City Attorney in re Jurisdiction of Board of Supervisors Over Expenditures of Park, Playground, Library and Similar Departments.

The following opinions were read to the Board:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors, City and County of San Francisco.

Dear Sirs: I am in receipt of your communication reading as follows:

"Will you please advise the Board of Supervisors in re the following:

"Request of Supervisors Gallagher and Peyser: 'Has the Board of Supervisors any jurisdiction over expenditures of the Park, Playground, Library, Legion of Honor, deYoung Museum appropriations?'

"Request of Supervisor Roncovieri: 'Because of time consumed in publishing the budget, has the Board of Supervisors any extension of time to consider budget before adoption?'"

Opinion.

Section 41 of the Charter gives to the Park Commission "complete and exclusive control, management and direction of the parks, squares, etc."

Section 42 places the playgrounds under the management of the Recreation Commission, with all the powers vested in the Playground Commission existing under the old Charter. Section 5 of article XIV-A of the old Charter gave to the commissioners "complete and exclusive control, management and direction of playgrounds and recreation centers." Also, exclusive management and disbursement of all funds appropriated * * * for the support and equipment of said playgrounds and recreation centers.

Section 43 places the Library Department under the Library Commission. It gives to the Commission all of the powers vested in the Board of Library Trustees under the old Charter. Chapter VII of the old Charter gave to the Library Trustees complete control of its own funds.

Pursuant to Section 78 of the Charter it is incumbent upon your Board to levy a specified minimum rate of tax for the support and maintenance of each of these departments. As each of these departments has control of its own funds, your Board has no control over their expenditures so long as the minimum allowance is not exceeded. If your Board should desire to allow a rate beyond the minimum, the additional allowance is optional, but your refusal to make such an allowance does not permit you to bind these boards or commissions as to how the minimum allowance should be spent.

Sections 50 and 51 deal with the California Palace of the Legion of Honor and the deYoung Memorial Museum. The boards in control of each of these institutions are given exclusive charge over the affairs of their respective institutions. As far as the Palace of the Legion of Honor is concerned, your Board is directed to levy a tax for its support and maintenance. No minimum rate is provided for, and while a large discretion must be allowed to the trustees as to how this allowance may be spent, the allowance is subject to the budget and fiscal provisions of the Charter, and it lies within your power, pursuant to the provisions of Section 72 of the Charter, "to decrease or reject any item contained in the budget estimates." In short, your Board has the power to determine as to whether an appropriation shall be made or not, but when it is made, your power over it is at an end.

The appropriations to and expenditures by the deYoung Memorial Museum are governed by the same rules as those applicable to the Palace of the Legion of Honor, with the exception that it is incumbent upon your Board to appropriate to the Museum a minimum amount of $40,000, the budgeting of which amount is entirely within the jurisdiction of the trustees of the Museum.

Answering Supervisor Roncovieri's inquiry as to the time allowed to the Board for consideration of the budget estimates submitted by the Mayor, you are advised that the dates provided in the Charter within which the budget must be acted upon are mandatory and cannot be extended.

Sincerely,
JNO. J. O'TOOLE, City Attorney.

Opinion of City Attorney in re Control by Board of Supervisors of Employees of Independent Commissions.

May 16, 1932.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors, City and County of San Francisco.

Dear Sirs: I have before me a letter signed by the Clerk of your Board, reading as follows:

"The following motion was adopted by the Board of Supervisors at its meeting Monday, May 2, 1932:

"'Supervisor McSheehy moved that the City Attorney's opinion be obtained as to whether or not the Board of Supervisors has any control over the employees of the Board of Education, Playground Commission, Park Commission, and others.'"

Opinion.

The employees of the various boards and commissions mentioned in your letter are not within the control of your Board in so far as your Board may by any action direct any of said employees in the matter of the performance of their duties. Any interference with any of these employees is forbidden by Section 22 of the Charter.

If you desire to be advised as to what control your Board has over the compensations of employees of these departments, you are advised as follows: The compensations of the employees of the Park Commission, Library Department, California Palace of the Legion of Honor and deYoung Memorial Museum are fixed by the respective boards or commissions in charge of those institutions, and are not subject to regulation by your Board. See Section 151, Charter, the pertinent portion of which reads as follows:

"The Board of Supervisors shall have power and it shall be its duty to fix by ordinance from time to time, as in this section provided, all salaries, wages and compensations of every kind and nature, except pension or retirement allowances, for the positions or places of employment of all officers and employees of all departments, offices, boards and commissions of the City and County in all cases where such compensations are paid by the City and County.

"Compensations specified in this Charter shall not be subject to the provisions of this section. Compensations of the teaching and other technical forces of the School Department, librarians and technical assistants of the Library Department, employees of the California Palace of the Legion of Honor, the M. H. deYoung Memorial Museum, Steinhart Aquarium, park and law library departments, construction employees engaged outside of the City and County, part-time employees, and inmate and institutional help receiving less than fifty dollars ($50) per month, shall be fixed by the department head in charge thereof, with the approval of the board or commission, if any, in charge of the department concerned, and subject to the budget and appropriation provisions of this Charter."

Under this language I am of the opinion that it does not lie within the power of the Board of Supervisors to regulate the compensations of the employees of the Park Commission, the Library Department, the California Palace of the Legion of Honor, or the deYoung Memorial Museum.

The employees of the Recreation Department are not within the exemptions mentioned in Section 151, and, therefore, their salaries are subject to fixation and standardiaztion by your Board. The Recreation Department, being one of those departments the funds for which are supplied by a tax rate, the minimum amount of which is fixed by the Charter, your Board has no jurisdiction over the number or character of its employees as long as the department does not exceed the minimum amount provided for in the Charter.

You will also note in the language of the above-quoted Charter section that the fixing of salaries of the teaching and other technical forces of the School Department is not under the jurisdiction of your Board. However, Section 135 provides that

"Non-teaching and non-technical positions, and positions not required by law to be filled by a person holding a teaching or other certificate, as required by law, shall be employed under the civil service provisions of this Charter, and the compensations of such persons shall be fixed in accordance with the salary standardization provisions of this Charter."

Ordinarily the Board of Education would have complete control of the salaries of all of its employees. (See Esberg v. Badaracco, 202 Cal. 110.) However, since the decision in the Esberg case, the State School Code has been amended by the adoption of Section 5.405 thereof, which reads as follows:

"Nothing in this part shall be construed so as to repeal or negate any provisions concerning employees of school districts contained in any charter of any city, county or city and county heretofore or hereafter adopted and approved in conformity with article XI of the Constitution of this State."

The part referred to is designated as Part III, and Section 5.780 of the same part gives to the Board of Education the right to fix the compensation of janitors and other employees of the school employed by such boards in the manner provided by law. However, this section is, pursuant to the provisions of Section 5.405, above quoted, subservient to our Charter.

You are therefore advised that the compensations of the non-teaching and non-technical forces are subject to fixation and standardization by your Board. The number of the positions is, however, vested in the Board of Education, as that body is charged with the conduct of the schools.

Sincerely yours,
JNO. J. O'TOOLE, City Attorney.

Public Defender's Office.

SUPERVISOR MILES: I suggest that we refer back to the matter of the office of the Public Defender, his office being now represented. I believe Supervisor Brown wanted to ask a question of the representative of the Public Defender's office.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: No, I would like to make a statement. My motion to strike out lines 3, 4 and 5 of the budget under the heading of the Public Defender was made with this in mind: First, there are certain duties which the office of the Public Defender is responsible for, which cannot be eliminated, and which must be taken over by some other department of the City government, in the event that they are not performed by the Public Defender. Therefore, it would not seem to effect any economy to eliminate them.

The opinion of those with whom I have discussed the matter, outside of the Board, is that the office of Public Defender has not demonstrated its necessity, has not demonstrated the advisability to continue to spend this amount of money. I have talked with members of our law enforcement group, and many of them are of the opinion that the operation of the office of Public Defender has gone far astray from its original intention. I have talked to members of the Bar Association, who seem to feel that the interests of those before the bar can be properly safeguarded otherwise, and that the office of Public Defender has, instead of furthering the cause of justice, in some instances injured the cause of justice. We are confronted in two parts of the budget with the following situation: Under the District Attorney's budget, the City and County of San Francisco invests each year $170,480 in the prosecution of criminals. In the Public Defender's office the City invests some $28,160 in part at least in the defending of these same criminals. Now let me say this, just a word about the way in which this situation was handled formerly. When a man came before a court of law in this State and charged with a criminal offense, and was unable to pay for his attorneys, the court would designate one of those generally appearing before that court to defend that man; and in many instances this gave much needed practice in the defense of the charged criminal to young attorneys who were making their initial effort before the bar. In more serious cases in the past it has been the practice of the judges to assign more experienced attorneys to the function of defending men charged; and, according to authorities with whom I have discussed this matter, that system worked very well on the whole. Like all other systems, it had certain weaknesses, but on the whole it worked very well.

The sum of money expended here is a very considerable one—$28,160. The amendment proposed would effect a reduction of $20,000 in that amount. It is my feeling that the $20,000 could well be saved, and the work done by this office transferred back to the attorneys practicing law in San Francisco—that is, all except the mandatory and routine purpose of the office; and that the money thus saved would be made available for the relief of unemployment, and for the maintenance of the efficiency of the City government in other directions. I want it understood this action on my part, in making this motion, is not motivated by any animus against any member of that department, but purely by economy, and the desire to save the taxpayers' money.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: May I ask the Supervisor a question? I am only asking this question for information: You made a statement to the effect that the Public Defender's office hindered the cause of justice. Have you any particular case pending before any court of the City and County where that office hindered the cause of justice?

SUPERVISOR BROWN: I think if you will remember the statement, it was this: That however well intentioned they were, they had in some cases actually hindered the cause of justice.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: May I ask if the motion was seconded?

THE CLERK: Yes, by Supervisor Colman.

THE PRESIDENT: Supervisor Colman, you seconded Supervisor Brown's motion, didn't you?

SUPERVISOR COLMAN: Yes.

THE PRESIDENT: The question before the house is striking out these items.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Mr. Toner, do you represent the Public Defender's office?

MR. TONER: Yes.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: You have heard the statement of Supervisor Brown. Will you, for my benefit, say what you can in contradiction?

MR. TONER: With all due respect to what Supervisor Brown has said, I think he has been misinformed. I don't think he endeavors to speak from actual knowledge as to any of the facts that he told you gentlemen about. I feel that the office of Public Defender is essential and vital to the needs of this community; and I further feel that no one can substantiate a charge that that office has ever hindered the cause of a justice. As a matter of fact, we look with pride on the record of that office. We have handled our duties there as we have seen fit, as attorneys in this City and County, as members of the State Bar Association of the State of California, and I can ask you gentlemen to look back over the reports and records and investigations of the grand juries for the past ten years, and I believe that in itself will be a perfect answer to what Supervisor Brown has charged; furthermore, I feel that any investigation would not be complete, and would not be in good faith, unless that investigation took into account the statements of the officials, the judges that we work before every day, and in that respect I call attention to the fact that the Public Defender's office appears daily in the three criminal departments of the Superior Court, and I feel that I can unhesitatingly say that if the judges of those courts were called upon to give their opinion to the correctness of the statement made by Supervisor Brown, that they would be repudiated, and I call your attention, gentlemen, to the other judges in the Municipal Courts.

I have always felt that this office serves a most essential need, and that opinion is not based on what I think from my own observations entirely, but from the statements of those judges, the statements of the District Attorney and the statements of the various grand juries.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I would like to ask you, Mr. Toner, if it isn't a fact that each succeeding grand jury since the office has been established has commended the office in the conduct of its business.

MR. TONER: I believe it is a fact, Supervisor Gallagher.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Are you in any discord with the Department of Police?

MR. TONER: Absolutely not. I believe, in fact I am quite confident, if you were to ask the Chief of Police of this City, or the captain of detectives as to this matter, his statement would be that the Public Defender's office serves a very vital need, and he would unqualifiedly endorse it.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I move you, Mr. Chairman, that this motion and this argument be postponed; that the Chief of Police and the presiding judges of the Superior Court and the Municipal Court be sent for to come here if they desire.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: Second the motion.

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: I would also like to ask that the officials of the Bar Association be asked to be present also.

I would like to ask Mr. Toner a question.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there any objection to the motion of Mr. Gallagher?

SUPERVISOR STANTON: Who are you asking?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: To refute the statement that the office has hindered the cause of justice—that will be either supported or contradicted by the presiding judges of the Superior Court and the Municipal Courts; it will be either supported or refuted by the Chief of Police, and, as far as I am concerned, the Bar Association, or the District Attorney would be welcome; and I would like to call attention to the fact—Supervisor Brown has made certain statements, which the stenographer should have ready to be read to these gentlemen. If Supervisor Brown is at all sustained they should go out—these items of the budget.

SUPERVISOR STANTON: I think we should have somebody from the District Attorney's office.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I suggest they all be brought here this evening, because we will be right here for some time.

THE PRESIDENT: Any objection to Supervisor Gallagher's motion?

SUPERVISOR STANTON: I suggest we set a time for them to be here. You are asking three or four different departments.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Either 5 o'clock or 8:30.

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: Are you including in that Mr. Brennan of the State Bar, and also officials of the San Francisco Bar?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Whoever you ask.

THE PRESIDENT: So ordered.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: May I ask Mr. Toner a question? Are you going to return tonight?

MR. TONER: Surely.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: I will reserve my question until then.

RECESS.

Whereupon, the Board at 6:20 p. m. took a recess until 8 p. m.

SUPERVISOR STANTON: We have the matter of the Public Defender now.

THE PRESIDENT: All right, the next order of business will be the office of the Public Defender.

SUPERVISOR POWER: Mr. President, in view of the unfortunate circumstances surrounding the Public Defender's office, at this time, in behalf of the associates down there, I am submitting a statement which I would ask that the Clerk read.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Before the reading of that I desire in the presence of all to hear the statement of Supervisor Brown on the matter from the stenographic record. I notified the Board today that would be the case, and I now ask as the first proceeding in this matter permission for that statement by Supervisor Brown to be read by the reporter.

THE PRESIDENT: All right, the reporter will read the statement by Supervisor Brown.

(Thereupon the reporter read the statement made by Supervisor Brown in the afternoon on the matter of the Public Defender's office.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I would like to ask, through the Chair, if Supervisor Brown has any witnesses to produce at this moment to support that statement, or does he wish to proceed to the hearing of the Public Defender's office at this time?

SUPERVISOR BROWN: I don't know why it is necessary to produce any witnesses. I think there was one mistake made in reading my statement, with reference to the statements which I made that the operation of the Public Defender's office had on occasions operated rather against the proper carrying out of justice. I think that was incorrectly stated.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: I think, Mr. President, the reporter should read also the question I asked Supervisor Brown, and I ask that that statement be read at this time.

THE PRESIDENT: If there is no objection that statement will be read.

(Thereupon the reporter read the question of Supervisor Canepa in connection with which Supervisor Brown made his statement.)

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: I would ask that the statement prepared by the associates in the Public Defender's office be read at this time by our Clerk.

THE PRESIDENT: If there is no objection, the Clerk will read the statement of the assistants in the Public Defender's office.

(Thereupon the Clerk read the statement of the assistants in the Public Defender's office.)

"In view of statements that have recently appeared in the public press concerning the conduct of the affairs of the Public Defender's office, and with faith in the spirit of fairness of both the press and the public, we, as assistant Public Defenders, request that no premature judgment be formed of the manner in which matters coming under the jurisdiction of our office have been presented and conducted in our local criminal courts. We ask, rather, that the record of the office be considered in the light of that which has been accomplished in accordance with the purposes for which the office was created, and that no conclusion be reached except upon that basis. We believe it only to be just that our efforts as public officials be judged entirely apart from any situation that may have arisen concerning which we, as individuals, are entirely uninformed and which, so far as our duties may be regarded, does not justify either criticism or condemnation of our efforts.

"We can, and do, speak only from our knowledge of the presentation of the cases in the criminal courts to which we have been assigned by the judges presiding over the courts in which those cases have arisen, and we would like to have it understood by both press and public that we can, and do, act only in those cases where the courts refer defendants to us for advice and representation. Any other phases of the present situation in the office of Public Defender must, we feel, be left to time for determination.

"We believe that insinuation should give place to orderly investigation, and that any conclusions to be formed should be made only after the affairs of the office have been thoroughly canvassed by any authority delegated for that purpose. With full confidence in the results of such an investigation of our work in all its aspects, we invite this to be done. So that no reservation can be made as to the genuineness of such a check on our record, we suggest that the work of investigating our efforts be conducted by the Grand Jury of the City and County, the San Francisco Bar Association and The State Bar. We also request that reports be given by all of the judges who are now sitting or who have sat in the criminal departments during our incumbency, as well as by the officials of the Police Department and the representatives of the District Attorney's office, who, of necessity, we have had to oppose in criminal cases.

"It should be remembered that we do the work that the State Legislature, in its wisdom, decreed should be done for persons accused of crime who are without the means to employ private counsel. By so doing we relieve those in private practice from burdens which the Legislature did not believe it proper to impose upon them. In our representation of defendants we do no more and, we hope, no less than lawyers in private practice do, to preserve to the men, women and children who come under our care the rights that are guaranteed to them by the Constitution and by statute law. And these things we do in the orderly manner provided by the rules of court and by the law of the State.

"Until it could be established that we have failed in our endeavors, or that we have exceeded our authority, either as attorneys or as public officials, we think that no judgment should be formed adversely.

"GERALD J. KENNY.
"CHARLES R. BODEN
"JAMES A. TONER.
"JOHN F. DIGARDI."

THE PRESIDENT: The question before the Board at this time, Supervisor Brown, so as to have an understanding on the matter, is the motion made by Supervisor Brown, seconded by Supervisor Colman, that items 3, 4 and 5, or 2, 3, 4 and 5, embracing all of the employees in the office of the Public Defender be cut out, the appropriations for those positions, representing a cut of $20,000-odd in that department. That is the motion before the Board at the present time.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: So that there will be no misunderstanding about the matter, as apparently there is, because of the tenor of that statement on the part of the members of the Public Defender's office——

MR. BODEN (interrupting): I realize perhaps parts of that statement are irrelevant, but that statement has been prepared and was read tonight in view of what you have brought up here today, as we understand.

THE PRESIDENT: I want to state for the information of anyone here that we are not putting anyone on trial; that was not your purpose, was it, Supervisor Brown?

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Not at all.

THE PRESIDENT: Yes, the assistants in that office are not being put on trial here at all.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Not at all.

THE PRESIDENT: You have simply made a motion in the interests of economy and it is not a question of reflecting on any of the assistants in that office in any manner, and not a question of bringing them here tonight to put them on trial; that is correct, is it not, Supervisor Brown?

SUPERVISOR BROWN: That is correct.

THE PRESIDENT: So I don't think those gentlemen are being put on the defense at all.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Mr. President, I want to make that very clear, there was no intention whatever on my part, and I am sure there was not on the part of the gentleman who seconded my motion, to put these gentlemen on the spot. We are discussing our City budget, and we are here to save money for the taxpayers, and it was the fact that this looks like an opportunity to save some money in the budget, and that was the sole intention in bringing the matter up.

There are several gentlemen here who would like to be heard, and at this time I would like to move the privilege of the floor for Mr. Feltz, representing the Chamber of Commerce.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: May I ask, that as soon as they are through submitting their statements, that the Public Defender's office have an opportunity to present their side; would there be any objection to that?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: That will be brought out, Supervisor.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: All right.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Yes, in due course, but as long as these gentlemen have been waiting for some time on this matter, I would ask that they be permitted to make their statements, so that they can get away.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there any objection to hearing from Mr. Feltz at this time? (No response.) All right, Mr. Feltz, you have the floor.

MR. FELTZ: Mr. President, members of the Board: I am here tonight representing Mr. Cutler and Mr. Pressley, because, as you know, we have the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce here at the present time and they were unable to be present, and the two gentlemen I referred to have asked me to appear before you and state that the Chamber of Commerce, in line with all other economies, with which they are very sympathetic, believe this is an opportunity to effect considerable savings. We believe that the Public Defender's might remain as an assigning office, doing away with the assistants in the office, and we are entirely in sympathy with the motion as made by Supervisor Brown.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: Through the Chair, may I ask Mr. Feltz, does the Chamber of Commerce favor the elimination of all of the assistants, the assistant attorneys and the stenographer in the Public Defender's office?

MR. FELTZ: That is substantially what we are supporting, yes.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: In other words, let all of the force in that office go with the exception of the Public Defender himself?——

MR. FELTZ (interrupting): Yes, and he to act as the assigning officer as to the assigning of attorneys to the various matters.

THE PRESIDENT: Anyone else?

SUPERVISOR BROWN: I would ask the privilege of the floor also for the representative of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

THE PRESIDENT: All right, if there is no objection, we will hear from the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Burnett, you have the floor.

MR. BURNETT: Mr. President, Supervisors: The Junior Chamber of Commerce also concurs in the plan for eliminating the assistants in the Public Defender's office. We base our opinion, not on any circumstances arising out of the present unfortunate situation, but from a study made by our section on crime division lasting over a period of two years.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: Has the Junior Chamber of Commerce already made this request upon the Mayor or upon the Chief Administrative office?

MR. BURNETT: No, it arose, as I understood, within the last two or three days, and it is upon the recommendation of our president, who is authorized to make that recommendation under our constitution and by-laws.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: In other words, it has not been passed upon and sanctioned by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce?

MR. BURNETT: It has not, but it has been by the president, speaking for the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and he has that power under our constitution and by-laws. I am here representing him.

SUPERVISOR SPAULDING: I would like to ask the gentleman representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce if he is familiar with the Charter on that particular point. Through you, Mr. Chairman, are you familiar with the Charter as far as concerns the Public Defender's office? Are you familiar with the Charter on that point?

SUPERVISOR BROWN: I don't think that is relevant here.

SUPERVISOR SPAULDING: I am asking if the Junior Chamber of Commerce representative is familiar with the Charter on that point.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: That has nothing to do with what we are talking about.

SUPERVISOR SPAULDING: I am asking him now.

THE PRESIDENT: Supervisor Spaulding, will you kindly arise and take the floor when you are speaking?

SUPERVISOR SPAULDING: Pardon me, Mr. President. I am asking the representative of the Junior Chamber of Commerce if he is familiar with the Charter on that point.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: I again rise to a point of order, that I am satisfied that has nothing to do with what we are talking about here now.

SUPERVISOR SPAULDING: I am looking for information——

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. You agreed that we would not have any acrimonious debate among the members, that you would not allow any acrimonious debate, because we have too much to do here tonight.

THE PRESIDENT: Supervisor Spaulding has the floor. He asked the gentleman a question, and the gentleman can answer or not, as he pleases. Supervisor Spaulding, you have the floor.

SUPERVISOR SPAULDING: Are you familiar with the Charter provisions in reference to the Public Defender's office?

MR. BURNETT: No, sir, I am not. We are basing our opinion on the study of the situation made by our body on crime prevention, and the study of the general situation.

SUPERVISOR SPAULDING: Isn't it a fact that the Junior Chamber of Commerce backed the present Charter?

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: I rise to a point of order, Mr. President——

THE PRESIDENT (interrupting): The point of order is well taken, Supervisor.

SUPERVISOR STANTON: I suggest that we hear from the different citizens who are here first, and then we can discuss it after it is taken into the hands of the Board.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: Supervisor Brown, have you any further citizens you want to present?

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Yes, I have one or two more, and I will ask all of the gentlemen to be just as brief as possible. I would ask the privilege of the floor now for Mr. O'Gara.

THE PRESIDENT: If there is no objection, Mr. O'Gara, you have the floor.

MR. O'GARA: Mr. President, members of the Board——

THE PRESIDENT: State for the record who you are representing.

MR. O'GARA: Representing the Better Business Bureau. Mr. President, gentlemen of the Board: This matter of the Public Defender's office came up before the Better Business Bureau during the last few days, but at the same time it is not exactly a new proposition. There are, theoretically, at least, other cities where this change has been made. The city of Los Angeles voted a large amount of money for the Public Defender's office, on the one side, and on the other side a large amount for the prosecution of criminals by the District Attorney's office, and there has been considerable discussion as to the justification for this. I think perhaps there is a need for some defense for innocent persons not able to employ counsel, but the further question has developed as to the necessity for the present large staff in the Public Defender's office, and it is the belief of the Better Business Bureau that the interests of economy can best be served in the City government by the elimination of all except the officer mentioned in Supervisor Brown's motion. I will further say at this time that this is said with no intention of casting any reflection upon any member of the staff of the Public Defender's office. Personally, I am very friendly with all of the assistants in that office, in fact with two of them I went to college, and I have the greatest respect and admiration for some—for all of them, in fact. At the same time, under the circumstances, the Better Business Bureau believes, and it is my opinion from my own observation, that the interests of the City government will be equally well served by the Public Defender in chief being assisted by either young lawyers, or by detailing lawyers, older attorneys, to defend such unfortunates as happen to be without counsel. Thank you.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: I understand there are several other people here who might desire to be heard, but these I have called upon are the only ones I have any knowledge of. There is, however, a telegram which I will pass to the Clerk and ask that he read at this time.

THE PRESIDENT: The Clerk will read the telegram.

"San Francisco, Calif., May 18, 1932.

"Hon. Arthur M. Brown, Supervisor, City Hall, San Francisco.

"I understand a motion by you is before the Board of Supervisors to eliminate the staff of the Public Defender. I wish to commend you for your motion and feel that such action will have public support. This is as far as we can go at present under the Charter. At the next election an amendment to the Charter will be submitted to abolish the office of Public Defender and revert to the old practice, wherein attorneys were assigned by the court to defend indigents. In the interim the Public Defender can appoint volunteers to defend indigents.

"ADOLPH UHL."

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Mr. President, I would like to move the privilege of the floor at this time to Mr. Whiting, president of the Bar Association.

THE PRESIDENT: If there is no objection, we will hear from Mr. Whiting. Mr. Whiting, you have the floor.

MR. WHITING: Mr. President, members of the Board: I was called this afternoon and asked to come out here on this matter. The Bar Association has not taken any action to investigate the matter at all, and therefore I am not authorized to speak for them. I am very glad to be here and would be glad to give you any information I can, but I cannot speak for the Bar Association in the matter.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Might I ask Mr. Whiting a question, through you, Mr. Chairman?

THE PRESIDENT: Proceed, Mr. Brown.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Isn't it a fact, Mr. Whiting, that in several of the courts in San Francisco at the present time the practice is generally to appoint attorneys to defend indigent clients?

MR. WHITING: I think that was the practice in all of the State courts up until the time there was the office of Public Defender created.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Isn't it a fact that system seems to work satisfactorily, both to the court and to the people involved?

MR. WHITING: Well, I wouldn't want to base my statement entirely on that. I do not believe that as a general rule voluntary service of that nature is as good as paid service. I don't think as a general proposition of that kind, in any line, it is as reliable or effective as paid service.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: You believe that consideration outweighs all others?

MR. WHITING: I wouldn't say that. That is a very broad question. I wou'dn't attempt to say that.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: If it is not good economy, do you think it would still be desirable to maintain the Public Defender's office at the present time?

MR. WHITING: That depends on what you mean exactly, and I would not want to answer without knowing the kind and amount of services rendered. As a question of theory, as to whether the Public Defender's office is proper in theory, that is another question, and if the Public Defender's office is proper, in theory, whether or not it is properly conducted. I should say if the Public Defender's office is properly conducted it is a good office; if improperly or illegally conducted, it would be worse than useless, of course. I am not, of course, casting any aspersions on anybody in answering that way.

SUPERVISOR STANTON: Why do you question the gentleman in that way, Supervisor, when you objected so strenuously a minute ago to Supervisor Spaulding asking the representative of the Chamber of Commerce any questions at all——

MR. WHITING (interrupting): I have no objection whatever to answering any questions I am able to answer.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Mr. Whiting, you don't wish to go on record as to the desirability of continuing or not continuing the Public Defender's office?

MR. WHITING: I couldn't go on record without more investigation and more knowledge than I have at the present time.

SUPERVISOR POWER: If Supervisor Brown has nothing further to present at this time, I believe that Mr. Garry of the District Attorney's office is here present and, Mr. President, I would ask the privilege of the floor for him at this time.

THE PRESIDENT: If there is no objection, Mr. Garry will have the floor. Mr. Garry.

MR. GARRY: Mr. President, members of the Board: First of all, I am not officially representing the office of the Public Defender; late this afternoon there was a call came to the District Attorney's office to be present here this evening, and I have not been able to communicate with that office and get anyone else to be here. Mr. O'Toole expected to be here and he will be glad to see you tomorrow or give you any information you desire on the subject. I speak, therefore, as assistant District Attorney who has been in contact with the office of the Public Defender for the past eight years in the Superior Court of this City. The Public Defender's office is not a San Francisco innovation, it is a country-wide institution. I used to be younger—I am still young, of course—I used to be younger; I was a young attorney myself once, hanging around the criminal courts when I first started out, trying to pick up some knowledge of court procedure, and particularly trial before jury, and with the hope of occasionally being appointed to defend someone in order to get that practice. In those instances, you seldom plead a defendant guilty; you want to practice on him just exactly like a young physician wants to practice on his clients in order to gain experience.

You are considering this question purely from the point of view of economy. You will not accomplish any economy by this move. I want to say to you that the Public Defender's office saves the City far more by doing away with jury trials than you spend in maintaining the Public Defender's office. If I remember correctly, they tried nearly 700—I mean they represented nearly 700 defendants, and out of that amount they tried only 70-odd cases. They got all the others to plead guilty. If you had young attorneys particularly being appointed by the court in those same cases, I venture to say that you would have had at least 500 jury trials. We had a very good example today. I tried a case this afternoon, and Mr. Kenny was on the other side. We had fourteen jurors out of which to complete a jury of twelve, and when we have a private attorney on the other side we always send for twenty-two, because they are sure to eliminate almost ten, use up almost all of their peremptory challenges in getting the jury, and in a case where you have got three defendants, each one entitled to ten challenges, you can readily see how many jurors you have to call and have available for that trial, and every time when a juror's name is called he goes down on the paper for $3. I say to you gentlemen that I would move very slowly in this matter.

The Public Defender's office is a great institution from the point of view of proper and humane administration of justice. Just because we are now in a time of hysteria you should not act quickly in a matter of this nature. While I think that these gentlemen are all sincere and honest about what they say, I feel that if you will look into the matter and get the facts you will find that the Public Defender's office saves the City at least $60,000 a year in jury trials alone, where you spend only $28,000 to cover the cost of the office. Gentlemen, I am not advising you, but I do ask you to consider this matter very seriously and not take snap judgment.

SUPERVISOR POWER: I believe one of the members of the Public Defender's office is here now——

SUPERVISOR STANTON (interrupting): I see Judge Lazarus here, and I wonder if Judge Lazarus would say a few words. I move the privilege of the floor to Judge Lazarus, if there is no objection.

SUPERVISOR POWER: I have no objection.

THE PRESIDENT: If there is no objection, Judge Lazarus will have the floor. Judge Lazarus, if you will step forward.

JUDGE LAZARUS: By the kind permission of the President, and members of the Board: I received a rather hasty summons to appear here this evening, emanating from my four young friends who are now the assistants in the office of the Public Defender. A good deal of the knowledge I have on this subject I have acquired here this evening. I think there are something like $107,000 which are used and appropriated for prosecuting people for acts of crime. The cost of the Public Defender's office, according to what I have heard here this evening, is $28,000. Now, gentlemen, I don't know whether $28,000 against $107,000 is a good investment when invested in defending people. A good many people are unjustly accused of crime, and people who have no means to hire a private counsel. In other words, I don't know which is the most important thing, the vigorous and active prosecution of people accused of crime, or the defense of people who may be impecunious and who may be unjustly accused of having committed a crime.

Now I have got nothing to say about the difficulties which perhaps direct the present attention of our press, and everybody else, to the office of Public Defender. I notice that everybody who has spoken here this evening has been sliding over that situation and discussing the present situation from the point of view of economy. Now I frankly feel that if we were to speak honestly that there would be no discussion in regard to the elimination of these young men from their present duties if there had been no difficulty arise in that office at this time, but, as far as these young men are concerned, I want to offer my public testimony, if that is of any value to you gentlemen, as to the ability and sincerity of these four young men in fulfilling their duties to their office and to the public. I have seen them all in action, I have seen them in my court and know what their work is, and I can say honestly and sincerely that I feel very friendly toward all of them. Frankly, these young men perform their duties with the utmost diligence, and if there is any criticism that might be offered against them by me in regard to the manner in which they perform their duties, it would be that they are perhaps a little bit too diligent in representing the interests of people that I sometimes feel do not deserve the quality and assistance that these young men give them, but on the other hand, they represent everybody who is accused of crime and who is in jail and has not got the means of hiring some high-priced lawyers to represent them, and they give them high-priced services at the City's expense. Now the question is this, whether the City is going to continue to give this service to the poor who are accused of crime. It is no experiment, as Mr. Garry has already said; we copied this innovation in our City's affairs from other communities where it had been tried and found the proper thing to do. Now the matter was thoroughly discussed before this office was created; it was not created all of a sudden without discussion, and the public was fully advised as to what it would be and what it would do, and they then created this office of Public Defender, with full knowledge of what they were doing, and with a view to accomplishing the very object which had been accomplished through the able and diligent efforts of these young men.

Now remember, I am just speaking for these young men, and nobody else, and if you still think that the poor man accused of crime is entitled to the same kind of legal service and advice and assistance that a man of means is entitled to, you will continue these young men in the City's service. If, on the contrary, you think that a poor defendant, perhaps unjustly accused of crime, is not entitled to first-class service, first-class legal service, you will leave the appointment of attorneys to defend them to the court, who will naturally appoint young men who haven't got enough business to keep them going, and who desire practice and experience, which will result in obtaining their practice and gaining their experience at the expense of these poor people who are entrusted to their care, and who, even though they may be unjustly accused of some crime, have not the money with which to pay for the services of a lawyer.

I don't know as I have anything else to say, except to again certify that, as far as these young gentlemen are concerned, I have observed their conduct in office, the manner in which they have handled cases in my department in the Municipal Court, and I can say that they have given the very best of service to those they have represented. They have acquitted a good many of these people who really deserved their services, and I want to again say that they have been most honest and diligent and sincere in their work. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: Mr. Frank Deasy, judge of the Municipal Court, you have the floor.

MR. FRANK DEASY: Mr. President, members of the Board: I received a call this evening to be present here and say a few words in connection with the office of the Public Defender, and I will say this, that I think it would be a fatal error to abolish any of the efficiency of the Public Defender's office. When I was first admitted to the practice of the law I tried some 350 cases free gratis before the criminal courts in order to practice out the theory of the law which I had been studying, and in order to get that court experience every lawyer is supposed to have.

I want to say this, there isn't a thing in the law that can force before the court a man with the proper training and experience to defend properly a man who is before the court, because of his inability to employ a lawyer. The hardest days of my life were those, although not recognized properly by me at the time, when, with my lack of ability and experience, I had to appear before the courts to defend men charged with crime. No man who walks from the high temples of learning with the magnificent ideas and theories, with the inspired cases he has been studying in college, has any of those inspired cases to handle in court. I learned very rapidly when I went before the criminal bar, defending some 300 men, that the saddest thing I had to contend with was my lack of experience. I know that if I had the opportunity to defend them today I probably could represent them in much better fashion than I did.

Now it is contended that in our courts we appoint in certain cases public defenders to defend persons before the federal court. When in one of those instances the court calls upon an attorney to defend an indigent person the attorney cannot refuse; the court can even call Mr. McNab or any other of the leading attorneys, and they would not consider disobeying, because no attorney who has any practice before the federal courts can afford to in any manner offend the court. The attorneys appointed in those cases are able gentlemen, excellent lawyers and men with great experience and training.

To my mind it is far better to pay out some twenty thousand, twenty-eight thousand dollars for the protection of those in need of proper legal services than it would be for the government to pay out twice that amount in jury fees and other costs incurred in the appointment of attorneys by the court.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: I would like to say that if the old system of appointing attorneys would continue to produce attorneys of Judge Deasy's type and ability, I would consider it a very satisfactory system.

JUDGE DEASY: Thanks, Supervisor, but it is probably much better to have a Public Defender because there is too much presumption that the young attorney appointed has not had the practice and experience, and he is trying out his theories at the expense, many times, of the unfortunate man before the court. I tried several murder cases when I was a young fellow, and I suffered severely many years after on account of my lack of training and experience at that time. I would hate to be in the position myself of being forced to be defended by some juvenile attorney just out of law school with a lot of fancy theories to try out on me. Many of our principles of practice are much changed after years of experience from our theories when we were starting out.

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER: I don't know whether my colleagues will agree with me or not, but I want to move at this time that this matter be taken into the hands of the Board——

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: One more witness I want to call first——

SUPERVISOR CANEPA (interrupting): We have the Chief of Police here; I would like to hear from him.

THE PRESIDENT: Supervisor Havenner has the floor.

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER: That is the motion. So far as I am concerned, I would not be willing to take a step of the importance proposed by Supervisor Brown without a much more careful study, and a much fuller report from the responsible bodies in our community and from various government organizations than has been possible at this late moment. I don't think I would ever be willing to vote for the abolition of a government body which has been created by both the approval of the people and presented upon motion, however well intentioned it may be——

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER (interrupting): I submit that for the first time the gentleman is out of order.

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER: Can I have a second to my motion?

SUPERVISOR RONCOVIERI: Second the motion.

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: Second the motion.

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER: I have no interest, except the interest of time. The gentlemen of the Board know we are, by the requirements of the Charter, obliged to pass for second reading this budget this evening, before 12 o'clock. What I started out to say, I don't think that under any circumstances I would be willing to vote to do away with the office of Public Defender, or any other government office, without the opportunity for further study, and for a more complete report from responsible bodies in the community, and it would be only upon that ground that I suggest at this time that we take the matter into the hands of the Board without hearing further opinion with outside parties or officials.

I don't agree with the Supervisor's premises in the first place, that the issue of economy alone is a sufficient ground upon which to propose——

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER (interrupting): I rise to a point of order again; the matter before the Board at the present time is: "Shall the matter be taken into the hands of the Board?"——

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER (interrupting): I am starting in to make the point I intend to make, Supervisor——

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER (interrupting): I make the point of order——

THE PRESIDENT (interrupting): The point is not well taken.

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER: I haven't finished making it.

THE PRESIDENT: You are half way out of order.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Mr. President, I rise to the point of order, and my point of order is, sir, that the simple question pending before the body is "Shall the matter be taken into the hands of the Board?" The merits of the question, as to whether the position shall be stricken out is not before the Board at this time.

THE PRESIDENT: The point of order is not well taken, Supervisor.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I am going to start one for you, if you will stay here till morning, my point of order is well taken, and I will appeal from your decision.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there a second?

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: If the Supervisor yells loud enough I will second it.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there a second?

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: He didn't yell.

THE PRESIDENT: There being no second to your appeal, it is lost through want of a second. Supervisor Havenner, you have the floor.

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER: I was merely attempting to support my motion that the matter be taken in the hands of the Board without hearing further opinion from outside officials, and I started to say that I don't think that the arguments for economy, unsupported by a more complete investigation and report than we can possibly have before us at this time, in view of the lateness of the hour. Certainly there is involved in this the perpetuation of the Public Defender's office. Mr. President, can't we dispense with the discussions with the employees——

THE PRESIDENT: The Board will kindly come to order. Proceed, Supervisor Havenner.

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER: There is certainly involved in the question whether the Public Defender's office should or should not be continued a much more fundamental question in the operation of our City government than the mere issue of economy. Certain of the gentlemen who have spoken have touched upon that question, and I think we could not render an opinion that would be fully matured on such short notice, and if I did my vote would have to be cast in favor of continuing the office, because I believe the means of rendering the proper official representation here in court for those unfortunates who are accused of crime and have not the means to retain counsel in their own behalf is of far more gravity, in so far as the perpetuation of the rights of our citizens and institutions are concerned, than the mere temporary issue of economy.

Now I would welcome the Supervisor's proposal with proper time devoted to it by the Bar Association of San Francisco and of the State, if they should make an investigation, as to the proper equipment and the proper personnel of this office and should render to us, after a thorough investigation, their findings and report as to what they believe would be a proper handling of the office.

Therefore, I move that the matter be taken into the hands of the Board and that the matter be voted on at this time.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there any objection to taking the matter into the hands of the Board at this time?

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Yes, I object, and for this reason, and I trust—— Supervisor Canepa asked the privilege of the floor be allowed to Chief of Police Quinn——

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER (interrupting): I have no objection to hearing from the Chief——

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER (interrupting): Whether you take it in the hands of the Board or not, I am going to ask the Chief some questions, now what do you know about that?

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Mr. President, I have asked several times, and I don't want to be objecting all the time, but I think the members of this Board should stop these acrimonious discussions at this time, and, Supervisor Havenner——

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER (interrupting): What have I done? And further, I object to your continuous use of that word "acrimonious." I haven't done a thing so far——

THE PRESIDENT (interrupting): The Board will please come to order. Supervisor McSheehy has the floor. Proceed, Supervisor.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: I will volunteer my services——

THE PRESIDENT: Proceed, Supervisor McSheehy.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I will ask, Supervisor Canepa asked the privilege of the floor for Chief Quinn, and I ask that he be granted that privilege before taking the matter into the hands of the Board, and if I am allowed that privilege I will gladly vote for your motion, Supervisor Havenner, to take it into the hands of the Board.

THE PRESIDENT: If there is no objection, Chief Quinn will be heard. Chief, you have the floor.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I would like to ask the Chief, has the Police Department any objection to the Public Defender's office? Has he worked in harmony with that department?

CHIEF OF POLICE QUINN: I was summoned here tonight, and it's just as well I didn't know what for. I was under the impression the budget was to be heard.

THE PRESIDENT: The Board will kindly give attention. Proceed, Chief.

CHIEF QUINN: I think it would be improper for me to be asked any questions, or to make any statements on this matter, and I beg to be excused.

THE PRESIDENT: That is your right. The matter now before the Board is the motion by Supervisor Havenner to take the matter into the hands of the Board.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: May I ask Supervisor Gallagher; Supervisor Gallagher made a motion or said something about certain representatives of the government. Are you satisfied, Supervisor Gallagher, to take the matter in the hands of the Board?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: There is only one witness I would like to have here this evening—— I wish you would sit down, Supervisor.

THE PRESIDENT: Are there any other witnesses to be heard before taking it into the hands of the Board?

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: Call the roll.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there any objection by any member to taking the matter into the hands of the Board?

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: May I ask some information from the members of the Public Defender's office?

SUPERVISOR STANTON: I just asked them, and they say they have nothing they want to present at this time.

SUPERVISOR COLMAN: Who has the floor? Will you please rule, Mr. Chairman?

THE PRESIDENT: You have the floor, Supervisor.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: Yes, you can have the floor.

SUPERVISOR COLMAN: Mr. President, members of the Board: I think the motion made by Supervisor Brown is absolutely in order, it is fully within his rights as a Supervisor, and I want to commend him for the fearless courage he showed in bringing the matter before us for discussion, and it is significant, too, the indications of the public views on the matter by the expressions here tonight, first from the representative of the Chamber of Commerce and then by the representative of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. I am a layman, which I admit, and which I will emphasize later on in my remarks, but to me the thing did seem paradoxical, a matter where we had an expenditure of a large sum of money for the District Attorney's office to prosecute criminals and then another large sum for the Public Defender's office to defend them. I didn't quite understand. I listened with a great deal of interest to the gentleman who spoke to us tonight from the District Attorney's office, a gentleman whom I met in campaigning, I always seem to run into Mr. Garry. In answer to the criticisms leveled against the office, some thought there were not enough convictions, but I gathered from what Mr. Garry has stated that the District Attorney's method is that they would rather some guilty man go free than one innocent man convicted. As I say, this is a matter that has always been sort of mixed up in my mind, but tonight Mr. Garry stated the economies brought about by the office of the Public Defender—I think he said that out of some 700 cases only about 70 were tried by jury, and that all of the others pleaded guilty. I think those were the figures, some 630 cases.

I am confused on the issue, I don't understand it, I admit. Too, Judge Lazarus did say something that has truth in it, that it takes something unusual to focus public attention on an office. That is natural, just as if an accident occurs, or if a crime takes place, we watch the police and we watch the press, and if a fire happens, we then look into the fire equipment, and so forth. Also, I have discussed this matter with several attorneys, whose names they do not want mentioned, who have expressed their thoughts that the whole set-up was not necessary. Now, as a layman, as I told Supervisor Brown before dinner, I felt this Board could not—I didn't know this motion was going to be made tonight, and my second was to bring it out, and also because I recognized it was a two-sided question. Now I admit it would not be the right thing for me, or for that matter, for any other member of the Board, without proper information and a thorough investigation by those well qualified to pass upon this question, which is a legal question, to try to pass upon it. From the statement made by Mr. Whiting, I think he did say that the San Francisco Bar Association had not investigated the matter and therefore he could not express an opinion. We would welcome, I think, such an opinion and such an investigation, but I concur with Supervisor Havenner that it would be rather presumptuous and would not be just right for us to abolish the positions; it would not be the proper thing. It is not a question of these young men, I admit, and I don't know them, they don't belong in the discussion, I admit all you say about them, but the question would be the same whether these four young men or any other, that doesn't come into at all, and I know it didn't come into the question with Supervisor Brown. So I suggested to Supervisor Brown that in view of that it would be the better thing for us tonight to vote for this money and to continue that office.

I think no doubt, regardless of our action here tonight, that the unfortunate events that have taken place have focused public attention on this office, and I feel confident investigation probably will take place and this question be gone into thoroughly, and I would prefer to await more expert advice before acting. I say I think Supervisor Brown did a splendid thing in bringing this matter up for an honest and open and sincere discussion of the matter.

With that understanding, if he will allow me, I will withdraw my second and agree to another motion he may make regarding the matter.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Mr. Chairman, I am new on the Board and it would be presumptuous if I did not follow the advice of older and wiser fellow members, and I am quite agreeable to accepting the suggestion made by Supervisor Colman, than an investigation properly conducted should probably be made of the entire situation. It seems to me that in view of what has been brought out here tonight, that the Board perhaps is not the proper one to conduct that investigation; we have other duties to perform. After all, our duties at the present time are financial ones, and not the defending of unfortunate criminals, and if that be the case, rather than take the time of the Board further now, and feeling confident that it has been brought to the attention of those who, if they see fit, can investigate it much more thoroughly and better than we, I agree with Supervisor Colman, that if he is willing to withdraw his second I will, therefore, in the absence of a second to my motion, withdraw the motion.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: A point of order.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: What is the point of order?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Before the motion can be withdrawn the Board must consent.

THE PRESIDENT: The motion is withdrawn.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: The motion is not withdrawn.

THE PRESIDENT: It is withdrawn by the maker and the second.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I refuse to agree to that at the present time. When a motion is made and seconded and put, it is in the possession of the house, and only the house can permit its withdrawal.

THE PRESIDENT: The motion is withdrawn.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Mr. Chairman, you cannot get away with that. I understand it is done by mutual consent, and I submit it to any fair man in the house, and I want to appeal your decision, sir. The motion, once made and put to the house, is in its possession, and only the house by mutual consent can permit its withdrawal, either the withdrawal of the second or the removal of the motion. If you want to rule, go ahead.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: Mr. President, I am fair. I have attended many sessions of the legislature, and my colleague, Supervisor Gallagher, is absolutely correct in his statement. I will gladly, if my colleague desires to take an appeal from the Chair, I will second it with pleasure.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I want to take an appeal, and I think the Chair will admit the error of his ruling.

THE PRESIDENT: In the interest of time, and to give the Supervisor a chance to make a statement, I will rule the motion before the Board. Proceed.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I want to say, Mr. Chairman, I would like to say that there is more behind the withdrawal of the motion, Mr. Brown, than perhaps you yourself contemplate. You have made a suggestion at what might be considered an unfortunate time. I want, with reference to what I am going to state, I want the honorable Chief of Police to understand it has no reference to his department, but when men fall temporarily in the public esteem it is not an unusual thing for the hounds to take after them. You set up this premise this afternoon, that the three persons, the positions—no, the six positions in the Public Defender's office were not needful or useful, and in the interest of public economy you desired that it should be wiped out of this budget. I submit to you, sir, that the very act of your proposal of withdrawal, thus permitting your second to withdraw his, that you raised the question at an unfortunate and an almost pathetic time. If that were all you did, we might pass the question; but when you tie into your withdrawal the statement for the press of this city and community at large that this Board here do consent, in your presentation of the issue you raise, to an investigation of this office, you tie behind the efforts that are being made to unravel the affairs of that office the action of this Board, to which, Mr. Chairman, I do not consent at this time. May I say to you in passing that the Public Defender's conduct is under investigation, minute investigation in quarters not now spoken of in the public print, and the question of the head of that office, in my judgment, will shortly be settled. But behind him are some people who occupy positions in this community, and who by this motion, Mr. Chairman, I won't say because of the condition, but at least by the fact that public attention is called to it, they had put on them the stigma of not being useful, not being a useful, needful part of the public officialdom of this City that should be continued.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Will you yield to a question?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Gladly.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Will you point out in the record the place I used the word "useful" or "needful"?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I point out that——

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Will you answer the question?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Yes, I will answer it. Yes.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: The question is will you point out in the record where I used the words "needful" or "useful"?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I don't know whether you used the words or not, but my answer is that your motion and the withdrawal did the very same thing.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: You still have not answered my question.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I answer your question, that your argument, if you did not use the particular words, your whole argument here in my opinion went to the point they were not needful and not useful. Can anybody dispute that in fairness?

SUPERVISOR BROWN: I can and do dispute it.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Very well, then, you have your opinion. I have mine.

Now, there was brought here a representative of the Chamber of Commerce; there was brought here a representative of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. One of them admitted he did not know the Charter of the City, and you would not permit a question to be answered on that. The representative of the Chamber of Commerce only gave a statement of the president of the Chamber of Commerce, a very good president, but they were brought here at the eleventh hour to support the motion made by you, and the result of it has been what? I might answer, Mr. Chairman, that the result is that the motion is to be withdrawn. I consent to it, but only on one condition, that this Board is not placed in the position, and until the motion is properly made, it will not be placed in the position, of investigating the conduct of Mr. Boden, Mr. Toner and Mr. Kenney and the other employees of that office. I won't stand for it, and I base my argument on this, that these people have committed no wrong except to be attached to an office that is in the public eye, whether for good or for bad, which will shortly be proven, and the time to defend them is when they are under attack. I know these men, and I know their word has been verified by experts on the question. I note that the Chief of Police, who has the head of that office under investigation, very plainly said this is no time for him to speak, and it is to the credit of the Chief of Police that he made that statement. I say, therefore, Mr. Chairman, if the motion is to be withdrawn—I will admit, perhaps, as you say, Mr. Brown, you are inexperienced—I consent to its withdrawal only on the understanding that this Board has not as yet, and will not until a motion is made to that effect, be a party to an order to investigate that office.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: Mr. Chairman, I hope if ever I, in the hour of necessity, which Heaven forbid, need a defender, I will have as able a defender as Mr. Gallagher, and I compliment him on his statement, which is very thorough of his side of the case. I would like to point out the fact that the gentlemen he mentions have not been attacked, and that there has been no personality injected into this thing whatsoever; that we are dealing purely and solely with the question of economy. We have a duty to the taxpayers of San Francisco. A number of those taxpayers cast votes for me in the last election, and I deem it my duty to those gentlemen and ladies who cast those votes to examine every item of this budget. With no other purpose in mind the motion was originally made, and since, in the interest of time, it seemed feasible that the motion be withdrawn, I respectfully request the Board that it permit me to withdraw it.

SUPERVISOR COLMAN: Mr. President——

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: Mr. President, I insist upon a point of order, that the Supervisor has had the floor once, and I have not taken the floor on the question pending before the Board.

THE PRESIDENT: Supervisor Colman has the floor.

SUPERVISOR COLMAN: Mr. President and members of the Board: I do not agree at all with the very remarkable statement made by Supervisor Gallagher, not for one minute. That motion was made in good faith by Supervisor Brown. It is a proper motion in every respect, and it has absolutely none of the vices that were stated in the gentleman's remarks. There was no aspersion cast upon any of these gentlemen whatsoever. It is absolutely proper that a member of this Board can look into the necessity for the expenditure of the people's money. As I stated, it is true, no doubt, that the public notice has been upon that office in view of the unfortunate events that have taken place, but that is always so, and that in no manner changes the situation. Mr. Brown is not on trial here. He is not subject to any criticism for bringing up any matter at all that looks proper to him. I think it is in good order. I think it is a fine thing for the gentlemen in the Public Defender's office that this thing did come up. They are absolutely in no danger. Their reputations are all right, and nothing is going to happen to them at all. Nevertheless, it is proper that we do look into it. There is a difference of opinion in this city as to the value to the community of the Public Defender's office, not of the standing of these gentlemen, or their ability or their integrity. There is no question about that in my mind. But I do not understand the remarks just made. Any member of this Board can do anything he wants within his legal rights and not be subject to any criticism whatsoever, and should not be put in any false position. I admire Mr. Brown, I admire his courage in coming right out in the open. As for the gentleman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, he does not have to know the Charter to offer an opinion as to whether or not the Public Defender's office is necessary. It is entirely immaterial. He may never have seen the Charter, and yet his organization is in a position to render a very intelligent opinion. He has stated a committee has been working on it for a period of two years. Whatever they do, they stand on their own feet with the respect and admiration of the people of San Francisco. Mr. Brown is not without some backing and some warm friends in the community in the statement that he makes. He is subject to no criticism, and he has the full rights as an elected member of this Board.

THE PRESIDENT: Any objection to withdrawing the motion?

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: Mr. President, the office of the Public Defender has been created many years ago. It was originally created by an act of the State Legislature. Later on when the Charter was adopted by direct vote of the people it was written in the Charter by the Board of Freeholders. We have summoned a number of our judges here, together with a representative of the District Attorney's office and the representatives from the Public Defender's office. From their testimony, together with the testimony submitted by the representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the attorney here of the Better Business Men's Association, together with the representative of the San Francisco Bar Association, we have learned that instead of saving the taxpayers of our city money—I am not going to try to raise my voice above the voices of others. I am going to stay on my side and let it go at that.

THE PRESIDENT: Supervisor Canepa has the floor.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: I am going to be as brief as possible. The statement was made there is a saving running over $60,000 in the jury service rendered by the District Attorney's office and the Public Defender's office. If we were to eliminate the four assistant attorneys and the two clerk stenographers, by that statement the taxpayers would be out, because the difference between the $60,000 and the $20,000 would be a total loss to the taxpayers of our city. I agree with my colleague and my confrere Supervisor Gallagher in his statement to the members of this Board that these able assistants are not on trial here before this Board. I believe, Mr. Brown, and Mr. Colman, you admit that they are not here this evening on trial, because we all know through publicity through the San Francisco newspapers and throughout the world that the Public Defender's office is now being investigated. We all admit that. I want to say if Mr. Brown admits that it is not a saving to the taxpayers of our city by trying to eliminate the four attorneys and two clerk stenographers, then I will consent to the withdrawal of his motion. I think that the Supervisor should admit it, recalling all the testimony which was given in the record here this evening.

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: Being a member of the bar, I think I should express my opinion, and say, first of all, that I have never heard such incongruous statements as are made in support and defense of this particular issue. The first thing was, is the question of humanity involved? Then we hear in defense of it that it is a saving of $60,000. Whether or not a man pleads guilty and saves the jury fees in my opinion is no justification for the statement. However, I wish to say that every member of the office is a good friend of mine. Their integrity is not questioned. Every one of them is a capable man; so far as they are concerned, they are to receive the commendation of this community. I think the members of this Board should realize that the whole question of the Public Defender's office as an institution, aside from personalities, is one that should receive the consideration of the community, and the question of whether or not this office should be abolished is one that should receive further consideration, and very serious consideration. The whole legal system is involved, and the whole problem of humanity is involved. I do not think the matter should be taken up in any spirit of personalities. Very frankly, at this time I would not vote to abolish that office. I think many members of the Board question the advisability of the Public Defender's office as an institution, but I do not feel this is the proper time, at the eleventh hour, to discuss this matter. I, however, want it understood, whether the matter comes to a vote or not, so far as these assistant Public Defenders are concerned, that I, as one, commend them for their efficiency and their conduct, but I do want to go on record as saying that I believe the institution of the Public Defender's office should be one that should be investigated, not investigated from the viewpoint of the conduct of the office, but investigated from the viewpoint of whether that institution is a proper one in the City, and I think that is the light in which we all should accept it.

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER: I move the motion of Mr. Brown be withdrawn.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: Second the motion.

THE PRESIDENT: The motion of Supervisor Havenner is that Mr. Brown be given permission to withdraw his motion. Any objection? There being no objection, it is withdrawn.

Chief Administrator's Office, Page 52, Live Stock Center.

Supervisor Gallagher moved to include a new item: Capital expenditure to be contributed to Agricultural District No. 1A, matching the $250,000 contribution made by the State Legislature in 1931, for the purpose of constructing a live stock center in said district, $350,000.

Supervisor Canepa suggested that the following words be added: "Provided, however, that the land purchased for the Agricultural District be located within 150 feet of the San Francisco County line."

Accepted.

Communication.

The following was presented, read, and ordered filed:

San Francisco, Calif., May 18, 1932.

Mr. James McSheehy, Supervisor, San Francisco, California.

My dear Mr. McSheehy: In accordance with my commitment given you today I am herewith giving you the statistical data in regard to the benefits to be derived and the need of a live stock show in San Francisco.

The live stock industry of California is the third largest in the State and the second largest in the United States. The consumption of meat in San Francisco alone during the year 1931 called for 159,268 head of cattle, 802,312 head of sheep, and 467,208 head of swine. Live stock shows in other sections of the country, such as Portland, Omaha, Wichita, St. Louis, Kansas City and Chicago, have had a very noticeable effect in the building up of the live stock industry in the various States where these cities are located. The Associated Press report of 1931 said:

"The International Live Stock Show at Chicago was the direct means of bringing 250,000 visitors into that city for a ten-day visit; 100,000 of these came from outside the State of Illinois."

In a survey recently made of these various cities it was the consensus of opinion of the newspapers, hotels, banks and leading department stores that the holding of a live stock show in a city gave an impetus to business that could only be matched by the week preceding Christmas.

San Francisco is the clearing house for 70 per cent of the live stock industry of California. It is the headquarters for the California Cattlemen's Association, the Western Marketing Association, and the Tri-State Live Stock Loan Association. This institution, while but new, has been very active in the bringing in of outside money for the benefit of the cattlemen of the three States, California, Nevada and Arizona. In the short length of time that they have been operating they have distributed a total of $860,000 to the building up of this industry, and have at their command, or will be able to secure, a grand total of $2,500,000.

We already have available from the State of California $250,000 ready for expenditure just as soon as we procure another $250,000 in cash and provide a site for the exposition.

I wish to emphasize again that two things are essential before the State's money can be used:

1. Providing an additional $250,000 in cash and
2. Furnishing a site, the title of which must be in Agricultural District 1A, free and clear of any encumbrances.

You will also be advised that the directors of this organization—Agricultural District 1A—have pledged themselves to raise additional funds for the completion of this institution, which will cost approximately $1,296,000, and in establishing this proposed live stock show in San Francisco we are accomplishing the following results:

1. Encouraging and upbuilding the live stock industry of this State;
2. Creating closer ties between the urban and rural population; and last, but not least,
3. Establishing in San Francisco an institution which will be the means of having for San Francisco a permanent annual event such as the Pacific International Live Stock Show held annually at Portland, Oregon, the American Royal Live Stock Show at Kansas City, the National Dairy Show at St. Louis, the International Live Stock Show at Chicago, and the Aksarben at Omaha, Nebraska.

The buildings as proposed by this organiaztion will cover an area of 12½ acres. The Industrial Building alone will have a floor area of 90,000 square feet, the Stock Show Arena will have a seating capacity of approximately 12,000 people, stabling for 600 head of horses and barns for 2000 head of cattle, 1000 sheep and 1000 swine.

Thanking you for your consideration and the many courtesies shown me by yourself and the Board of Supervisors, I am,

Very sincerely yours,
W. L. DOUGLAS,
Secretary Agricultural District 1A.

Section 3. The sums appropriated by this appropriation ordinance to the several departments shall be expended in accordance with a schedule of allotments, monthly or quarterly as determined by the Controller and agreed to by the Mayor for departments under his jurisdiction and/or the Chief Administrative Officer.

The Controller in issuing warrants or in certifying contracts or purchase orders or other encumbrances, pursuant to Section 89 of the Charter, shall consider only the allotted portions of appropriation items to be available for encumbrance or expenditure, and shall not approve the incurring of liability on any allotment in excess of the amount of such allotment. In case of emergency or unusual circumstance which could not be anticipated at the time of apportionment, an additional allotment for a period may be made on the recommendation of the department head and that of the Mayor or Chief Administrative Officer and the approval of the Controller.

The several items of expenditure appropriated to the several departments being based upon estimated receipts, income, or revenues which may not be fully realized, it shall be incumbent upon the Controller to revise estimates monthly. If such revised estimates indicate a potential shortage, the Controller may hold in reserve an equivalent amount of the expenditure appropriations set forth herein until the collection of the amounts as originally estimated is assured.

Section 4. After the allotment schedule has been established or fixed, as heretofore provided, it shall be unlawful for any department or officer to expend or cause to be expended a sum greater than the amount set forth for the particular activity in the said allotment schedule so established, unless an additional allotment is made, as provided in Section 3.

Section 5. The existing Special and Trust funds are hereby continued and the receipts in, and expenditures from, each such fund are hereby appropriated in accordance with law and the conditions under which each such fund was established.

The Controller is authorized to set up additional special and trust funds as they may be created by additional bequests or other conditions.

Section 6. The several amounts of estimated receipts herein appropriated, and each fund or department to which such appropriation is made, are as follows:

Contract Procedure Ordinance.
(Code No. 9.087)

Bill No. 59, Ordinance No. 9.0871, as follows:

Establishing the procedure for and regulating the entering into contract for the construction, reconstruction or repair of public buildings, streets, utilities or other public work or improvement to be performed at the expense of the City and County, or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury, or out of trust moneys under the control of or to be collected by the City and County, and repealing Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), in effect January 6, 1932.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. The several department heads and officers empowered by law to enter into contracts on the part of the City and County for public work or improvements to be performed at the expense of the City and County, or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury, or out of trust moneys under the control, or collected by, the City and County, when the expenditure involved shall exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000), shall let such contract to the lowest reliable and responsible bidder at any time not less than ten (10) days after the last date of publication or more than twenty (20) days after receipt of bid unless the time for letting such contract be extended by resolution of the Board of Supervisors upon the recommendation of the department head, board or commission responsible for such award. Provided that if the officer or department head empowered to award such contract believes that the public interest would be best served by accepting other than the lowest gross price or unit cost bid, and the contract is entered into with another bidder, written report shall be made immediately to the Chief Administrative Officer, the Mayor and the Controller by the officer authorized to execute the contract, with the reasons for failure to accept such lowest bid. The department head concerned is authorized to compare bids on the basis of time of completion, and any contract awarded in consideration, in whole or in part, of the relative time estimate of bidders for completion of the work, shall be subject to the provisions of section 97 of the Charter. Notice of award shall be published.

Section 2. The department head shall have power to sign any contract when the estimated expenditure thereunder is not in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000). Any contract involving the expenditure of over two thousand dollars ($2,000) shall require the joint approval of the department head and the Chief Administrative Officer, relative to departments under his jurisdiction, or the signature of the department head and the approval by resolution of the board or commission concerned for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer; provided that no obligation involving the expenditure of money shall be incurred unless certification of the Controller is first obtained in accordance with section 86 of the Charter.

Section 3. Alterations, modifications or extras in any contract which will increase the contract cost may be made or allowed only on the written recommendation of the department head responsible for the supervision of the contract, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer or the board or commission, as the case may be, and also the approval of the Controller, stating the increased price to be paid by reason thereof.

Allowances, modifications or credits in any contract which will decrease the contract cost may be made or allowed only upon recommendation of the department head responsible for the supervision of the contract, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, or board of commission, as the case may be, and also the approval of the Controller, stating the amount to be deducted from the amount to be paid under the contract.

In the performance of any contract awarded on the unit and the unit cost basis, if the department head concerned ascertains that the amount of work done or to be done, shall exceed the estimated amount of the contract by 10 per cent or more, the excess cost shall be provided for as prescribed by section 80 of the Charter relative to supplemental appropriations.

Section 4. The department head, with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, or the department head, with the approval of the board or commission to which he is responsible, may reject any and all bids and readvertise for bids.

Section 5. In any case, when the expenditure for the construction, reconstruction or repair of public buildings, streets, utilities or other public works or improvements shall, as estimated by the department head, exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) the bids heretofore referred to shall be sealed, directed to the department head or officer calling the bids, and shall be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank of the State of California, payable on sight to the City and County of San Francisco, the amount of which shall be fixed by said department head or officer and named in the advertisement, which amount shall not be less than 10 per cent of the amount bid for the cost of the proposed work or improvement, and no proposal shall be considered unless accompanied by such check.

Notices inviting sealed bids under the conditions of this section must be published for two (2) consecutive days in the official newspaper, and at least five calendar days must intervene between the date of the last publication and the time for filing such sealed bids or proposals. Such notices shall state in general terms the conditions of the proposed contract, and if progressive payments are to be provided under any contract in accordance with section 96 of the Charter, or if any contract is to be let on the basis of a gross price or cost per unit of work to be performed, or on the basis of time of completion, with liquidated damages for every day during which the contract is uncompleted beyond such specified date in accordance with section 97 of the Charter, such notice shall so state. Each advertisement for bids shall contain the reservation of the right to reject any and all bids.

All bids shall be filed on forms furnished by the department head concerned, and all bids not so filed shall be rejected. All bids received as herein provided shall be publicly opened by the proper department head or officer at the time and place to be stated in the advertisement for proposals, and after tabulation bidders may inspect the bids. Bids with alterations or erasures therein shall be rejected. When specifications do not include alternative proposals, statements or communications accompanying bids which serve to qualify such bids shall not be considered in making awards, and will disqualify bidders.

Section 6. Before the execution of any contract for public works or improvements, the department head or officer authorized to enter into said contract shall require the successful bidder to file corporate surety bonds for the faithful performance thereof and to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and of bills contracted for material, supplies and equipment used in the performance of the contract. Said bond shall be for a sum not less than 50 per cent of the award.

The Controller shall approve the sufficiency and qualifications of all sureties as required under the provisions of this ordinance.

If any bidder to whom the contract is awarded under the provisions of this section shall for ten (10) days after such award fail or neglect to enter into the contract and file the required bond, the department head or officer in whom authority to execute said contract is vested, shall deposit such certified check in the Treasury for collection and the amount thereof shall be retained by the City and County as liquidated damages for the failure of such bidder to enter into said contract; unless upon recommendation of the department head or officer authorized to execute said contract, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, Board or Commission, the Board of Supervisors, by resolution, approves the return of said check.

Each contractor must save, keep, bear harmless, and fully indemnify the City and County and any of its officers or agents from all damages, or claims for damages, costs, or expenses in law or equity that may at any time arise or be set up for any infringement of the patent rights, copyright or trademark of any person or persons in consequence of the use by the City and County, or any of its officers or agents, of articles to be supplied under said contract and of which the contractor is not the patentee or assignee or has not the lawful right to sell the same.

No article or articles furnished under any contract made under the provisions of this ordinance shall have been made in a prison or by convict labor. No contract shall be assigned except upon the recommendation of the department head concerned and with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer relative to the departments under his jurisdiction, or the approval of the board or commission concerned for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer.

The officer responsible for the awarding of any contract shall require from all bidders information concerning their experience and financial qualifications, as provided by general law relative to such investigations authorized by departments of public works, and shall take such information into consideration in the award of any contract.

All contracts, extras and credits shall be executed in triplicate; the original to be retained by the officer or department head making the award; one copy to be filed with the Controller and one copy to be given to the contractor.

Any contractor who fails to live up to the terms of his contract may by the joint action of the head of the department concerned and the Controller be declared an irresponsible contractor, and shall not for a period of one year be awarded any further contract unless on the joint action of the head of the department concerned and the Controller such disqualification is removed.

Section 7. Appropriate City and County departments may file sealed bids for the execution of any work to be performed under a contract and shall not be required to furnish security or submit information relative to financial qualifications as provided in this ordinance. Any bid submitted by a department of the City and County, if it is the lowest bid, must be approved by the Controller before the award of contract. If the bid of a City and County department, as investigated and approved by the Controller, is the lowest, the contract shall be awarded to the department and accurate unit costs shall be kept of all direct and indirect charges incurred by the department under any such contract, which unit costs shall be reported to and audited by the Controller monthly and on completion of the work.

Section 8. The department head authorized to award any contract for public works or improvements shall be responsible for the inspection and acceptance of such work on completion. Such acceptance shall be in writing and shall include the certificate of the department head concerned that the work covered by the contract has been fully and satisfactorily completed in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor. Receipt of copy of such acceptance in writing shall constitute the Controller's authority to complete any payments due the contractor under said contract, provided that the Controller may make such additional investigation or inspection as is provided by section 85 of the Charter.

Section 9. Any construction, reconstruction or repair of public buildings, streets, utilities or other public work or improvement estimated to cost less than $1,000 may be performed under contract or written order by the employment of the necessary labor and purchase of the necessary materials and supplies directly by the City and County. Any public work or improvement executed by the City other than routine repair work shall be authorized by the Chief Administrative Officer or by the heads of departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer only after detailed estimates have been prepared and submitted by the head of the department concerned. Any public work or improvement costing less than $1,000 and not performed by the use of City and County labor, materials and supplies, shall, if not performed under contract, be covered by written order or agreement which shall be based on not less than three bids, notice of which shall be given by three days' posting.

It shall be the duty of the Controller to determine, where practicable, the unit cost of work done by the City and County for the purpose of determining whether similar work could be done under public contract at a lower cost.

The Controller shall maintain records of bids filed by departments in relation to the total direct and indirect cost of each such work and shall report thereon periodically to the Mayor and Chief Administrative Officer. The Controller may refuse to approve contracts with a department shown to be repeatedly underbidding on contract work and failing to complete same within the contract price.

Section 10. The Board of Supervisors hereby declares that in an actual emergency created by weather conditions, fire, flood, or other unforeseen conditions of unusual character, or the breakdown of any plant, equipment, structure, street or public work, necessitating immediate emergency repair or reconditioning to safeguard the lives or property of the citizens or the property of the City and County or to maintain the public health or welfare, such repair, reconditioning or other emergency work may be executed in the most expeditious manner by the department head responsible therefor, who shall, if the emergency permits, first secure the approval in writing of the Chief Administrative Officer, if the emergency work is to be done or ordered by any department under his jurisdiction or, for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer, the approval in writing of the president of the board or commission concerned, or of the Mayor. If the emergency does not permit such approval to be obtained before work is commenced said approval as hereinabove mentioned shall be obtained as soon thereafter as it is possible to do so.

The department head concerned shall notify the Controller immediately of the work involved and the estimated cost thereof.

Section 11. Whenever any preferential in favor of local manufacturers or industry is provided by state law or ordinance or resolution of the Board of Supervisors, the same shall apply to contracts under this ordinance.

Section 12. This ordinance does not affect or apply to street improvement work or to other public work, the cost or expense of which is or will be assessed in whole or in part against private property.

Section 13. All the terms and provisions of Section 98 of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco shall be applicable to and become a part of any and all contracts entered into pursuant to the terms and provisions of this ordinance.

Section 14. Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), approved January 6, 1932, is hereby repealed.

Explanation.

Present Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), approved January 6, 1932, was not workable for many reasons.

The title merely read "for public work or improvement to be performed at the expense of the City and County or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury or out of trust moneys under the control of or to be assessed, or to be collected by the City and County." This is in violation of the 1918 Improvement Act, which takes care of work performed under assessments.

The time limits provided in the original ordinance under Section 2 precluded a department from awarding a contract in case of an emergency.

Section 86 of the Charter provides that no expenditure can be made unless certificate of the Controller is first obtained. The present ordinance did not provide for this.

The present Charter provides methods of procedure for credits, modifications and extras. Present ordinance did not provide for this section.

Present ordinance provides for a certified check or certificate of deposit in amount not more than 10 per cent of the amount of bid.

This has been changed to read "not less than 10 per cent." Present ordinance would have permitted a man to accompany his bid by a check of 1 per cent if the directing head was willing to approve same.

Present ordinance did not provide for inspection of work. This has been included in new ordinance.

The present ordinance prohibits an article or articles from being made in a prison. This has been changed to read "no article or articles furnished under contract made under the provisions of this ordinance shall have been made in a prison or by convict labor."

In the main, every section of the Charter pertaining to contracts for public work or improvements have been taken care of in the present ordinance. Meetings were held weekly for two months, which contractors, representatives of labor unions, Director of Works, manager of the utilities, and all interested in contract work, as well as the Controller, who sat in, in an advisory capacity, attended, and the ordinance as now drawn appeared to meet with the approval of all concerned. The City Attorney also sat in with the committee at all its meetings and approved such legislation.

This is a separation of the present ordinance and involves only what is in the title. It will necessarily be followed by another ordinance which will set up the procedure for the Purchaser of Supplies as this ordinance now sets up the procedure for the Department of Public Works, the Utilities Commission and others.

Copy of this ordinance has heretofore been sent to each member of the Board.

Respectfully submitted,

ANDREW J. GALLAGHER, Chairman,
Supervisors' Committee on Charter Installation.

Purchase Procedure Ordinance.
(Code No. 9.086)

Also, Bill No. 76, Ordinance No. 9.0861, as follows:

Establishing a method by which materials, equipment, supplies and contractual services shall be purchased, and establishing the procedure for and regulating the entering into contract for supplies for the City and County, and repealing Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series).

Be it ordained by the people of the City and County of San Francisco, as follows:

Section 1. All departments shall file estimates of material, supplies equipment and contractual services at such times and in such manner as shall be determined upon by the Purchaser of Supplies. All purchases shall be made by the Purchaser of Supplies on requisition of the department desiring the same, except that for materials, supplies, equipment and contractual services in common use by more than one department, or used in large quantities by a department, the Purchaser of Supplies may purchase for stock on the basis of the total of such requisitions or estimates previously filed when approved by the Chief Administrative Officer.

All purchases in the open market, except for patented or proprietary articles and except for minor amounts, and except for fresh fruits and vegetables, shall be based on at least three quotations. The Purchaser of Supplies shall keep a record of such quotations and a register of all informal awards. All articles defined as "patented" or "proprietary" articles shall be listed and filed with the Chief Administrative Officer and the Controller, and the Purchaser may advertise for bids on the basis of specifications for such articles or other articles made and sold for the same purpose in accordance with the provisions of Section 88 of the Charter.

The Purchaser of Supplies, in cooperation with the officials of the several departments, shall provide for the standardization of materials, supplies and equipment in accordance with the use to which the various articles are to be put, and shall provide for adequate specifications for materials, supplies and equipment used in large quantities, or in common use by more than one department.

Section 2. When the expenditure involved shall exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), the Purchaser shall let such contract to the lowest reliable and responsible bidder not less than ten (10) days after completion of advertising by publication. Provided, that if the Purchaser of Supplies believes that the public interest would be best served by accepting other than the lowest gross price or unit cost bid, and the contract is entered into with another bidder, he shall make a written report to the Chief Administrative Officer, the Mayor and the Controller, with the reasons for failure to accept such lowest bid. Provided, further, that all contracts shall be awarded for materials, supplies, equipment and contractual services to the lowest reliable and responsible bidder only when the quality of the product offered and delivered is considered. Notice of award shall be published.

Section 3. The Purchaser of Supplies shall have power to sign any contract when the estimated expenditure thereunder is not in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00). Any contract involving the expenditure of over two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) shall require the joint approval of the Purchaser of Supplies and the Chief Administrative Officer, provided that no obligation involving the expenditure of money shall be incurred unless certification of the Controller is first obtained in accordance with Section 86 of the Charter.

Section 4. The Purchaser of Supplies, with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, may reject any and all bids and readvertise for bids. When bids are called for material, supplies, equipment and contractual services and no bid is received, or where all bids received are for the same total amount or unit price, the Purchaser of Supplies may purchase the commodities called for in the open market, provided, however, that the price paid in the open market shall not exceed any bid price received for the same commodities.

Section 5. In any case, when the expenditure for the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment or contractual services shall, as estimated by the Purchaser of Supplies, exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), the bids heretofore referred to shall be sealed, directed to the Purchaser of Supplies, and shall be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank in the City and County of San Francisco, payable on sight to the City and County of San Francisco, the amount of which shall be fixed by the Purchaser of Supplies and named in the advertisement, which amount shall not exceed ten per cent of the estimated cost of the materials, equipment, supplies or contractual services to be furnished, and shall not be less than the sum of one hundred dollars, provided that any regular or continual bidder may, in lieu of the certified check above mentioned, file a corporate surety bond, in an amount to be fixed by the Chief Administrative Officer and the Controller, to serve as surety for a period of one year that said bidder shall, during said period, enter into any and all contracts awarded to him on the basis of bids filed by him, and with provision for proper forfeiture under said bond in any case of failure, neglect or refusal so to do.

Notices inviting sealed bids under the conditions of this section must be published for two (2) consecutive days in the official newspaper and at least five (5) calendar days must intervene between the date of last publication and the time for filing such sealed bids or proposals. Such notices shall state in general terms the conditions of the proposed award, and if progressive payments are to be provided under any contract, in accordance with section 96 of the Charter or if any contract is to be let on the basis of a gross price or cost per unit of work to be performed, or on the basis of time of completion with liquidated damages for every day during which the contract is uncompleted beyond such specified date in accordance with section 97 of the Charter, such notice shall so state. Each advertisement for bids shall contain the reservation of the right to reject any and all bids.

All bids shall be filed on forms furnished by the Purchaser of Supplies, and all bids not so filed shall be rejected. All bids received as herein provided shall be opened by the Purchaser of Supplies at a time and place to be stated in the advertisement for proposals in the presence of all bidders who attend, and after tabulation bidders may inspect the bids. Bids with alterations or erasures therein shall be rejected. When specifications do not include alternative proposals, statements or communications accompanying bids which serve to qualify, such bids shall not be considered in making awards, and will disqualify bids on related items. All articles supplied shall be subject to inspection and rejection by the Purchaser of Supplies.

Section 6. In case of any contract for the purchase of materials, supplies or equipment or contractual services, the Purchaser of Supplies shall require a corporate surety bond in the sum of not less than ten per cent of the aggregate award, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract.

The Controller shall approve the sufficiency and qualifications of all sureties as required under the provisions of this ordinance.

If any bidder to whom the contract is awarded under the provisions of this section shall for ten (10) days after such award fail or neglect to enter into the contract and file the required bond, the Purchaser of Supplies shall deposit such certified check in the Treasury for collection and the amount thereof shall be retained by the City and County as liquidated damages for the failure of said bidder to enter into said contracts and under no circumstances shall the certified check be returned to such defaulting bidder, and if the bidder's obligation to enter into said contract is evidenced by a continuing bond, said Purchaser of Supplies shall determine the amount of forfeiture thereunder, which shall be not less than the specified amount of certified check required in the call for bids; provided, however, that upon the recommendation of the Purchaser of Supplies, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, the Board of Supervisors, by resolution, may approve the return of said check.

Each contractor must save, keep, bear harmless and fully indemnify the City and County and any of its officers or agents from all damages, or claims for damages, costs, or expenses in law or equity that may at any time arise or be set up for any infringement of the patent rights, copyright or trademark of any person or persons in consequence of the use by the City and County, or any of its officers or agents, of articles to be supplied under said contract and of which the contractor is not the patentee or assignee or has not the lawful right to sell the same.

Section 7. When a contractor fails to deliver an article of the quality he has contracted to furnish within the time specified in his bid, such article may be bought in the open market by the Purchaser of Supplies and if a greater price than that named in the contract be paid for such article, the excess price will be charged to and collected from the contractor or the sureties on his bond.

No article or articles furnished under any contract made under the provisions of this ordinance shall have been made in a prison or by convict labor.

No contract shall be assigned except upon the approval of the Purchaser of Supplies.

The Purchaser of Supplies shall require from all bidders information concerning their experience and financial qualifications, as provided by general law relative to such investigations authorized by departments of public works, and shall take such information into consideration in the award of any contract.

All contracts shall be executed in triplicate: the original to be retained by the Purchaser of Supplies; one copy to be filed with the Controller, and one copy to be given to the contractor.

Any contractor who fails to live up to the terms of his contract may, by the joint action of the Purchaser of Supplies and the Controller, be declared an irresponsible contractor, and shall not for a period of one year be awarded any further contract unless on the joint action of the Purchaser of Supplies and the Controller such disqualification is removed.

Section 8. The Purchaser of Supplies shall establish rules and regulations for the purpose of this ordinance. Department heads may make emergency purchases of materials and supplies with the consent of and in accordance with the rules established by the Purchaser of Supplies, but no such purchase shall be in greater amount than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars.

Section 9. Wherever any preferential in favor of local manufacturers or industry is provided by state law or ordinance or resolution of this Board of Supervisors the same shall apply to contracts under this ordinance.

Section 10. All the terms and provisions of section 98 of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco shall be applicable to and become a part of any and all contracts entered into pursuant to the terms and provisions of this ordinance.

Section 11. Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

It shall be unlawful for any master electrician, master fixture electrician, plant owner supervising electrician, or supervising fixture electrician whose certificate has been suspended, cancelled or annulled to do or install or cause to be done or installed any electrical work or fixture work until he or it has been reinstated by the Chief and either a new certificate of registration or certificate of competency issued him as the case may be.

Section 12. It shall be unlawful for any master electrician, master fixture electrician or plant owner to permit his or its name or certificate of registration to be used by any other person, firm or corporation for the purpose of obtaining a permit from the Department for doing either electrical work or fixture work which is not to be done or installed by the master electrician, master fixture electrician or plant owner obtaining such permit, and for a violation of the provisions of this section of this ordinance, in addition to any other penalties provided for the certificate of registration of the master electrician, master fixture electrician, or plant owner so violating such provisions shall be revoked and cancelled.

Section 13. It shall be unlawful for any supervising electrician or supervising fixture electrician to permit his name to be used, or to knowingly permit himelf to be held out, as the officer, superintendent or employee of any master electrician or master fixture electrician doing or supervising and directing the doing or installation of the electrical work or fixture work done or caused to be done by such master electrician or master fixture electrician, unless he is in fact such officer, superintendent or employee doing, or supervising and directing the doing and installation of the electrical work or fixture work done or caused to be done by such master electrician or master fixture electrician. Upon termination of an employment such officer, superintendent or employee shall within five days give notice in writing of that fact to the Department, and for a violation of the provisions of this section, the Chief may cancel the certificate of competency issued to any person so violating such provision.

Section 14. Whenever a supervising electrician or supervising fixture electrician, who does or who supervises and directs the doing or installation of the electrical or fixture work done by a master electrician or master fixture electrician respectively, shall leave or be discharged from the employ of such master electrician, or master fixture electrician, notice in writing thereof shall be given within five days by the employer to the Department, and the certificate of registration of such master electrician or master fixture electrician shall without further order or action of the Department or Chief stand suspended until the employment by him or it of another supervising electrician or supervising fixture electrician, as the case may be, and notice in writing has been given by the employer to the Department, countersigned by such supervising electrician or supervising fixture electrician. During the period of time when such certificate is so suspended it shall be unlawful for the holder thereof to do any electrical or fixture work within the City and County.

Section 15. Every person, firm or corporation shall before doing or installing or causing to be done or installed any electrical work in, or on or about any building or structure in the City and County, file with the Department on form to be furnished by it a written application for a permit to do such work and obtain a permit therefor. Such form and application in addition to other matters required by the Department shall contain a brief specification showing the nature and kind of the electrical work to be done or installed and the location and description of the premises wherein and whereon the said work is to be done or installed. At the time the application is filed, the estimated fees for making the inspection of the electrical work to be done or installed shall be paid. No permit shall be issued until such application is filed and payment made. Said permit shall be issued by the Department and only to a master electrician, master fixture electrician, owner electrician or plant owner, and when issued shall be conspicuously posted on the premises wherein or whereon the electrical work therein described is to be done or installed. No person, firm or corporation, registered as a master electrician or master fixture electrician shall file an application for a permit to do or install any electrical work unless such person, firm or corporation has a contract to do, or install the same, or intends to do and/or install such electrical work on his or its own behalf and for his or its own account. The Chief shall have power to cancel any permit found by him to be issued contrary to the provisions of this paragraph.

The Chief shall also have power to cancel permits where the electrical work therein provided for has not been commenced within sixty (60) days from and after the date of issuance of the permit therefor, and in the event of such cancellation of such permit the fees paid therefor shall be credited to the account of the person, firm or corporation paying the same and may be treated as a payment pro tanto of the estimated fees payable on any subsequent application or applications for a permit to do electrical work.

Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed as requiring any person, firm or corporation operating as a public utility to file any application for permits to do, or to have inspection made of, any electrical work necessary for the generation and supply of electrical energy to the public as a public utility, or for the generation and supply of electrical energy for electric street railway purposes; provided, however, that this exemption shall not relieve such public utility from the necessity of filing application for permits for any other electrical work or of having the same duly inspected and paying the fees therefor.

Section 16. It shall be unlawful to conceal, or cause to be concealed any electrical work in or on or about any building or structure before the same has been inspected by the Department and its approval posted on such building or structure wherein or whereon such electrical work has been done or installed.

Section 17. Every person, firm or corporation doing or installing or causing to be done or installed any electrical work in, on or about any building or structure in the City and County shall notify the Department when the same is completed. The Department shall then inspect the same, and if done in compliance with all State laws and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder and all ordinances of the City and County and rules and regulations adopted and promulgated under authority thereof, there shall be issued by the Department to said person, firm or corporation doing or installing or causing to be done or installed such electrical work, a certificate of inspection and approval, which shall contain the date of approval and in concise terms specify the electrical work thus approved, and be issued only for electrical work for which a permit has theretofore been issued. No current shall be supplied to any such electrical work or any part thereof until a certificate of inspection and approval shall have been issued, nor shall any change, alteration or extension be made in the said electrical work or any part thereof after the inspection of the same without first notifying the Department in writing and obtaining a permit therefor. Such change, alteration or extension shall be inspected and approved before any current shall be supplied thereto.

Section 18. The failure, neglect or refusal on the part of any person, firm or corporation for a period of ten (10) days after receipt of notice in writing by the Department to correct, obviate or remove any fault, error or deficiency in the doing or installing of any electrical work or any part thereof done or installed or caused to be done or installed by him or it, in, on or about any building or structure in the City and County, or to cause the same to conform with the provisions of all ordinances of said City and County and all rules and regulations adopted and promulgated under authority thereof, shall be deemed sufficient cause for revoking and cancelling any certificate of registration issued by the Department and held by such person, firm or corporation.

Section 19. Every person, firm or corporation or association or agent thereof or person acting for and on behalf of any thereof, owning, leasing, operating or in possession of any building or structure within the City and County shall permit the inspector of the Department to enter such building or structure as often as shall be deemed necessary by the Department for the purpose of inspecting the electrical work theretofore done or installed in, on or about such building or structure, and it shall be unlawful for any owner, lessee or occupant of any premises wherein or whereon any electrical work has been done or installed and is being used or is in use to prevent, or interfere with any such inspector, in the discharge of his duties under this ordinance; provided, however, that the said inspector shall, upon request of the owner, lessee or occupant of said premises exhibit his authority to make such inspection. If the Chief or any inspector of the Department find that any installation of any electrical work is defective or not in accordance with the provisions of any ordinances of the City and County or any rules and regulations adopted and promulgated under authority thereof or is dangerous to life or property, the same shall be condemned and the use thereof forbidden until the same has been corrected. Upon failure of any person, firm, corporation or association owning, leasing or in possession of and using any building or structure in the City and County to correct or cause to be corrected such defective and condemned electrical work or any part thereof for a period of ten (10) days after receipt of written notice thereof from the Department to do so, which notice shall specify the corrections to be made, the Chief shall forthwith direct the corporation, firm, person or association, or agent thereof, or person acting for and on behalf thereof, who shall be supplying electrical current or power to such electrical work or any part thereof to disconnect and discontinue the supply thereof. It shall be unlawful for any such person, firm, corporation or association or agent thereof or person acting for and on behalf of any of them and so supplying such current to furnish or renew said supply of current without permission of the Chief to do so.

Section 20. No electrical or fixture work shall be installed or constructed which is dangerous to life or property, and all electrical and fixture work within the City and County shall be done, installed and constructed in conformity with the rules and requirements of the National Electrical Code as approved by the American Standards Association, except as such rules and requirements are modified or supplemented as provided in this section. The Chief is hereby given power and it shall be his duty, as soon as practicable after this ordinance takes effect, to hold a hearing or hearings on ten (10) days' notice of the time and place thereof, given by publication in the then official newspaper of the City and County, to determine generally accepted standards and methods governing electrical and fixture work, in modification of or supplementary to the rules and regulations of the National Electrical Code. As soon as he shall have ascertained the same and made his findings thereon, such modifications thereof and supplementary rules and regulations shall be set forth and adopted by him in a report in the form of rules and regulations governing electrical and fixture work, which rules and regulations shall not be contrary to or inconsistent with any law of the State of California or ordinance of the City and County, and shall forthwith upon adoption be published for a period of five days in the then official newspaper of the City and County. On the first day after the completion of the publication thereof the same shall take effect as the standard to which all persons, firms, or corporations doing, installing or constructing electrical or fixture work shall conform. No certificate of inspection and approval provided for in this ordinance shall be issued unless the electrical or fixture work therein described shall conform with the rules and regulations in effect at the time the permit therefor is issued. The Chief shall hold a hearing or hearings at such other times as he may deem it to be necessary, to ascertain and determine what changes have been made in the standards and methods adopted supplementary to the National Electrical Code, which hearing or hearings shall be held only on the giving of a like notice as in the hearing hereinabove provided for. If the Chief shall find that the accepted standards and methods adopted as supplementary thereto have been changed, he shall make and adopt such changes or modifications thereof as amendments, additions to or repeals of the then existing rules and regulations, which amendments, additions or repeals shall forthwith upon their adoption be published in the then official newspaper of the City and County for a period of five days and shall take effect on the first day after the completion of the publication thereof as amendments, additions to or repeals of the then existing rules and regulations.

Section 21. It shall be the duty of the Chief to turn all moneys received under this ordinance into the treasury of the City and County. If the payment made at the time of application for a permit shall be insufficient in amount to pay the fees for inspection, no certificate of inspection and approval shall be issued until the balance of such fees shall be paid in full.

Section 22. This ordinance shall not be construed to relieve from or lessen the liability of any person, firm or corporation owning, operating or installing any electrical work, or causing the same or any part thereof to be done, for damages to anyone injured by any defect therein or any negligent doing or installation thereof, nor shall the City and County or any agent therefor be held liable therefor by reason of any inspection herein authorized and made by reason of such authority, or by reason of the certificate of inspection and approval issued by the Department.

Section 23. Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed in any way to regulate the installation of wires, fixtures, appliances, construction or equipment of any telephone, telegraph, district messenger systems, or other protective signal systems operating at not more than one hundred sixty (160) volts, or clock circuits operating at not more than two hundred fifty (250) volts for a period not to exceed one (1) second duration once an hour, and installed and maintained according to generally approved electrical standards, and the same are hereby exempt from any of the provisions of this ordinance, except that approved protectors or fuses must be provided and used where such wires enter or leave any building where such circuits are so placed as to be liable to accidental contact with electric light, power or any other wires operating at a potential exceeding two hundred fifty (250) volts; nor shall this ordinance be construed as in any way to regulate the connecting or disconnecting of any temporary current measuring device, which is hereby exempted from all the provisions of this ordinance.

Every person employing help at any time in his contracting or building business, or every firm, association or corporation, consisting of more than one member, engaged in the occupation of and doing business as a contractor, subcontractor, or as a builder, or engaged in the construction or repair of any building, street, sidewalk, sewer, engineering structure or any engineering operation, or advertising himself or themselves as engaged in superintending building construction, sewer construction, plumbing construction, street construction, or general construction, or engaged in the business of sign or general painting (except exclusive automobile painters), shall pay a license fee of twelve and fifty one-hundredths dollars per quarter year.

(b) Every person, firm or corporation so engaged or advertising himself as so engaged in any business or job described as above, and never employing help in such business or on any job so classified, shall pay a license fee of five ($5) dollars per quarter year.

(c) Master electricians and master fixture electricians, as described under the provisions of Section 49 of Ordinance 5132 (New Series), shall pay the license fee provided for in Section 49, and shall thereby be exempt from the license fee imposed in Section 32(a) of this ordinance.

EXPLANATION.

This ordinance is amended to distinguish between the general contractor employing help and the small jobber or individual contractor whose income is comparable to the daily wage scale.

The ordinance formerly provided that contractors whose income is less than $1,000 in any quarter was required to pay a fee of $5, but this distinction was found unsatisfactory and permitted contractors to avoid the larger fee and qualify under the $5 fee.

This amendment was recommended by the Tax Collector at the instance of contractors and members of the Builders' Exchange.

Chairman, Supervisors' Charter Committee.

Amending Section 75 of Ordinance No. 5132 (New Series), "License Ordinance," by Placing a Quarterly License Fee of $6 on Brake Repair Shops, Instead of $12.50, as Heretofore.

(Code No. 3.041)

Also, Bill No. 87, Ordinance No. 3.0414, as follows:

Amending Section 75 of Ordinance No. 5132 (New Series), entitled "Imposing license taxes on certain businesses, callings, trades or employments within the City and County of San Francisco, in effect July 1, 1920," by imposing a license fee of $6 per quarter on brake repair shops, instead of $12.50, as heretofore.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. Section 75 of Ordinance No. 5132 (New Series), the title of which is recited above, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Special Branches of Automobile Repairing.

Section 75. Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of automobile repairing and limiting the service of any one of the following branches of repair work shall pay a license fee as follows:

For repairing, remodeling or rebuilding bodies of used automobiles or other motor vehicles, five ($5) dollars per quarter.

For installing, adjusting or repairing the electric equipment of used automobiles and other motor vehicles, five ($5) dollars per quarter.

For installing, adjusting, recharging or repairing batteries in used automobiles or other motor vehicles, five ($5) dollars per quarter.

For installing, adjusting or repairing any of the metal parts of used automobiles or other motor vehicles (except fenders, radiators or windshields), twelve and 50/100 ($12.50) dollars per quarter.

For repairing or retrimming used automobiles or other motor vehicles, five ($5) dollars per quarter.

For repairing fenders, radiators or windshields of used automobiles or other motor vehicles, five ($5) dollars per quarter.

For vulcanizing automobile tires or tubes, five ($5) dollars per quarter.

EXPLANATION.

Those engaged in the business of adjusting or relining automobile brakes exclusively must pay a fee of $12.50 per quarter under the provisions of the present license ordinance. This type of business is included in the provision covering general automobile repairers, who are permitted to do all types of repairing to automobiles with the same fee of $12.50 as specialists in a particular branch of the automobile repair business, and separate classification for this type was considered proper.

There are approximately thirty brake shops affected.

ANDREW J. GALLAGHER,
Chairman, Supervisors' Charter Committee.

Congress Memorialized to Pass Bills Providing Funds of Federal Reconstruction Finance Corporation for Construction of Bay Bridges.
(Code No. 5.2)

On motion of Supervisor Canepa:

Resolution No. 245, as follows:

Whereas, the slow, antiquated, expensive and ofttimes perilous mode of transportation between San Francisco and cities around the bay has clearly demonstrated its inability to accommodate present-day traffic and commerce; and

Whereas, the construction of the San Francisco-Oakland and Golden Gate bridges has been declared feasible from an engineering viewpoint by the most eminent of engineers and designers; and

Whereas, permission to erect these bridges has been obtained from the War Department; and

Whereas, these bridges, if erected, would prove of inestimable value to our military and naval forces in the event of war; and

Whereas, because San Francisco is the chief seaport on the west coast and the main gateway for intercourse between the United States and the Orient, it is vitally important to the whole country that adequate and economical transportation facilities be provided here; and

Whereas, because of the temperate climate which prevails in and around this city, San Francisco has been invaded by a host of people from other States, seeking work as well as relief from oppressive climates, thus increasing the gravity of the already serious unemployment relief problem with which San Francisco is confronted; and

Whereas, the immediate construction of these bridges would effect manifold achievements, to-wit:

1. Alleviation, in some measure, of the unemployment condition.
2. Stimulation to the material and supply business.
3. Benefits to the public generally, to be derived from such an activity.
4. The accomplishment of projects vitally necessary to San Francisco and the country generally.

Whereas, there are now pending in the United States Congress bills which provide that the funds of the Federal Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall be made available for the construction of public works; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco does hereby memorialize Congress and does urge that said bills be enacted into law; and be it

Further Resolved, That if and when such law is passed, all of California's representatives in Congress are requested to exert their most sincere efforts to procure loans from the Federal Reconstruction Finance Corporation to cover these projects; and be it Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to President Hoover, Vice-President Curtis, to Speaker Garner of the House of Representatives, and to all of California's representatives in Congress.

Further Resolved, That the member so appointed be considered as absent from the City and County of San Francisco for the purpose of performing official duties for said City and County, and that he shall be entitled to all expenses incident thereto in accordance with the provisions of Ordinance No. 9.0561, the same to be payable out of Appropriation No. 4, Supervisors' Incidental Expenses.

Five Billion Dollar Prosperity Loan Bond Issue.
(Code No. 5.2)

On motion of Supervisor Gallagher:

Resolution No. 247, as follows:

Whereas, the relief of unemployment in San Francisco has become a problem of alarming proportions, despite the efforts of local officials and civic leaders to meet it; and

Whereas, the taxpayers of San Francisco are providing funds for care of approximately 40,000 citizens of this city, and similar situations are confronting the taxpayers of other cities and counties in the nation; and

Whereas, although this is a nation-wide problem, the local communities of America have been bearing this burden for two and a half years; and

Whereas, the time has come when the national government must take drastic and immediate steps to alleviate the overpowering burden which has been thrust upon the small property owner and business man of local communities; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco earnestly petition the President and the Congress of the United States to undertake a program of public works and of assistance to local communities which thus far have carried the burden of meeting this economic crisis; and be it further

Resolved, That the most practicable plan for carrying out this program is the suggested five billion dollar prosperity loan bond issue for public works, and this Board hereby urges its adoption.

Declaring Emergency Due to Delinquent Taxes and Authorizing Treasurer and Controller to Pay Salaries During Fiscal Year.
(Code No. 9.052)

Supervisor Miles presented:

Bill No. 89, Ordinance No. 9.05211, as follows:

Declaring that, owing to the increase of the amount of delinquent taxes and the shrinkage of income from other sources, that the present condition of the finances of the City and County of San Francisco constitutes an emergency, and authorizing and directing the Controller to approve and the Treasurer to pay salaries and other emergency demands to cover the current expenses of the municipal government during remainder of the fiscal year.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. That whereas, owing to the increased delinquency of City and County taxes for the present fiscal year and the shrinkage of income from other sources, there is not a sufficient amount of cash in the treasury of the City and County of San Francisco to care for the running expenses of the City for the remainder of said year; and whereas, said condition has been called to the attention of this Board by the Mayor and by the Controller, and both of said officials anticipate that the greater portion of said delinquent revenue for the present year will be paid into the treasury during the ensuing fiscal year.

Section 2. Therefore the Controller is hereby authorized and directed to approve and the Treasurer to pay from such funds that may be in the treasury applicable to the fiscal year 1932-1933 the salary demands and such other demands as, in the judgment of the Controller, may be absolutely necessary for the conduct and carrying on of the affairs of the municipal government, said demands to be paid in the ordinary course as they become due.

Section 5. That the subject-matter of this ordinance constitutes an emergency, which said emergency is the uninterrupted operation of all of the departments of the City and County government and the care of the property and health of a large number of the inhabitants of said City and County; and that the immediate enactment of said ordinance and its becoming effective forthwith is necessary in order to meet said emergency.

No license, or certificate of competency, however, shall be required of those performing work defined as "minor repairs" in Section 2-P.

Section 4. Each applicant for a gas appliance dealer's certificate of competency shall file an application in writing with the Department of Public Health on an application furnished by that Department.

Section 5. Such notice of hearing will be deemed to have been given when said notice is deposited in the United States Post Office in a sealed envelope, addressed to the licensee at the address given in his application, and the postage prepaid, at least five (5) days prior to the date of such hearing. When the license or certificate of competency of any person shall have been revoked, no succeeding license or certificate of competency shall be issued to such person without the approval and consent of the Department of Public Health. Upon revocation of any license or certificate of competency, all permits outstanding under such license or certificate of competency shall thereupon become void and shall be cancelled. The penalties of revocation and suspension in this section shall not be a bar to or affect any other remedy or penalty prescribed in this ordinance, but shall be cumulative and in addition to such other remedies or penalties.

Section 6. Every person, firm or corporation desiring to install or connect gas appliances in the City and County of San Francisco shall first obtain a certificate of competency. Such certificate of competency shall be obtained by applying for and passing an examination before a duly appointed examining board.

Examinations shall be held on the second Friday of each month at a time and place to be designated by the Board of Examiners.

The fee for such examination shall be $5.00, to be paid in allowance when the application is made for the examination. Such application to be made to the plumbing inspector at least ten days before the date set for the holding of the examination.

When issued the certificate of competency shall be in full force and effect until same is revoked. Revocation can take place for any infraction or violation of this ordinance.

All persons, firms or corporations who have for two years prior to passage of this ordinance, been operating an established place of business in the City and County of San Francisco, engaged in the installation of gas appliances, shall be deemed to have complied with the provisions of this ordinance and shall be granted a Certificate of Com-

Inspectors, Inspections.

Section 9. The Plumbing Inspector is hereby authorized and directed to enforce all the provisions of this ordinance, and he may enter any building or premises for the purpose of making inspection upon presentation of proper credentials.

Section 10. The Plumbing Inspector is hereby authorized to order the disconnecting of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping that has been connected without inspection, or that may be found defective or dangerous to life and property. In all cases where any gas appliance and/or house gas piping is so disconnected it shall be unlawful for any person to reconnect same unless or until authorized by the Plumbing Inspector, and any further reference in this ordinance to the inspector shall be deemed to refer to the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 11. The inspector shall make the following inspections and shall either approve that portion of the work as complete or shall notify the permit holder wherein the same fails to comply with the law.

Rough Piping Inspection: To be made after all piping authorized by the permit has been installed, and before any such piping has been covered or concealed or any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto.

Final Piping Inspection: To be made after all piping authorized by the permit has been installed and after all portions thereof, if any, which are to be concealed by plastering or otherwise have been so concealed, and before any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto. This inspection shall include a pressure test, at which time the piping shall stand an air pressure equal to an eight (8) inch column of mercury, and the piping shall hold this air pressure for a period of ten (10) minutes without any perceptible drop. All necessary apparatus for conducting said test shall be furnished by the permit holder, and the test shall be made in the presence of the inspector.

Appliance Inspection: To be made after all fixtures or gas appliances authorized by the permit have been installed and after the house gas piping is connected with the meter and/or service gas piping of the gas company or other utility supplying or furnishing the gas which is to be used as fuel for the operation of said fixtures or gas appliances.

Section 12. Except as permitted in Section 14, upon completion of the installation of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping, and prior to the use thereof, the Department of Public Health shall be notified that such gas appliance and/or house gas piping is ready for inspection. The inspector shall make such inspection within forty-eight (48) hours of such notice. If the installation is found correct, a certificate of inspection shall be issued.

Section 13. In the case of rough inspections of house gas piping, the inspector shall issue a rough inspection card, which shall be posted in the meter box and kept there until after the final piping inspection, as in this ordinance provided.

Section 14. All domestic gas appliances may be installed and supplied with gas prior to the inspection thereof, provided a "permit for use" tag, which shall be supplied by the Plumbing Department, is attached thereto. This tag shall have written thereon the name of the gas appliance dealer or master plumber making the installation, the date of installation, and the address where appliance is located.

Section 15. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, excepting an authorized agent or employee of a person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of furnishing or supplying gas, and whose service pipes supply or connect with the particular premises, to turn on or reconnect gas service in or on any premises where and when gas service is not at the time being rendered.

It shall further be unlawful to turn on or connect gas on or in any premises unless all outlets are properly and securely connected to appliances or capped, plugged or closed by stop-cocks or valves capable of withstanding, without leaking, the gas piping test provided for in this ordinance.

House Gas Piping.

Section 16. Only those licensed to do plumbing work in the City and County of San Francisco may install "house gas piping", except that a gas appliance dealer holding a certificate of competency may install the necessary connections to connect gas appliances sold and/or installed by himself with gas pipe (or gas meter, when necessary) of any building, provided the requirements of this ordinance for the installation of gas piping are complied with, the required permits secured and the necessary fees paid; and provided, further, that no concealed piping may be installed by other than those licensed to do plumbing work. Where it is necessary, in accordance with the above provisions, for a gas appliance dealer to run gas connections direct to the meter, no such run shall extend from the meter to any location above the first story.

This is not to be construed as permitting a gas appliance dealer to install house gas piping system in buildings, even if such a dealer should sell and/or install by himself all the gas appliances to be installed therein, but only to permit the installation of the necessary piping to connect appliances sold and/or installed by himself, in accordance with the provisions set forth above.

Section 17. Permits for house gas piping shall show the total number of gas outlets to be provided for and such other information as may be required by the Department of Public Health.

Section 18. The following regulations as set forth in Sections 19-39, inclusive, shall be the standard for the construction and installation of house gas piping work.

Section 19. For fuel and industrial purposes (including illumination, if any) the diameter of house gas piping installed in any building, the number of lineal feet and the number of openings allowed shall be in conformity with the following table:

Number of Openings Allowed.

Greatest Length Allowed	Pipe Size	½"	¾"	1"	1¼"	1½"	2"	2½"	3"	4"	Capacity in Cu. Ft. Per Hour
10′	½"	1									30
70′	¾"	3	1								100
100′	1"	5	2	1							200
125′	1¼"	8	4	2	1						350
150′	1½"	10	7	4	2	1					500
200′	2"	18	14	7	3	2	1				800
250′	2½"	28	22	12	5	3	2	1			1300

350′	4"	140	86	43	20	12	6	4	2	1	3500

For a given size pipe ¼ of length will deliver twice the discharge or 4 times the length ½ the discharge.

Section 20. The diameter of the supply pipe to any gas appliance shall not be of smaller size than the inlet connection of such gas appliance.

Section 21. Except as specified below, all pipe used for the installation, extension, alteration and/or repair of any house gas piping shall be standard weight wrought iron or steel pipe, or brass or copper pipe of iron pipe size, and such pipe shall either be new or shall previously have been used for no other purpose than for the conveying of gas. All such pipe shall be free from internal obstructions, splits, or other imperfections which would render it unfit for the purpose intended, and the ends thereof shall be properly reamed.

All fittings used in connection with the house gas piping shall be of malleable iron, brass, copper or equal.

Galvanized wrought iron pipe and galvanized malleable fittings, or standard brass pipe and brass fittings, or standard copper pipe and copper fittings, shall be used for all house gas piping when said pipes are used on the exterior of a building, underground, when embedded in concrete or masonry, or when exposed to unusual damp conditions.

Section 22. All gas pipes shall be well secured to the building and shall be graded toward the meter wherever possible. Vertical pipe risers shall have placed at the bottom of each riser a tee plugged with a long nipple and cap the same size as the vertical pipe, to serve as a dirt pocket.

Section 23. Piping trapped by a change of grade shall be provided with a suitable drip pipe; said drip pipe must be of the same size as the pipe it serves, and the outlet of such drip pipe must be carried to an exposed accessible location.

Section 24. All branches must be taken from sides or top of horizontal runs.

Section 25. All gas piping must be rigidly supported by straps or hooks in such a manner as to prevent moving.

Section 26. When practicable, all center outlets or drops must be square bent and securely fastened, and where straight drops are necessary, straps must be soldered thereto and securely fastened.

Section 27. All gas meters, when owned or under control of the person, firm or corporation supplying gas, shall be installed by the person, firm or corporation supplying the gas. All gas meter locations must be approved by the Plumbing Inspector and shall be located as near as practicable to the point where the service pipe enters the property.

All gas meters, when owned by other than the person, firm or corporation supplying the gas, and which are installed as intermediate or sub-meters on the outlet side of the main meter of the gas utility, shall be installed only at such location or locations as may be approved for that purpose by the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 28. Where more than one meter is set in a building they must all be set at one location, and so placed as to be at all times accessible for inspection, reading and testing, and shutting off gas supply; except that intermediate or sub-meters, as specified in Section 27, may, when owned by other than the gas utility, be permitted to be installed at other locations on approval of the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 29. When one building is in the rear of another building on an interior lot the location of the meters will be determined by the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 30. In order that gas may be supplied, the house piping must be brought to within thirty inches (30") of the proposed location of the gas meter, and where it is necessary to set more than one gas meter, the ends of such house gas pipes must be eighteen inches (18") apart horizontally at the meter location. If more than one horizontal line of meter openings be required, then the vertical distance between such horizontal lines shall be not less than thirty inches (30") and the outlets shall be so arranged as to terminate at the right of the inlet location of gas meter.

Section 31. Gas meters shall not be located under show windows or in engine, boiler, heater, electric meter rooms or under stairways. Access to all gas meters must be through an opening or door not less than 18"x24" long.

Section 32. House gas piping at the meter location shall be plainly marked with tags to designate the section of the building supplied.

Section 33. On each house gas piping run of 29 outlets or less the opening at the meter location shall terminate at a height of not less than thirty inches (30") above the floor, and when there are more than 29 outlets the said opening shall terminate at a height of not less than forty-eight inches (48") above the floor.

Section 34. When a gas meter is located outside of a building, or when the same is exposed, the same must be protected against the weather.

Section 35. When temporary use of gas is desired the Plumbing Inspector may grant a permit for such use for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days, provided that the gas piping which it is desired to be used be given a test equal to that required as a final piping inspection.

Section 36. It shall be unlawful to remove or disconnect any gas fixture or gas appliance without capping or plugging with a screwed joint fitting the outlet from which said fixture or gas appliance was removed. All outlets to which fixtures or gas appliances are not connected shall be left capped gas tight on any piping system being installed, altered, extended or repaired.

Section 37. No gas piping shall be built in brick, stone, masonry, or concrete walls. When necessary to conceal pipe in this manner it must be run in suitable recesses.

Section 38. No acid, cement or any other composition shall be used for the purpose of repairing or stopping leaks, nor shall water or acid be used to locate leaks.

In no case other than by permission of the Plumbing Inspector is it permissible to repair defects in piping or fittings, but, having been located, the defective pipe or fitting must be removed and replaced with perfect material.

Section 39. No running thread joints shall be used. Where necessary, ground joint unions or right and left couplings may be used. Bushings shall not be used in concealed work.

Gas Appliances—General.

Section 40. The Department of Public Health is authorized and directed to prepare, adopt and promulgate such rules, regulations, requirements and specifications as are necessary or proper to assure safety and protect life, health and property in the sale, installation and use of gas appliances and to assure the most approved methods of construction for safety to life and property. In preparing and adopting said rules, regulations, requirements and specifications, the Department of Public Health may consider the rules, regulations, requirements and specifications of the American Gas Association or any other national rules, regulations, requirements or specifications relating to such subjects. All rules, regulations, requirements and specifications so promulgated shall be published and shall be sent to all gas appliance dealers holding certificates of competency or holders of master plumbers' certificates, and to any person applying therefor.

Provided, however, that the inspector may authorize the sale and use of any appliance that is in the stock of any gas appliance dealer or jobber on the date of the adoption of this ordinance, by stenciling an approval upon such appliance on or before the.....day of ....., provided the use of such appliance will not endanger life, health or property.

Section 41. Appliances installed hereafter shall be marked or labeled with a distinctive mark or name by the manufacturer or dealer.

Section 42. Used gas appliances may be reinstalled when, in the opinion of the inspector, such appliances may be used without danger to life or property.

Section 43. Except as provided herein, and in Section 44, every appliance shall be rigidly connected to the house gas piping outlet with standard weight wrought iron or steel pipe and malleable iron fittings, or copper pipe and copper fittings, or brass pipe and brass fittings, and a ground-in valve and a ground joint union or right and left coupling shall be placed between the outlet and the appliance.

Brass or copper tubing may be used for the connection between an appliance and the house gas piping outlet; provided that such tubing shall be of not less in weight than No. 18 gauge and of not less than three-eighths-inch (⅜") outside diameter, and that all connections shall be of approved expansion joints, and that the length of such tubing used to connect any one gas appliance shall not exceed six (6) feet. Each appliance so connected shall have a ground-in valve with lever handle cast integral at the house gas piping outlet.

Section 44. Approved flexible metal tubing may be used for connecting gas appliances designed for portable use, such as washing machines, ironers, or other appliances the location of which must be changed during operation; provided, however, that such approved flexible metal tubing shall not exceed six feet (6') in length. There shall not be any shut-off or gas-cock between such tubing and the burner or burners. Where such tubing is used, a shut-off valve or gas-cock shall be installed at the point where tubing is connected to the gas supply pipe.

Section 45. Gas appliances so constructed that the burners are not shielded by metal or other approved insulating material shall not be located within twelve inches (12") of any combustible material. Appliances so constructed that metal shields or other approved insulating materials are an integral part of their construction shall not be located so as to permit the burners to be within six inches (6") of combustible material nor within three inches (3") of protected combustible material.

All vented gas appliances, except gas ranges and radiant type heaters, shall be equipped with an approved type of draft hood.

Section 46. Gas plates or ranges shall not hereafter be installed in rooms used for sleeping purposes; they may, however, be installed for cooking purposes in a room designed to conform to the legal requirements for a kitchen. Every gas range shall, however, be connected with a "vent connection" to a proper flue or chimney. Combination gas ranges and trash burners may be vented by a common "vent connection" to any chimney or flue constructed in accordance with the provisions of the Building Code for use by trash burners.

Gas plates may be used for commercial purposes in any room having a floor area of not less than fifty (50) square feet; provided, however, that such room has a permanent ventilation consisting of an opening not higher than one (1) foot above the floor and an opening not lower than one (1) foot below the ceiling. Each such opening shall have an unrestricted area of at least one hundred and twenty (120) square inches, and each such opening shall lead through unrestricted ducts to the outside of the building, where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured.

Gas plates and ranges shall not be installed within three (3) feet of any ceiling of combustible material.

Section 47. Every gas water heater installed shall be rigidly connected to the house gas piping outlet and shall be placed not less than the distance given in Section 45 from any combustible or protected combustible material.

Gas water heaters shall not be installed in bathrooms, rooms used for sleeping purposes, or closets, nor in any room or enclosure having a floor area of less than sixteen (16) square feet. Gas water heaters shall not be installed in recesses unless such recesses shall have one side entirely open and not equipped with any door or other closing device, and the inside, including the top, bottom and sides of such recess, shall be lined with asbestos boards not less than one-quarter (¼) of an inch in thickness, or other approved insulation, and in no case shall a gas water heater be located less than three inches (3") from any such insulated walls.

Every gas water heater shall be properly vented to a flue or chimney.

All manually operated water heaters shall be installed with an approved pressure relief valve set at a pressure not higher than fifty (50) pounds above the pressure of the water supply.

All automatic storage water heaters shall be equipped with an approved automatic shut-off valve set below the boiling point of water, and with an automatic device so designed that the supply of gas to the main burners in connection therewith will be automatically shut off when combustion of gas is not taking place at the pilot; and shall also be equipped with an approved pressure relief valve set at a pressure not higher than fifty (50) pounds above the pressure of the water supply.

Section 48. Unvented gas space heaters, such as blue flame, luminous flame, radiant type, wall heaters, hot air radiators, and gas steam radiators shall not be installed in any room or other enclosure having a floor area of less than fifty (50) square feet, nor shall any unvented appliance be installed in any room used for sleeping purposes. Vented appliances installed in sleeping rooms shall be rigidly attached to the house gas piping outlet.

Section 49. Gas space heaters may be installed in fireplaces, provided such fireplaces conform to the requirements of the Building Law of the City and County of San Francisco. Gas space heaters may be installed in imitation fireplaces, provided the recess of such imitation fireplaces is not more than thirteen inches (13") in depth, and it shall be so constructed as to be not adaptable for use as a coal-burning fireplace. The recess of every such imitation fireplace shall be protected with a lining of brick, tile, or other approved incombustible material not less than one (1) inch in thickness. Such imitation fireplace shall be properly vented and be labeled by means of a metal plate set permanently in the fireproofing, bearing the words, "For gas appliances only."

Section 50. Gas furnaces, except floor furnaces, shall be placed not less than twelve (12) inches from protected combustible material, and not less than eighteen (18) inches from unprotected combustible material, and shall set on masonry, concrete or other incombustible floors or upon floors protected by top floors of masonry, concrete, tile or similar material at least two (2) inches in thickness, or asbestos board not less than one-quarter (¼) of an inch in thickness and covered with No. 20 U. S. standard gauge galvanized iron. The top of gas furnaces shall not be less than nine (9) inches from protected combustible material or not less than eighteen (18) inches from unprotected combustible material.

Gas furnaces shall not be installed in any place or in such manner as to be inaccessible for inspection or repair.

Gas furnaces shall not be located under any stairway unless such furnaces are located within Class A fireproof enclosures.

Every room or enclosure in which a gas furnace is installed or operated shall be provided with permanent ventilation which will furnish sufficient supply of air to properly support combustion and ventilate such room or enclosure. Such permanent ventilation shall consist of an opening not higher than one (1) foot above the floor or adjoining ground level, and an opening not lower than one (1) foot below the ceiling, and each of such openings shall have an unrestricted area of at least one (1) square foot and shall lead through unrestricted ducts to the outside of the building, where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured. Such openings shall be screened with wire screens or grills having a mesh not smaller than one-half (½) inch in any dimension.

For every warm air furnace using gas, or any other fuel, hereafter installed, an air intake shall be required. It shall be either a fresh air intake from the outside of the building or a return air intake from the space to be heated by such furnace, or combination of the two, and such air intake shall not be located in such manner as to draw air from the room or enclosure in which such furnace is installed or from the space immediately adjacent to any openings which are required for permanent ventilation of such room or enclosure.

Every air intake shall be constructed of metal or incombustible material or else be lined with metal or other approved fire-resistive material satisfactory to the Fire Prevention Bureau.

The net cross-sectional area of a fresh air intake for a warm air furnace shall not be less than the total cross-sectional area of all hot air outlets.

No damper shall be placed in an air intake, but the end thereof may be screened with wire screen having a mesh not smaller than one-half (½) inch in any dimension, or with gratings, register plates, or similar devices having an effective ventilating area not less than the required cross-sectional area of the air intake.

Section 51. Gas furnaces of the floor type shall not be installed in any location inaccessible for inspection or repair. An opening or door, not less than eighteen inches (18") by twenty-four inches (24") in size, shall be provided for access to the room or enclosure in which any such gas furnace is installed, and such gas furnace shall be vented to a proper vent, flue or chimney.

Section 52. A warm air or other furnace or heater which is designed to use fuel other than gas for the development of heat may be converted into a gas appliance by means of the installation of gas burners into the fire pot thereof, provided such gas burners are of a design and construction as set forth in the specifications of the Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce, and provided further that they are installed in accordance with the following provisions and in a manner that their use therein will not endanger life, health or property.

(a) The heating element must stand a test for gas tightness so that no products of combustion or gas may enter rooms or spaces to be heated.

(b) Vents and flues must be in good condition as to gas tightness and draft, or made so before converting any such apparatus.

(c) If refractory material is used as part of gas burner or burners, same must be supported above ports of burner a sufficient height to allow combustion before impingement upon said refractory material.

(d) Burners must be equipped with continuous burning pilot lights controlled from the manifold of the burner and fixed to the burner in such a way as to provide a rigid relative position between the pilot tip and ports of the burner. Provision must also be made for a simple means of lighting the pilot light which will not make it necessary for the operator to reach into the fire pot.

(e) Burners using over 60,000 B.t.u. per hour must be equipped with a partially opened check damper in the vent or by a draft hood.

(f) The manifold of the burner must be equipped with a main control valve of the plug type, with a metal handle which is cast integrally with the plug, and operated with stops at 90 degrees apart so as to indicate at a glance the "on" and "off" positions.

(g) The burner or burners shall be so located that no part of the flames impinge on the surfaces of the combustion chamber or heating elements, and shall be securely fastened in place to prevent twisting, sliding or dropping out of position, but so installed as to permit easy removal for cleaning and repair.

(h) The furnace or heater converted shall be checked for secondary air supply, and so regulated or altered that proper and complete combustion will be provided for.

Illuminating Fixtures.

Section 53. Every illuminating fixture installed in the City and County of San Francisco shall be of a design and construction approved by the inspector.

Illuminating fixtures shall not be located within three feet (3') of any gas meter, back of a door, in a closet, nor in any other location where, in the opinion of the inspector, any fire hazard would be entailed. Swinging bracket fixtures are hereby prohibited.

Ventilation for Gas Appliances.

Section 54. No gas appliance shall be hereafter installed, or any gas appliance replaced, unless the room or place where such a gas appliance is located is ventilated so as to properly support combustion. Except as provided in this section and in Section 55, no gas appliance shall hereafter be installed, or any existing gas appliance replaced, unless the same shall be vented to a flue which shall be the full size of the "vent opening" of the appliance to be vented. No damper shall be installed in any "vent connection," "vent," "flue" or "chimney" to which a gas appliance is vented, except as may be specifically provided for elsewhere in this ordinance. Dampers integral in the construction of kitchen heater type or combination ranges are permissible.

Gas refrigerators, gas sad irons, gas mangles and gas washing machines, the gas consumption of which is less than five thousand (5000) B.t.u. per hour (approximately five cubic feet per hour) are not required to be vented, nor shall permanent ventilation, as specified in Section 55, be required for the room or enclosure in which said appliances are installed or operated; nor shall said appliances be required to be equipped with cut-off valves as specified in Section 55.

Section 55. Heating appliances designed by the manufacturer to be used unvented must be equipped with approved cut-off valves which automatically shut off the supply of gas when combustion is not taking place at the burners, and said appliances shall not be installed in any room or enclosure unless permanent ventilation be provided for. For such appliances having a rated gas capacity of fifty (50) cubic feet or more per hour there shall be two ventilating ducts or openings provided, with not less than one hundred and twenty (120) square inches of free area in each, and which shall lead to an area where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured. One such opening shall be located at a point not more than one foot (1') above the floor level, the other to be at a point not more than one foot (1') below the level of the ceiling. For such appliances having a rated capacity of less than fifty (50) cubic feet per hour, only one such ventilating duct or opening shall be required, which shall not have less than thirty-six (36) square inches of free area and shall be located at a point not more than one foot (1') below the level of the ceiling; provided, however, that where the rated capacity of the appliance is less than twenty-five (25) cubic feet per hour, the Plumbing Inspector may modify the provision as to the location of this required ventilating duct or opening if, in his opinion, any other location thereof would be more practical for the particular heating appliance to be installed, and would provide ample ventilation for the safe operation of said appliance.

Section 56. No gas appliance shall be installed in a public or commercial garage unless the design, operation and installation of said appliance is such as to eliminate the possible ignition of inflammable vapors.

Chimneys, Flues and Vents.

Section 57. Every chimney, flue or vent to which a gas appliance is connected, or which is installed for the purpose of connecting a gas appliance thereto, shall be constructed and installed in accordance with the Building Code.

No gas appliance or appliances shall be connected to any chimney, flue or vent unless the internal area of such chimney, flue or vent is large enough to accommodate the appliance or appliances to be connected thereto, as set forth in the following paragraph:

The internal area of any chimney, flue or vent to which a gas appliance is connected shall not be less than the internal area of the largest "vent connection," or "vent opening," as the case may be, plus 50 per cent of the total area of all other additional "vent connections" or "vent openings" which are connected thereto; provided, however, that where round "vent connections" or "vent openings" are connected to a rectangular chimney, flue or vent, the internal area of such rectangular chimney, flue or vent shall be 20 per cent greater than that required above. The following table shall be used for the computation of flue areas in round flue pipes, vents and vent connections:

4-inch	round pipe	12.6 square inches
5-inch	round pipe	19.6 square inches
6-inch	round pipe	28.3 square inches
8-inch	round pipe	50.3 square inches

Section 58. No flue opening shall be smaller than the vent connection required for the gas appliance or appliances that will be connected to such opening, and every flue opening to which a gas appliance is not connected shall be tightly closed by means of an approved cap or similar device.

Vent Connections.

Section 59. Every vent connection which is required by this ordinance shall be constructed of metal, as herein specified, or of other approved incombustible material of equal durability and adaptable for such purpose.

Metal vent connections shall be constructed of sheet copper weighing not less than sixteen (16) ounces per square foot or of Monel metal or equal not lighter than No. 26 U. S. standard gauge, and the edges of such sheet metal shall be securely connected together with a locked or riveted seam in such a manner as to form a practically tight pipe. Joints between lengths of pipe shall be at least two (2) inch lap joints and so constructed and fastened as to be practically tight.

Metal vent connections ten (10) feet or less in length and completely exposed to view or easily accessible for inspection may be constructed of galvanized sheet iron not lighter than No. 26 U. S. standard gauge, provided, however, that all seams and joints shall be made in the same manner as is customary in the construction of ordinary stove pipe and stove-pipe fittings, and provided further, that stoves or ranges may be connected to a flue or chimney with stove pipe.

No vent connection shall have an area less than the areas of the vent opening or collar on the appliance to which such vent connection is connected, and every vent connection which is connected to more than one such vent opening or collar shall have an area not less than the area of the largest vent connection plus fifty per cent (50 per cent) of the area of all other additional vent connections connected thereto.

Section 60. Vent connections shall be properly connected to appliances and shall be securely supported by means of substantial hangers at intervals of not more than ten (10) feet on all horizontal runs. Vent connections shall also be properly connected to a flue or chimney by means of an approved metal thimble attached to the flue or chimney in a gas and water-tight manner. Vent connections made through a fireplace shall be made by means of a galvanized iron or steel plate set in the chimney throat, thoroughly cemented and to be air and gas tight.

Horizontal vent connections depending on natural draft shall not exceed twenty (20) feet in length except by special permission of the Plumbing Inspector, nor shall such horizontal vent connections exceed in length the height of the chimney or flue to which connected, measured as the vertical distance between the top of the burners of the appliance and the outlet of the chimney or flue. All horizontal runs exceeding four (4) feet in length shall have a grade of not less than one (1) inch to each lineal foot of length rising toward the flue or chimney. The above shall also apply to horizontal portions of vents, in so far as applicable. Every horizontal metal "vent connection" exceeding ten (10) feet in length, and located in a basement, shall be insulated with two (2) plies of one-quarter inch (¼ inch) corrugated asbestos paper, or of a material having equal insulating value.

Vent connections, or vents, except by special permission of the Plumbing Inspector and approval of the Fire Prevention Bureau, shall not be placed less than three (3) inches from any combustible material nor less than one and one-half (1½) inches from protected combustible material. Bends or offsets in horizontal vent connections shall be avoided wherever possible, and where necessary shall be made at widest angles possible. Vent connections, or vents, passing through walls, partitions or floors, shall have approved double insulating sleeves and shall be installed in accordance with the provisions of the Building Code.

No "vent connection" connected to any gas appliance having pilot provision for automatic or remote control, except gas ranges, shall be connected to any chimney or flue which is used as a smoke flue for any stove, boiler, heater or other apparatus designed to burn wood, coal, oil, or any fuel other than gas, unless such pilot provision is so designed that the supply of gas to the main burners in connection therewith will be automatically shut off when combustion of gas is not taking place at the pilot.

Maintenance of Vent Connections.

Section 61. Every "vent connection" shall be maintained in good condition; provided, however, that no "vent connection" not conforming to the requirements of this ordinance shall be used or maintained if in the judgment of the Plumbing Inspector the use or maintenance thereof would endanger life or property.

Non-Liability of City.

Section 62. This ordinance shall not be construed as imposing upon the City and County of San Francisco any liability or responsibility for damages to any person injured, asphyxiated, or who suffers loss of life by any defects in any gas appliance and/or house gas piping, or by the installation thereof, nor shall the City and County of San Francisco, or any official or employee thereof, be held as assuming any such liability or responsibility by reason of the inspection authorized hereunder or certificate of inspection issued by the Plumbing Inspector. Nor shall the City and County of San Francisco or any official or employee thereof be held as assuming any liability or responsibility for property damage, from any cause whatsoever, which may have been caused by gas leakage, fire or explosion of any sort coming from, or during the operation of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping.

Violations and Penalties.

Section 63. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance or who causes, permits or suffers the same to be done, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and each such person shall be guilty of a separate offense for each and every day or portion thereof during which any violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance is committed, continued or permitted, and upon conviction of any such violation such person shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) or by imprisonment for not more than fifty (50) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Validity.

Section 64. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is, for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby declare that it would have passed this ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Ordinances Repealed.

Section 65. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Privilege of the Floor.

Ray Williamson, attorney, urged that the word "hereafter" be inserted in Section 46, first line, after the word "not," in order that the ordinance might not be retroactive.

Dr. Geiger, Director of Public Health, said he had no objection to the proposed amendment.

Proposed Amendments.

Supervisor Roncovieri moved that Section 46 be so amended.

Supervisor Spaulding moved to amend by changing last line of Section 2, subdivision (c), to read: "burning appliances for strictly industrial and commercial uses."

Supervisor Peyser offered the following amendment, to be added after paragraph five of Section 6, which was not objected to:

"All persons, firms or corporations who have for two years prior to passage of this ordinance been operating an established place of business in the City and County of San Francisco, engaged in the installation of gas appliances, shall be deemed to have complied with the provisions of this ordinance and shall be granted a certificate of competency, without further examination, on application to the Department of Public Health and upon payment of the $5 examination fee."

Privilege of the Floor.

Mr. Babcock was also heard as to desirable changes in the ordinance.

Mr. Cohn, representing the San Francisco Hardware Association, urged the appointment of two additional men on the Board of Inspectors.

Mr. Hughes, representing the Apartment House Owners' Association, wanted "gas ranges" stricken from the ordinance.

Mr. Newman, representing the San Francisco Gas Appliance Society, was also heard in favor of the proposed amendment to Section 6, offered by Supervisor Peyser.

Rereferred.

Whereupon, the foregoing bill was rereferred to the Health Committee and a Special Hearing was announced for Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Final Passage.

ANNUAL APPROPRIATION ORDINANCE, 1932-33

(Code No. 9.051)

Bill No. 75, Ordinance No. 9.05116, as follows:

AN ORDINANCE APPROPRIATING ALL ESTIMATED RECEIPTS AND ALL ESTIMATED EXPENDITURES OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1933.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco, as follows:

Section 1. The several amounts of estimated receipts, income, and revenue enumerated herein are hereby provided for and appropriated to the several funds and/or departments indicated in this ordinance for the purpose of meeting appropriations herein provided. Such estimated receipts, revenue, and income are computed on the accrual basis and cash received in payment thereof either before or after the close of the fiscal year shall not be considered as income or revenue but as payment on account.

The several amounts of proposed expenditure for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, are hereby appropriated to the several funds and/or departments as enumerated herein. Each department for which an expenditure appropriation is herein made shall be authorized to use the amount of moneys so appropriated for the purposes specified in this appropriation ordinance subject to the limitations provided herein.

Appropriations for bond interest or redemption, fixed charges and other appropriations not allocated to a specific department shall be subject to the administration of and expenditure by the Chief Administrative Officer, for the respective purposes for which such appropriations are made.

Liabilities incurred and expenditures made under expenditure appropriations herein enumerated shall in no case exceed the amount of each such appropriation, unless the same shall have been increased by supplemental appropriations made in the manner provided by Section 80 of the Charter. Liabilities incurred and expenditures made for permanent employments shall in no case exceed the number of, and the salary or wage for, employments in each class as enumerated in the annual salary ordinance, except as additional employments may be authorized under the provisions of the Charter.

Where appropriations are made for specific projects or purposes which may involve the payment of salaries or wages, the head of the department to which such appropriations is made, or the head of a department authorized by contract or interdepartmental order to make expenditures from each such appropriation, shall file with the Controller, when requested, an estimate of the amount of any such expenditures to be made during the ensuing period.

Items of proposed expenditure that are designated herein as appropriated for the use of a department only to the extent that fees or other revenues are collectible therefor, or reimbursement is recollectible in full from the departments, persons or institutions for which the service is rendered, shall be subject to limitation by the Controller to the amount of such receipts or collections. Each Department head to whom such a provisional appropriation is made shall file with the Controller monthly an estimate in detail of the proposed expenditures for the ensuing period, also a statement of the amount of expenditures made and the receipts or reimbursements received or receivable since the last report.

The term "department" as used in this ordinance shall mean department, bureau, office, utility, board, or commission, as the case may be. The term "department head" as used herein shall be as defined in Section 20 of the Charter.

Section 2. The Controller is hereby authorized and directed to set up appropriate accounts, as provided by Section 76 of the Charter, for the items of receipts and expenditures appropriated herein, subject to the provisions of the Charter dealing with the appropriation and transfer of funds, the certification of obligations and the payment of warrants.

Section 3. The sums appropriated by this appropriation ordinance to the several departments shall be expended in accordance with a schedule of allotments, monthly or quarterly as determined by the Controller and agreed to by the Mayor for departments under his jurisdiction and/or the Chief Administrative Officer.

The Controller in issuing warrants or in certifying contracts or purchase orders or other encumbrances, pursuant to Section 89 of the Charter, shall consider only the allotted portions of appropriation items to be available for encumbrance or expenditure, and shall not approve the incurring of liability on any allotment in excess of the amount of such allotment. In case of emergency or unusual circumstance which could not be anticipated at the time of apportionment, an additional allotment for a period may be made on the recommendation of the department head and that of the Mayor or Chief Administrative Officer and the approval of the Controller.

The several items of expenditure appropriated to the several departments being based upon estimated receipts, income, or revenues which may not be fully realized, it shall be incumbent upon the Controller to revise estimates monthly. If such revised estimates indicate a potential shortage, the Controller may hold in reserve an equivalent amount of the expenditure appropriations set forth herein until the collection of the amounts as originally estimated is assured.

Section 4. After the allotment schedule has been established or fixed, as heretofore provided, it shall be unlawful for any department or officer to expend or cause to be expended a sum greater than the amount set forth for the particular activity in the said allotment schedule so established, unless an additional allotment is made, as provided in Section 3.

Section 5. The existing Special and Trust funds are hereby continued and the receipts in, and expenditures from, each such fund are hereby appropriated in accordance with law and the conditions under which each such fund was established.

The Controller is authorized to set up additional special and trust funds as they may be created by additional bequests or other conditions.

Section 6. The several amounts of estimated receipts herein appropriated, and each fund or department to which such appropriation is made, are as follows:

Explanation of Vote.

San Francisco, Calif., May 31, 1932.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors, City and County of San Francisco.

Gentlemen: On May 10, 1932, the Board of Supervisors received from the Mayor the Annual Budget for 1932-33. This was but eight days prior to the deadline for passage, and this Board was afforded the opportunity to discuss and debate a budget of 91 pages of newspaper print. It is called an all-inclusive budget, and it totaled $64,432,704. How such a set of estimated figures of such magnitude can be gone into efficiently in eight days I cannot see.

The budget submitted for 1932-33 is no different from other budgets, and if assessed valuations of real estate and improvements, together with revenues estimated to be collected, are up to estimate it might be stated that the budget will not decrease the present tax rate, but rather it will increase the tax rate possibly to $4.11. It was agreed at a number of conferences to cut the budget estimate about half a million dollars. The civic bodies and individuals at the public hearing recommended cuts totaling $2,000,000. After giving all the recommendations and suggestions consideration such as could be given, the Board cut the all-inclusive budget but $320,000. This will mean a tax rate of approximately $4.08.

As one member of the Board, who has had experience with compiling fifteen budgets, I think that the all-inclusive budget for 1932-33 is rather unbalanced, for the following reasons:

1. There is not one dollar in this budget for capital investment. It does not provide for the erection of a school house, a fire house or a police station. Neither does it provide for the purchase of any property by the City.

2. The last legislative session at Sacramento made an appropriation of $250,000 to the City of San Francisco for the erection of a permanent live stock exhibit on condition that the City and County would provide another $250,000 and also a site for the exhibit. When the budget was in the hands of the Board this item of $250,000 was called to the attention of the members and was shown to be of positive benefit to San Francisco, in that there would be an aggregate expenditure on this exhibit of some $2,000,000 and there would be annually spent in San Francisco hundreds of thousands of dollars. The Directors of Agricultural District No. 1A and a number of the members of this Board brought to the attention of the Board all these facts. But the requested insertion in the all-inclusive budget of a quarter million dollars for the live stock exhibit was defeated by a vote of 8 to 6.

3. The most positive unfairness in the all-inclusive budget, to me, is the reduction of thousands of salaries for temporary, permanent and seasonal clerks, when some fifty positions in the City government appointed directly or indirectly by the Mayor carry a total of $400,000, or an average of $8,000 annually. Members of this Board, it is unfair to reduce the 3400 election officers, who serve thirteen hours a day, from $7.50 to $5. The rate was $10 but a year or so ago, and now it's cut in half, although they work the same thirteen hours. The temporary clerks in and about the City Hall are reduced from $160 to $150 a month.

Why this method of procedure should be followed when union labor doesn't ask for thirteen hours a day, when the heavy expenditures as shown in the all-inclusive budget are in the higher brackets, and when the Board of Supervisors, in looking for savings, did not cut some of the higher salaries, I cannot understand. It is high time that amendments to the Charter be brought in, so that cuts in the right salaries could be made, which would mean a saving to the taxpayers of San Francisco.

4. The Health Department of the City of San Francisco was cut

$25,000, affecting the San Francisco Hospital and the Laguna Honda Home. Although reports from those in charge of the Health Department indicated that the sick for the coming year could not be properly taken care of with such a cut, it was made just the same. On economies of this kind I will not be a party to.

5. Now, gentlemen, if there is one department in the City and County of San Francisco where money is expended efficiently and judiciously it is the County Welfare Department. To my knowledge for over fifteen years the request for this department has never been cut. This year, out of a request of $400,000, for caring for 1100 dependent widows, $70,000 was cut, and $20,000 was made from the request for the maintenance of orphans. You can well see what $90,000 will do to those poor people who are receiving on an average of about $25 a month. Such a cut can only be made by reducing the pension. Half of the money for pensions of widows and orphans is supplied by the State, and a decrease of $90,000 from the request is reflected also in a $45,000 saving to the State. It is pitiful to see and hear statements made by dependents in reference to a monthly decrease of $5 in their pension.

6. The all-inclusive budget shows that the Retirement Fund now totals $11,000,000. Started some ten years ago, it has accumulated to this extent by the City matching dollar for dollar. The suggestion that the fund purchase bonds at a saving of $100,000 did not even receive a second for my presentation to the Board. I made a similar suggestion for cutting the annual lighting appropriation for a saving of $100,000 and devising ways and means so the lighting of our City might not be impaired in any manner. Neither of these propositions was allowed.

7. Now, the matter of taking $725,000 from the Water Department and crediting it to the budget is positively misleading. This money should have been used for a reduction of the water rates in San Francisco, which was promised, and which are the highest water rates in the United States. The proposed transfer is simply done for a reduction of the tax rate, but the day will come when such ridiculous methods of financing will come home to the people of San Francisco to their dismay.

For these reasons I voted no on pasage for second reading of the budget and I wish my vote so recorded and made part of the record and that this statement be set forth at length in the Journal and so recorded in the final passage of this budget.

Respectfully submitted,

JAS. B. McSHEEHY, Supervisor.

Motion.

Supervisor Gallagher moved that the statement made by Supervisor McSheehy in explanation of his vote be reviewed by the Finance Committee with the idea of a reply.

Motion carried.

Contract Procedure Ordinance.

(Code No. 9.087)

On recommendation of Supervisors' Committee on New Charter Installation.

Bill No. 59, Ordinance No. 9.0871, as follows:

Establishing the procedure for and regulating the entering into contract for the construction, reconstruction or repair of public buildings, streets, utilities or other public work or improvement to be performed at the expense of the City and County, or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury, or out of trust moneys under the control of or to be collected by the City and County, and repealing Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), in effect January 6, 1932.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. The several department heads and officers empowered by law to enter into contracts on the part of the City and County for public work or improvements to be performed at the expense of the City and County, or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury, or out of trust moneys under the control, or collected by, the City and County, when the expenditure involved shall exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000), shall let such contract to the lowest reliable and responsible bidder at any time not less than ten (10) days after the last date of publication or more than twenty (20) days after receipt of bid unless the time for letting such contract be extended by resolution of the Board of Supervisors upon the recommendation of the department head, board or commission responsible for such award. Provided that if the officer or department head empowered to award such contract believes that the public interest would be best served by accepting other than the lowest gross price or unit cost bid, and the contract is entered into with another bidder, written report shall be made immediately to the Chief Administrative Officer, the Mayor and the Controller by the officer authorized to execute the contract, with the reasons for failure to accept such lowest bid. The department head concerned is authorized to compare bids on the basis of time of completion, and any contract awarded in consideration, in whole or in part, of the relative time estimate of bidders for completion of the work, shall be subject to the provisions of section 97 of the Charter. Notice of award shall be published.

Section 2. The department head shall have power to sign any contract when the estimated expenditure thereunder is not in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000). Any contract involving the expenditure of over two thousand dollars ($2,000) shall require the joint approval of the department head and the Chief Administrative Officer, relative to departments under his jurisdiction, or the signature of the department head and the approval by resolution of the board or commission concerned for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer; provided that no obligation involving the expenditure of money shall be incurred unless certification of the Controller is first obtained in accordance with section 86 of the Charter.

Section 3. Alterations, modifications or extras in any contract which will increase the contract cost may be made or allowed only on the written recommendation of the department head responsible for the supervision of the contract, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer or the board or commission, as the case may be, and also the approval of the Controller, stating the increased price to be paid by reason thereof.

Allowances, modifications or credits in any contract which will decrease the contract cost may be made or allowed only upon recommendation of the department head responsible for the supervision of the contract, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, or board of commission, as the case may be, and also the approval of the Controller, stating the amount to be deducted from the amount to be paid under the contract.

In the performance of any contract awarded on the unit and the unit cost basis, if the department head concerned ascertains that the amount of work done or to be done, shall exceed the estimated amount of the contract by 10 per cent or more, the excess cost shall be provided for as prescribed by section 80 of the Charter relative to supplemental appropriations.

Section 4. The department head, with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, or the department head, with the approval of the board or commission to which he is responsible, may reject any and all bids and readvertise for bids.

Section 5. In any case, when the expenditure for the construction, reconstruction or repair of public buildings, streets, utilities or other public works or improvements shall, as estimated by the department head, exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) the bids heretofore referred to shall be sealed, directed to the department head or officer calling the bids, and shall be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank of the State of California, payable on sight to the City and County of San Francisco, the amount of which shall be fixed by said department head or officer and named in the advertisement, which amount shall not be less than 10 per cent of the amount bid for the cost of the proposed work or improvement, and no proposal shall be considered unless accompanied by such check.

Notices inviting sealed bids under the conditions of this section must be published for two (2) consecutive days in the official newspaper, and at least five calendar days must intervene between the date of the last publication and the time for filing such sealed bids or proposals. Such notices shall state in general terms the conditions of the proposed contract, and if progressive payments are to be provided under any contract in accordance with section 96 of the Charter, or if any contract is to be let on the basis of a gross price or cost per unit of work to be performed, or on the basis of time of completion, with liquidated damages for every day during which the contract is uncompleted beyond such specified date in accordance with section 97 of the Charter, such notice shall so state. Each advertisement for bids shall contain the reservation of the right to reject any and all bids.

All bids shall be filed on forms furnished by the department head concerned, and all bids not so filed shall be rejected. All bids received as herein provided shall be publicly opened by the proper department head or officer at the time and place to be stated in the advertisement for proposals, and after tabulation bidders may inspect the bids. Bids with alterations or erasures therein shall be rejected. When specifications do not include alternative proposals, statements or communications accompanying bids which serve to qualify such bids shall not be considered in making awards, and will disqualify bidders.

Section 6. Before the execution of any contract for public works or improvements, the department head or officer authorized to enter into said contract shall require the successful bidder to file corporate surety bonds for the faithful performance thereof and to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and of bills contracted for material, supplies and equipment used in the performance of the contract. Said bond shall be for a sum not less than 50 per cent of the award.

The Controller shall approve the sufficiency and qualifications of all sureties as required under the provisions of this ordinance.

If any bidder to whom the contract is awarded under the provisions of this section shall for ten (10) days after such award fail or neglect to enter into the contract and file the required bond, the department head or officer in whom authority to execute said contract is vested, shall deposit such certified check in the Treasury for collection and the amount thereof shall be retained by the City and County as liquidated damages for the failure of such bidder to enter into said contract; unless upon recommendation of the department head or officer authorized to execute said contract, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, Board or Commission, the Board of Supervisors, by resolution, approves the return of said check.

Each contractor must save, keep, bear harmless, and fully indemnify the City and County and any of its officers or agents from all damages, or claims for damages, costs, or expenses in law or equity that may at any time arise or be set up for any infringement of the patent rights, copyright or trademark of any person or persons in consequence of the use by the City and County, or any of its officers or agents, of articles to be supplied under said contract and of which the contractor is not the patentee or assignee or has not the lawful right to sell the same.

No article or articles furnished under any contract made under the provisions of this ordinance shall have been made in a prison or by convict labor. No contract shall be assigned except upon the recommendation of the department head concerned and with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer relative to the departments under his jurisdiction, or the approval of the board or commission concerned for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer.

The officer responsible for the awarding of any contract shall require from all bidders information concerning their experience and financial qualifications, as provided by general law relative to such investigations authorized by departments of public works, and shall take such information into consideration in the award of any contract.

All contracts, extras and credits shall be executed in triplicate; the original to be retained by the officer or department head making the award; one copy to be filed with the Controller and one copy to be given to the contractor.

Any contractor who fails to live up to the terms of his contract may by the joint action of the head of the department concerned and the Controller be declared an irresponsible contractor, and shall not for a period of one year be awarded any further contract unless on the joint action of the head of the department concerned and the Controller such disqualification is removed.

Section 7. Appropriate City and County departments may file sealed bids for the execution of any work to be performed under a contract and shall not be required to furnish security or submit information relative to financial qualifications as provided in this ordinance. Any bid submitted by a department of the City and County, if it is the lowest bid, must be approved by the Controller before the award of contract. If the bid of a City and County department, as investigated and approved by the Controller, is the lowest, the contract shall be awarded to the department and accurate unit costs shall be kept of all direct and indirect charges incurred by the department under any such contract, which unit costs shall be reported to and audited by the Controller monthly and on completion of the work.

Section 8. The department head authorized to award any contract for public works or improvements shall be responsible for the inspection and acceptance of such work on completion. Such acceptance shall be in writing and shall include the certificate of the department head concerned that the work covered by the contract has been fully and satisfactorily completed in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor. Receipt of copy of such acceptance in writing shall constitute the Controller's authority to complete any payments due the contractor under said contract, provided that the Controller may make such additional investigation or inspection as is provided by section 85 of the Charter.

Section 9. Any construction, reconstruction or repair of public buildings, streets, utilities or other public work or improvement estimated to cost less than $1,000 may be performed under contract or written order by the employment of the necessary labor and purchase of the necessary materials and supplies directly by the City and County. Any public work or improvement executed by the City other than routine repair work shall be authorized by the Chief Administrative Officer or by the heads of departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer only after detailed estimates have been prepared and submitted by the head of the department concerned. Any public work or improvement costing less than $1,000 and not performed by the use of City and County labor, materials and supplies, shall, if not performed under contract, be covered by written order or agreement which shall be based on not less than three bids, notice of which shall be given by three days' posting.

It shall be the duty of the Controller to determine, where practicable, the unit cost of work done by the City and County for the purpose of determining whether similar work could be done under public contract at a lower cost.

The Controller shall maintain records of bids filed by departments in relation to the total direct and indirect cost of each such work and shall report thereon periodically to the Mayor and Chief Administrative Officer. The Controller may refuse to approve contracts with a department shown to be repeatedly underbidding on contract work and failing to complete same within the contract price.

Section 10. The Board of Supervisors hereby declares that in an actual emergency created by weather conditions, fire, flood, or other unforeseen conditions of unusual character, or the breakdown of any plant, equipment, structure, street or public work, necessitating immediate emergency repair or reconditioning to safeguard the lives or property of the citizens or the property of the City and County or to maintain the public health or welfare, such repair, reconditioning or other emergency work may be executed in the most expeditious manner by the department head responsible therefor, who shall, if the emergency permits, first secure the approval in writing of the Chief Administrative Officer, if the emergency work is to be done or ordered by any department under his jurisdiction or, for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer, the approval in writing of the president of the board or commission concerned, or of the Mayor. If the emergency does not permit such approval to be obtained before work is commenced said approval as hereinabove mentioned shall be obtained as soon thereafter as it is possible to do so.

The department head concerned shall notify the Controller immediately of the work involved and the estimated cost thereof.

Section 11. Whenever any preferential in favor of local manufacturers or industry is provided by state law or ordinance or resolution of the Board of Supervisors, the same shall apply to contracts under this ordinance.

Section 12. This ordinance does not affect or apply to street improvement work or to other public work, the cost or expense of which is or will be assessed in whole or in part against private property.

Explanation.

Present Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), approved January 6, 1932, was not workable for many reasons.

The title merely read "for public work or improvement to be performed at the expense of the City and County or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury or out of trust moneys under the control of or to be assessed, or to be collected by the City and County." This is in violation of the 1918 Improvement Act, which takes care of work performed under assessments.

The time limits provided in the original ordinance under Section 2 precluded a department from awarding a contract in case of an emergency.

Section 86 of the Charter provides that no expenditure can be made unless certificate of the Controller is first obtained. The present ordinance did not provide for this.

The present Charter provides methods of procedure for credits, modifications and extras. Present ordinance did not provide for this section.

Present ordinance provides for a certified check or certificate of deposit in amount not more than 10 per cent of the amount of bid. This has been changed to read "not less than 10 per cent." Present ordinance would have permitted a man to accompany his bid by a check of 1 per cent if the directing head was willing to approve same.

Present ordinance did not provide for inspection of work. This has been included in new ordinance.

The present ordinance prohibits an article or articles from being made in a prison. This has been changed to read "no article or articles furnished under contract made under the provisions of this ordinance shall have been made in a prison or by convict labor."

In the main, every section of the Charter pertaining to contracts for public work or improvements have been taken care of in the present ordinance. Meetings were held weekly for two months, which contractors, representatives of labor unions, Director of Works, manager of the utilities, and all interested in contract work, as well as the Controller, who sat in, in an advisory capacity, attended, and the ordinance as now drawn appeared to meet with the approval of all concerned. The City Attorney also sat in with the committee at all its meetings and approved such legislation.

This is a separation of the present ordinance and involves only what is in the title. It will necessarily be followed by another ordinance which will set up the procedure for the Purchaser of Supplies as this ordinance now sets up the procedure for the Department of Public Works, the Utilities Commission and others.

Copy of this ordinance has heretofore been sent to each member of the Board.

Respectfully submitted,

ANDREW J. GALLAGHER, Chairman,
Supervisors' Committee on Charter Installation.

Purchase Procedure Ordinance.

(Code No. 9.086)

Also, Bill No. 76, Ordinance No. 9.0861, as follows:

Establishing a method by which materials, equipment, supplies and contractual services shall be purchased, and establishing the procedure for and regulating the entering into contract for supplies for the City and County, and repealing Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series).

Be it ordained by the people of the City and County of San Francisco, as follows:

Section 1. All departments shall file estimates of material, supplies equipment and contractual services at such times and in such manner as shall be determined upon by the Purchaser of Supplies. All purchases shall be made by the Purchaser of Supplies on requisition of the department desiring the same, except that for materials, supplies, equipment and contractual services in common use by more than one department, or used in large quantities by a department, the Purchaser of Supplies may purchase for stock on the basis of the total of such requisitions or estimates previously filed when approved by the Chief Administrative Officer.

All purchases in the open market, except for patented or proprietary articles and except for minor amounts, and except for fresh fruits and vegetables, shall be based on at least three quotations. The Purchaser of Supplies shall keep a record of such quotations and a register of all informal awards. All articles defined as "patented" or "proprietary" articles shall be listed and filed with the Chief Administrative Officer and the Controller, and the Purchaser may advertise for bids on the basis of specifications for such articles or other articles made and sold for the same purpose in accordance with the provisions of Section 88 of the Charter.

The Purchaser of Supplies, in cooperation with the officials of the several departments, shall provide for the standardization of materials, supplies and equipment in accordance with the use to which the various articles are to be put, and shall provide for adequate specifications for materials, supplies and equipment used in large quantities, or in common use by more than one department.

Section 2. When the expenditure involved shall exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), the Purchaser shall let such contract to the lowest reliable and responsible bidder not less than ten (10) days after completion of advertising by publication. Provided, that if the Purchaser of Supplies believes that the public interest would be best served by accepting other than the lowest gross price or unit cost bid, and the contract is entered into with another bidder, he shall make a written report to the Chief Administrative Officer, the Mayor and the Controller, with the reasons for failure to accept such lowest bid. Provided, further, that all contracts shall be awarded for materials, supplies, equipment and contractual services to the lowest reliable and responsible bidder only when the quality of the product offered and delivered is considered. Notice of award shall be published.

Section 3. The Purchaser of Supplies shall have power to sign any contract when the estimated expenditure thereunder is not in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00). Any contract involving the expenditure of over two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) shall require the joint approval of the Purchaser of Supplies and the Chief Administrative Officer, provided that no obligation involving the expenditure of money shall be incurred unless certification of the Controller is first obtained in accordance with Section 86 of the Charter.

Section 4. The Purchaser of Supplies, with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, may reject any and all bids and readvertise for bids. When bids are called for material, supplies, equipment and contractual services and no bid is received, or where all bids received are for the same total amount or unit price, the Purchaser of Supplies may purchase the commodities called for in the open market, provided, however, that the price paid in the open market shall not exceed any bid price received for the same commodities.

Section 5. In any case, when the expenditure for the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment or contractual services shall, as estimated by the Purchaser of Supplies, exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), the bids heretofore referred to shall be sealed, directed to the Purchaser of Supplies, and shall be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank in the City and County of San Francisco, payable on sight to the City and County of San Francisco, the amount of which shall be fixed by the Purchaser of Supplies and named in the advertisement, which amount shall not exceed ten per cent of the estimated cost of the materials, equipment, supplies or contractual services to be furnished, and shall not be less than the sum of one hundred dollars, provided that any regular or continual bidder may, in lieu of the certified check above mentioned, file a corporate surety bond, in an amount to be fixed by the Chief Administrative Officer and the Controller, to serve as surety for a period of one year that said bidder shall, during said period, enter into any and all contracts awarded to him on the basis of bids filed by him, and with provision for proper forfeiture under said bond in any case of failure, neglect or refusal so to do.

Notices inviting sealed bids under the conditions of this section must be published for two (2) consecutive days in the official newspaper and at least five (5) calendar days must intervene between the date of last publication and the time for filing such sealed bids or proposals. Such notices shall state in general terms the conditions of the proposed award, and if progressive payments are to be provided under any contract, in accordance with section 96 of the Charter or if any contract is to be let on the basis of a gross price or cost per unit of work to be performed, or on the basis of time of completion with liquidated damages for every day during which the contract is uncompleted beyond such specified date in accordance with section 97 of the Charter, such notice shall so state. Each advertisement for bids shall contain the reservation of the right to reject any and all bids.

All bids shall be filed on forms furnished by the Purchaser of Supplies, and all bids not so filed shall be rejected. All bids received as herein provided shall be opened by the Purchaser of Supplies at a time and place to be stated in the advertisement for proposals in the presence of all bidders who attend, and after tabulation bidders may inspect the bids. Bids with alterations or erasures therein shall be rejected. When specifications do not include alternative proposals, statements or communications accompanying bids which serve to qualify, such bids shall not be considered in making awards, and will disqualify bids on related items. All articles supplied shall be subject to inspection and rejection by the Purchaser of Supplies.

Section 6. In case of any contract for the purchase of materials, supplies or equipment or contractual services, the Purchaser of Supplies shall require a corporate surety bond in the sum of not less than ten per cent of the aggregate award, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract.

The Controller shall approve the sufficiency and qualifications of all sureties as required under the provisions of this ordinance.

If any bidder to whom the contract is awarded under the provisions of this section shall for ten (10) days after such award fail or neglect to enter into the contract and file the required bond, the Purchaser of Supplies shall deposit such certified check in the Treasury for collection and the amount thereof shall be retained by the City and County as liquidated damages for the failure of said bidder to enter into said contracts and under no circumstances shall the certified check be returned to such defaulting bidder, and if the bidder's obligation to enter into said contract is evidenced by a continuing bond, said Purchaser of Supplies shall determine the amount of forfeiture thereunder, which shall be not less than the specified amount of certified check required in the call for bids; provided, however, that upon the recommendation of the Purchaser of Supplies, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, the Board of Supervisors, by resolution, may approve the return of said check.

Each contractor must save, keep, bear harmless and fully indemnify the City and County and any of its officers or agents from all damages, or claims for damages, costs, or expenses in law or equity that may at any time arise or be set up for any infringement of the patent rights, copyright or trademark of any person or persons in consequence of the use by the City and County, or any of its officers or agents, of articles to be supplied under said contract and of which the contractor is not the patentee or assignee or has not the lawful right to sell the same.

Section 7. When a contractor fails to deliver an article of the quality he has contracted to furnish within the time specified in his bid, such article may be bought in the open market by the Purchaser of Supplies and if a greater price than that named in the contract be paid for such article, the excess price will be charged to and collected from the contractor or the sureties on his bond.

No article or articles furnished under any contract made under the provisions of this ordinance shall have been made in a prison or by convict labor.

No contract shall be assigned except upon the approval of the Purchaser of Supplies.

The Purchaser of Supplies shall require from all bidders information concerning their experience and financial qualifications, as provided by general law relative to such investigations authorized by departments of public works, and shall take such information into consideration in the award of any contract.

All contracts shall be executed in triplicate: the original to be retained by the Purchaser of Supplies; one copy to be filed with the Controller, and one copy to be given to the contractor.

Any contractor who fails to live up to the terms of his contract may, by the joint action of the Purchaser of Supplies and the Controller, be declared an irresponsible contractor, and shall not for a period of one year be awarded any further contract unless on the joint action of the Purchaser of Supplies and the Controller such disqualification is removed.

Section 8. The Purchaser of Supplies shall establish rules and regulations for the purpose of this ordinance. Department heads may make emergency purchases of materials and supplies with the consent of and in accordance with the rules established by the Purchaser of Supplies, but no such purchase shall be in greater amount than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars.

Section 9. Wherever any preferential in favor of local manufacturers or industry is provided by state law or ordinance or resolution of this Board of Supervisors the same shall apply to contracts under this ordinance.

Section 10. All the terms and provisions of section 98 of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco shall be applicable to and become a part of any and all contracts entered into pursuant to the terms and provisions of this ordinance.

Section 11. Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Adopted.

The following resolution, presented by Supervisor Gallagher, was adopted:

Five Billion Dollar Prosperity Loan Bond Issue.
(Code No. 5.2)

On motion of Supervisor Gallagher:

Resolution No. 247, as follows:

Whereas, the relief of unemployment in San Francisco has become a problem of alarming proportions, despite the efforts of local officials and civic leaders to meet it; and

Whereas, the taxpayers of San Francisco are providing funds for care of approximately 40,000 citizens of this city, and similar situations are confronting the taxpayers of other cities and counties in the nation; and

Whereas, although this is a nation-wide problem, the local communities of America have been bearing this burden for two and a half years; and

Whereas, the time has come when the national government must take drastic and immediate steps to alleviate the overpowering burden which has been thrust upon the small property owner and business man of local communities; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco earnestly petition the President and the Congress of the United States to undertake a program of public works and of assistance to local communities which thus far have carried the burden of meeting this economic crisis; and be it further

Resolved, That the most practicable plan for carrying out this program is the suggested five billion dollar prosperity loan bond issue for public works, and this Board hereby urges its adoption.

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Canepa, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, McSheehy, Miles, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Spaulding—11.

Absent—Supervisors Brown, Colman, Peyser, Stanton—4.

Explanation of Vote.

SUPERVISOR BROWN: I have a matter which will just take a moment. I notice on the calendar today number twenty-five, a motion proposed by Supervisor Gallagher for a Five Billion Dollar Prosperity Loan Bond Issue, involving the recommendation on the part of this body to the national Congress, recommending passage. I wasn't here at the time the matter was discussed. If it is not too late, I would like to have my vote recorded to the effect—I will simply make the statement that I am in sympathy with the major portion of the resolution, except the last paragraph: "That the most practical plan for carrying out this program is the suggested Five Billion Dollar Prosperity Loan Bond Issue for public works, and this Board hereby urges its adoption."

THE PRESIDENT: All right, Supervisor Brown's vote will be so recorded—not his vote, but the statement on the record that he would have so voted.

SUPERVISOR COLMAN: I want just briefly to state I voted against memorializing Congress on two different occasions, and I only wish to say today again that I feel it is not the best solution. I don't claim to be an economist capable of telling what the best solution is, although I have studied it to my best ability, and there are points about that plan which do not appear to me to be for the best interests, and they are not in accord with the views of our President of the United States, and our Secretary of the Treasury, both of whom I feel have had more opportunity to study these questions more carefully that I, and are in a position to better judge what the best solution will be.

Mr. President, unfortunately I was not here to vote at the time this matter was up, and I wish to make that statement for the record at this time. I am sorry, because my vote would have been, I think under the conditions it would have had to be "No."

The budget, while it is a human document and not perfect by any means, nevertheless it is a tremendously creditable one. although unfortunately, perhaps, we were not able to make more cuts, and I think for the first all-inclusive budget the Board has done very well.

I regret, too, I did not hear the statements of my colleague in explanation of his vote, but I saw a copy of his remarks and I understand those remarks have been referred to the Finance Committee for reply.

THE PRESIDENT: That is correct.

SUPERVISOR COLMAN: And when that matter comes before the Board I will endeavor, in my humble way, to reply to it.

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: I desire to concur with Supervisor Brown and Supervisor Colman in the statement in connection with the Five Billion Dollar Prosperity Loan Bond Issue.

To the Honorable
The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, City Hall, San Francisco.

Gentlemen: Under date of June 1, 1932, pursuant to the authority of section 11 of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco, I suspended Frank J. Egan from the office of Public Defender, on the grounds of official misconduct, stating that on or before the sixth day of June, 1932, I would file with your Board charges in writing embodying and specifying the acts of said Frank J. Egan constituting said official misconduct.

Herewith I am transmitting said charges for the consideration of your honorable Board.

Respectfully,

(Signed) ANGELO J. ROSSI,
Mayor.

BEFORE THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO

In the Matter of Charges Against FRANK J. EGAN, Public Defender of the City and County of San Francisco, State of California.

The undersigned, Mayor of the City and County of San Francisco, having heretofore on the first day of June, 1932, pursuant to authority of section 11 of the Charter of said City and County, suspended Frank J. Egan from the office of Public Defender of the City and County of San Francisco, upon the ground of the official misconduct of said Frank J. Egan, does now in conformity with the provisions of said section make and file the following charges against said Frank J. Egan, and specifies the following acts and omissions by said Frank J. Egan as constituting official misconduct:

Count I: That said Frank J. Egan was on the 4th day of November, 1930, elected by the electors of the City and County of San Francisco, Public Defender thereof, and thereafter he duly qualified as such, and on the 2nd day of January, 1931, assumed the duties of said office, and ever since said last mentioned date has been and to and until the 1st day of June, 1932, continued to be the duly elected and acting Public Defender of said City and County of San Francisco, and that on said last mentioned date, as said Mayor, the undersigned suspended said Frank J. Egan from said office of Public Defender.

That the undersigned is informed and believes and on said information and belief alleges: That one Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, who at the date of her death resided at 41 Lakewood drive in the City and County of San Francisco, was for several years last past a close and intimate friend and client of said Frank J. Egan, and that said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes at her instance and request caused certain life insurance policies to be issued by certain life insurance companies, which said policies insure the life of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and that said Frank J. Egan was named in each of said insurance policies as the beneficiary thereunder, and that the death benefit to accrue under each of said policies was payable to said Frank J. Egan.

That on the 29th day of April, 1932, said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes was found dead near the curbstone in front of the premises designated as No. 150 Kenwood drive in said City and County. That when the body of said deceased was discovered by passersby, it was by them believed that said deceased had been killed by being struck by an automobile at or near the place where her body was found, but that subsequent investigation by the Police Department of San Francisco showed that said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes had been killed in the garage of her own home, and that her body had been removed from said home and deposited at the point where it was found, so as to give the impression that said deceased met her death by being struck by an automobile. That thereafter said Frank J. Egan visited the office of the Coroner of the City and County, and identified the body of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and publicly stated to those in charge of said office that he was always fearful that said deceased would meet her death by being struck by an automobile. That immediately upon the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes the Police Department of the City and County of San Francisco proceeded to investigate her death, and to apprehend those guilty thereof, and ascertained the following facts:

That said deceased met her death in her own home, and that the probable cause of said death was that her body was deliberately run over by an automobile in the garage of her said home; that said automobile was owned by one Oscar F. Postel, a member of the San Francisco Fire Department, and was borrowed from said Postel on the morning of the date of the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, by one Verne Doran. That said Verne Doran was on probation from the San Francisco County Jail, where he had been confined upon a burglary charge. That said Verne Doran was a friend of said Egan, and that at the time he borrowed said automobile he stated to said Postel that he wanted said automobile to take said Egan for a drive. That thereafter, on the evening of said day, said automobile was seen in front of the home of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes in the custody of said Doran, and later was seen near the spot where her dead body was found.

That thereafter, to-wit, on the evening of May 1, 1932, said Frank J. Egan telephoned to Charles W. Dullea, Captain of Inspectors of the San Francisco Police Department, to the effect that he was being kidnapped by certain persons, whose names said Egan did not mention, and that he was telephoning from a booth at the north end of the Ferry Building, and that said Captain Dullea immediately caused said portion of said Ferry Building to be searched, but that said Egan was not to be found. That thereupon said Egan disappeared and could not be located by said San Francisco Police Department, although the members of said department made diligent search for him, and about four days thereafter said Egan was found at the Park West Sanitarium, as an inmate thereof. That said Egan remained for more than a week in said sanitarium and was then taken to his home, at which last-mentioned place he remained until June 1, 1932. That during all of said time said Egan was absent from his office and from his official duties, and that during all of said time said Egan refused to see any members of the Police Department of San Francisco who were investigating the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and endeavoring to apprehend those responsible for it, and refused to give to said members of said Police Department any information regarding said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, or to explain why he had telephoned to said Captain Dullea as hereinbefore stated, or to in any way cooperate with, or assist the Police Department in ascertaining who was responsible for the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, or to aid in any way in their apprehension, and that although said Egan was on friendly terms with said Verne Doran, he refused to make any explanation as to why said Doran had borrowed the automobile of said Postel, or whether said automobile was borrowed for him as stated to said Postel by said Doran.

That thereafter the Coroner of the City and County of San Francisco convened a jury to inquire into the cause of the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and fixed the date of the inquest of said death for June 1, 1932, and duly issued a subpoena for said Frank J. Egan to appear and testify at said inquest, and to bring with him the said insurance policies hereinbefore mentioned. That said subpoena was given to the San Francisco Police Department for service, and for more than twenty-four hours said Egan refused to permit the officers charged with the duty of serving said subpoena to enter his home, in which he remained, in order to serve said subpoena or to accept service of the same. That said subpoena was subsequently served on said Egan and he appeared at the said inquest held by said Coroner with his attorney, Vincent Hallinan, Esq. That said Hallinan represented said Egan at said inquest and spoke for him, and with said Egan remained at said inquest during the whole thereof. That said Egan failed to bring with him any of the documents or things called for in said subpoena and although duly sworn at said inquest by said Coroner, he refused to testify upon the advice of counsel and upon the ground that any answers he might make to questions propounded at said inquest would be used against him in the future in connection with some public offense with which he might be charged. Thereafter the said Coroner's inquest was completed and the said jury made and gave a verdict, a copy of which is hereto attached marked "Exhibit A."

That said Frank J. Egan, during a large portion of the time hereinbefore mentioned, was on intimate friendly terms with said Verne Doran and one Tinnin, who had been convicted of crime and was under parole from the State Prison at Folsom, California, and is reported to have been present with said Doran in said automobile belonging to Postel on the date of the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes.

That all of the facts hereinbefore set forth were given great publicity by the daily press of the City and County of San Francisco and are known to practically all of the citizens of the City and County and have been a matter of much discussion among and interest to said citizens.

That it is the duty of the Public Defender of the City and County to advise and represent, in both the Superior and Municipal Courts of said City and County, various persons charged with crime, both before the court and before juries empaneled to try said defendants.

That by virtue of his said actions, as hereinbefore stated, said Frank J. Egan as Public Defender has so misconducted himself in office as to render him unfit to carry on the handling of the affairs of said office and to defend or give counsel or advice to any person charged with the commission of a crime, in that his aforesaid actions have caused the people of the City and County of San Francisco to lose confidence in him as a public official and that should he appear before any jury in either the Municipal or Superior courts he would prejudice the defendants represented by him rather than aid or assist said defendants.

Count II. That as a further and separate charge against said Frank J. Egan, Public Defender as aforesaid, the undersigned Mayor alleges as follows:

That he embodies by reference and re-alleges on information and belief all and singular the statements and allegations made and contained in the above-mentioned First Count, as fully and to the same extent as if each of said statements and allegations were specifically set forth herein.

That it was the duty of said Frank J. Egan as an officer of the City and County of San Francisco to aid the Police Department thereof in apprehending the person or persons guilty of killing said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and to give to said Police Department such information as he might possess regarding the said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and such information as he might possess regarding her death. And that it was the duty of said Public Defender, as an officer of the City and County of San Francisco, to testify at said Coroner's inquest when called upon to do so by said Coroner, and to give to said Coroner such information as he might have regarding said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes or regarding her death.

That said Mayor is informed and believes and on said information and belief alleges, that said Egan, by reason of his acquaintance with deceased, had much information regarding her which would have been of great aid to the police and to the Coroner in the discharge of their respective duties regarding the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes. And further that said Egan by reason of his close association with said Verne Doran and Tinnin was in a position to give to the Police Department and to the Coroner much information regarding said Doran and Tinnin, which would have materially aided the Coroner in determining who was responsible for the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and the Police Department in apprehending said persons.

Count III. That said Frank J. Egan was on the 4th day of November, 1930, elected by the electors of the City and County of San Francisco, Public Defender thereof, and thereafter he duly qualified as such, and on the 2nd day of January, 1931, assumed the duties of said office, and ever since said last-mentioned date has been and to and until the first day of June, 1932, continued to be the duly elected and acting Public Defender of said City and County of San Francisco, and that on said last-mentioned date, as said Mayor, the undersigned suspended said Frank J. Egan from said office of Public Defender.

That the undersigned Mayor on information and belief alleges: That contrary to the laws of the State of California and to the Charter of the City and County, said Frank J. Egan, as Public Defender, and in his official capacity, defended or represented many persons charged with crime who were financially able to employ counsel.

Wherefore, complainant, as Mayor of the City and County of San Francisco, prays that said Frank J. Egan, Public Defender, of the City and County of San Francisco, be removed from office.

(Signed) ANGELO J. ROSSI,
Mayor of the City and County of San Francisco.

EXHIBIT "A"

City and County of San Francisco, State of California—ss.

Inquisition taken at Coroner's Court on the 1st and 2nd days of June, 1932, before Dr. T. B. W. Leland, Coroner of said City and County, upon the oath of twelve qualified jurors who, being duly summoned and sworn to inquire into all the circumstances attending the death of JESSIE SCOTT JOHNSON HUGHES, and by whom the same was produced, and in what manner and when and where the said deceased came to her death, do say upon their oaths aforesaid:

That the said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, female, white, widow, born in California, 59 years old, occupation, housewife; residence, 41 Lakewood drive, came to her death on April 29, 1932, from crushing of liver (traumatic).

And we further find: That there has been sufficient evidence developed at the Coroner's inquest to lead us to the following conclusions:

1st: There is evidence tending to show and leading us to believe that Mrs. Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes was murdered on Friday, April 29, 1932, sometime between the hours of 5:00 in the afternoon and 10:15 in the evening, when her body was found near the curbstone at 150 Kenwood drive, in the City and County of San Francisco.

2nd: Sufficient evidence was brought out to lead the jury to believe that Verne Doran and Frank J. Egan have sufficient knowledge of many of the facts and the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes to warrant the jury in recommending that Verne Doran and Frank J. Egan to be held to answer before a proper tribunal, and we so recommend.

In witness whereof, the said Coroner and the Jurors aforesaid have to this Inquisition set their hands and seals on the date thereof.

Section 10. The Chief shall have power to issue all certificates of registration and certificates of competency, provided for in this ordinance, and to suspend or cancel certificates of competency upon a finding that the holder thereof habitually does electrical work or fixture work not in accordance with accepted and approved electrical standards or ordinances of the City and County or rules and regulations adopted and promulgated under authority thereof and which is dangerous to life or property, and shall have power to cancel and annul or suspend the certificate of registration provided for in sections 6 and 7 hereof issued to any master electrician, master fixture electrician or plant owner, if he shall ascertain and find that such master electrician, master fixture electrician, or plant owner habitually does any electrical work or fixture work, not in accordance with approved electrical standards or ordinances of the City and County or rules and regulations adopted and promulgated under authority thereof or which the Chief may regard as dangerous to life or property. It shall be unlawful for any master electrician, master fixture electrician, plant owner supervising electrician, or supervising fixture electrician whose certificate has been suspended, cancelled or annulled to do or install or cause to be done or installed any electrical work or fixture work until he or it has been reinstated by the Chief and either a new certificate of registration or certificate of competency issued him as the case may be.

From any decision of cancellation, annulment or suspension of a certificate by the Chief, the holder of such certificate so cancelled, annulled or suspended may appeal to the Board of Permit Appeals, as provided by, and in conformity with, the terms of Section 39, Charter of the City and County of San Francisco, ratified by the Legislature of the State of California on the 13th day of April, 1931.

Section 11. Nothing contained in this ordinance shall be construed as applying to or affecting a journeyman electrician, helper or apprentice doing or installing electrical work or fixture work when he is employed by a master electrician, master fixture electrician or plant owner holding an uncancelled, and unsuspended certificate of registration, and at the time such journeyman, helper or apprentice is doing such work he is doing the same for a master electrician, master fixture electrician or plant owner.

Section 12. It shall be unlawful for any master electrician, master fixture electrician or plant owner to permit his or its name or certificate of registration to be used by any other person, firm or corporation for the purpose of obtaining a permit from the Department for doing either electrical work or fixture work which is not to be done or installed by the master electrician, master fixture electrician or plant owner obtaining such permit, and for a violation of the provisions of this section of this ordinance, in addition to any other penalties provided for the certificate of registration of the master electrician, master fixture electrician, or plant owner so violating such provisions shall be revoked and cancelled.

Section 13. It shall be unlawful for any supervising electrician or supervising fixture electrician to permit his name to be used, or to knowingly permit himelf to be held out, as the officer, superintendent or employee of any master electrician or master fixture electrician doing or supervising and directing the doing or installation of the electrical work or fixture work done or caused to be done by such master electrician or master fixture electrician, unless he is in fact such officer, superintendent or employee doing, or supervising and directing the doing and installation of the electrical work or fixture work done or caused to be done by such master electrician or master fixture electrician. Upon termination of an employment such officer, superintendent or employee shall within five days give notice in writing of that fact to the Department, and for a violation of the provisions of this section, the Chief may cancel the certificate of competency issued to any person so violating such provision.

Section 14. Whenever a supervising electrician or supervising fixture electrician, who does or who supervises and directs the doing or installation of the electrical or fixture work done by a master electrician or master fixture electrician respectively, shall leave or be discharged from the employ of such master electrician, or master fixture electrician, notice in writing thereof shall be given within five days by the employer to the Department, and the certificate of registration of such master electrician or master fixture electrician shall without further order or action of the Department or Chief stand suspended until the employment by him or it of another supervising electrician or supervising fixture electrician, as the case may be, and notice in writing has been given by the employer to the Department, countersigned by such supervising electrician or supervising fixture electrician. During the period of time when such certificate is so suspended it shall be unlawful for the holder thereof to do any electrical or fixture work within the City and County.

Section 15. Every person, firm or corporation shall before doing or installing or causing to be done or installed any electrical work in, or on or about any building or structure in the City and County, file with the Department on form to be furnished by it a written application for a permit to do such work and obtain a permit therefor. Such form and application in addition to other matters required by the Department shall contain a brief specification showing the nature and kind of the electrical work to be done or installed and the location and description of the premises wherein and whereon the said work is to be done or installed. At the time the application is filed, the estimated fees for making the inspection of the electrical work to be done or installed shall be paid. No permit shall be issued until such application is filed and payment made. Said permit shall be issued by the Department and only to a master electrician, master fixture electrician, owner electrician or plant owner, and when issued shall be conspicuously posted on the premises wherein or whereon the electrical work therein described is to be done or installed. No person, firm or corporation, registered as a master electrician or master fixture electrician shall file an application for a permit to do or install any electrical work unless such person, firm or corporation has a contract to do, or install the same, or intends to do and/or install such electrical work on his or its own behalf and for his or its own account. The Chief shall have power to cancel any permit found by him to be issued contrary to the provisions of this paragraph.

The Chief shall also have power to cancel permits where the electrical work therein provided for has not been commenced within sixty (60) days from and after the date of issuance of the permit therefor, and in the event of such cancellation of such permit the fees paid therefor shall be credited to the account of the person, firm or corporation paying the same and may be treated as a payment pro tanto of the estimated fees payable on any subsequent application or applications for a permit to do electrical work.

Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed as requiring any person, firm or corporation operating as a public utility to file any application for permits to do, or to have inspection made of, any electrical work necessary for the generation and supply of electrical energy to the public as a public utility, or for the generation and supply of electrical energy for electric street railway purposes; provided, however, that this exemption shall not relieve such public utility from the necessity of filing application for permits for any other electrical work or of having the same duly inspected and paying the fees therefor.

Section 16. It shall be unlawful to conceal, or cause to be concealed any electrical work in or on or about any building or structure before the same has been inspected by the Department and its approval posted on such building or structure wherein or whereon such electrical work has been done or installed.

Section 17. Every person, firm or corporation doing or installing or causing to be done or installed any electrical work in, on or about any building or structure in the City and County shall notify the Department when the same is completed. The Department shall then inspect the same, and if done in compliance with all State laws and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder and all ordinances of the City and County and rules and regulations adopted and promulgated under authority thereof, there shall be issued by the Department to said person, firm or corporation doing or installing or causing to be done or installed such electrical work, a certificate of inspection and approval, which shall contain the date of approval and in concise terms specify the electrical work thus approved, and be issued only for electrical work for which a permit has theretofore been issued. No current shall be supplied to any such electrical work or any part thereof until a certificate of inspection and approval shall have been issued, nor shall any change, alteration or extension be made in the said electrical work or any part thereof after the inspection of the same without first notifying the Department in writing and obtaining a permit therefor. Such change, alteration or extension shall be inspected and approved before any current shall be supplied thereto.

Section 18. The failure, neglect or refusal on the part of any person, firm or corporation for a period of ten (10) days after receipt of notice in writing by the Department to correct, obviate or remove any fault, error or deficiency in the doing or installing of any electrical work or any part thereof done or installed or caused to be done or installed by him or it, in, on or about any building or structure in the City and County, or to cause the same to conform with the provisions of all ordinances of said City and County and all rules and regulations adopted and promulgated under authority thereof, shall be deemed sufficient cause for revoking and cancelling any certificate of registration issued by the Department and held by such person, firm or corporation.

Section 19. Every person, firm or corporation or association or agent thereof or person acting for and on behalf of any thereof, owning, leasing, operating or in possession of any building or structure within the City and County shall permit the inspector of the Department to enter such building or structure as often as shall be deemed necessary by the Department for the purpose of inspecting the electrical work theretofore done or installed in, on or about such building or structure, and it shall be unlawful for any owner, lessee or occupant of any premises wherein or whereon any electrical work has been done or installed and is being used or is in use to prevent, or interfere with any such inspector, in the discharge of his duties under this ordinance; provided, however, that the said inspector shall, upon request of the owner, lessee or occupant of said premises exhibit his authority to make such inspection. If the Chief or any inspector of the Department find that any installation of any electrical work is defective or not in accordance with the provisions of any ordinances of the City and County or any rules and regulations adopted and promulgated under authority thereof or is dangerous to life or property, the same shall be condemned and the use thereof forbidden until the same has been corrected. Upon failure of any person, firm, corporation or association owning, leasing or in possession of and using any building or structure in the City and County to correct or cause to be corrected such defective and condemned electrical work or any part thereof for a period of ten (10) days after receipt of written notice thereof from the Department to do so, which notice shall specify the corrections to be made, the Chief shall forthwith direct the corporation, firm, person or association, or agent thereof, or person acting for and on behalf thereof, who shall be supplying electrical current or power to such electrical work or any part thereof to disconnect and discontinue the supply thereof. It shall be unlawful for any such person, firm, corporation or association or agent thereof or person acting for and on behalf of any of them and so supplying such current to furnish or renew said supply of current without permission of the Chief to do so.

Section 20. No electrical or fixture work shall be installed or constructed which is dangerous to life or property, and all electrical and fixture work within the City and County shall be done, installed and constructed in conformity with the rules and requirements of the National Electrical Code as approved by the American Standards Association, except as such rules and requirements are modified or supplemented as provided in this section. The Chief is hereby given power and it shall be his duty, as soon as practicable after this ordinance takes effect, to hold a hearing or hearings on ten (10) days' notice of the time and place thereof, given by publication in the then official newspaper of the City and County, to determine generally accepted standards and methods governing electrical and fixture work, in modification of or supplementary to the rules and regulations of the National Electrical Code. As soon as he shall have ascertained the same and made his findings thereon, such modifications thereof and supplementary rules and regulations shall be set forth and adopted by him in a report in the form of rules and regulations governing electrical and fixture work, which rules and regulations shall not be contrary to or inconsistent with any law of the State of California or ordinance of the City and County, and shall forthwith upon adoption be published for a period of five days in the then official newspaper of the City and County. On the first day after the completion of the publication thereof the same shall take effect as the standard to which all persons, firms, or corporations doing, installing or constructing electrical or fixture work shall conform. No certificate of inspection and approval provided for in this ordinance shall be issued unless the electrical or fixture work therein described shall conform with the rules and regulations in effect at the time the permit therefor is issued. The Chief shall hold a hearing or hearings at such other times as he may deem it to be necessary, to ascertain and determine what changes have been made in the standards and methods adopted supplementary to the National Electrical Code, which hearing or hearings shall be held only on the giving of a like notice as in the hearing hereinabove provided for. If the Chief shall find that the accepted standards and methods adopted as supplementary thereto have been changed, he shall make and adopt such changes or modifications thereof as amendments, additions to or repeals of the then existing rules and regulations, which amendments, additions or repeals shall forthwith upon their adoption be published in the then official newspaper of the City and County for a period of five days and shall take effect on the first day after the completion of the publication thereof as amendments, additions to or repeals of the then existing rules and regulations.

Section 21. It shall be the duty of the Chief to turn all moneys received under this ordinance into the treasury of the City and County. If the payment made at the time of application for a permit shall be insufficient in amount to pay the fees for inspection, no certificate of inspection and approval shall be issued until the balance of such fees shall be paid in full.

Section 22. This ordinance shall not be construed to relieve from or lessen the liability of any person, firm or corporation owning, operating or installing any electrical work, or causing the same or any part thereof to be done, for damages to anyone injured by any defect therein or any negligent doing or installation thereof, nor shall the City and County or any agent therefor be held liable therefor by reason of any inspection herein authorized and made by reason of such authority, or by reason of the certificate of inspection and approval issued by the Department.

Section 23. Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed in any way to regulate the installation of wires, fixtures, appliances, construction or equipment of any telephone, telegraph, district messenger systems, or other protective signal systems operating at not more than one hundred sixty (160) volts, or clock circuits operating at not more than two hundred fifty (250) volts for a period not to exceed one (1) second duration once an hour, and installed and maintained according to generally approved electrical standards, and the same are hereby exempt from any of the provisions of this ordinance, except that approved protectors or fuses must be provided and used where such wires enter or leave any building where such circuits are so placed as to be liable to accidental contact with electric light, power or any other wires operating at a potential exceeding two hundred fifty (250) volts; nor shall this ordinance be construed as in any way to regulate the connecting or disconnecting of any temporary current measuring device, which is hereby exempted from all the provisions of this ordinance.

Requesting United States Post Office Department to Order the Pick-up and Delivery of All San Francisco Air Mail on the San Francisco Municipal Airport.

(Code No. 5.2)

Supervisor Spaulding presented:

Resolution No. 280, as follows:

Whereas, the City and County of San Francisco, at great expense to its citizens, has established and is developing on the San Francisco peninsula, an airport of the first magnitude; and

Whereas, the supremacy of San Francisco's Municipal Airport has been demonstrated by the exceptionally fine record of a regular air passenger line during the past ten months, arriving on and leaving the airport on accurate time schedules, due to superior meteorological conditions; and

Whereas, the San Francisco Municipal Airport is within thirty minutes' driving time from almost any part of the City of San Francisco; and

Whereas, the use of San Francisco's Municipal Airport would permit the saving of from one to two hours in delivery of air mail and express matter, as well as to passengers using the existing service operating from a remote airport; and

Whereas, the Postal Department has been the predominant factor through financial and other assistance in the establishment of air mail routes because of time savings thus achieved; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco herewith request the United States Post Office Department, for the reasons hereinabove cited, to order the pick up and delivery of all San Francisco air mail on the San Francisco Municipal Airport located in San Mateo County near the San Francisco County line, such order being based on the public convenience and necessity of 750,000 people residing and doing business on the San Francisco peninsula, who contribute almost the entire patronage sustaining the existing transcontinental air mail route operating from this territory.

Whereas, in order to insure the United States representative teams to compete against other nations of the world, the American Olympic Finance Committee has allotted to Northern California the sum of $30,000 to be raised as their portion of this expense; and

Whereas, the Local American Olympic Finance Committee, in order to raise the said sum of $30,000, has devised the idea of selling an official Olympic Pin; and

Whereas, it is urgent that all civic organizations lend their assistance to this worthy movement; and

Whereas, San Francisco received the Western Olympic tryouts to be held at Palo Alto, for which Chicago fought so nobly, the finals of American boxing tryouts for Olympic Games sponsored by San Francisco Examiner, and also received the Post Olympic Games; and Berkeley, California, received the Intercollegiates first time held west of Chicago, and Los Angeles, the Tenth Olympiad; now therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco endorse said activity and urge all officials and employees of the City of San Francisco to cooperate to the fullest extent in making this campaign for the sale of Olympiad Pins a success; and be it

In the Matter of Charges Against FRANK J. EGAN, Public Defender of the City and County of San Francisco, State of California.

The undersigned, Mayor of the City and County of San Francisco, having heretofore on the first day of June, 1932, pursuant to authority of section 11 of the Charter of said City and County, suspended Frank J. Egan from the office of Public Defender of the City and County of San Francisco, upon the ground of the official misconduct of said Frank J. Egan, does now in conformity with the provisions of said section make and file the following charges against said Frank J. Egan, and specifies the following acts and omissions by said Frank J. Egan as constituting official misconduct:

Count I: That said Frank J. Egan was on the 4th day of November, 1930, elected by the electors of the City and County of San Francisco, Public Defender thereof, and thereafter he duly qualified as such, and on the 2nd day of January, 1931, assumed the duties of said office, and ever since said last mentioned date has been and to and until the 1st day of June, 1932, continued to be the duly elected and acting Public Defender of said City and County of San Francisco, and that on said last mentioned date, as said Mayor, the undersigned suspended said Frank J. Egan from said office of Public Defender.

That the undersigned is informed and believes and on said information and belief alleges: That one Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, who at the date of her death resided at 41 Lakewood drive in the City and County of San Francisco, was for several years last past a close and intimate friend and client of said Frank J. Egan, and that said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes at her instance and request caused certain life insurance policies to be issued by certain life insurance companies, which said policies insure the life of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and that said Frank J. Egan was named in each of said insurance policies as the beneficiary thereunder, and that the death benefit to accrue under each of said policies was payable to said Frank J. Egan.

That on the 29th day of April, 1932, said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes was found dead near the curbstone in front of the premises designated as No. 150 Kenwood drive in said City and County. That when the body of said deceased was discovered by passersby, it was by them believed that said deceased had been killed by being struck by an automobile at or near the place where her body was found, but that subsequent investigation by the Police Department of San Francisco showed that said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes had been killed in the garage of her own home, and that her body had been removed from said home and deposited at the point where it was found, so as to give the impression that said deceased met her death by being struck by an automobile. That thereafter said Frank J. Egan visited the office of the Coroner of the City and County, and identified the body of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and publicly stated to those in charge of said office that he was always fearful that said deceased would meet her death by being struck by an automobile. That immediately upon the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes the Police Department of the City and County of San Francisco proceeded to investigate her death, and to apprehend those guilty thereof, and ascertained the following facts:

That said deceased met her death in her own home, and that the probable cause of said death was that her body was deliberately run over by an automobile in the garage of her said home; that said automobile was owned by one Oscar F. Postel, a member of the San Francisco Fire Department, and was borrowed from said Postel on the morning of the date of the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, by one Verne Doran. That said Verne Doran was on probation from the San Francisco County Jail, where he had been confined upon a burglary charge. That said Verne Doran was a friend of said Egan, and that at the time he borrowed said automobile he stated to said Postel that he wanted said automobile to take said Egan for a drive. That thereafter, on the evening of said day, said automobile was seen in front of the home of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes in the custody of said Doran, and later was seen near the spot where her dead body was found.

That thereafter, to-wit, on the evening of May 1, 1932, said Frank J. Egan telephoned to Charles W. Dullea, Captain of Inspectors of the San Francisco Police Department, to the effect that he was being kidnapped by certain persons, whose names said Egan did not mention, and that he was telephoning from a booth at the north end of the Ferry Building, and that said Captain Dullea immediately caused said portion of said Ferry Building to be searched, but that said Egan was not to be found. That thereupon said Egan disappeared and could not be located by said San Francisco Police Department, although the members of said department made diligent search for him, and about four days thereafter said Egan was found at the Park West Sanitarium, as an inmate thereof. That said Egan remained for more than a week in said sanitarium and was then taken to his home, at which last-mentioned place he remained until June 1, 1932. That during all of said time said Egan was absent from his office and from his official duties, and that during all of said time said Egan refused to see any members of the Police Department of San Francisco who were investigating the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and endeavoring to apprehend those responsible for it, and refused to give to said members of said Police Department any information regarding said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, or to explain why he had telephoned to said Captain Dullea as hereinbefore stated, or to in any way cooperate with, or assist the Police Department in ascertaining who was responsible for the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, or to aid in any way in their apprehension, and that although said Egan was on friendly terms with said Verne Doran, he refused to make any explanation as to why said Doran had borrowed the automobile of said Postel, or whether said automobile was borrowed for him as stated to said Postel by said Doran.

That thereafter the Coroner of the City and County of San Francisco convened a jury to inquire into the cause of the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and fixed the date of the inquest of said death for June 1, 1932, and duly issued a subpoena for said Frank J. Egan to appear and testify at said inquest, and to bring with him the said insurance policies hereinbefore mentioned. That said subpoena was given to the San Francisco Police Department for service, and for more than twenty-four hours said Egan refused to permit the officers charged with the duty of serving said subpoena to enter his home, in which he remained, in order to serve said subpoena or to accept service of the same. That said subpoena was subsequently served on said Egan and he appeared at the said inquest held by said Coroner with his attorney, Vincent Hallinan, Esq. That said Hallinan represented said Egan at said inquest and spoke for him, and with said Egan remained at said inquest during the whole thereof. That said Egan failed to bring with him any of the documents or things called for in said subpoena and although duly sworn at said inquest by said Coroner, he refused to testify upon the advice of counsel and upon the ground that any answers he might make to questions propounded at said inquest would be used against him in the future in connection with some public offense with which he might be charged. Thereafter the said Coroner's inquest was completed and the said jury made and gave a verdict, a copy of which is hereto attached marked "Exhibit A."

That said Frank J. Egan, during a large portion of the time hereinbefore mentioned, was on intimate friendly terms with said Verne Doran and one Tinnin, who had been convicted of crime and was under parole from the State Prison at Folsom, California, and is reported to have been present with said Doran in said automobile belonging to Postel on the date of the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes.

That all of the facts hereinbefore set forth were given great publicity by the daily press of the City and County of San Francisco and are known to practically all of the citizens of the City and County and have been a matter of much discussion among and interest to said citizens.

That it is the duty of the Public Defender of the City and County to advise and represent, in both the Superior and Municipal Courts of said City and County, various persons charged with crime, both before the court and before juries empaneled to try said defendants.

That by virtue of his said actions, as hereinbefore stated, said Frank J. Egan as Public Defender has so misconducted himself in office as to render him unfit to carry on the handling of the affairs of said office and to defend or give counsel or advice to any person charged with the commission of a crime, in that his aforesaid actions have caused the people of the City and County of San Francisco to lose confidence in him as a public official and that should he appear before any jury in either the Municipal or Superior courts he would prejudice the defendants represented by him rather than aid or assist said defendants.

Count II. That as a further and separate charge against said Frank J. Egan, Public Defender as aforesaid, the undersigned Mayor alleges as follows:

That he embodies by reference and re-alleges on information and belief all and singular the statements and allegations made and contained in the above-mentioned First Count, as fully and to the same extent as if each of said statements and allegations were specifically set forth herein.

That it was the duty of said Frank J. Egan as an officer of the City and County of San Francisco to aid the Police Department thereof in apprehending the person or persons guilty of killing said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and to give to said Police Department such information as he might possess regarding the said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and such information as he might possess regarding her death. And that it was the duty of said Public Defender, as an officer of the City and County of San Francisco, to testify at said Coroner's inquest when called upon to do so by said Coroner, and to give to said Coroner such information as he might have regarding said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes or regarding her death.

That said Mayor is informed and believes and on said information and belief alleges, that said Egan, by reason of his acquaintance with deceased, had much information regarding her which would have been of great aid to the police and to the Coroner in the discharge of their respective duties regarding the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes. And further that said Egan by reason of his close association with said Verne Doran and Tinnin was in a position to give to the Police Department and to the Coroner much information regarding said Doran and Tinnin, which would have materially aided the Coroner in determining who was responsible for the death of said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, and the Police Department in apprehending said persons.

Count III. That said Frank J. Egan was on the 4th day of November, 1930, elected by the electors of the City and County of San Francisco, Public Defender thereof, and thereafter he duly qualified as such, and on the 2nd day of January, 1931, assumed the duties of said office, and ever since said last-mentioned date has been and to and until the first day of June, 1932, continued to be the duly elected and acting Public Defender of said City and County of San Francisco, and that on said last-mentioned date, as said Mayor, the undersigned suspended said Frank J. Egan from said office of Public Defender.

That the undersigned Mayor on information and belief alleges: That contrary to the laws of the State of California and to the Charter of the City and County, said Frank J. Egan, as Public Defender, and in his official capacity, defended or represented many persons charged with crime who were financially able to employ counsel.

Wherefore, complainant, as Mayor of the City and County of San Francisco, prays that said Frank J. Egan, Public Defender, of the City and County of San Francisco, be removed from office.

(Signed) ANGELO J. ROSSI,
Mayor of the City and County of San Francisco.

EXHIBIT "A"

City and County of San Francisco, State of California—ss.

Inquisition taken at Coroner's Court on the 1st and 2nd days of June, 1932, before Dr. T. B. W. Leland, Coroner of said City and County, upon the oath of twelve qualified jurors who, being duly summoned and sworn to inquire into all the circumstances attending the death of JESSIE SCOTT JOHNSON HUGHES, and by whom the same was produced, and in what manner and when and where the said deceased came to her death, do say upon their oaths aforesaid:

That the said Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes, female, white, widow, born in California, 59 years old, occupation, housewife; residence, 41 Lakewood drive, came to her death on April 29, 1932, from crushing of liver (traumatic).

And we further find: That there has been sufficient evidence developed at the Coroner's inquest to lead us to the following conclusions:

1st: There is evidence tending to show and leading us to believe that Mrs. Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes was murdered on Friday, April 29, 1932, sometime between the hours of 5:00 in the afternoon and 10:15 in the evening, when her body was found near the curbstone at 150 Kenwood drive, in the City and County of San Francisco.

2nd: Sufficient evidence was brought out to lead the jury to believe that Verne Doran and Frank J. Egan have sufficient knowledge of many of the facts and the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Jessie Scott Johnson Hughes to warrant the jury in recommending that Verne Doran and Frank J. Egan to be held to answer before a proper tribunal, and we so recommend.

In witness whereof, the said Coroner and the Jurors aforesaid have to this Inquisition set their hands and seals on the date thereof.

Coroner of the City and County of San Francisco.

Discussion.

Attorney Hallinan objected to the Board of Supervisors proceeding any further, on the ground that it was without jurisdiction; that it did not state a cause of action; that the Public Defender's office is a county, and not a municipal office, and that charges are filed purpose to old Charter, which has been superseded by the new.

He moved that the charges be dismissed and that the Board take no further cognizance of the matter.

Attorney John J. O'Toole, representing the Mayor, argued that the Board of Spervisors had jurisdiction and was proceeding legally.

Milton Marks, legal advisor of the Board of Supervisors, was also heard on the objection raised.

Whereupon, the objection was overruled and the motion to dismiss denied.

Attorney Hallinan moved to strike out from the statement of the Mayor the third cause of action, which alleges that, contrary to the laws of the State of California and the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco, Frank J. Egan, as Public Defender, and in his official capacity, defended or represented many persons charged with crime who were financially able to employ counsel. This, he declared, was no cause for action.

Motion denied.

Attorney Hallinan thereupon moved to strike out counts Nos. 1 and 2 on the ground that neither constituted ground for removal from office.

Milton Marks, legal advisor for the Board of Supervisors, was then heard on the questions raised.

Whereupon, the motion to strike out counts Nos. 1 and 2 was denied.

Inspectors, Inspections.

Section 9. The Plumbing Inspector is hereby authorized and directed to enforce all the provisions of this ordinance, and he may enter any building or premises for the purpose of making inspection upon presentation of proper credentials.

Section 10. The Plumbing Inspector is hereby authorized to order the disconnecting of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping that has been connected without inspection, or that may be found defective or dangerous to life and property. In all cases where any gas appliance and/or house gas piping is so disconnected it shall be unlawful for any person to reconnect same unless or until authorized by the Plumbing Inspector, and any further reference in this ordinance to the inspector shall be deemed to refer to the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 11. The inspector shall make the following inspections and shall either approve that portion of the work as complete or shall notify the permit holder wherein the same fails to comply with the law.

Rough Piping Inspection: To be made after all piping authorized by the permit has been installed, and before any such piping has been covered or concealed or any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto.

Final Piping Inspection: To be made after all piping authorized by the permit has been installed and after all portions thereof, if any, which are to be concealed by plastering or otherwise have been so concealed, and before any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto. This inspection shall include a pressure test, at which time the piping shall stand an air pressure equal to an eight (8) inch column of mercury, and the piping shall hold this air pressure for a period of ten (10) minutes without any perceptible drop. All necessary apparatus for conducting said test shall be furnished by the permit holder, and the test shall be made in the presence of the inspector.

Appliance Inspection: To be made after all fixtures or gas appliances authorized by the permit have been installed and after the house gas piping is connected with the meter and/or service gas piping of the gas company or other utility supplying or furnishing the gas which is to be used as fuel for the operation of said fixtures or gas appliances.

Section 12. Except as permitted in Section 14, upon completion of the installation of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping, and prior to the use thereof, the Department of Public Health shall be notified that such gas appliance and/or house gas piping is ready for inspection. The inspector shall make such inspection within forty-eight (48) hours of such notice. If the installation is found correct, a certificate of inspection shall be issued.

Section 13. In the case of rough inspections of house gas piping, the inspector shall issue a rough inspection card, which shall be posted in the meter box and kept there until after the final piping inspection, as in this ordinance provided.

Section 14. All domestic gas appliances may be installed and supplied with gas prior to the inspection thereof, provided a "permit for use" tag, which shall be supplied by the Plumbing Department, is attached thereto. This tag shall have written thereon the name of the gas appliance dealer or master plumber making the installation, the date of installation, and the address where appliance is located.

Section 15. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, excepting an authorized agent or employee of a person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of furnishing or supplying gas, and whose service pipes supply or connect with the particular premises, to turn on or reconnect gas service in or on any premises where and when gas service is not at the time being rendered.

It shall further be unlawful to turn on or connect gas on or in any premises unless all outlets are properly and securely connected to appliances or capped, plugged or closed by stop-cocks or valves capable of withstanding, without leaking, the gas piping test provided for in this ordinance.

House Gas Piping.

Section 16. Only those licensed to do plumbing work in the City and County of San Francisco may install "house gas piping", except that a gas appliance dealer holding a certificate of competency may install the necessary connections to connect gas appliances sold and/or installed by himself with gas pipe (or gas meter, when necessary) of any building, provided the requirements of this ordinance for the installation of gas piping are complied with, the required permits secured and the necessary fees paid; and provided, further, that no concealed piping may be installed by other than those licensed to do plumbing work. Where it is necessary, in accordance with the above provisions, for a gas appliance dealer to run gas connections direct to the meter, no such run shall extend from the meter to any location above the first story.

This is not to be construed as permitting a gas appliance dealer to install house gas piping system in buildings, even if such a dealer should sell and/or install by himself all the gas appliances to be installed therein, but only to permit the installation of the necessary piping to connect appliances sold and/or installed by himself, in accordance with the provisions set forth above.

Section 17. Permits for house gas piping shall show the total number of gas outlets to be provided for and such other information as may be required by the Department of Public Health.

Section 18. The following regulations as set forth in Sections 19-39, inclusive, shall be the standard for the construction and installation of house gas piping work.

Section 19. For fuel and industrial purposes (including illumination, if any) the diameter of house gas piping installed in any building, the number of lineal feet and the number of openings allowed shall be in conformity with the following table:

Number of Openings Allowed.

Greatest Length Allowed	Pipe Size	½"	¾"	1"	1¼"	1½"	2"	2½"	3"	4"	Capacity in Cu. Ft. Per Hour
10'	½"	1									30
70'	¾"	3	1								100

125'	1¼"	8	4	2	1						350
150'	1½"	10	7	4	2	1					500
200'	2"	18	14	7	3	2	1				800
250'	2½"	28	22	12	5	3	2	1			1300

350'	4"	140	86	43	20	12	6	4	2	1	3500

For a given size pipe ¼ of length will deliver twice the discharge or 4 times the length ½ the discharge.

Section 20. The diameter of the supply pipe to any gas appliance shall not be of smaller size than the inlet connection of such gas appliance.

Section 21. Except as specified below, all pipe used for the installation, extension, alteration and/or repair of any house gas piping shall be standard weight wrought iron or steel pipe, or brass or copper pipe of iron pipe size, and such pipe shall either be new or shall previously have been used for no other purpose than for the conveying of gas. All such pipe shall be free from internal obstructions, splits, or other imperfections which would render it unfit for the purpose intended, and the ends thereof shall be properly reamed.

All fittings used in connection with the house gas piping shall be of malleable iron, brass, copper or equal.

Galvanized wrought iron pipe and galvanized malleable fittings, or standard brass pipe and brass fittings, or standard copper pipe and copper fittings, shall be used for all house gas piping when said pipes are used on the exterior of a building, underground, when embedded in concrete or masonry, or when exposed to unusual damp conditions.

Section 22. All gas pipes shall be well secured to the building and shall be graded toward the meter wherever possible. Vertical pipe risers shall have placed at the bottom of each riser a tee plugged with a long nipple and cap the same size as the vertical pipe, to serve as a dirt pocket.

Section 23. Piping trapped by a change of grade shall be provided with a suitable drip pipe; said drip pipe must be of the same size as the pipe it serves, and the outlet of such drip pipe must be carried to an exposed accessible location.

Section 24. All branches must be taken from sides or top of horizontal runs.

Section 25. All gas piping must be rigidly supported by straps or hooks in such a manner as to prevent moving.

Section 26. When practicable, all center outlets or drops must be square bent and securely fastened, and where straight drops are necessary, straps must be soldered thereto and securely fastened.

Section 27. All gas meters, when owned or under control of the person, firm or corporation supplying gas, shall be installed by the person, firm or corporation supplying the gas. All gas meter locations must be approved by the Plumbing Inspector and shall be located as near as practicable to the point where the service pipe enters the property.

All gas meters, when owned by other than the person, firm or corporation supplying the gas, and which are installed as intermediate or sub-meters on the outlet side of the main meter of the gas utility, shall be installed only at such location or locations as may be approved for that purpose by the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 28. Where more than one meter is set in a building they must all be set at one location, and so placed as to be at all times accessible for inspection, reading and testing, and shutting off gas supply; except that intermediate or sub-meters, as specified in Section 27, may, when owned by other than the gas utility, be permitted to be installed at other locations on approval of the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 29. When one building is in the rear of another building on an interior lot the location of the meters will be determined by the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 30. In order that gas may be supplied, the house piping must be brought to within thirty inches (30") of the proposed location of the gas meter, and where it is necessary to set more than one gas meter, the ends of such house gas pipes must be eighteen inches (18") apart horizontally at the meter location. If more than one horizontal line of meter openings be required, then the vertical distance between such horizontal lines shall be not less than thirty inches (30") and the outlets shall be so arranged as to terminate at the right of the inlet location of gas meter.

Section 31. Gas meters shall not be located under show windows or under stairways or in engine, boiler, heater or electric meter rooms, except by special permission and where no hazard would exist. Access to all gas meters must be through an opening or door not less than 18x24 inches long.

Section 32. House gas piping at the meter location shall be plainly marked with tags to designate the section of the building supplied.

Section 33. On each house gas piping run of 29 outlets or less the opening at the meter location shall terminate at a height of not less than thirty inches (30") above the floor, and when there are more than 29 outlets the said opening shall terminate at a height of not less than forty-eight inches (48") above the floor.

Section 34. When a gas meter is located outside of a building, or when the same is exposed, the same must be protected against the weather.

Section 35. When temporary use of gas is desired the Plumbing Inspector may grant a permit for such use for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days, provided that the gas piping which it is desired to be used be given a test equal to that required as a final piping inspection.

Section 36. It shall be unlawful to remove or disconnect any gas fixture or gas appliance without capping or plugging with a screwed joint fitting the outlet from which said fixture or gas appliance was removed. All outlets to which fixtures or gas appliances are not connected shall be left capped gas tight on any piping system being installed, altered, extended or repaired.

Section 37. No gas piping shall be built in brick, stone, masonry, or concrete walls. When necessary to conceal pipe in this manner it must be run in suitable recesses.

Section 38. No acid, cement or any other composition shall be used for the purpose of repairing or stopping leaks, nor shall water or acid be used to locate leaks.

In no case other than by permission of the Plumbing Inspector is it permissible to repair defects in piping or fittings, but, having been located, the defective pipe or fitting must be removed and replaced with perfect material.

Section 39. No running thread joints shall be used. Where necessary, ground joint unions or right and left couplings may be used. Bushings shall not be used in concealed work.

Section 40. The Department of Public Health is authorized and directed to prepare, adopt and promulgate such rules, regulations, requirements and specifications as are necessary or proper to assure safety and protect life, health and property in the sale, installation and use of gas appliances and to assure the most approved methods of construction for safety to life and property. In preparing and adopting said rules, regulations, requirements and specifications, the Department of Public Health may consider the rules, regulations, requirements and specifications of the American Gas Association or any other national rules, regulations, requirements or specifications relating to such subjects. All rules, regulations, requirements and specifications so promulgated shall be published and shall be sent to all gas appliance dealers holding certificates of competency or holders of master plumbers' certificates, and to any person applying therefor.

Provided, however, that the inspector may authorize the sale and use of any appliance that is in the stock of any gas appliance dealer or jobber on the date of the adoption of this ordinance, by stenciling an approval upon such appliance on or before the.....day of ....., provided the use of such appliance will not endanger life, health or property.

Section 41. Appliances installed hereafter shall be marked or labeled with a distinctive mark or name by the manufacturer or dealer.

Section 42. Used gas appliances may be reinstalled when, in the opinion of the inspector, such appliances may be used without danger to life or property.

Section 43. Except as provided herein, and in Section 44, every appliance shall be rigidly connected to the house gas piping outlet with standard weight wrought iron or steel pipe and malleable iron fittings, or copper pipe and copper fittings, or brass pipe and brass fittings, and a ground-in valve and a ground joint union or right and left coupling shall be placed between the outlet and the appliance.

Brass or copper tubing may be used for the connection between an appliance and the house gas piping outlet; provided that such tubing shall be of not less in weight than No. 18 gauge and of not less than three-eighths-inch (⅜") outside diameter, and that all connections shall be of approved expansion joints, and that the length of such tubing used to connect any one gas appliance shall not exceed six (6) feet. Each appliance so connected shall have a ground-in valve with lever handle cast integral at the house gas piping outlet.

Section 44. Approved flexible metal tubing may be used for connecting gas appliances designed for portable use, such as washing machines, ironers, or other appliances the location of which must be changed during operation; provided, however, that such approved flexible metal tubing shall not exceed six feet (6') in length. There shall not be any shut-off or gas-cock between such tubing and the burner or burners. Where such tubing is used, a shut-off valve or gas-cock shall be installed at the point where tubing is connected to the gas supply pipe.

Section 45. Gas appliances so constructed that the burners are not shielded by metal or other approved insulating material shall not be located within twelve inches (12") of any combustible material. Appliances so constructed that metal shields or other approved insulating materials are an integral part of their construction shall not be located so as to permit the burners to be within six inches (6") of combustible material nor within three inches (3") of protected combustible material.

All vented gas appliances, except gas ranges and radiant type heaters, shall be equipped with an approved type of draft hood.

Section 46. Gas plates or ranges shall not be installed in rooms used for sleeping purposes; they may, however, be installed for cooking purposes in a room designed to conform to the legal requirements for a kitchen. Every gas range shall, however, be connected with a "vent connection" to a proper flue or chimney. Combination gas ranges and trash burners may be vented by a common "vent connection" to any chimney or flue constructed in accordance with the provisions of the Building Code for use by trash burners.

Gas plates may be used for commercial purposes in any room having a floor area of not less than fifty (50) square feet; provided, however, that such room has a permanent ventilation consisting of an opening not higher than one (1) foot above the floor and an opening not lower than one (1) foot below the ceiling. Each such opening shall have an unrestricted area of at least one hundred and twenty (120) square inches, and each such opening shall lead through unrestricted ducts to the outside of the building, where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured.

Gas plates and ranges shall not be installed within three (3) feet of any ceiling of combustible material.

Section 47. Every gas water heater installed shall be rigidly connected to the house gas piping outlet and shall be placed not less than the distance given in Section 45 from any combustible or protected combustible material.

Gas water heaters shall not be installed in bathrooms, rooms used for sleeping purposes, or closets, nor in any room or enclosure having a floor area of less than sixteen (16) square feet. Gas water heaters shall not be installed in recesses unless such recesses shall have one side entirely open and not equipped with any door or other closing device, and the inside, including the top, bottom and sides of such recess, shall be lined with asbestos boards not less than one-quarter (¼) of an inch in thickness, or other approved insulation, and in no case shall a gas water heater be located less than three inches (3") from any such insulated walls.

Every gas water heater shall be properly vented to a flue or chimney.

All manually operated water heaters shall be installed with an approved pressure relief valve set at a pressure not higher than fifty (50) pounds above the pressure of the water supply.

All automatic storage water heaters shall be equipped with an approved automatic shut-off valve set below the boiling point of water, and with an automatic device so designed that the supply of gas to the main burners in connection therewith will be automatically shut off when combustion of gas is not taking place at the pilot; and shall also be equipped with an approved pressure relief valve set at a pressure not higher than fifty (50) pounds above the pressure of the water supply.

Section 48. Unvented gas space heaters, such as blue flame, luminous flame, radiant type, wall heaters, hot air radiators, and gas steam radiators shall not be installed in any room or other enclosure having a floor area of less than fifty (50) square feet, nor shall any unvented appliance be installed in any room used for sleeping purposes. Vented appliances installed in sleeping rooms shall be rigidly attached to the house gas piping outlet.

Section 49. Gas space heaters may be installed in fireplaces, provided such fireplaces conform to the requirements of the Building Law of the City and County of San Francisco. Gas space heaters may be installed in imitation fireplaces, provided the recess of such imitation fireplaces is not more than thirteen inches (13") in depth, and it shall be so constructed as to be not adaptable for use as a coal-burning fireplace. The recess of every such imitation fireplace shall be protected with a lining of brick, tile, or other approved incombustible material not less than one (1) inch in thickness. Such imitation fireplace shall be properly vented and be labeled by means of a metal plate set permanently in the fireproofing, bearing the words, "For gas appliances only."

Section 50. Gas furnaces, except floor furnaces, shall be placed not less than twelve (12) inches from protected combustible material, and not less than eighteen (18) inches from unprotected combustible material, and shall set on masonry, concrete or other incombustible floors or upon floors protected by top floors of masonry, concrete, tile or similar material at least two (2) inches in thickness, or asbestos board not less than one-quarter (¼) of an inch in thickness and covered with No. 20 U. S. standard gauge galvanized iron. The top of gas furnaces shall not be less than nine (9) inches from protected combustible material or not less than eighteen (18) inches from unprotected combustible material.

Gas furnaces shall not be installed in any place or in such manner as to be inaccessible for inspection or repair.

Gas furnaces shall not be located under any stairway unless such furnaces are located within Class A fireproof enclosures.

Every room or enclosure in which a gas furnace is installed or operated shall be provided with permanent ventilation which will furnish sufficient supply of air to properly support combustion and ventilate such room or enclosure. Such permanent ventilation shall consist of an opening not higher than one (1) foot above the floor or adjoining ground level, and an opening not lower than one (1) foot below the ceiling, and each of such openings shall have an unrestricted area of at least one (1) square foot and shall lead through unrestricted ducts to the outside of the building, where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured. Such openings shall be screened with wire screens or grills having a mesh not smaller than one-half (½) inch in any dimension.

For every warm air furnace using gas, or any other fuel, hereafter installed, an air intake shall be required. It shall be either a fresh air intake from the outside of the building or a return air intake from the space to be heated by such furnace, or combination of the two, and such air intake shall not be located in such manner as to draw air from the room or enclosure in which such furnace is installed or from the space immediately adjacent to any openings which are required for permanent ventilation of such room or enclosure.

Every air intake shall be constructed of metal or incombustible material or else be lined with metal or other approved fire-resistive material satisfactory to the Fire Prevention Bureau.

The net cross-sectional area of a fresh air intake for a warm air furnace shall not be less than the total cross-sectional area of all hot air outlets.

No damper shall be placed in an air intake, but the end thereof may be screened with wire screen having a mesh not smaller than one-half (½) inch in any dimension, or with gratings, register plates, or similar devices having an effective ventilating area not less than the required cross-sectional area of the air intake.

Section 51. Gas furnaces of the floor type shall not be installed in any location inaccessible for inspection or repair. An opening or door, not less than eighteen inches (18") by twenty-four inches (24") in size, shall be provided for access to the room or enclosure in which any such gas furnace is installed, and such gas furnace shall be vented to a proper vent, flue or chimney.

Section 52. A warm air or other furnace or heater which is designed to use fuel other than gas for the development of heat may be converted into a gas appliance by means of the installation of gas burners into the fire pot thereof, provided such gas burners are of a design and construction as set forth in the specifications of the Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce, and provided further that they are installed in accordance with the following provisions and in a manner that their use therein will not endanger life, health or property.

(a) The heating element must stand a test for gas tightness so that no products of combustion or gas may enter rooms or spaces to be heated.

(b) Vents and flues must be in good condition as to gas tightness and draft, or made so before converting any such apparatus.

(c) If refractory material is used as part of gas burner or burners, same must be supported above ports of burner a sufficient height to allow combustion before impingement upon said refractory material.

(d) Burners must be equipped with continuous burning pilot lights controlled from the manifold of the burner and fixed to the burner in such a way as to provide a rigid relative position between the pilot tip and ports of the burner. Provision must also be made for a simple means of lighting the pilot light which will not make it necessary for the operator to reach into the fire pot.

(e) Burners using over 60,000 B.t.u. per hour must be equipped with a partially opened check damper in the vent or by a draft hood.

(f) The manifold of the burner must be equipped with a main control valve of the plug type, with a metal handle which is cast integrally with the plug, and operated with stops at 90 degrees apart so as to indicate at a glance the "on" and "off" positions.

(g) The burner or burners shall be so located that no part of the flames impinge on the surfaces of the combustion chamber or heating elements, and shall be securely fastened in place to prevent twisting, sliding or dropping out of position, but so installed as to permit easy removal for cleaning and repair.

(h) The furnace or heater converted shall be checked for secondary air supply, and so regulated or altered that proper and complete combustion will be provided for.

Illuminating Fixtures.

Section 53. Every illuminating fixture installed in the City and County of San Francisco shall be of a design and construction approved by the inspector.

Illuminating fixtures shall not be located within three feet (3') of any gas meter, back of a door, in a closet, nor in any other location where, in the opinion of the inspector, any fire hazard would be entailed. Swinging bracket fixtures are hereby prohibited.

Ventilation for Gas Appliances.

Section 54. No gas appliance shall be hereafter installed, or any gas appliance replaced, unless the room or place where such a gas appliance is located is ventilated so as to properly support combustion. Except as provided in this section and in Section 55, no gas appliance shall hereafter be installed, or any existing gas appliance replaced, unless the same shall be vented to a flue which shall be the full size of the "vent opening" of the appliance to be vented. No damper shall be installed in any "vent connection," "vent," "flue" or "chimney" to which a gas appliance is vented, except as may be specifically provided for elsewhere in this ordinance. Dampers integral in the construction of kitchen heater type or combination ranges are permissible.

Gas refrigerators, gas sad irons, gas mangles and gas washing machines, the gas consumption of which is less than five thousand (5000) B.t.u. per hour (approximately five cubic feet per hour) are not required to be vented, nor shall permanent ventilation, as specified in Section 55, be required for the room or enclosure in which said appliances are installed or operated; nor shall said appliances be required to be equipped with cut-off valves as specified in Section 55.

Section 55. Heating appliances designed by the manufacturer to be used unvented must be equipped with approved cut-off valves which automatically shut off the supply of gas when combustion is not taking place at the burners, and said appliances shall not be installed in any room or enclosure unless permanent ventilation be provided for. For such appliances having a rated gas capacity of fifty (50) cubic feet or more per hour there shall be two ventilating ducts or openings provided, with not less than one hundred and twenty (120) square inches of free area in each, and which shall lead to an area where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured. One such opening shall be located at a point not more than one foot (1') above the floor level, the other to be at a point not more than one foot (1') below the level of the ceiling. For such appliances having a rated capacity of less than fifty (50) cubic feet per hour, only one such ventilating duct or opening shall be required, which shall not have less than thirty-six (36) square inches of free area and shall be located at a point not more than one foot (1') below the level of the ceiling; provided, however, that where the rated capacity of the appliance is less than twenty-five (25) cubic feet per hour, the Plumbing Inspector may modify the provision as to the location of this required ventilating duct or opening if, in his opinion, any other location thereof would be more practical for the particular heating appliance to be installed, and would provide ample ventilation for the safe operation of said appliance.

Section 56. No gas appliance shall be installed in a public or commercial garage unless the design, operation and installation of said appliance is such as to eliminate the possible ignition of inflammable vapors.

Chimneys, Flues and Vents.

Section 57. Every chimney, flue or vent to which a gas appliance is connected, or which is installed for the purpose of connecting a gas appliance thereto, shall be constructed and installed in accordance with the Building Code.

No gas appliance or appliances shall be connected to any chimney, flue or vent unless the internal area of such chimney, flue or vent is large enough to accommodate the appliance or appliances to be connected thereto, as set forth in the following paragraph:

The internal area of any chimney, flue or vent to which a gas appliance is connected shall not be less than the internal area of the largest "vent connection," or "vent opening," as the case may be, plus 50 per cent of the total area of all other additional "vent connections" or "vent openings" which are connected thereto; provided, however, that where round "vent connections" or "vent openings" are connected to a rectangular chimney, flue or vent, the internal area of such rectangular chimney, flue or vent shall be 20 per cent greater than that required above. The following table shall be used for the computation of flue areas in round flue pipes, vents and vent connections:

4-inch round pipe	12.6 square inches
5-inch round pipe	19.6 square inches
6-inch round pipe	28.3 square inches
8-inch round pipe	50.3 square inches

Section 58. No flue opening shall be smaller than the vent connection required for the gas appliance or appliances that will be connected to such opening, and every flue opening to which a gas appliance is not connected shall be tightly closed by means of an approved cap or similar device.

Vent Connections.

Section 59. Every vent connection which is required by this ordinance shall be constructed of metal, as herein specified, or of other approved incombustible material of equal durability and adaptable for such purpose.

Metal vent connections shall be constructed of sheet copper weighing not less than sixteen (16) ounces per square foot or of Monel metal or equal not lighter than No. 26 U. S. standard gauge, and the edges of such sheet metal shall be securely connected together with a locked or riveted seam in such a manner as to form a practically tight pipe. Joints between lengths of pipe shall be at least two (2) inch lap joints and so constructed and fastened as to be practically tight.

Metal vent connections ten (10) feet or less in length and completely exposed to view or easily accessible for inspection may be constructed of galvanized sheet iron not lighter than No. 26 U. S. standard gauge, provided, however, that all seams and joints shall be made in the same manner as is customary in the construction of ordinary stove pipe and stove-pipe fittings, and provided further, that stoves or ranges may be connected to a flue or chimney with stove pipe.

No vent connection shall have an area less than the areas of the vent opening or collar on the appliance to which such vent connection is connected, and every vent connection which is connected to more than one such vent opening or collar shall have an area not less than the area of the largest vent connection plus fifty per cent (50 per cent) of the area of all other additional vent connections connected thereto.

Section 60. Vent connections shall be properly connected to appliances and shall be securely supported by means of substantial hangers at intervals of not more than ten (10) feet on all horizontal runs. Vent connections shall also be properly connected to a flue or chimney by means of an approved metal thimble attached to the flue or chimney in a gas and water-tight manner. Vent connections made through a fireplace shall be made by means of a galvanized iron or steel plate set in the chimney throat, thoroughly cemented and to be air and gas tight.

Horizontal vent connections depending on natural draft shall not exceed twenty (20) feet in length except by special permission of the Plumbing Inspector, nor shall such horizontal vent connections exceed in length the height of the chimney or flue to which connected, measured as the vertical distance between the top of the burners of the appliance and the outlet of the chimney or flue. All horizontal runs exceeding four (4) feet in length shall have a grade of not less than one (1) inch to each lineal foot of length rising toward the flue or chimney. The above shall also apply to horizontal portions of vents, in so far as applicable. Every horizontal metal "vent connection" exceeding ten (10) feet in length, and located in a basement, shall be insulated with two (2) plies of one-quarter inch (¼ inch) corrugated asbestos paper, or of a material having equal insulating value.

Vent connections, or vents, except by special permission of the Plumbing Inspector and approval of the Fire Prevention Bureau, shall not be placed less than three (3) inches from any combustible material nor less than one and one-half (1½) inches from protected combustible material. Bends or offsets in horizontal vent connections shall be avoided wherever possible, and where necessary shall be made at widest angles possible. Vent connections, or vents, passing through walls, partitions or floors, shall have approved double insulating sleeves and shall be installed in accordance with the provisions of the Building Code.

No "vent connection" connected to any gas appliance having pilot provision for automatic or remote control, except gas ranges, shall be connected to any chimney or flue which is used as a smoke flue for any stove, boiler, heater or other apparatus designed to burn wood, coal, oil, or any fuel other than gas, unless such pilot provision is so designed that the supply of gas to the main burners in connection therewith will be automatically shut off when combustion of gas is not taking place at the pilot.

Maintenance of Vent Connections.

Section 61. Every "vent connection" shall be maintained in good condition; provided, however, that no "vent connection" not conforming to the requirements of this ordinance shall be used or maintained if in the judgment of the Plumbing Inspector the use or maintenance thereof would endanger life or property.

Non-Liability of City.

Section 62. This ordinance shall not be construed as imposing upon the City and County of San Francisco any liability or responsibility for damages to any person injured, asphyxiated, or who suffers loss of life by any defects in any gas appliance and/or house gas piping, or by the installation thereof, nor shall the City and County of San Francisco, or any official or employee thereof, be held as assuming any such liability or responsibility by reason of the inspection authorized hereunder or certificate of inspection issued by the Plumbing Inspector. Nor shall the City and County of San Francisco or any official or employee thereof be held as assuming any liability or responsibility for property damage, from any cause whatsoever, which may have been caused by gas leakage, fire or explosion of any sort coming from, or during the operation of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping.

Violations and Penalties.

Section 63. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance or who causes, permits or suffers the same to be done, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and each such person shall be guilty of a separate offense for each and every day or portion thereof during which any violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance is committed, continued or permitted, and upon conviction of any such violation such person shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) or by imprisonment for not more than fifty (50) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Validity.

Section 64. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is, for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby declare that it would have passed this ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Ordinances Repealed.

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Canepa, Colman, Gallagher, Hayden, Miles, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Spaulding, Stanton—12.

No—Supervisor McSheehy—1.

Absent—Supervisors Brown, Havenner—2.

Explanation of Vote.

Supervisor McSheehy explained his vote by saying: I am going to vote No for the sale of these bonds.

First, on the advice of the President of the Public Utilities Committee, I am informed that the contract—either private or public—has not yet been let, and is now under advisement. Just how long it will be under advisement I do not know. That the sale of bonds will mean an immediate interest charge on them to the City of San Francisco.

Second, the interest charge of 5½ per cent is the highest interest charge that the City of San Francisco has ever paid for bonds and this interest charge will reflect against the credit of the City of San Francisco—of all real estate and improvements in the City and County of San Francisco, especially real estate and improvements that might be mortgaged to the banks, building and loan associations and individuals.

Third, we have only received two bids for these bonds, and the records will show that it was nothing unusual in the past to receive anywhere from twelve to twenty bids.

Fourth, we have the report of our Treasurer that there is $1,200,000 in the Hetch Hetchy Bond Fund and incumbrances as reported by the President of the Public Utilities Commission of $600,000, leaving a balance of $600,000. This balance of $600,000 would run the project all the way from six weeks to two months. Therefore, at this particular time, with the financial statement, there is no necessity for the sale of these bonds.

Supervisor Roncovieri: I wouldn't vote "Yes" if I was certain that this work could be delayed. But we are told by the experts and the President of the commission and Mr. Byington and Mr. Colman that tomorrow the work would close down on the Hetch Hetchy project—it would close tomorrow. I don't want to see the work stopped. Whether it is $3,000 a day or nothing a day, I don't want it closed down. I recognize that the rate is high, but I cannot vote no and publish to the world that we are practically bankrupt. I am taking the word of Mr. Byington, President of the commission; Mr. Cahill, its manager, and our City Attorney that we must have the money now or the work will stop.

Supervisor Colman explained his vote by saying: The people voted for these bonds by a tremendous majority—some fourteen to one, rate not to exceed 6 per cent. Bids were advertised. Only two bids were received. Each bid is led by one bidder, but that bid represents practically every large financial institution in the country.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The following matter was taken up:

Loud Speaker Ordinance.
(Code No. 17.09)

On recommendation of Supervisors' Committee on New Charter Installation.

Bill No. 85, Ordinance No. 17.093, as follows:

of said City and County in the following cases only: (1) The making of charitable appeals; (2) during and as part of public events; (3) in publishing affairs of interest to the general public, provided, however, that no permit shall be issued for the use of such loud speakers or sound amplifiers in commercial advertising except when issued under subdivision 4 or 5 hereof; (4) where the announcement or broadcasting is in connection with public events, such as ceremonials, games or amusements, and where the announcement or broadcasting is made for information or amusement of the persons assembled at such ceremonials, games or amusements; (5) for the use of loud speakers or sound amplifiers upon vehicles under the conditions and restrictions set forth in section 4a hereof. The permit as issued by the said Chief of Police shall state the name and address of the permittee, the authorized purpose and the time and place of using such loud speaker or sound amplifier. Any permit issued hereunder is revocable at the pleasure of said Chief of Police.

Section 4a. A permit may be issued by the Chief of Police for the use of a loud speaker or sound amplifier installed upon a vehicle, subject to the following restrictions and conditions, the violation of any of which is hereby made a misdemeanor, to-wit: Application shall first be made to the Department of Electricity for testing and inspection of the equipment proposed to be used on such vehicle. EXPLANATION.

This ordinance is presented in accordance with the mandate of Section 24 of the Charter, which provides, in substance, that all premises subject to inspection or regulation shall be required to pay a fee not less than the cost of inspection of said premises. This ordinance does not impose a fee on any person, firm or corporation required by existing ordinances to pay a license fee. The cost of inspection and the fees collected therefor at the present time shows a deficit which this ordinance, and subsequent ordinances to be presented, will offset.

of said classes of business shall be required to pay only one inspection fee for all his classes of business subject to inspection upon any one premise; provided, that where the owner or lessee of premises where said class or classes of business are located or conducted does not directly or indirectly conduct the same, the owner or lessee of said premises shall not be required to obtain a certificate of inspection for said premises or to pay any fee imposed by this ordinance.

Section 2. The fees provided for in this ordinance shall be payable to and collected by the Tax Collector. If any fee herein provided for shall not be paid within thirty (30) days after the same shall become due and payable, as herein provided, ten per cent of the amount thereof shall be added thereto as a penalty for non-payment, and if said fees are not paid within sixty (60) days after becoming due, fifteen per cent of the amount thereof shall be added thereto, and if not paid within ninety days after becoming due, twenty-five per cent of the amount thereof shall be added thereto.

Section 9. All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

EXPLANATION.

This ordinance is presented in accordance with the mandate of Section 24 of the Charter, which provides, in substance, that all premises subject to inspection or regulation shall be required to pay a fee not less than the cost of inspection of said premises. This ordinance does not impose a fee on any person, firm or corporation required by existing ordinances to pay a license fee. The cost of inspection and the fees collected therefor at the present time shows a deficit which this ordinance, and subsequent ordinances to be presented, will offset.

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Canepa, Colman, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, McSheehy, Miles, Power, Roncovieri, Spaulding, Stanton—12.

No—Supervisor Shannon—1.

Absent—Supervisors Brown, Peyser—2.

In all cases where any gas appliance and/or house gas piping is so disconnected it shall be unlawful for any person to reconnect same unless or until authorized by the Plumbing Inspector, and any further reference in this ordinance to the inspector shall be deemed to refer to the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 11. The inspector shall make the following inspections and shall either approve that portion of the work as complete or shall notify the permit holder wherein the same fails to comply with the law.

Rough Piping Inspection: To be made after all piping authorized by the permit has been installed, and before any such piping has been covered or concealed or any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto.

Final Piping Inspection: To be made after all piping authorized by the permit has been installed and after all portions thereof, if any, which are to be concealed by plastering or otherwise have been so concealed, and before any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto. This inspection shall include a pressure test, at which time the piping shall stand an air pressure equal to an eight (8) inch column of mercury, and the piping shall hold this air pressure for a period of ten (10) minutes without any perceptible drop. All necessary apparatus for conducting said test shall be furnished by the permit holder, and the test shall be made in the presence of the inspector.

Appliance Inspection: To be made after all fixtures or gas appliances authorized by the permit have been installed and after the house gas piping is connected with the meter and/or service gas piping of the gas company or other utility supplying or furnishing the gas which is to be used as fuel for the operation of said fixtures or gas appliances.

Section 12. Except as permitted in Section 14, upon completion of the installation of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping, and prior to the use thereof, the Department of Public Health shall be notified that such gas appliance and/or house gas piping is ready for inspection. This tag shall have written thereon the name of the gas appliance dealer or master plumber making the installation, the date of installation, and the address where appliance is located.

Section 15. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, excepting an authorized agent or employee of a person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of furnishing or supplying gas, and whose service pipes supply or connect with the particular premises, to turn on or reconnect gas service in or on any premises where and when gas service is not at the time being rendered.

It shall further be unlawful to turn on or connect gas on or in any premises unless all outlets are properly and securely connected to appliances or capped, plugged or closed by stop-cocks or valves capable of withstanding, without leaking, the gas piping test provided for in this ordinance.

House Gas Piping.

Section 16. Only those licensed to do plumbing work in the City and County of San Francisco may install "house gas piping", except that a gas appliance dealer holding a certificate of competency may install the necessary connections to connect gas appliances sold and/or installed by himself with gas pipe (or gas meter, when necessary) of any building, provided the requirements of this ordinance for the installation of gas piping are complied with, the required permits secured and the necessary fees paid; and provided, further, that no concealed piping may be installed by other than those licensed to do plumbing work. Where it is necessary, in accordance with the above provisions, for a gas appliance dealer to run gas connections direct to the meter, no such run shall extend from the meter to any location above the first story.

This is not to be construed as permitting a gas appliance dealer to install house gas piping systems in buildings, even if such a dealer should sell and/or install by himself all the gas appliances to be installed therein, but only to permit the installation of the necessary piping to connect appliances sold and/or installed by himself, in accordance with the provisions set forth above.

Section 17. Permits for house gas piping shall show the total number of gas outlets to be provided for and such other information as may be required by the Department of Public Health.

For a given size pipe ¼ of length will deliver twice the discharge or 4 times the length ½ the discharge.

Section 20. The diameter of the supply pipe to any gas appliance shall not be of smaller size than the inlet connection of such gas appliance.

Section 21. Except as specified below, all pipe used for the installation, extension, alteration and/or repair of any house gas piping shall be standard weight wrought iron or steel pipe, or brass or copper pipe of iron pipe size, and such pipe shall either be new or shall previously have been used for no other purpose than for the conveying of gas. All such pipe shall be free from internal obstructions, splits, or other imperfections which would render it unfit for the purpose intended, and the ends thereof shall be properly reamed.

All fittings used in connection with the house gas piping shall be of malleable iron, brass, copper or equal.

Galvanized wrought iron pipe and galvanized malleable fittings, or standard brass pipe and brass fittings, or standard copper pipe and copper fittings, shall be used for all house gas piping when said pipes are used on the exterior of a building, underground, when embedded in concrete or masonry, or when exposed to unusual damp conditions.

Section 22. All gas pipes shall be well secured to the building and shall be graded toward the meter wherever possible. Vertical pipe risers shall have placed at the bottom of each riser a tee plugged with a long nipple and cap the same size as the vertical pipe, to serve as a dirt pocket.

Section 23. Piping trapped by a change of grade shall be provided with a suitable drip pipe; said drip pipe must be of the same size as the pipe it serves, and the outlet of such drip pipe must be carried to an exposed accessible location.

Section 24. All branches must be taken from sides or top of horizontal runs.

Section 25. All gas piping must be rigidly supported by straps or hooks in such a manner as to prevent moving.

Section 26. When practicable, all center outlets or drops must be square bent and securely fastened, and where straight drops are necessary, straps must be soldered thereto and securely fastened.

Section 27. All gas meters, when owned or under control of the person, firm or corporation supplying gas, shall be installed by the person, firm or corporation supplying the gas. All gas meter locations must be approved by the Plumbing Inspector and shall be located as near as practicable to the point where the service pipe enters the property.

All gas meters, when owned by other than the person, firm or corporation supplying the gas, and which are installed as intermediate or sub-meters on the outlet side of the main meter of the gas utility, shall be installed only at such location or locations as may be approved for that purpose by the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 28. Where more than one meter is set in a building they must all be set at one location, and so placed as to be at all times accessible for inspection, reading and testing, and shutting off gas supply; except that intermediate or sub-meters, as specified in Section 27, may, when owned by other than the gas utility, be permitted to be installed at other locations on approval of the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 29. When one building is in the rear of another building on an interior lot the location of the meters will be determined by the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 30. In order that gas may be supplied, the house piping must be brought to within thirty inches (30") of the proposed location of the gas meter, and where it is necessary to set more than one gas meter, the ends of such house gas pipes must be eighteen inches (18") apart horizontally at the meter location. If more than one horizontal line of meter openings be required, then the vertical distance between such horizontal lines shall be not less than thirty inches (30") and the outlets shall be so arranged as to terminate at the right of the inlet location of gas meter.

Section 31. Gas meters shall not be located under show windows or under stairways or in engine, boiler, heater or electric meter rooms, except by special permission and where no hazard would exist. Access to all gas meters must be through an opening or door not less than 18x24 inches long.

Section 32. House gas piping at the meter location shall be plainly marked with tags to designate the section of the building supplied.

Section 33. On each house gas piping run of 29 outlets or less the opening at the meter location shall terminate at a height of not less than thirty inches (30") above the floor, and when there are more than 29 outlets the said opening shall terminate at a height of not less than forty-eight inches (48") above the floor.

Section 34. When a gas meter is located outside of a building, or when the same is exposed, the same must be protected against the weather.

Section 35. When temporary use of gas is desired the Plumbing Inspector may grant a permit for such use for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days, provided that the gas piping which it is desired to be used be given a test equal to that required as a final piping inspection.

Section 36. It shall be unlawful to remove or disconnect any gas fixture or gas appliance without capping or plugging with a screwed joint fitting the outlet from which said fixture or gas appliance was removed. All outlets to which fixtures or gas appliances are not connected shall be left capped gas tight on any piping system being installed, altered, extended or repaired.

Section 37. No gas piping shall be built in brick, stone, masonry, or concrete walls. When necessary to conceal pipe in this manner it must be run in suitable recesses.

Section 38. No acid, cement or any other composition shall be used for the purpose of repairing or stopping leaks, nor shall water or acid be used to locate leaks.

In no case other than by permission of the Plumbing Inspector is it permissible to repair defects in piping or fittings, but, having been located, the defective pipe or fitting must be removed and replaced with perfect material.

Section 39. No running thread joints shall be used. Where necessary, ground joint unions or right and left couplings may be used. Bushings shall not be used in concealed work.

Gas Appliances—General.

Section 40. The Department of Public Health is authorized and directed to prepare, adopt and promulgate such rules, regulations, requirements and specifications as are necessary or proper to assure safety and protect life, health and property in the sale, installation and use of gas appliances and to assure the most improved methods of construction for safety to life and property. In preparing and adopting said rules, regulations, requirements and specifications, the Department of Public Health may consider the rules, regulations, requirements and specifications of the American Gas Association or any other national rules, regulations, requirements or specifications relating to such subjects. All rules, regulations, requirements and specifications so promulgated shall be published and shall be sent to all gas appliance dealers holding certificates of competency or holders of master plumbers' certificates, and to any person applying therefor.

Provided, however, that the inspector may authorize the sale and use of any appliance that is in the stock of any gas appliance dealer or jobber on the date of the adoption of this ordinance, by stenciling an approval upon such appliance on or before the.....day of ....., provided the use of such appliance will not endanger life, health or property.

Section 41. Appliances installed hereafter shall be marked or labeled with a distinctive mark or name by the manufacturer or dealer.

Section 42. Used gas appliances may be reinstalled when, in the opinion of the inspector, such appliances may be used without danger to life or property.

Section 43. Except as provided herein, and in Section 44, every appliance shall be rigidly connected to the house gas piping outlet with standard weight wrought iron or steel pipe and malleable iron fittings, or copper pipe and copper fittings, or brass pipe and brass fittings, and a ground-in valve and a ground joint union or right and left coupling shall be placed between the outlet and the appliance.

Brass or copper tubing may be used for the connection between an appliance and the house gas piping outlet; provided that such tubing shall be of not less in weight than No. 18 gauge and of not less than three-eighths-inch (⅜") outside diameter, and that all connections shall be of approved expansion joints, and that the length of such tubing used to connect any one gas appliance shall not exceed six (6) feet. Each appliance so connected shall have a ground-in valve with lever handle cast integral at the house gas piping outlet.

Section 44. Approved flexible metal tubing may be used for connecting gas appliances designed for portable use, such as washing machines, ironers, or other appliances the location of which must be changed during operation; provided, however, that such approved flexible metal tubing shall not exceed six feet (6') in length. There shall not be any shut-off or gas-cock between such tubing and the burner or burners. Where such tubing is used, a shut-off valve or gas-cock shall be installed at the point where tubing is connected to the gas supply pipe.

Section 45. Gas appliances so constructed that the burners are not shielded by metal or other approved insulating material shall not be located within twelve inches (12") of any combustible material. Appliances so constructed that metal shields or other approved insulating materials are an integral part of their construction shall not be located so as to permit the burners to be within six inches (6") of combustible material nor within three inches (3") of protected combustible material.

All vented gas appliances, except gas ranges and radiant type heaters, shall be equipped with an approved type of draft hood.

Section 46. Gas plates or ranges shall not be installed in rooms used for sleeping purposes; they may, however, be installed for cooking purposes in a room designed to conform to the legal requirements for a kitchen. Every gas range shall, however, be connected with a "vent connection" to a proper flue or chimney. Combination gas ranges and trash burners may be vented by a common "vent connection" to any chimney or flue constructed in accordance with the provisions of the Building Code for use by trash burners.

Gas plates may be used for commercial purposes in any room having a floor area of not less than fifty (50) square feet; provided, however, that such room has a permanent ventilation consisting of an opening not higher than one (1) foot above the floor and an opening not lower than one (1) foot below the ceiling. Each such opening shall have an unrestricted area of at least one hundred and twenty (120) square inches, and each such opening shall lead through unrestricted ducts to the outside of the building, where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured.

Gas plates and ranges shall not be installed within three (3) feet of any ceiling of combustible material.

Section 47. Every gas water heater installed shall be rigidly connected to the house gas piping outlet and shall be placed not less than the distance given in Section 45 from any combustible or protected combustible material.

Gas water heaters shall not be installed in bathrooms, rooms used for sleeping purposes, or closets, nor in any room or enclosure having a floor area of less than sixteen (16) square feet. Gas water heaters shall not be installed in recesses unless such recesses shall have one side entirely open and not equipped with any door or other closing device, and the inside, including the top, bottom and sides of such recess, shall be lined with asbestos boards not less than one-quarter (¼) of an inch in thickness, or other approved insulation, and in no case shall a gas water heater be located less than three inches (3") from any such insulated walls.

Every gas water heater shall be properly vented to a flue or chimney.

All manually operated water heaters shall be installed with an approved pressure relief valve set at a pressure not higher than fifty (50) pounds above the pressure of the water supply.

All automatic storage water heaters shall be equipped with an approved automatic shut-off valve set below the boiling point of water, and with an automatic device so designed that the supply of gas to the main burners in connection therewith will be automatically shut off when combustion of gas is not taking place at the pilot; and shall also be equipped with an approved pressure relief valve set at a pressure not higher than fifty (50) pounds above the pressure of the water supply.

Section 48. Unvented gas space heaters, such as blue flame, luminous flame, radiant type, wall heaters, hot air radiators, and gas steam radiators shall not be installed in any room or other enclosure having a floor area of less than fifty (50) square feet, nor shall any unvented appliance be installed in any room used for sleeping purposes. Vented appliances installed in sleeping rooms shall be rigidly attached to the house gas piping outlet.

Section 49. Gas space heaters may be installed in fireplaces, provided such fireplaces conform to the requirements of the Building Law of the City and County of San Francisco. Gas space heaters may be installed in imitation fireplaces, provided the recess of such imitation fireplaces is not more than thirteen inches (13") in depth, and it shall be so constructed as to be not adaptable for use as a coal-burning fireplace. The recess of every such imitation fireplace shall be protected with a lining of brick, tile, or other approved incombustible material not less than one (1) inch in thickness. Such imitation fireplace shall be properly vented and be labeled by means of a metal plate set permanently in the fireproofing, bearing the words, "For gas appliances only."

Section 50. Gas furnaces, except floor furnaces, shall be placed not less than twelve (12) inches from protected combustible material, and not less than eighteen (18) inches from unprotected combustible material, and shall set on masonry, concrete or other incombustible floors or upon floors protected by top floors of masonry, concrete, tile or similar material at least two (2) inches in thickness, or asbestos board not less than one-quarter (¼) of an inch in thickness and covered with No. 20 U. S. standard gauge galvanized iron. The top of gas furnaces shall not be less than nine (9) inches from protected combustible material or not less than eighteen (18) inches from unprotected combustible material.

Gas furnaces shall not be installed in any place or in such manner as to be inaccessible for inspection or repair.

Gas furnaces shall not be located under any stairway unless such furnaces are located within Class A fireproof enclosures.

Every room or enclosure in which a gas furnace is installed or operated shall be provided with permanent ventilation which will furnish sufficient supply of air to properly support combustion and ventilate such room or enclosure. Such permanent ventilation shall consist of an opening not higher than one (1) foot above the floor or adjoining ground level, and an opening not lower than one (1) foot below the ceiling, and each of such openings shall have an unrestricted area of at least one (1) square foot and shall lead through unrestricted ducts to the outside of the building, where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured. Such openings shall be screened with wire screens or grills having a mesh not smaller than one-half (½) inch in any dimension.

For every warm air furnace using gas, or any other fuel, hereafter installed, an air intake shall be required. It shall be either a fresh air intake from the outside of the building or a return air intake from the space to be heated by such furnace, or combination of the two, and such air intake shall not be located in such manner as to draw air from the room or enclosure in which such furnace is installed or from the space immediately adjacent to any openings which are required for permanent ventilation of such room or enclosure.

Every air intake shall be constructed of metal or incombustible material or else be lined with metal or other approved fire-resistive material satisfactory to the Fire Prevention Bureau.

The net cross-sectional area of a fresh air intake for a warm air furnace shall not be less than the total cross-sectional area of all hot air outlets.

No damper shall be placed in an air intake, but the end thereof may be screened with wire screen having a mesh not smaller than one-half (½) inch in any dimension, or with gratings, register plates, or similar devices having an effective ventilating area not less than the required cross-sectional area of the air intake.

Section 51. Gas furnaces of the floor type shall not be installed in any location inaccessible for inspection or repair. An opening or door, not less than eighteen inches (18") by twenty-four inches (24") in size, shall be provided for access to the room or enclosure in which any such gas furnace is installed, and such gas furnace shall be vented to a proper vent, flue or chimney.

Section 52. A warm air or other furnace or heater which is designed to use fuel other than gas for the development of heat may be converted into a gas appliance by means of the installation of gas burners into the fire pot thereof, provided such gas burners are of a design and construction as set forth in the specifications of the Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce, and provided further that they are installed in accordance with the following provisions and in a manner that their use therein will not endanger life, health or property.

(a) The heating element must stand a test for gas tightness so that no products of combustion or gas may enter rooms or spaces to be heated.

(b) Vents and flues must be in good condition as to gas tightness and draft, or made so before converting any such apparatus.

(c) If refractory material is used as part of gas burner or burners, same must be supported above ports of burner a sufficient height to allow combustion before impingement upon said refractory material.

(d) Burners must be equipped with continuous burning pilot lights controlled from the manifold of the burner and fixed to the burner in such a way as to provide a rigid relative position between the pilot tip and ports of the burner. Provision must also be made for a simple means of lighting the pilot light which will not make it necessary for the operator to reach into the fire pot.

(e) Burners using over 60,000 B.t.u. per hour must be equipped with a partially opened check damper in the vent or by a draft hood.

(f) The manifold of the burner must be equipped with a main control valve of the plug type, with a metal handle which is cast integrally with the plug, and operated with stops at 90 degrees apart so as to indicate at a glance the "on" and "off" positions.

(g) The burner or burners shall be so located that no part of the flames impinge on the surfaces of the combustion chamber or heating elements, and shall be securely fastened in place to prevent twisting, sliding or dropping out of position, but so installed as to permit easy removal for cleaning and repair.

(h) The furnace or heater converted shall be checked for secondary air supply, and so regulated or altered that proper and complete combustion will be provided for.

Illuminating Fixtures.

Section 53. Every illuminating fixture installed in the City and County of San Francisco shall be of a design and construction approved by the inspector.

Illuminating fixtures shall not be located within three feet (3') of any gas meter, back of a door, in a closet, nor in any other location where, in the opinion of the inspector, any fire hazard would be entailed. Swinging bracket fixtures are hereby prohibited.

Ventilation for Gas Appliances.

Section 54. No gas appliance shall be hereafter installed, or any gas appliance replaced, unless the room or place where such a gas appliance is located is ventilated so as to properly support combustion. Except as provided in this section and in Section 55, no gas appliance shall hereafter be installed, or any existing gas appliance replaced, unless the same shall be vented to a flue which shall be the full size of the "vent opening" of the appliance to be vented. No damper shall be installed in any "vent connection," "vent," "flue" or "chimney" to which a gas appliance is vented, except as may be specifically provided for elsewhere in this ordinance. Dampers integral in the construction of kitchen heater type or combination ranges are permissible.

Gas refrigerators, gas sad irons, gas mangles and gas washing machines, the gas consumption of which is less than five thousand (5000) B.t.u. per hour (approximately five cubic feet per hour) are not required to be vented, nor shall permanent ventilation, as specified in Section 55, be required for the room or enclosure in which said appliances are installed or operated; nor shall said appliances be required to be equipped with cut-off valves as specified in Section 55.

Section 55. Heating appliances designed by the manufacturer to be used unvented must be equipped with approved cut-off valves which automatically shut off the supply of gas when combustion is not taking place at the burners, and said appliances shall not be installed in any room or enclosure unless permanent ventilation be provided for. For such appliances having a rated gas capacity of fifty (50) cubic feet or more per hour there shall be two ventilating ducts or openings provided, with not less than one hundred and twenty (120) square inches of free area in each, and which shall lead to an area where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured. One such opening shall be located at a point not more than one foot (1') above the floor level, the other to be at a point not more than one foot (1') below the level of the ceiling. For such appliances having a rated capacity of less than fifty (50) cubic feet per hour, only one such ventilating duct or opening shall be required, which shall not have less than thirty-six (36) square inches of free area and shall be located at a point not more than one foot (1') below the level of the ceiling; provided, however, that where the rated capacity of the appliance is less than twenty-five (25) cubic feet per hour, the Plumbing Inspector may modify the provision as to the location of this required ventilating duct or opening if, in his opinion, any other location thereof would be more practical for the particular heating appliance to be installed, and would provide ample ventilation for the safe operation of said appliance.

Section 56. No gas appliance shall be installed in a public or commercial garage unless the design, operation and installation of said appliance is such as to eliminate the possible ignition of inflammable vapors.

Chimneys, Flues and Vents.

Section 57. Every chimney, flue or vent to which a gas appliance is connected, or which is installed for the purpose of connecting a gas appliance thereto, shall be constructed and installed in accordance with the Building Code.

No gas appliance or appliances shall be connected to any chimney, flue or vent unless the internal area of such chimney, flue or vent is large enough to accommodate the appliance or appliances to be connected thereto, as set forth in the following paragraph:

The internal area of any chimney, flue or vent to which a gas appliance is connected shall not be less than the internal area of the largest "vent connection," or "vent opening," as the case may be, plus 50 per cent of the total area of all other additional "vent connections" or "vent openings" which are connected thereto; provided, however, that where round "vent connections" or "vent openings" are connected to a rectangular chimney, flue or vent, the internal area of such rectangular chimney, flue or vent shall be 20 per cent greater than that required above. The following table shall be used for the computation of flue areas in round flue pipes, vents and vent connections:

4-inch round pipe	12.6 square inches
5-inch round pipe	19.6 square inches
6-inch round pipe	28.3 square inches
8-inch round pipe	50.3 square inches

Section 58. No flue opening shall be smaller than the vent connection required for the gas appliance or appliances that will be connected to such opening, and every flue opening to which a gas appliance is not connected shall be tightly closed by means of an approved cap or similar device.

Vent Connections.

Section 59. Every vent connection which is required by this ordinance shall be constructed of metal, as herein specified, or of other approved incombustible material of equal durability and adaptable for such purpose.

Metal vent connections shall be constructed of sheet copper weighing not less than sixteen (16) ounces per square foot or of Monel metal or equal not lighter than No. 26 U. S. standard gauge, and the edges of such sheet metal shall be securely connected together with a locked or riveted seam in such a manner as to form a practically tight pipe. Joints between lengths of pipe shall be at least two (2) inch lap joints and so constructed and fastened as to be practically tight.

Metal vent connections ten (10) feet or less in length and completely exposed to view or easily accessible for inspection may be constructed of galvanized sheet iron not lighter than No. 26 U. S. standard gauge, provided, however, that all seams and joints shall be made in the same manner as is customary in the construction of ordinary stove pipe and stove-pipe fittings, and provided further, that stoves or ranges may be connected to a flue or chimney with stove pipe.

No vent connection shall have an area less than the areas of the vent opening or collar on the appliance to which such vent connection is connected, and every vent connection which is connected to more than one such vent opening or collar shall have an area not less than the area of the largest vent connection plus fifty (50) per cent of the area of all other additional vent connections connected thereto.

Section 60. Vent connections shall be properly connected to appliances and shall be securely supported by means of substantial hangers at intervals of not more than ten (10) feet on all horizontal runs. Vent connections shall also be properly connected to a flue or chimney by means of an approved metal thimble attached to the flue or chimney in a gas and water-tight manner. Vent connections made through a fireplace shall be made by means of a galvanized iron or steel plate set in the chimney throat, thoroughly cemented and to be air and gas tight.

Horizontal vent connections depending on natural draft shall not exceed twenty (20) feet in length except by special permission of the Plumbing Inspector, nor shall such horizontal vent connections exceed in length the height of the chimney or flue to which connected, measured as the vertical distance between the top of the burners of the appliance and the outlet of the chimney or flue. All horizontal runs exceeding four (4) feet in length shall have a grade of not less than one (1) inch to each lineal foot of length rising toward the flue or chimney. The above shall also apply to horizontal portions of vents, in so far as applicable. Every horizontal metal "vent connection" exceeding ten (10) feet in length, and located in a basement, shall be insulated with two (2) plies of one-quarter (¼) inch corrugated asbestos paper, or of a material having equal insulating value.

Vent connections, or vents, except by special permission of the Plumbing Inspector and approval of the Fire Prevention Bureau, shall not be placed less than three (3) inches from any combustible material nor less than one and one-half (1½) inches from protected combustible material. Bends or offsets in horizontal vent connections shall be avoided wherever possible, and where necessary shall be made at widest angles possible. Vent connections, or vents, passing through walls, partitions or floors, shall have approved double insulating sleeves and shall be installed in accordance with the provisions of the Building Code.

No "vent connection" connected to any gas appliance having pilot provision for automatic or remote control, except gas ranges, shall be connected to any chimney or flue which is used as a smoke flue for any stove, boiler, heater or other apparatus designed to burn wood, coal, oil, or any fuel other than gas, unless such pilot provision is so designed that the supply of gas to the main burners in connection therewith will be automatically shut off when combustion of gas is not taking place at the pilot.

Maintenance of Vent Connections.

Section 61. Every "vent connection" shall be maintained in good condition; provided, however, that no "vent connection" not conforming to the requirements of this ordinance shall be used or maintained if in the judgment of the Plumbing Inspector the use or maintenance thereof would endanger life or property.

Non-Liability of City.

Section 62. This ordinance shall not be construed as imposing upon the City and County of San Francisco any liability or responsibility for damages to any person injured, asphyxiated, or who suffers loss of life by any defects in any gas appliance and/or house gas piping, or by the installation thereof, nor shall the City and County of San Francisco, or any official or employee thereof, be held as assuming any such liability or responsibility by reason of the inspection authorized hereunder or certificate of inspection issued by the Plumbing Inspector. Nor shall the City and County of San Francisco or any official or employee thereof be held as assuming any liability or responsibility for property damage, from any cause whatsoever, which may have been caused by gas leakage, fire or explosion of any sort coming from, or during the operation of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping.

Violations and Penalties.

Section 63. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance or who causes, permits or suffers the same to be done, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and each such person shall be guilty of a separate offense for each and every day or portion thereof during which any violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance is committed, continued or permitted, and upon conviction of any such violation such person shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) or by imprisonment for not more than fifty (50) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Validity.

Section 64. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby declare that it would have passed this ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Ordinances Repealed.

Section 65. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

If the said poundkeeper refuses to release any such animal, and the owner pays the demanded charges, the owner may apply by petition to the Board of Supervisors to have such charges refunded, and the Board of Supervisors shall order the repayment, without cost to the owner, of the charges so paid if it shall appear that the said animals broke out, or were let out, of the fenced enclosure of the owner without fault on his part.

Section 21. (1) All moneys received by the poundkeeper as provided for herein shall be by him delivered daily to the Treasurer of the City and County of San Francisco in accordance with the provisions of the Charter of said City and County.

(2) The poundkeeper shall file on the first day of each month with the Controller of the City and County of San Francisco a report, under oath, for the preceding month, containing an itemized statement of the number and description of all animals impounded, reclaimed, redeemed, sold and destroyed, the persons by whom any such animals were reclaimed, redeemed or purchased, and the amount of fines, charges or proceeds of sale received in each case.

Section 23. The poundkeeper and his deputies, while engaged in the execution of their duties, shall each wear a plain metallic badge on the left breast of the outer garment, having, in the case of the poundkeeper, the word "Poundkeeper," and in the case of the deputy poundkeeper the words "Deputy Poundkeeper," plainly engraved thereon.

2. For every colt and calf under the age of six months, and for every sheep, lamb, goat or hog impounded by him, the sum of one dollar and fifty cents, and fifty cents additional for every day such animal is necessarily held by him.

3. For every dog impounded by him and redeemed, or sold as hereinbefore provided, the sum of two dollars and fifty cents, and twenty-five cents additional for every day such dog is necessarily held by him, and for every dog impounded by him and destroyed, as hereinbefore provided, the sum of two dollars and fifty cents.

4. For every cat impounded by him and destroyed, the sum of twenty-five cents.

Section 26. Out of the fees thus received by him the poundkeeper shall pay all necessary expenses of the said public pound, including rent of public pound, payment for the service of his deputies, subsistence for animals impounded, and all other expenses connected with the equipment and maintenance of the said public pound, and the arresting and disposal of animals impounded.

Section 27. The poundkeeper within five days after his appointment, and before entering upon the discharge of his official duties, shall give and execute to the City and County of San Francisco his official bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of his official duties as such poundkeeper, with two or more sureties to be approved by the Mayor and Controller of the City and County of San Francisco, which official bond, when approved, shall be recorded, at the expense of the poundkeeper, in the office of the Recorder of the City and County of San Francisco, in the Records of Official Bonds, and shall thereafter be filed and kept in the office of the Controller of said City and County.

Section 73. In cases of persons employed by the City and County in its hospitals and other institutions where it is customary to provide such employees with board, room and laundry and no provision therefor has been made in the salary rates herein established, the appointing power, in its discretion, is hereby authorized to allow board, room and laundry in such cases in addition to the salary rates herein established, provided that for new employees the valuation of such allowances, as determined by the Civil Service Commission, plus the salary rate herein established for the position, shall not exceed the rate fixed for such position in the Salary Standardization Report issued by the Civil Service Commission under date of April 9, 1930.

Section 74. Employment in any position herein established shall be terminated in accordance with Civil Service rules if the funds appropriated for such purpose become exhausted or if the work for which the employment is created is completed. In those departments in which positions are established for the performance of interdepartmental service or in which positions are dependent upon contract provisions of section 95 of the Charter, employment in such positions shall be terminated in accordance with Civil Service rules upon completion of the service or fulfillment of the contract under which the service is rendered.

That by reason of the fact that the positions herein enumerated must be legally created and continued by ordinance to be effective on July 1, 1932, to prevent the stoppage of public business, this ordinance must be enacted prior to July 1, 1932; therefore, the Board of Supervisors does hereby declare that an actual emergency exists relative to the continuing and establishment of the positions herein enumerated and hereby established for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932, and that by reason of the emergency heretofore mentioned this ordinance shall become effective immediately.

Motion.

Supervisor Spaulding moved to strike out Item 3, Section 21, San Francisco Airport, "1 Assistant Superintendent Municipal Airport."

Motion defeated by the following vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Brown, Spaulding—2.

Noes—Supervisors Breyer, Canepa, Colman, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, McSheehy, Miles, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Stanton—13.

Final Passage.

Whereupon, the foregoing bill was finally passed by the following vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Brown, Canepa, Colman, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, McSheehy, Miles, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Spaulding, Stanton—15.

Explanation of Vote.

Supervisor Colman: I wish to state my position as a sort of reply to the entire Salary Ordinance. The Board will recall I opposed the creation of certain new positions on the ground that I did not think them necessary and that the duties could be performed by others in the employ of the government, and in that way a true saving could be made by the City in saving the additional salaries. Also, I have gone on record as opposing any raises. As I understand, I still have these objections. I moved that these things be taken out of the Budget at the time. Failing in that—that is, my motion did not prevail—I voted for the Budget. That is my position. I think I have no course but to vote for the ordinance, and I wish to make this statement for the record. This is the correct statement of my position.

Supervisor McSheehy: I voted against the Budget and I realize that this Salary Ordinance legalizes the Civil Service Commission to properly function in their line. Therefore I feel that this ordinance as a whole, if it was not passed, it would not allow that commission to function, and the Charter specifically declares that it must function, and to do so we must pass this ordinance. Personally I am not opposed to the ordinance, I simply say this to the Board that because I feel the stand I took on the Budget I did not want to be misunderstood. I don't know any reasons why we should go over this seriatim. I don't know anything in this except what was in the Budget. I merely wish to qualify my vote. I intend to vote aye. I intend to do so with certain qualifications, so I may sustain my vote on the Budget.

ROLL CALL FOR THE INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS, BILLS AND COMMUNICATIONS NOT CONSIDERED OR REPORTED UPON BY A COMMITEE.

Director of Property Authorized to Assist Board of Equalization.
(Code No. 1.0621)

The following was presented by Supervisor Miles and finally passed as an emergency ordinance by the following vote:

Bill No. 111, Ordinance No. 1.06211, as follows:

Authorizing the Director of Property of the City and County of San Francisco to aid and assist the Board of Supervisors, sitting as a Board of Equalization, to pass upon requests made to said Board for the reduction in assessments on taxable property in the City and County of San Francisco, and authorizing the said Director of Property to retain the necessary help to assist in said work.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. That the Director of Property of the City and County of San Francisco is hereby directed to aid, assist and advise the Board of Supervisors, sitting as a Board of Equalization, in passing upon requests made to said Board for the reduction of assessments on taxable property in the City and County of San Francisco; the said service of said Director of Property to be rendered to said Board of Supervisors during the time that Board shall sit as a Board of Equalization and for such time prior thereto as may be necessary to prepare for such investigation.

Section 2. That said Director of Property is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to select three expert real estate appraisers, as needed, and three expert building appraisers, as needed, and to enter into a contract with said persons so selected for the services of said persons to aid and assist said Director of Property in advising the said Board of Supervisors in regard to said requests for said reduction in assessments.

Section 3. That the amount to be paid to each of said persons for services rendered to said Director of Property shall not exceed the sum of $400, and the amount to become due to said persons under said contracts to be entered into between them and the said Director of Property shall be paid from Budget Item No. 2, 1932-33 Annual Appropriation Ordinance.

The Board of Supervisors does hereby declare that the necessity for the adoption of this ordinance constitutes an emergency under the provisions of Section 16 of the Charter in this, that it is necessary that the said Director of Property and his said assistants be prepared to assist the Board of Supervisors, sitting as a Board of Equalization, on and after the first Monday of July, 1932, in order to assure the uninterrupted operation of said Board of Supervisors, sitting as a Board of Equalization; and if this ordinance is not adopted as an emergency measure the same will not become effective until after the said first Monday in July; and the Board of Supervisors does declare that said emergency does actually exist and for that reason this ordinance should become effective immediately upon its passage.

The President's Organization on Unemployment Relief.

The following matter was presented by Supervisor Gallagher and, on his motion, ordered referred to the Board of Education and copies sent to members of the Board of Supervisors:

1734 NEW YORK AVENUE
WASHINGTON, D. C.
FRED C. CROXTON, Assistant Director

June 18, 1932.

To State and Local Employment, Relief and Welfare Organizations:

Thousands of young men and boys this year have found themselves stranded in distant communities among strangers and with absolutely no prospect of a job.

It is general information that opportunities for work are no better in distant cities than they are at home. Practically every community has the definte policy of taking care of its own residents first, both in employment and in relief. Young men who start out without funds, searching for jobs, meet this difficulty on every hand. Before they are able to find any way to return to their homes and friends they often suffer almost unbearable hardships. Moreover, these young men who in their home communities have always been held in high regard, are often looked upon with suspicion as undesirable characters in these communities to which they have drifted. They would be assured of far better consideration in their home towns than among strangers when better employment opportunities open up.

The problem of these thousands of drifting and footsore young men must be met through every possible channel. They must be encouraged and enabled to remain in their own communities, among those who are most interested in their welfare. It may be well worth while to carefully examine present activities to see if every resource is being thoroughly utilized and to determine the possibility of expanding existing community services to wider usage.

Attached hereto are statements bearing upon this subject. The President's Organization on Unemployment Relief urgently hopes that welfare and educational groups throughout the country will help focus attention upon this problem and develop whatever local activities may seem best calculated to achieve the results desired.

Very truly yours,

FRED C. CROXTON, Assistant Director.

THREE STATEMENTS ON THE PROBLEM OF UNEMPLOYED MEN AND BOYS

June 16, 1932.

Statement of Hon. William N. Doak, Secretary of Labor, United States Department of Labor

"As the school year closes, teachers and parents should make every effort to keep their boys and girls of working age at home, unless they have funds for travel or definite assurance of employment elsewhere. To wander from city to city and from State to State in search of work leads to nothing but physical suffering, discouragement and demoralization. Parents, schools and communities should cooperate in providing training and interests for their own boys and girls that will keep them from idleness at home and from swelling the ranks of the homeless and transient.

"I am strongly of the opinion that careful consideration should be given to urging the young people to stay at home during the vacation period rather than to wander about without funds in search of work.

It also seems clear that the problem of extending school terms will have to receive serious public consideration at a not far distant period. In other words, with increased mechanization of industry and decreasing opportunities for employment, proper consideration must be given to keeping the girls and boys in school for a longer period."

Statement of Hon. William John Cooper, Commissioner, United States Office of Education.

"No boy or young man should leave home unless he has definite assurance of a job at the point where he plans to go. The educational and recreational facilities of the home town are practically equal to those of any other town. These he should avail himself of as long as he is actually unemployed. It is important that he spend the spare time which may be forced upon him in getting better prepared to hold a job when he gets one."

Statement of Grace Abbott, Chief of the Children's Bureau, United States Department of Labor

"Every boy and every girl who is finishing school this month is asking: 'What can I do next?' In spite of the great difficulty they will encounter in finding employment, and in spite of the hardships they see around them, it is especially important that they—and I am thinking especially of the boys—should not yield to the desire to get away from it all and find adventure on the road. The temptation to do so may be great, but it means only humiliating hardships at present and permanent future losses for those who seek this escape.

"Conditions today are far different from the days when many motorists with plenty of money were on the highway. The numbers are fewer and newspaper stories of friendly motorists robbed or sued for damages by hikers they have picked up have further reduced opportunities for getting free rides. Catching rides on freight trains is an offense punishable by law.

"Wandering about in search of work is not only futile, but is also a great hardship. It is no longer possible to pick up odd jobs to earn money for food. Such jobs are carefully reserved in every community for local residents who are unemployed. Hence, transient boys stranded in a community must either depend on bread lines and soup kitchens or must beg openly on the streets. Either course is galling to the average young man or boy from an American college or high school. In some sections of the country it is fifty or perhaps a hundred miles from one town to the next. At the end of a long journey between two such towns the penniless traveler may or may not find a soup kitchen that will give him a plate of beans and bread.

"Every school system that can possibly manage to provide additional training opportunities is helping in a practical way to keep boys off the roads. I am of the opinion that economic conditions point directly to the necessity of increasing the length of the school term and of adding to the number of hours per day the school plant is in use.

"Ambitious boys who are unable to find work may chafe against remaining at home, especially if the parents are in straitened circumstances or destitute. Unless school superintendents and principals urge them to remain, and provide some incentive for remaining, there will be many new recruits to the army of floaters.

"Home conditions cannot be worse than those on the road. At home the boy is known and has friends. He can go to school, occupy his time about the home at odd jobs and get some training which will make it easier for him to get a job in the future. On the road he will find no work and, if he is without money, will often be hungry and dirty and may, in addition, be subjected to great moral and physical hazards. Every boy who is dissuaded from taking to the road is saved from great hardship and disappointment."

Decision of District Court of Appeal in re Evangelista Belli et al. v. Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco.

The following was received, read and made part of the record:

In the District Court of Appeal of the State of California, in and for the First Appellate District, Division Two. No. 8418. April 25, 1932.

Evangelista Belli, Emilio Belli and Maria Belli, Petitioners, v. The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, and Sam T. Breyer, Jesse C. Colman, Victor J. Canepa, Andrew J. Gallagher, Franck R. Havenner, J. Emmet Hayden, Frank J. McGovern, James B. McSheehy, Carl W. Miles, Jefferson E. Peyser, James E. Power, Alfred Roncovieri, Warren Shannon, E. J. Spaulding, William P. Stanton, as members of and constituting the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, Respondents.

Application for certiorari to review the action of the Board of Supervisors, City and County of San Francisco, in hearing and determining an appeal in a rezoning proceeding. Proceedings affirmed.

On petition for writ of review.

For Petitioners—Samuel T. Bush.

For Respondents—Milton Marks.

Petitioners herein seek to review the action of the respondent Board in hearing and determining an appeal in a rezoning proceeding.

Petitioners had protested before the City Planning Commission against the granting of an application to change a piece of property belonging to Mrs. Jennie Jones from the Second Residential District to the Commercial District. The Commission took the application under advisement and thereafter failed to act thereon. The Charter of the City and County of San Francisco in effect at that time provided that "The failure of the Commission to act within ninety days . . . shall be deemed and be approval of such classification by the Commission." (Art. XVIII, sec. 4, San Francisco City Charter, Stats. 1929, p. 2020.) After the expiration of ninety days an appeal was taken to the respondent Board by some of those who had protested against the granting of the application by the Commission. Petitioners herein filed their written objections to the hearing of the appeal by the respondent Board upon the ground that the approval of the application by the Commission resulting under the terms of the Charter from the failure of the Commission to act was void, as the "Mayor of said City and County was not notified of said action nor afforded an opportunity to approve or disapprove the same." Petitioners sought to restrain and prohibit respondents from hearing and determining said appeal by applying for a writ of prohibition in the Superior Court, but said application was denied. An appeal was taken from the judgment of the Superior Court, which appeal is now pending. The questions involved on that appeal have become moot, as the respondent Board has since acted on the appeal in the zoning proceeding. Said Board, by 9 to 5 vote, refused passage to a resolution which resolution had for its purpose the disapproval of the granting of the application to rezone the property. Said proposed resolution which was refused passage by the respondent Board was certified to the Mayor, who took no action thereon. The appeal to the respondent Board was thereby lost and the result of the proceedings was to effect a rezoning of the property unless the proceedings before the Commission were void for the reasons urged by petitioners.

The provisions of Article XVIII, Section 5 of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco (Stats. 1929, p. 2020), then in effect, read in part as follows: "Every resolution of the City Planning Commission and every ordinance of the Board of Supervisors which shall be adopted or passed relative to the subject-matter of the article shall be presented to the Mayor for his approval. The Mayor shall return such resolution or ordinance to the City Planning Commission or Board of Supervisors, respectively, within ten days after receiving it. If he approves it he shall sign it and it shall thereupon become effective unless an appeal to the Board of Supervisors is pending. If such an appeal is pending, the approval by the Mayor shall not result in rendering such resolution or ordinance effective. If he disapproves it he shall specify his objections thereto in writing. If he does not return it with such disapproval within the time above specified it shall take effect as if he had approved it, unless an appeal to the Board of Supervisors is pending. . . ."

It is petitioner's contention that "the inaction of the Commission was equivalent to the adoption of a resolution of approval," but that the proceedings before the Commission were void because of "the failure to certify to the Mayor the proceedings leading to the approval of the application to rezone." Petitioners thereupon argue the respondents "had no jurisdiction, by hearing the appeal, to validate a void act of the City Planning Commission and certiorari will lie." Petitioners' claim of invalidity has no merit unless the Charter required certification to the Mayor of the proceedings before the Planning Commission leading to the approval of the application where such approval resulted from the failure of the Commission to act. We find no such requirement in the Charter. It is true that a complete scheme was provided for presenting every "resolution" which had been "adopted or passed" by the Commission to the Mayor for approval or disapproval. In other words, the Charter expressly conferred upon the Mayor the veto power over such resolutions. We search in vain, however, for any provision which confers such veto power upon the Mayor in cases where the approval of the Commission results from its failure to act. Petitioners make the point that as the failure of the Commission to act was equivalent for some purposes, including appeal, to a resolution of approval, it follows that the Mayor had the veto power over such approval resulting from the failure of the Commission to act. In our opinion this point may not be sustained. If it was the intention of the framers of the Charter to confer the veto power in such cases they failed to express such intention in the Charter. That instrument is devoid of any provision requiring certification or presentation to the Mayor of the record of the proceedings where approval results from the Commission's failure to act, and is likewise devoid of any provision requiring the approval of the Mayor in such cases. It is not the function of the courts to work out a plan for the exercise of the veto power by the Mayor in those cases in which the Charter neither provides such plan nor confers such power. The veto power is not an inherent power of the Mayor and the terms of the Charter define the extent to which it may be exercised by him. Such power exists only to the extent that it is clearly granted and is not to be enlarged by any strained construction. (Jacobs v. Board of Supervisors, 100 Cal. 121; McDonald v. Dodge, 97 Cal. 112; Brooks v. Fischer, 79 Cal. 173; 18 Cal. Jur. 913, sec. 203; Dillon on Municipal Corporations, 5th ed., vol. II, p. 910.)

From a reading of the above-quoted section 5 we think it clear that the veto power of the Mayor was conferred only in those cases where a "resolution" had been "adopted or passed," and was not conferred in those cases where approval resulted from inaction. It follows that the proceedings in the instant case were not void as contended by petitioners for failure of the commission to certify their inaction to the Mayor.

The respondent Board therefore did not exceed its jurisdiction in hearing and determining the appeal and the proceedings before the respondent Board are affirmed.

Bill No. 114, Ordinance No. 19.0711, as follows:

Declaring that owing to the unprecedented increase in the number of indigent persons requiring aid and assistance from the City and County of San Francisco and the present condition of the finances of said City and County constitutes an emergency, and authorizing and directing the Controller to approve and the Treasurer to pay such demands as may be presented and approved by Charles N. Delivery of Assessment Roll.

The following was presented and read by the Clerk:

July 5, 1932.

To the President of the Board of Supervisors, City and County of San Francisco.

Sir: In accordance with the provisions of Section 3652 of the Political Code of the State of California the Assessment Book of the City and County of San Francisco has been completed, and in accordance with Section 3654 of the Political Code of the State of California the Assessment Book has this day been delivered to the Clerk of your honorable Board.

In accordance with the provisions of Section 3633 of the Political Code of the State of California there has been transmitted to your honorable Board a verified report in writing, separate from the Assessment Roll, containing a list of persons who have failed or neglected to furnish a statement of their personal property in accordance with the provisions of Section 3629 of the Political Code of the State of California.

The Assessor, in accordance with the provisions of the Political Code of the State of California, will continue to collect during the month of July the personal property taxes due account statements filed with the Assessor prior to the first Monday of July.

As the Assessor of the City and County of San Francisco I have personally supervised the valuation efforts of the Deputy Asssesors, and the Assessment Roll as submitted is the result of my supervision and direction of the valuation departments of this office.

With the smallest staff of employees that the office has had in years the most difficult valuation task the office has ever had has been completed. All further valuation responsibility now vests in the County Board of Equalization.

I am attaching hereto the certification of Doctor Tilton E. Tillman in justification for my absence from the 1932 sessions of the County Board of Equalization, and I hereby designate Harold J. Boyd, Chief Assistant Assessor of the City and County of San Francisco, to act for me during the sessions of the County Board of Equalization.

Yours very truly,

RUSSELL L. WOLDEN, Assessor.

July 1, 1932.

Honorable Board of Supervisors, City and County of San Francisco.

Gentlemen: Please find attached hereto a list of taxpayers who have neglected to make a return of their taxable personal property, together with the amounts assessed against each for this class of property.

This assessment is made under the provisions of Section 3633 of the Political Code and does not represent the real estate holdings of these parties, or their investments in business; this property being separately assessed by this office. These arbitrary assessments include personal property only and are in addition to any assessment levied against real estate owned by these parties.

Respectfully submitted,

RUSSELL L. WOLDEN, Assessor.

By W. O. C. THOMAS, Supervising Appraiser.

June 27, 1932.

To the County Board of Equalization.

Dear Sirs: This is to certify that Russell L. Wolden is under my professional care and that I have advised him not to attend the meetings of said Board.

He is progressing very favorably and I fear that any strain at this time would cause a set-back with him.

Respectfully yours,

TILTON E. TILLMAN, M. D.

The Clerk thereupon announced that the Assessment Books were open for inspection in room 162, Registrar's office, where applications for correction or reduction of assessments may be made.

Section 12. The poundkeeper shall keep any dog so impounded for a period of ninety-six (96) hours, unless the same be sooner reclaimed or redeemed by the owner or person having control thereof as hereinafter provided. Such redemption shall be made by exhibiting to the poundkeeper the license certificate or license tag issued by the Tax Collector, showing that the license for such dog for the then current fiscal year has been paid, and by paying to the poundkeeper the fine and charges hereinafter provided for. Upon such redemption being made the poundkeeper shall release such dog; provided, however, that if the license for any such dog for the then current fiscal year was actually paid prior to the date of the impounding of such dog, and there shall be exhibited to the poundkeeper as evidence of such payment said certificate or license tag, the fine hereinafter provided for in subdivision 3 of Section 18 of this ordinance shall be remitted, but in all cases the charges hereinafter provided for keeping such dog must be paid.

Section 13. At any time after the expiration of said period of ninety-six (96) hours the poundkeeper may, without further notice, and without advertising in any manner, sell at private sale or public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, any dog not so reclaimed or redeemed as aforesaid. All dogs impounded and not so reclaimed, redeemed or sold shall forthwith be destroyed by the poundkeeper. The owner of any dog at the time it is so impounded may, at any time within thirty (30) days after such sale, redeem the same from such purchaser by paying to him the amount of the purchase price paid by him to the poundkeeper, and in addition thereto a sum equal to twenty-five (25) cents per day for the number of days from the date of sale to and including the date of such redemption.

Section 14. It shall be the duty of every person who shall take into his possession any stray dog or any dog not owned by him or not placed in his possession by the person having the lawful custody and control thereof, immediately to notify the keeper of the public pound and to release such dog to the poundkeeper upon demand and without charge. If there shall be attached to such dog a license tag for the then current fiscal year, said poundkeeper shall notify in writing the person to whom such license was issued, at the address given in said license certificate, and shall, upon demand made within twenty-four (24) hours thereafter, and without charge, release such dog to such person; provided, however, that if no person lawfully entitled to such dog shall, within nine days after the date of giving said last-mentioned notice, appear at the public pound and claim such dog, such dog may be sold or destroyed by the poundkeeper in the manner hereinabove provided for unlicensed dogs.

Section 15. It shall be unlawful for the owner or person having control of any dog to suffer or permit the same, under any circumstances, to run at large in any public park or public square or to suffer or permit any female dog to run at large while said dog is in the copulating season, and every dog found running at large in violation of the provisions of this section shall be immediately seized and impounded in the public pound.

Section 16. If any dog within the City and County of San Francisco is known to be vicious or dangerous to the safety of any person or animal, and the owner of such dog or person having control of such dog shall allow such dog to run at large, after being notified in writing by the Director of Health to keep such dog within a secure enclosure unless such dog is adequately muzzled, such owner or person having control of such dog shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

If any dog within the City and County of San Francisco shall bite any person or animal, and the person or animal so bitten was not at the time trespassing upon the person or property of the owner or person having control of such dog, the owner or person having control of such dog shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punishable as hereinafter provided, and if, upon the trial of any such person, the court shall determine that such dog is vicious and dangerous to persons or other animals, the court may order that such dog be muzzled or that such dog be kept within a sufficient enclosure or that such dog be delivered to the poundkeeper and by him destroyed. Upon written notice by the Director of Health the owner or person having control of any dog which has within the preceding seventy-two hours bitten any person or animal, shall keep such dog on his premises in a separate kennel within a secure enclosure, for observation of the Director of Health, for a period not exceeding ten days, or such owner or person having control of such dog shall, upon demand of the Director of Health, surrender such dog to the poundkeeper, who shall impound and keep such dog at the public pound, in a separate kennel, for a period not exceeding ten days, during which period it shall be the duty of the Director of Health, upon being notified by the poundkeeper that such dog has been impounded, to determine whether or not such dog is suffering from any disease. If the Director of Health shall determine that such dog is diseased, and by reason of such disease is dangerous to persons or to other animals, he shall so notify the poundkeeper, who shall thereupon immediately destroy such dog. If the Director of Health shall determine that such dog is not so diseased, and if the license required for such dog shall have been duly paid for the then current fiscal year, the poundkeeper shall notify by mail the person to whom the license for such dog was issued and at the address from which the dog was surrendered to the poundkeeper, and shall, upon demand, release such dog to the owner or person lawfully entitled thereto, upon payment of twenty-five cents per day for keeping such dog; provided, however, that if no person lawfully entitled to such dog shall, within five days after the date of giving said last-mentioned notice, appear at the public pound and request the release of such dog and pay said charges, such dog may be sold or destroyed by the poundkeeper in the manner hereinabove provided.

Section 17. The poundkeeper shall provide all animals in his custody with proper food and water, and shall give them all necessary care and attention.

Section 18. The fines and charges upon animals impounded shall be as follows:

1. For every horse, mare, mule, ass, ox, cow, bull, colt or calf over the age of six months, a fine of three (3) dollars and a charge of one dollar per day for keeping, and of one dollar additional if advertised, and of one dollar for driving, and of one dollar if received from a stable, as hereinafter provided.
2. For every colt, calf, under the age of six months, and for every sheep, lamb, goat or hog, a fine of one dollar and fifty cents and a charge of fifty cents per day for keeping, and of one dollar additional if advertised, and of fifty cents for arresting and driving.
3. For every unlicensed dog, a fine of two dollars and fifty cents and a charge of twenty-five cents per day for keeping.
4. For every licensed dog impounded in violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance, a fine of $1 and a charge of twenty-five cents a day for keeping.
5. For every other animal, a fine of two dollars and a charge of fifty cents per day for keeping, and of fifty cents for arresting and driving.

Section 19. No animal shall, under any circumstances, be released by the poundkeeper or his deputies until all the fines and charges imposed thereon, as provided by this ordinance, shall have been paid. Provided, however, that if it shall be made to appear to the poundkeeper that any of the animals impounded by him, mentioned in subdivision 1 of the preceding section, have broken out, or were let out, of the fenced enclosure of the owner without fault on his part, the poundkeeper shall release the said animals without charge. If the said poundkeeper refuses to release any such animal, and the owner pays the demanded charges, the owner may apply by petition to the Board of Supervisors to have such charges refunded, and the Board of Supervisors shall order the repayment, without cost to the owner, of the charges so paid if it shall appear that the said animals broke out, or were let out, of the fenced enclosure of the owner without fault on his part.

Section 20. The poundkeeper shall keep a record of the number, description and disposition of all animals impounded, showing in detail in the case of each animal the date of receipt, the date and manner of disposal, the manner and time of advertising for sale, the name of the person reclaiming, redeeming or purchasing, the reason for destruction, and the fines and charges and proceeds of sales received on account thereof. Said record shall be kept by the poundkeeper in a book or books provided for that purpose, which shall be the record book or books of the office of the poundkeeper and shall not be removed therefrom. He shall also conspicuously post daily at the entrance of the public pound a description of every animal, except dogs or cats, therein detained, and keep the same so posted for forty-eight hours continuously after said animal shall have been impounded.

Section 21. (1) All moneys received by the poundkeeper as provided for herein shall be by him delivered daily to the Treasurer of the City and County of San Francisco in accordance with the provisions of the Charter of said City and County.

(2) The poundkeeper shall file on the first day of each month with the Controller of the City and County of San Francisco a report, under oath, for the preceding month, containing an itemized statement of the number and description of all animals impounded, reclaimed, redeemed, sold and destroyed, the persons by whom any such animals were reclaimed, redeemed or purchased, and the amount of fines, charges or proceeds of sale received in each case.

Section 22. The poundkeeper may at any time appoint, at his own proper expense, as in Section 26 hereof provided, as many deputy poundkeepers as he may require to properly discharge the duties required of him by this ordinance. The authority of the said deputy poundkeepers shall be the same as the authority of the poundkeeper himself as to apprehending, taking up, arresting, catching, driving to and receiving into the public pound any of the animals named in any of the sections of this ordinance.

Section 23. The poundkeeper and his deputies, while engaged in the execution of their duties, shall each wear a plain metallic badge on the left breast of the outer garment, having, in the case of the poundkeeper, the word "Poundkeeper," and in the case of the deputy poundkeeper the words "Deputy Poundkeeper," plainly engraved thereon.

Section 24. It shall be unlawful for any person to resist or obstruct the poundkeeper or any of his deputies in the exercise of his duties as such poundkeeper or deputy poundkeeper.

Section 25. The poundkeeper shall not receive any stated salary as compensation for the performance of the duties of his office, but, in lieu of salary, he shall be entitled to be paid out of the General Fund of this City and County, upon monthly demands to be allowed by the Board of Supervisors, fifty cents for each original dog license certificate issued by the Tax Collector for the current fiscal year, and shall be allowed the following fees for services actually rendered by him as poundkeeper, to-wit:

1. For every horse, mare, mule, ass, ox, bull, colt or calf over the age of six months, impounded by him, the sum of three dollars, and one dollar additional if received from a stable, as hereinbefore provided, and one dollar additional for every day such animal is necessarily held by him, and one dollar for driving.

2. For every colt and calf under the age of six months, and for every sheep, lamb, goat or hog impounded by him, the sum of one dollar and fifty cents, and fifty cents additional for every day such animal is necessarily held by him.

3. For every dog impounded by him and redeemed, or sold as hereinbefore provided, the sum of two dollars and fifty cents, and twenty-five cents additional for every day such dog is necessarily held by him, and for every dog impounded by him and destroyed, as hereinbefore provided, the sum of two dollars and fifty cents.

4. For every cat impounded by him and destroyed, the sum of twenty-five cents.

5. For every other animal impounded by him, the sum of two dollars and fifty cents, and fifty cents additional for every day such animal is necessarily held by him.

Section 26. Out of the fees thus received by him the poundkeeper shall pay all necessary expenses of the said public pound, including rent of public pound, payment for the service of his deputies, subsistence for animals impounded, and all other expenses connected with the equipment and maintenance of the said public pound, and the arresting and disposal of animals impounded.

Section 27. The poundkeeper within five days after his appointment, and before entering upon the discharge of his official duties, shall give and execute to the City and County of San Francisco his official bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of his official duties as such poundkeeper, with two or more sureties to be approved by the Mayor and Controller of the City and County of San Francisco, which official bond, when approved, shall be recorded, at the expense of the poundkeeper, in the office of the Recorder of the City and County of San Francisco, in the Records of Official Bonds, and shall thereafter be filed and kept in the office of the Controller of said City and County.

Section 28. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five (5) dollars nor more than fifty (50) dollars, or by imprisonment in the County Jail not less than twenty-four (24) hours nor more than ten (10) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

In Memoriam—Catharine Claire Edmondson.

Supervisor Gallagher presented:

Resolution No. 330, as follows:

Whereas, Catharine Claire Edmondson, dearly beloved wife of Clyde Edmondson, managing director of the Redwood Empire Association, recently departed this life; and

Whereas, Catharine Claire Edmondson endeared herself as a most excellent and genial hostess to the thousands of governmental officials who were interested in the extension of highways in California by her kind attention to social details, by her extreme courtesy on all the numerous occasions which fell to her lot in the meetings of the Redwood Empire Association; and

Whereas, the late Mrs. Edmondson was honored by the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority of the University of California, and was actively engaged in the work of the San Francisco Hotel Women's Club; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco does hereby deplore the death of Catharine Claire Edmondson and extends to the bereaved husband and relatives sincere sympathy and regrets; and be it

City Attorney Requested to Prepare for Presentation at State Legislature Amended to Existing Homestead Law.

Supervisor Shannon presented:

Resolution No. 331, as follows:

Whereas, the home owners of this and every community of the United States are struggling under a burden unprecedented in our national history due to the universal economic stress; and

Whereas, the majority of these home owners are small wage earners and in too many cases without steady gainful employment and income; and

Whereas, this Board of Supervisors is informed that 9000 families in San Francisco, most of whom are home owners, are receiving aid from the Bureau for Relief of Unemployment; and

Whereas, these known unemployed are daily drawing from the credit of their homes or equities therein, which unwise activity leads inevitably to complete loss of the hard earned savings of American citizenry; and

Whereas, this practice of home dissipation and other vicious practices of using homes for loans, credit advances, etc., must be guarded against by intelligent legislation protecting the home owners; and

Whereas, although the State of California has a homestead law designed to afford such legislative protection, this law is inadequate in scope and virtually inoperative because of its technical requirements; and

Whereas, the homestead law of the State of Texas, embodied in the Texas State Constitution, effectively protects the home owner from eviction, foreclosure or loss of his home because of miscellaneous debts; and

Whereas, the burden of unemployment and charity relief has been placed upon this Board, placing upon it the further duty to light the way for the home owner out of his economic dilemma; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Board of Supervisors requests the City Attorney to prepare for presentation to this Board for the purpose of presenting to the State Legislature at its next regular session a law so amending the existing homestead law to include in it the protecting force and strength given the small home owner by the Texas homestead law.

Adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Canepa, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, McSheehy, Miles, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Spaulding—12.

Appropriation of $10,000 to Pay Claims of Needy Aged.
(Code No. 9.052)

Supervisor Miles presented:

Resolution No. 332, as follows:

Whereas, there is an unencumbered balance in Appropriation No. 238, entitled "Blind Pension, 1931-1932 Annual Appropriation Ordinance"; and

Whereas, the amount in Appropriations Nos. 237A and 237B, entitled "Needy Aged, 1931-1932 Annual Appropriation Ordinance," is not sufficient to meet the demands against said appropriation for the year 1931-1932; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That upon recommendation of the Chief Administrative Officer and the approval of the Mayor, the sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars is hereby transferred from Appropriation No. 238, 1931-1932 Annual Appropriation Ordinance, to Appropriations Nos. 237A and 237B, 1931-1932 Annual Appropriation Ordinance, for the Section 19. No animal shall, under any circumstances, be released by the poundkeeper or his deputies until all the fines and charges imposed thereon, as provided by this ordinance, shall have been paid. Provided, however, that if it shall be made to appear to the poundkeeper that any of the animals impounded by him, mentioned in subdivision 1 of the preceding section, have broken out, or were let out, of the fenced enclosure of the owner without fault on his part, the poundkeeper shall release the said animals without charge. If the said poundkeeper refuses to release any such animal, and the owner pays the demanded charges, the owner may apply by petition to the Board of Supervisors to have such charges refunded, and the Board of Supervisors shall order the repayment, without cost to the owner, of the charges so paid if it shall appear that the said animals broke out, or were let out, of the fenced enclosure of the owner without fault on his part.

Section 20. The poundkeeper shall keep a record of the number, description and disposition of all animals impounded, showing in detail in the case of each animal the date of receipt, the date and manner of disposal, the manner and time of advertising for sale, the name of the person reclaiming, redeeming or purchasing, the reason

(2) The poundkeeper shall file on the first day of each month with the Controller of the City and County of San Francisco a report, under oath, for the preceding month, containing an itemized statement of the number and description of all animals impounded, reclaimed, redeemed, sold and destroyed, the persons by whom any such animals were reclaimed, redeemed or purchased, and the amount of fines, charges or proceeds of sale received in each case.

Section 22. The poundkeeper may at any time appoint, at his own proper expense, as in Section 26 hereof provided, as many deputy poundkeepers as he may require to properly discharge the duties required of him by this ordinance. Section 23. The poundkeeper and his deputies, while engaged in the execution of their duties, shall each wear a plain metallic badge on the left breast of the outer garment, having, in the case of the poundkeeper, the word "Poundkeeper," and in the case of the deputy poundkeeper the words "Deputy Poundkeeper," plainly engraved thereon.

Section 27. The poundkeeper within five days after his appointment, and before entering upon the discharge of his official duties, shall give and execute to the City and County of San Francisco his official bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of his official duties as such poundkeeper, with two or more sureties to be approved by the Mayor and Controller of the City and County of San Francisco, which official bond, when approved, shall be recorded, at the expense of the poundkeeper, in the office of the Recorder of the City and County of San Francisco, in the Records of Official Bonds, and shall thereafter be filed and kept in the office of the Controller of said City and County.

Section 2. That the esimated cost for the extraordinary conditions now existing and confronting the City and County for the care of its indigent sick and dependent poor during the fiscal year 1932-1933 is hereby determined to be the sum of six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000).

Section 3. Calling and Providing for a Special Election in Amount of $6,500,000 for Relief of Indigent Sick and Dependent Poor.
(Code So. 19.071)

Bill No. 125, Ordinance No. 19.0711, as follows:

Calling and providing for a special election to be held in the City and County of San Francisco on Tuesday, the 30th day of August, 1932, for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the City and County of San Francisco a proposition to incur a bonded debt of the City and County of San Francisco to the amount of six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000) for the purpose of caring for and maintaining the indigent sick and dependent poor of said City and County, and providing for the form, denomination, rate of interest, and retirement of said bonds, and fixing the date of said special election for Tuesday, the 30th day of August, 1932, and prescribing notice to be given of such election.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. A special election is hereby called and ordered to be held in the City and County of San Francisco on Tuesday, the 30th day of August, 1932, for the purpose of submitting to the electors of said City and County the following proposition, to-wit: the proposition of incurring a bonded debt of the City and County of San Francisco to the amount of six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000) for the purpose of providing for the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and dependent poor of the City and County of San Francisco.

Section 2. The estimated cost of the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and dependent poor of the City and County for the fiscal year 1932-1933 was fixed by the Board of Supervisors by Resolution No. 338, passed by more than two-thirds vote of said Board and approved by the Mayor, in the sum of six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000), and that such sum is too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the City and County in addition to the other necessary expense thereof or other funds derived from taxes levied for that purpose.

The method and manner of payment of the estimated cost of taking care of and maintaining the indigent sick and dependent poor of said City and County are by issuance of bonds of the City and County of San Francisco to the amount required therefor and the application of the proceeds arising from the sale thereof to defray the cost of the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and dependent poor of said City and County.

Section 3. The special election hereby called and ordered to be held shall be held and conducted and the votes thereat received and canvassed and the returns thereof made and the result thereof ascertained, determined and declared as herein provided and according to the applicable laws of the State of California providing for and governing elections in the City and County of San Francisco, and the polls for such election shall be and remain open during the time required by said laws.

Section 4. That the election precincts as fixed for the primary election to be held in the City and County of San Francisco on the 30th day of August, 1932, are hereby fixed and adopted as the election precincts for said special election hereby called, and the voting places and officers of election for said special election shall be those designated and adopted by the Registrar of Voters of said City and County of San Francisco, in accordance with law.

Section 5. On the ballots to be used at such special election, in addition to any other matter required by law to be printed thereon, shall appear thereon the following:

"Relief Bonds, 1932—To incur a bonded indebtedness in the sum of $6,500,000 for the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and dependent poor of the City and County of San Francisco." Following said statement shall appear the words, "Bonds—Yes" and "Bonds—No" and a blank space shall be provided where the voters may stamp a cross (X) in said blank space to the right of the word "Yes" or to the right of the word "No."

To vote for the proposition and thereby incur a bonded indebtedness to the amount of and for the purpose stated herein, the voters shall stamp a cross (X) in the blank space to the right of the word "Yes," and to vote against the proposition and thereby refuse to authorize the incurring of a bonded indebtedness to the amount of and for the purpose stated herein, the voters shall stamp a cross (X) in the blank space to the right of the word "No."

Section 6. If at such special election two-thirds of all the votes cast thereat shall be in favor of and authorize the incurring of a bonded debt for the purpose set forth in said proposition, then such proposition shall have been accepted by the electors, and bonds shall be issued to defray the cost of the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and dependent poor.

Such bonds shall be of the form and character known as "serials," shall be signed by the President of the Board of Supervisors, the Treasurer and Controller of the City and County of San Francisco, and countersigned by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

Said bonds shall be dated September 1, 1932, shall bear interest at the rate not to exceed 6 per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, shall be of the denomination of $1,000 each, and the principal and interest thereof shall be payable in gold coin of the United States. Said bonds shall be designated "Relief Bonds, 1932," and shall be numbered from 1 to 6500, both inclusive, and shall be payable $542,000 thereof four years from the date of said bonds, beginning with the lowest number, and $542,000 thereof of the next highest numbers on the same day in each succeeding year for the period of eleven years, and in the twelfth year the sum of $538,000, until the entire amount of said bonds has been paid.

Explanation of Vote.

Supervisor McSheehy explained his vote as follows:

Realizing, as I do, that an emergency exists, and that a bond issue of $6,500,000 for the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and dependent poor is imperative at this time, I ask that the record show that I am voting in favor of this bond issue under protest, for the reason that the operative property owned and controlled by the corporations doing business in the City and County of San Francisco, amounting to $396,358.633, are not contributing one dollar to meet this emergency, and that the entire burden is being met by the owners of real estate and improvements thereon, and that this Board should instruct its Legislative Committee to advocate the adoption of a bill rescinding Constitutional Amendment No. 1, passed in 1910, which legalizes the evading, by the corporations owning one-quarter of all taxable property in San Francisco, of their just obligations in an emergency of this kind.

Supervisor Colman, declaring that he attempted to reduce the issue to $5,000,000 and was overruled, stated that he would gladly vote and work for the larger issue.

Supervisor Brown made the same statement.

Citizens' Committee.

Supervisor Havenner moved that his Honor the Mayor be requested to appoint a citizens' committee to present the issues to the people and to conduct the campaign in support of the proposed bond issue, and to apoint as chairman of such committee some citizen not in an official position but who is outstanding in the relief work in San Francisco.

Motion carried.

Regulating the transportation and delivery of flammable liquid and the construction and operation of tank trucks, vehicles, apparatus and equipment used for the transportation of flammable liquid.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. Definitions: Whenever used in this ordinance the following words are defined as herein specified and shall be deemed and construed to have the meaning ascribed to them in this section. Words and phrases not defined are to be construed according to the general usage of the language.

(a) "Tank truck" shall be held to mean any automobile truck or other vehicle used for the transportation of flammable liquid having a flash point below one hundred (100) degrees Fahrenheit (closed cup tester) and which, for such purpose, is provided with a tank or tanks mounted on the frame or chassis of such automobile truck or vehicle.

(b) "Approved" shall be held to mean in conformity with the requirements of the Fire Marshal of the City and County of San Francisco.

Section 2. Identification and Registration.

(a) Certificate of approval: It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation to hereafter maintain, operate or use a tank truck in the City and County of San Francisco without first obtaining from the Fire Marshal a certificate of approval for such tank truck. The Fire Marshal may refuse to grant and may revoke a certificate of approval for non-compliance with the provisions of this ordinance.

(b) Serial number: Every tank truck granted a certificate of approval shall be given a serial number by the Fire Marshal, and said number shall be painted in an approved manner in places on the tank truck designated by the Fire Marshal.

(c) Marking: Every tank truck shall have prominently displayed on each side and the rear thereof a trade-mark, trade name, other designating mark or legend substantially descriptive of the contents of said tank truck, and generally known to and recognized by the public as being applied to flammable substances.

Section 3. Construction of Tank Trucks.

(a) Capacity: The aggregate capacity of the tank or tanks on any single vehicle shall not exceed three thousand (3000) gallons, and if the capacity of any tank shall exceed six hundred (600) gallons it shall be subdivided into two or more compartments, no one of which shall exceed in capacity six hundred (600) gallons. A tolerance of ten (10) per cent is permitted for individual compartments or tanks, but in no case shall the aggregate capacity of the combined compartment or tanks, including tolerance, exceed three thousand (3000) gallons.

(b) Material: Tanks shall be constructed throughout of open hearth or blue annealed steel, of a thickness not less than number ten (10) United States standard gauge or other approved material, and all joints shall be put together in an approved manner. Heads shall be bilged, or as an alternative shall be two gauges heavier.

(c) Bulkheads: Where liquids of different classes are carried, double bulkheads shall be provided between tank compartments and provision shall be made for draining and ventilating the space between bulkheads.

(d) Liquid Expansion: Each tank compartment shall be equipped with a dome equal in size to three-fourths (¾) of one (1) per cent of the capacity of tank compartment to which it is connected, or an outage marker set at three-fourths (¾) of one (1) per cent. The dome shall not be filled with liquid and tank compartment shall not be filled beyond outage marker.

(e) Vents: Each tank compartment shall be provided with an approved vacuum and pressure-operating vent with a diameter of at least three-fourths (¾) of an inch, and in addition thereto a vent opening with an area of at least two (2) square inches shall be provided, which normally shall be kept closed by an approved device that will open and relieve such internal pressure as may be created by exposure fires.

(f) Mounting: Only metal or hardwood shall be used for tank sills and bolsters. The entire tank structure shall be substantially anchored to the frame of the truck chassis.

(g) Test: Each compartment of the completed tank shall be tested and proven tight at five (5) pounds per square inch minimum pressure.

(h) Fuel Tank: The fuel tank shall not be placed over or adjacent to the engine. It shall be constructed and mounted in such a manner as to present no unusual hazards.

(i) Bumper: Every tank truck shall be provided with a properly attached rear steel bumper or the chassis frame shall be so extended as to afford protection against collision.

(j) Exhaust System: The exhaust system, including muffler and exhaust line, shall have ample clearance from the fuel system and combustible materials, and shall not be exposed to accumulations of grease, oil or gasoline. The exhaust line shall terminate in an approved location remote from the draw-off valves.

(k) Lighting and Wiring: Tank trucks shall not be equipped with artificial light of any kind other than electricity, and all lighting and low-tension wires shall be in conduit, loom or armored cable. Suitable fuses or other automatic overload protective devices shall be installed in all lighting and low-tension circuits except the ignition and starting motor circuits. All electric lights shall be substantially protected. All wiring shall be supported and protected from mechanical injury, chafing and exposure to or contact with oil, grease or gasoline, and shall be so located as to avoid damage to insulation from heat.

(l) Drag Chains and Bonding: Tank trucks shall be equipped with at least one drag chain or other approved device, long enough to reach the ground, in order to drain off such static electrical charges as may be generated. Spare parts shall be carried on the tank truck and repairs to the chain or device shall be made immediately when not in proper working order. Tank, chassis, axles and springs shall be electrically bonded to take care of static electrical charges.

(m) Draw-off Valves: Withdrawal of flammable liquid from tank trucks shall be by gravity through approved draw-off valves having discharge end threaded or otherwise so designed as to permit of tight connection with hose, and installed in an approved location on the tank truck.

(n) Internal Valves: Each tank compartment shall be equipped with an approved internal valve located inside the shell of the tank in the compartment outlet at the bottom of the tank, and except during delivery operations such valve shall automatically be kept closed. Internal valves shall be operated by an approved method and the controlling device shall be installed close to the draw-off valves. The operating mechanism shall be so designed and constructed as to ensure automatic closing of the internal valves in the event of fire.

(o) Emergency Control: The operating mechanism for such internal valves shall be provided with an approved emergency control remote from the draw-off valves for use in the event of accidents or fire during delivery operations.

(p) Internal Valve Protection: Any pipe work leading from the internal valves shall be so designed as to ensure its failure, in the event of accident, without injury to the internal valves.

Section 4. Miscellaneous Safety Requirements.

(a) Loading Operations: Tank trucks shall be filled from approved storage tanks and equipment only. During filling operations the fill pipe shall be electrically connected to the tank truck by a bond wire attached to a metallic part of the tank. This bond shall be made before removing covers of fill openings. When a funnel is used it shall be so designed as to ensure metallic contact between the fill pipe and tank truck.

(b) Unloading Operations: Delivery of flammable liquid from tank trucks shall be to underground storage tanks or approved portable containers only, and shall be by an approved hose connected to a draw-off valve. Provision shall be made for a continuous electrical conductor between the tank truck and the fill opening of underground tanks and containers. Where delivery by hose is not practical, an approved delivery bucket may be used provided it is substantially made, constructed entirely of metal with a mouth not larger than six (6) inches in diameter and with a capacity not exceeding five (5) gallons. A metallic connection shall be maintained between the bucket and draw-off valve when liquid is withdrawn from tank trucks in this manner. It is prohibited to deliver flammable liquid from tank trucks to fuel tanks of motor vehicles or containers other than herein specified.

(c) Where Deliveries May Be Made: Tank trucks are prohibited inside any building during delivery operations and all containers shall be filled outside of buildings.

(d) Storage and Repairs: Tank trucks are not permitted inside any building except while undergoing repairs or unless the building is used exclusively for the storage of such vehicles. Where flame, fire or other heat is required in repairing any part of the tank truck, tanks shall first be made free of all flammable or explosive vapor and liquid.

(e) Transportation by Tank Truck Only: The transportation by land of flammable liquid with a flash point below one hundred (100) degrees Fahrenheit (closed cup tester) shall be by tank truck only, except when such liquid is transported and delivered in approved sealed containers. Nothing herein shall be construed as applying to the transportation of such liquid in railroad tank cars in accordance with the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

(f) To Whom Deliveries May Be Made: No person, firm, association or corporation shall deliver to another any flammable liquid in violation of the provisions of this ordinance, and no delivery of flammable liquid shall be made unless the person, firm, association or corporation receiving said flammable liquid has the necessary permit for the storing, handling or using of flammable liquid.

Bill No. 128, Ordinance No. 17.081, as follows:

Regulating the collection and disposal of swill in the City and County of San Francisco, authorizing and providing for a license for swill collectors, and providing penalties for the violation of this ordinance, and repealing conflicting ordinances.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. The term swill when used hereinafter shall be applied to and be construed to mean waste food products from hotels, restaurants, hospitals and institutions or food dealers, which waste is kept separate from non-food waste.

Section 2. The term swill producer when used hereinafter shall be applied to and be construed to mean any person, firm, corporation or association producing swill in connection with or from any hotel, restaurant, commissary, lunch room, cafeteria or other eating place or store where foodstuffs are prepared or kept for sale.

Section 3. The term swill collector when used hereinafter shall be applied to and be construed to mean any person, firm, corporation or association who shall have been duly licensed under the terms hereinafter set down in this ordinance to collect, receive, carry or transport swill as herein defined, through the streets, alleys or public ways of the City and County of San Francisco.

Section 4. All swill as hereinbefore defined in this ordinance shall be placed by the swill producer as herein defined, upon whose premises the same shall have been produced, in a water-tight metal container of not less than ten gallons net capacity, of a design approved by the health officer of the City and County of San Francisco, which container shall be kept clean and shall at all times be proof against the access of flies and rodents to the contents thereof. The contents of such container shall be collected not less than three times a week by the collector and oftener if deemed necessary by the health officer, and the collector shall transfer the contents of all containers into the wagon provided therefor without spilling any materials on stairs, walks, yards or streets, and shall on the same day as such swill is collected, dispose of it.

Section 5. The swill collector shall remove the swill from the premises of the swill producers as provided in Section 4 without cost to the swill producer unless the swill shall be produced in sufficient quantity to give it a market value, in which case the price to be paid by the swill collector to the swill producer shall be arrived by negotiations or by contracts now in force or to be entered into.

Section 6. The body of any vehicle used for the collection of swill shall be metal lined, shall be constructed so as to prevent the contents from falling or spilling therefrom, and shall be provided with a wooden or iron cover. The tank of any vehicle used in the collection of swill shall be metal, shall be water-tight, and shall be provided with a wooden or iron cover, and every vehicle used in the collection of swill shall be well painted, shall be kept in a clean and sanitary condition and shall be properly marked, in a conspicuous place, so as to show its classification and number.

Section 7. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation, or association, to engage in the business of collecting swill in the City and County of San Francisco, or to haul the same through any street or public place in the said City unless such person, firm, corporation or association has been duly licensed, as in this section provided. For the business of collecting swill, and/or conveying or transporting the same through the streets, alleys or public ways of the City and County of San Francisco, the license shall be $250 per month, which said license shall be issued by the Department of Public Health of the City and County of San Francisco.

Section 8. Licenses so issued shall be valid for a period of one month and no longer, and may be revoked by the Department of Health whenever it shall appear that the person doing business by virtue of such license has failed to comply with any of the terms hereof.

Section 9. The Department of Public Health of the City and County of San Francisco shall have power to establish rules and regulations, not inconsistent with this ordinance, governing the collections and disposal of swill, provided that such rules and regulations shall have as their purpose the enforcement of the provisions of this ordinance and the health and sanitary laws and ordinances in effect in the City and County of San Francisco.

Section 10. All members of the Police Department and of the Health Department of the City and County of San Francisco are hereby specifically required to enforce the provisions of this ordinance, and shall have the right to enter any and all places for the purpose of determining the sanitary condition thereof, and any person denying or obstructing such entry shall be subject to the penalty herein provided.

The Board of Supervsors of the said City hereby declare that it would have passed this ordinance and each section, sentence, clause or phrase irrespective of the fact that any one or more of said sections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared inconsistent or invalid. Declaring That Necessity for Continuation of Work on Hetch Hetchy Project Constitutes Emergency.
(Code No. 15.03)

Supervisor Colman presented:

Resolution No. 345, as follows:

Whereas, by Resolution No. 1 (Code No. 15.03), adopted by the Board of Supervisors on January 18, 1932, it was declared that an emergency existed relative to the work theretofore conducted and carried on by the Board of Public Works of the City and County of San Francisco on the Hetch Hetchy aqueduct tunnels and other projects in connection with the Hetch Hetchy system, and that by reason of said emergency said Board of Supervisors declared that said work on said aqueduct tunnels and other projects should be continued and executed under the direction of the Public Utilities Commission in the most expeditious manner, to-wit: by the employment of necessary labor and the purchase of the necessary materals for doing said work, and said Board of Supervisors in said resolution estimated the said emergency would continue until the necessary plans, specifications and estimates for the doing of said work under public contract could be prepared, but not exceeding ninety (90) days from January 18, 1932, and said time has been extended by various resolutions of this Board to and including the 20th day of July, 1932; and

Whereas, the electors of the City and County of San Francisco on the 3rd day of May, 1932, approved a bond issue of $6,500,000 for the completion of said aqueduct tunnels and other Hetch Hetchy projects, and bids have been received for the completion of said Hetch Hetchy projects, but contracts have not as yet been entered into by the Public Utilities Commission of the City and County of San Francisco for the reason that the Hetch Hetchy Project, a department of the Public Utilities Commission, was the lowest bidder for the doing of said work, and pursuant to Charter provisions and ordinance of this Board the said Public Utilities Commission referred the said bid of the Hetch Hetchy project to the Controller for check and examination, and the said Controller has not as yet been able to report to the said Public Utilities Commission the result of his said check and examination of said bid of said Hetch Hetchy project, and therefore, until the report of said Controller is received the said Public Utilities Commission cannot accept a bid for the completion of said Hetch Hetchy project or enter into a contract therefor;

Now, therefore, by reason of the foregoing facts, the Board of Supervisors does hereby declare that said emergency mentioned in said Resolution No. 1 (Code No. 15.03) does continue to exist and will in all probability continue to exist for a period of thirty (30) days from and after the 20th day of July, 1932; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That for said period of thirty (30) days from and after the 20th day of July, 1932, the work of constructing the said above-mentioned aqueduct tunnels and other Hetch Hetchy projects under the direction of the Public Utilities Commission may be continued and executed in the most expeditous manner, to-wit: by the employment of the necessary labor and the purchase of the necessary materials for doing said work.

Calling and Providing for a Special Election in Amount of $6,500,000 for Relief of Indigent Sick and Dependent Poor.
(Code No. 19.071)

Bill No. 125, Ordinance No. 19.0711, as follows:

Calling and providing for a special election to be held in the City and County of San Francisco on Tuesday, the 30th day of August, 1932, for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the City and County of San Francisco a proposition to incur a bonded debt of the City and County of San Francisco to the amount of six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000) for the purpose of caring for and maintaining the indigent sick and dependent poor of said City and County, and providing for the form, denomination, rate of interest, fixing payment of interest, and retirement of said bonds, and fixing the date of said special election for Tuesday, the 30th day of August, 1932, and prescribing notice to be given of such election.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. A special election is hereby called and ordered to be held in the City and County of San Francisco on Tuesday, the 30th day of August, 1932, for the purpose of submitting to the electors of said City and County the following proposition, to-wit: the proposition of incurring a bonded debt of the City and County of San Francisco to the amount of six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000) for the purpose of providing for the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and dependent poor of the City and County of San Francisco.

Section 2. The estimated cost of the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and dependent poor of the City and County for the fiscal year 1932-1933 was fixed by the Board of Supervisors by Resolution No. 338, passed by more than two-thirds vote of said Board and approved by the Mayor, in the sum of six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000), and that such sum is too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the City and County in addition to the other necessary expense thereof or other funds derived from taxes levied for that purpose.

The method and manner of payment of the estimated cost of taking care of and maintaining the indigent sick and dependent poor of said City and County are by issuance of bonds of the City and County of San Francisco to the amount required therefor and the application of the proceeds arising from the sale thereof to defray the cost of the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and dependent poor of said City and County.

Section 3. The special election hereby called and ordered to be held shall be held and conducted and the votes thereat received and canvassed and the returns thereof made and the result thereof ascertained, determined and declared as herein provided and according to the applicable laws of the State of California providing for and governing elections in the City and County of San Francisco, and the polls for such election shall be and remain open during the time required by said laws.

Section 4. That the election precincts as fixed for the primary election to be held in the City and County of San Francisco on the 30th day of August, 1932, are hereby fixed and adopted as the election precincts for said special election hereby called, and the voting places and officers of election for said special election shall be those designated and adopted by the Registrar of Voters of said City and County of San Francisco, in accordance with law.

Section 5. On the ballots to be used at such special election, in addition to any other matter required by law to be printed thereon, shall appear thereon the following:

"Relief Bonds, 1932—To incur a bonded indebtedness in the sum of $6,500,000 for the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and dependent poor of the City and County of San Francisco." Following said statement shall appear the words, "Bonds—Yes" and "Bonds—No" and a blank space shall be provided where the voters may stamp a cross (X) in said blank space to the right of the word "Yes" or to the right of the word "No."

To vote for the proposition and thereby incur a bonded indebtedness to the amount of and for the purpose stated herein, the voters shall stamp a cross (X) in the blank space to the right of the word "Yes," and to vote against the proposition and thereby refuse to authorize the incurring of a bonded indebtedness to the amount of and for the purpose stated herein, the voters shall stamp a cross (X) in the blank space to the right of the word "No."

Section 6. If at such special election two-thirds of all the votes cast thereat shall be in favor of and authorize the incurring of a bonded debt for the purpose set forth in said proposition, then such proposition shall have been accepted by the electors, and bonds shall be issued to defray the cost of the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and dependent poor.

Such bonds shall be of the form and character known as "serials," shall be signed by the President of the Board of Supervisors, the Treasurer and Controller of the City and County of San Francisco, and countersigned by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

Said bonds shall be dated September 1, 1932, shall bear interest at the rate not to exceed 6 per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, shall be of the denomination of $1,000 each, and the principal and interest thereof shall be payable in gold coin of the United States. Said bonds shall be designated "Relief Bonds, 1932," and shall be numbered from 1 to 6500, both inclusive, and shall be payable $542,000 thereof four years from the date of said bonds, beginning with the lowest number, and $542,000 thereof of the next higher numbers on the same day in each succeeding year for the period of eleven years, and in the

To provide a public pound and to make necessary rules and regulations in the matter of animals running at large; to provide for the custody and destruction of the same, and repealing Ordinance No. 3276 (New Series) and Ordinance No. 5190 (New Series).

Provided, however, that all horses, mules, asses and oxen, harnessed or saddled and in the actual custody and control, at the time, of some person or persons, and licensed dogs, except as provided in Section 15, are excepted from the operation of this section of this ordinance.

Section 4. Section 5. All animals so taken into the custody of the poundkeeper, and which, by reason of age, or disease, or other cause, are unfit for further use or dangerous to keep impounded, shall be forthwith destroyed by the poundkeeper.

Section 6. paper published in said City and County, and shall also be advertised for sale by a notice published for one (1) day within said period of twelve (12) days in the official newspaper of said City and County. Immediately after due advertisement as provided in this section, and at the hour of twelve (12) o'clock noon on the date stated in said notices, respectively, the poundkeeper shall sell all animals so advertised, at public auction at the public pound, to the highest bidder for cash.

Section 7. It shall be the duty of every police officer, while on duty, to take up and deliver to the public pound or to place in any stable that may be designated by the Chief of Police, any horse, mare, colt, mule, ass, cow or bull found running at large or trespassing on any private enclosure within the City and County of San Francisco, and to immediately notify the poundkeeper in case any such animal be so placed in any stable, and it shall be the duty of any person in charge of such stable to immediately notify the poundkeeper and to release such animal to the poundkeeper upon his demand and the payment of one dollar at any time within twenty-four (24) hours after such animal is so placed therein and such notice given. Any person may take up and deliver to the public pound any animal which the poundkeeper is, by the provisions of this ordinance, required to impound.

Section 8. Any animal found trespassing on any private enclosure in this City and County may be taken up by any person and delivered to the poundkeeper.

Section 9. Every person, other than a police officer, taking up any animal under the provisions of Sections 7 and 8 of this ordinance, shall immediately thereafter give notice thereof to the poundkeeper, and every such person and any person in whose custody such animal may, in the meantime, be placed shall deliver such animal to the poundkeeper without fee or charge; and the poundkeeper shall thereupon hold and dispose of such animal in the same manner as though such animal had been found running at large and impounded by him.

Section 10. The owner or person entitled to the custody of any animal so impounded may, at any time before the sale or other disposition thereof, reclaim or redeem the same by paying to the poundkeeper all fines and charges imposed thereon, as provided for herein.

Section 11. The poundkeeper shall seize and impound every dog found running at large or found upon any public highway or street, or alley, or court, or place, or public square, or public grounds or upon any unfenced lot or not within a sufficient enclosure within the City and County of San Francisco, whether in the immediate presence of the owner or otherwise; provided, however, that, except as provided in Section 15 of this ordinance, no such seizure or impounding shall be made of any dog led by a string, rope or chain, or having around its neck or leg a license tag showing that such dog is duly licensed as required by any ordinance of the City and County of San Francisco.

Section 12. The poundkeeper shall keep any dog so impounded for a period of ninety-six (96) hours, unless the same be sooner reclaimed or redeemed by the owner or person having control thereof as hereinafter provided. Such redemption shall be made by exhibiting to the poundkeeper the license certificate or license tag issued by the Tax Collector, showing that the license for such dog for the then current fiscal year has been paid, and by paying to the poundkeeper the fine and charges hereinafter provided for. Upon such redemption being made the poundkeeper shall release such dog; provided, however, that if the license for any such dog for the then current fiscal year was actually paid prior to the date of the impounding of such dog, and there shall be exhibited to the poundkeeper as evidence of such payment said certificate or license tag, the fine hereinafter provided for in subdivision 3 of Section 18 of this ordinance shall be remitted, but in all cases the charges hereinafter provided for keeping such dog must be paid.

Section 13. At any time after the expiration of said period of ninety-six (96) hours the poundkeeper may, without further notice, and without advertising in any manner, sell at private sale or public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, any dog not so reclaimed or redeemed as aforesaid. All dogs impounded and not so reclaimed, redeemed or sold shall forthwith be destroyed by the poundkeeper. The owner of any dog at the time it is so impounded may, at any time within thirty (30) days after such sale, redeem the same from such purchaser by paying to him the amount of the purchase price paid by him to the poundkeeper, and in addition thereto a sum equal to twenty-five (25) cents per day for the number of days from the date of sale to and including the date of such redemption.

Section 14. It shall be the duty of every person who shall take into his possession any stray dog or any dog not owned by him or not placed in his possession by the person having the lawful custody and control thereof, immediately to notify the keeper of the public pound and to release such dog to the poundkeeper upon demand and without charge. If there shall be attached to such dog a license tag for the then current fiscal year, said poundkeeper shall notify in writing the person to whom such license was issued, at the address given in said license certificate, and shall, upon demand made within twenty-four (24) hours thereafter, and without charge, release such dog to such person; provided, however, that if no person lawfully entitled to such dog shall, within nine days after the date of giving said last-mentioned notice, appear at the public pound and claim such dog, such dog may be sold or destroyed by the poundkeeper in the manner hereinabove provided for unlicensed dogs.

Section 15. It shall be unlawful for the owner or person having control of any dog to suffer or permit the same, under any circumstances, to run at large in any public park or public square or to suffer or permit any female dog to run at large while said dog is in the copulating season, and every dog found running at large in violation of the provisions of this section shall be immediately seized and impounded in the public pound.

Section 16. If any dog within the City and County of San Francisco is known to be vicious or dangerous to the safety of any person or animal, and the owner of such dog or person having control of such dog shall allow such dog to run at large, after being notified in writing by the Director of Health to keep such dog within a secure enclosure unless such dog is adequately muzzled, such owner or person having control of such dog shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

If any dog within the City and County of San Francisco shall bite any person or animal, and the person or animal so bitten was not at the time trespassing upon the person or property of the owner or person having control of such dog, the owner or person having control of such dog shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punishable as hereinafter provided, and if, upon the trial of any such person, the court shall determine that such dog is vicious and dangerous to persons or other animals, the court may order that such dog be muzzled or that such dog be kept within a sufficient enclosure or that such dog be delivered to the poundkeeper and by him destroyed. Upon written notice by the Director of Health the owner or person having control of any dog which has within the preceding seventy-two hours bitten any person or animal, shall keep such dog on his premises in a separate kennel within a secure enclosure, for observation of the Director of Health, for a period not exceeding ten days, or such owner or person having control of such dog shall, upon demand of the Director of Health, surrender such dog to the poundkeeper, who shall impound and keep such dog at the public pound, in a separate kennel, for a period not exceeding ten days, during which period it shall be the duty of the Director of Health, upon being notified by the poundkeeper that such dog has been impounded, to determine whether or not such dog is suffering from any disease. If the Director of Health shall determine that such dog is diseased, and by reason of such disease is dangerous to persons or to other animals, he shall so notify the poundkeeper, who shall thereupon immediately destroy such dog. If the Director of Health shall determine that such dog is not so diseased, and if the license required for such dog shall have been duly paid for the then current fiscal year, the poundkeeper shall notify by mail the person to whom the license for such dog was issued and at the address from which the dog was surrendered to the poundkeeper, and shall, upon demand, release such dog to the owner or person lawfully entitled thereto, upon payment of twenty-five cents per day for keeping such dog; provided, however, that if no person lawfully entitled to such dog shall, within five days after the date of giving said last-mentioned notice, appear at the public pound and request the release of such dog and pay said charges, such dog may be sold or destroyed by the poundkeeper in the manner hereinabove provided.

Section 17. The poundkeeper shall provide all animals in his custody with proper food and water, and shall give them all necessary care and attention.

Section 18. The fines and charges upon animals impounded shall be as follows:

1. For every horse, mare, mule, ass, ox, cow, bull, colt or calf over the age of six months, a fine of three (3) dollars and a charge of one dollar per day for keeping, and of one dollar additional if advertised, and of one dollar for driving, and of one dollar if received from a stable, as hereinafter provided.

2. For every colt, calf, under the age of six months, and for every sheep, lamb, goat or hog, a fine of one dollar and fifty cents and a charge of fifty cents per day for keeping, and of one dollar additional if advertised, and of fifty cents for arresting and driving.

3. For every unlicensed dog, a fine of two dollars and fifty cents and a charge of twenty-five cents per day for keeping.

4. For every licensed dog impounded in violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance, a fine of $1 and a charge of twenty-five cents a day for keeping.

5. For every other animal, a fine of two dollars and a charge of fifty cents per day for keeping, and of fifty cents for arresting and driving.

Section 19. No animal shall, under any circumstances, be released by the poundkeeper or his deputies until all the fines and charges imposed thereon, as provided by this ordinance, shall have been paid. Provided, however, that if it shall be made to appear to the poundkeeper that any of the animals impounded by him, mentioned in subdivision 1 of the preceding section, have broken out, or were let out, of the fenced enclosure of the owner without fault on his part, the poundkeeper shall release the said animals without charge. If the said poundkeeper refuses to release any such animal, and the owner pays the demanded charges, the owner may apply by petition to the Board of Supervisors to have such charges refunded, and the Board of Supervisors shall order the repayment, without cost to the owner, of the charges so paid if it shall appear that the said animals broke out, or were let out, of the fenced enclosure of the owner without fault on his part.

Section 20. The poundkeeper shall keep a record of the number, description and disposition of all animals impounded, showing in detail in the case of each animal the date of receipt, the date and manner of disposal, the manner and time of advertising for sale, the name of the person reclaiming, redeeming or purchasing, the reason for destruction, and the fines and charges and proceeds of sales received on account thereof. Said record shall be kept by the poundkeeper in a book or books provided for that purpose, which shall be the record book or books of the office of the poundkeeper and shall not be removed therefrom. He shall also conspicuously post daily at the entrance of the public pound a description of every animal, except dogs or cats, therein detained, and keep the same so posted for forty-eight hours continuously after said animal shall have been impounded.

Section 21. (1) All moneys received by the poundkeeper as provided for herein shall be by him delivered daily to the Treasurer of the City and County of San Francisco in accordance with the provisions of the Charter of said City and County.

(2) The poundkeeper shall file on the first day of each month with the Controller of the City and County of San Francisco a report, under oath, for the preceding month, containing an itemized statement of the number and description of all animals impounded, reclaimed, redeemed, sold and destroyed, the persons by whom any such animals were reclaimed, redeemed or purchased, and the amount of fines, charges or proceeds of sale received in each case.

Section 22. The poundkeeper may at any time appoint, at his own proper expense, as in Section 26 hereof provided, as many deputy poundkeepers as he may require to properly discharge the duties required of him by this ordinance. The authority of the said deputy poundkeepers shall be the same as the authority of the poundkeeper himself as to apprehending, taking up, arresting, catching, driving to and receiving into the public pound any of the animals named in any of the sections of this ordinance.

Section 23. The poundkeeper and his deputies, while engaged in the execution of their duties, shall each wear a plain metallic badge on the left breast of the outer garment, having, in the case of the poundkeeper, the word "Poundkeeper," and in the case of the deputy poundkeeper the words "Deputy Poundkeeper," plainly engraved thereon.

Section 24. It shall be unlawful for any person to resist or obstruct the poundkeeper or any of his deputies in the exercise of his duties as such poundkeeper or deputy poundkeeper.

Section 25. The poundkeeper shall not receive any stated salary as compensation for the performance of the duties of his office, but, in lieu of salary, he shall be entitled to be paid out of the General Fund of this City and County, upon monthly demands to be allowed by the Board of Supervisors, fifty cents for each original dog license certificate issued by the Tax Collector for the current fiscal year, and shall be allowed the following fees for services actually rendered by him as poundkeeper, to-wit:

1. For every horse, mare, mule, ass, ox, bull, colt or calf over the age of six months, impounded by him, the sum of three dollars, and one dollar additional if received from a stable, as hereinbefore provided, and one dollar additional for every day such animal is necessarily held by him, and one dollar for driving.

2. For every colt and calf under the age of six months, and for every sheep, lamb, goat or hog impounded by him, the sum of one dollar and fifty cents, and fifty cents additional for every day such animal is necessarily held by him.

3. For every dog impounded by him and redeemed, or sold as hereinbefore provided, the sum of two dollars and fifty cents, and twenty-five cents additional for every day such dog is necessarily held by him, and for every dog impounded by him and destroyed, as hereinbefore provided, the sum of two dollars and fifty cents.

4. For every cat impounded by him and destroyed, the sum of twenty-five cents.

5. For every other animal impounded by him, the sum of two dollars and fifty cents, and fifty cents additional for every day such animal is necessarily held by him.

Section 26. Out of the fees thus received by him the poundkeeper shall pay all necessary expenses of the said public pound, including rent of public pound, payment for the service of his deputies, subsistence for animals impounded, and all other expenses connected with the equipment and maintenance of the said public pound, and the arresting and disposal of animals impounded.

Section 27. The poundkeeper within five days after his appointment, and before entering upon the discharge of his official duties, shall give and execute to the City and County of San Francisco his official bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of his official duties as such poundkeeper, with two or more sureties to be approved by the Mayor and Controller of the City and County of San Francisco, which official bond, when approved, shall be recorded, at the expense of the poundkeeper, in the office of the Recorder of the City and County of San Francisco, in the Records of Official Bonds, and shall thereafter be filed and kept in the office of the Controller of said City and County.

Requesting Support for Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.
(Code No. 12.111)

Resolution No. 367, as follows:

Whereas, the United States District Court has, in a sweeping decision, dismissed the suit for injunction brought through the Southern Pacific Golden Gate Ferries, Ltd., against the Golden Gate Bridge and

Highway District, and sustained in every detail the ruling of the Supreme Court of the State of California; and

Whereas, this decision establishes beyond any reasonable doubt the legality of the bridge bonds and the powers of the district, and confirms the will of the people as expressed at the polls in 1930; and

Whereas, an appeal from this decision in all probability will result in an affirmance of the decision; and

Whereas, the levying of a 2½ cent tax by the bridge district would not have been made if the delay attendant upon such appeal had not made such levy imperative, and such levy may even now be rescinded in case sale of the district bonds can be immediately effected; and

Whereas, the beginning of construction at this time will provide work for thousands of the unemployed locally and throughout the nation, and release thirty-five millions of dollars into the channels of trade and contribute materially to the program of relief as sponsored by Congress and the President, and relieve the necessity for further tax upon the district to defend litigation delaying the construction of the bridge; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby call upon the Golden Gate Ferries, in the name of good citizenship, to stop their litigation, to the end that this project may fit itself into the government program designed to relieve the suffering and misery of the ten million unemployed; and be it Further Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby invoke the aid of the President of the United States, the Department of Labor and Commerce, our Representatives in Congress, and all other civic agencies of County and State, to support the application of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and to unite in a concentrated effort to bring about the construction of this great public project.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

City Attorney's Opinion Requested on Expenditures of County Road Fund.

On motion of Supervisor Gallagher, the Clerk was directed to ask the City Attorney's opinion as to whether the Charter provisions govern the expenditure of the County Road Fund, or the State law. Do provisions of State law permit doing of work at the expense of this County Road Fund by day labor, or do the provisions of the local Charter permit it?

Registrar Refuses to Place Unemployment Bonds on Ballot.

The following was read by the Clerk:

The Honorable Board of Supervisors, City Hall, San Francisco, California.

Gentlemen: Today I received from you through Mr. J. S. Dunnigan, Clerk of your Board, a copy of Ordinance No. 19.0711, duly certified by the said Clerk as having been unanimously adopted by your Board.

The ordinance referred to places on me the duty of calling a special election to be held in the City and County of San Francisco on August 30, 1932. The purpose of the election is to submit to the voters the proposition of incurring a bonded debt in the amount of $6,500,000 for the relief of the indigent sick and dependent poor of the City during the current fiscal year.

The purpose of the election is laudatory, and I am aware that there is necessity for obtaining money to take care of our people whom we are now aiding and whose numbers will be greatly increased during the winter months. I want to be distinctly understood as wholly in sympathy with the purpose of the election, but I have a dual capacity of citizen and Registrar of Voters of the City of San Francisco, and while as a citizen I am heartily in favor of incurring the bonded indebtedness, as Registrar of the City and County you are advised that I hereby refuse to comply with the terms of Ordinance No. 19.0711 and submit the proposition described in the ordinance for a vote of the people.

My reasons for declining to place this matter on a ballot proposed to be used at the special election called by your Board are as follows:

1. It is my opinion that the incurring of a bonded debt for the relief of the indigent sick and dependent poor is not permitted under any laws applicable to the issuance of bonds of the City and County of San Francisco.

2. There is no Charter provision, general law or statute that, if the purpose were legal, permits the submission of the question of incurring the bonded indebtedness, and the procedure adopted by your Board is illegal.

3. There is no provision in law that permits you to submit to the voters a proposition of incurring a bonded indebtedness without specifying the exact rate of interest to be paid. In your ordinance calling the election you have merely specified a maximum rate of 6 per cent.

4. I have been advised that Section 4088 of the Political Code applies to counties only, and is not applicable to the incurring of a bonded debt by the City and County of San Francisco, on the theory that San Francisco is a municipality, and not a county.

5. While under Ordinance No. 19.0711 you purport to hold this election as a special election on August 30, 1932, and have not consolidated it with the primary election held throughout the State in August of this year, the act of holding the special election on the same date as the August primary is contrary to the provisions of Chapter 1042 of the Statutes of California of 1931.

Your attention is directed to the fact that it is necessary for me to appoint judges, inspectors and clerks for the special election and that the law requires my doing so within the statutory time prior to the date of the election; that it is incumbent upon me to cause to be printed in the instant case ballots that are to be mailed to all the registered voters, constituting 255,902 in number; that ballots for voting on the day of the election selected must be furnished and equipment procured so that the ballots may be marked. Proper facilities must be provided for the maintaining of secrecy of the votes cast, all of which entails an expenditure of public funds which I decline to assume the responsibility for unless authorized to do so by the Supreme Court of the State of California.

I have sent copies of this letter to his Honor the Mayor, to the Controller, and to the City Attorney.

Yours truly,

C. J. COLLINS, Registrar of Voters.

Writ to Compel Registrar to Place Unemployment Bonds on Ballot.

Whereupon, Supervisor Hayden moved that the City Attorney be directed to proceed with due diligence to apply to the Supreme Court for a writ to compel Registrar to place unemployment bond matter on the ballot.

Motion carried.

Garbage Collection and Disposal.

The following proceedings were had in connection with a resolution from Chief Administrator Cleary, and recommended by the Health Committee, regarding the collection and disposal of garbage and repeal of initiative ordinance:

SUPERVISOR SPAULDING: I don't know what the Chief Administrator is going to say, and I don't know what Mr. Healy, the engineer, is going to say upon the resolution, but there has been a resolution brought in here at the last hour, after the people were told they were going to have a meeting, but at the request of the Chief Administrator, Mr. Cleary, and his Honor the Mayor, they asked if it would be possible for us to hold a meeting, which we did at that time——

THE PRESIDENT: When?

SUPERVISOR SPAULDING: We held a meeting at half past two in the Finance Committee room, and I told Mr. Cleary at that time, which I will again repeat to this Board, that we were willing to bring it in without any recommendation; and that if this did go on the ballot in August that I would not in any way, if I thought the measure was wrong, be prevented from going out and strenuously opposing the measure.

Now, this Board will know as much about this matter as the committee, because none of us on the committee had gone over it, read it, or knew anything about it, and it has not been heard before the committee, nor before the Board, and after the explanation you will be as ready to vote on this as we are, and it will be entirely up to the Board, and the Health Committee will not take the responsibility of it.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: It is very evident from what has been said that you are not going to get passage here this afternoon, no matter how it goes, because Supervisor Brown is not here, Supervisor Peyser has been excused——

SUPERVISOR PEYSER (interrupting): I am here.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: But you are officially absent, and we have only got twelve votes, and I think in view of the statements made by Supervisors Roncovieri, Spaulding and McSheehy, you will never get this matter before the Board today, and in view of the fact that you told the citizens you were going to have a hearing two weeks from today, I made the motion to postpone one week.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I haven't attempted to rise to any points of order, but you have asked the Chief Administrator here, and you have asked Mr. Healy to come here, and I think——

THE PRESIDENT (interrupting): The Chief Administrator is anxiously waiting to be heard.

SUPERVISOR RONCOVIERI: Do you expect that in ten or fifteen minutes that the Chief Administrator is going to speak that, that he is going to settle this matter? I don't. Tell them to come here tomorrow, if you wish, or the day after, or any day that the City Attorney says is the last day we have to act. I would like to ask the City Attorney how many days we have before the election?

MR. O'TOOLE: It has to be thirty days before election, and the election falls on August 30th, so it will have to be July 28th, would be about the last day, the dead line, and, of course, that is awfully close.

SUPERVISOR RONCOVIERI: Today is the 25th, and you have spent the whole day already, and I say let those who favor it, and let those who are opposed, be present; I am not going to, for one, be here all night on this.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there any objection to giving the Chief Administrator a brief opportunity for making a statement?

SUPERVISOR RONCOVIERI: Yes.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: To what end? In an endeavor to get this on the ballot on the 30th of August?

MR. CLEARY: Yes.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: Then, Mr. Chairman, as I said before, without a committee hearing, and without giving the citizens a chance to be heard, I would not be in favor of voting on it tonight; I wouldn't care how long we stayed here, if it was 12 o'clock or 2 o'clock, if the committee made promises to the citizens that they will be given a respectful hearing, and then it is taken in the hands of the Board, it is a dangerous thing to do. I want to say further, while the last day for putting it on the ballot for August falls this week, don't forget that we also have an election in November, and the matter can be submitted in November.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I want to say this: that we have made a solemn promise, and while I don't say that Mr. Cleary would not convince me, he would have one of the hardest times he ever had where I have given a solemn promise to the people that they will have a hearing. Now, it wasn't my fault, and it wasn't the fault of the committee. The author of the resolution and the co-author of the resolution were out of San Francisco on last Wednesday, and I want to say to you, Mr. President, and you know, perhaps as well as any man on this Board, because you served on the Health Committee, and you and Doctor Toner and myself toured these United States, examining various incinerators, and rendered reports to the Board, and you know what a vital matter this is, and that a full hearing should be had, and there should be no attempt to rush the matter through here today. I don't know, I know I am not going to be a party to any attempt to rush any matter through this Board in the last hour, which has already cost the City a half million dollars, and the incinerator at De Haro street has——

THE PRESIDENT (interrupting): What is the pleasure of the Board?

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: If you want a motion, I won't hesitate at all, at this particular time, to make a motion that this matter be postponed three weeks.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: Second the motion.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I rise to a point of order, Mr. Chairman.

THE PRESIDENT: What is your point of order, Mr. Gallagher?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: The point of order is, that the Chief Administrator was called over here to be heard, and that order not having been changed, that is the order set and it stands unless reversed.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I don't want to be technical on this thing, not in any manner or form, unless Supervisor Gallagher is becoming technical——

THE PRESIDENT (interrupting): Supervisor Gallagher is partly right; but in the interests of fair play to the Chief Administrator, he wishes to make a very brief statement to the Board, not for the purpose of influencing the members in any vote, but simply to clear his position, and I think he should be granted that courtesy by the Board; and if there is no objection we will hear from the Chief Administrator. Is there any objection? (No response.)

Mr. Cleary, you have the floor.

MR. CLEARY: Mr. President, Members of the Board: Some seven months ago the chairman of the Health Committee brought before this Board the subject of garbage disposal in San Francisco. He called your attention to the most deplorable condition that exists in any large city in the United States, or small cities either, for that matter. He has photographs to substantiate the accuracy of his statements. He requested that the Chief Administrator use every endeavor to expedite a report to the Board on the proper solution of the garbage situation.

On that occasion I stated to your honorable members that on July the 1st I would have before your Board a report outlining which I believed would be an efficient solution of the garbage problem. At midnight on June 30th that report was in the hands of your Board. The following Monday I was asked to appear before your Board and outline the principal features of the report. There was nothing technical in the report that could not be understood by any Supervisor or by any layman; the situation was extremely simple. It suggested, in effect, that the people of San Francisco had voted by a tremendous majority to incinerate their garbage; that the collection of garbage was inseparable from its final disposal; that the two could be most efficiently treated as one subject, and it is therefore recommended that your Board institute the necessary legislation to provide for revoking the initiative ordinance of 1927, which stands in the way of the solution of the garbage problem. The initiative ordinance, as you know, provides restrictions which cannot be met, some portions which are effective and others which cannot be met.

The report recommended that after the legislation was passed by your Board that competitive bids be called for the granting of a twenty-five-year franchise for the collection and incineration of garbage, and the basis for comparing the bids was to be the rate charged to the householder. It is needless for me to tell you that the rates in San Francisco are higher than in almost any large city in the United Sttaes, and many of the smaller cities. I believe that with competition we can reduce the rate materially to the household for garbage collection.

I need not emphasize the condition that exists at the old incinerator; it is a disgrace to any large city of the United States; to any city of the United States. It has existed by sufferance of the courts for many years. About five weeks ago I was subpoenaed to appear before Judge Mogan and explain why this condition could not be bettered. It was explained to him that the report would be in the hands of the Supervisors by July 1st; that if the Supervisors acted on that report that the matter could be solved and that the construction of an incinerator of modern design could be started by the first of the year, and that the nuisance—and it is a nuisance—that now exists at our incinerator could be abated.

Now, if there were any questions on the report I was always there to answer them. Supervisor Gallagher stated before this Board two weeks ago that the Board of Supervisors wished to wash their hands of the entire mess of garbage disposal. I hope that that is the case, because I am perfectly willing to assume full responsibility for the report which I have rendered to your Board and for the results that can be obtained therefrom. At that time I think your Board unanimously agreed that the only function which the Board had in the matter was to pass the necessary legislation to enable the program as outlined to be carried into effect. Subsequently it was decided to refer this matter to the Health Committee. I was not notified of the meeting of the Health Committee at which this subject was considered. I was on a vacation, and I am sure my office received no communication from the Health Committee for me to return from my vacation, although I held myself ready to come back were I asked to do so.

Now, the subject-matter must be presented to the voters of San Francisco. I can see no trouble that can result from submitting the question as to whether they wish to repeal the initiative ordinance of 1927 or whether they do not wish to repeal it. I was told by my secretary, who attended the meeting of the Health Committee last Wednesday, that there were certain objections made by certain members of improvment clubs, and the principal objection was that a higher rate might be charged for the collection and disposal of garbage under my proposal than under the regulations at the present time in effect under the initiative ordinance. That criticism was well taken had it not been for the fact that I had explained to the Board, when I previously addressed the Board on the subject, that I would not recommend the granting of any franchise to any firm, corporation or individual unless the bids we received were less than the rates under the present ordinance in effect. However, in order that there might be no further criticism I have inserted a clause in the ordinance now presented to you which is as follows:

"Section 6. A franchise shall be granted by the Board of Supervisors for the collection and final disposition of garbage, which franchise shall be granted upon condition, and shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall indicate in his bid a rate to be charged for the collection of refuse, which rate shall not be in excess of that now provided in the existing initiative ordinance."

You ask why it is that haste is necessary in deciding this question. I don't think that anyone can say that after the question has been considered by five consecutive Boards of Supervisors that it is asking undue haste to submitt the revocation of the initiative ordinance to the people of San Francisco. I have absolute faith in the good judgment of the voters of San Francisco, and I have faith in the soundness of the proposal which I have made to the Board, and all I ask is that the question of garbage disposal be not indefinitely delayed in the future as it has been in the past; and the only way that can be prevented is to rescind the initative ordinance.

Regulating the Collection and Disposal of Swill.
(Code No. 17.08)

Regulating the collection and disposal of swill in the City and County of San Francisco, authorizing and providing for a license for swill collectors, and providing penalties for the violation of this ordinance, and repealing conflicting ordinances.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. The term swill when used hereinafter shall be applied to and be construed to mean waste food products from hotels, restaurants, hospitals and institutions or food dealers, which waste is kept separate from non-food waste.

Section 2. The term swill producer when used hereinafter shall be applied to and be construed to mean any person, firm, corporation or association producing swill in connection with or from any hotel, restaurant, commissary, lunch room, cafeteria or other eating place or store where foodstuffs are prepared or kept for sale.

Section 4. All swill as hereinbefore defined in this ordinance shall be placed by the swill producer as herein defined, upon whose premises the same shall have been produced, in a water-tight metal container of not less than ten gallons net capacity, of a design approved by the health officer of the City and County of San Francisco, which container shall be kept clean and shall at all times be proof against the access of flies and rodents to the contents thereof. The contents of such container shall be collected not less than three times a week by the collector and oftener if deemed necessary by the health officer, and the collector shall transfer the contents of all containers into the wagon provided therefor without spilling any materials on stairs, walks, yards or streets, and shall on the same day as such swill is collected, dispose of it.

Section 5. The swill collector shall remove the swill from the premises of the swill producers as provided in Section 4 without cost to the swill producer unless the swill shall be produced in sufficient quantity to give it a market value, in which case the price to be paid by the swill collector to the swill producer shall be arrived by negotiations or by contracts now in force or to be entered into.

Section 6. The body of any vehicle used for the collection of swill shall be metal lined, shall be constructed so as to prevent the contents from falling or spilling therefrom, and shall be provided with a wooden or iron cover. Section 7. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation, or association, to engage in the business of collecting swill in the City and County of San Francisco, or to haul the same through any street or public place in the said City unless such person, firm, corporation or association has been duly licensed, as in this section provided. Every license certificate issued hereunder shall specify the name of the person to whom issued, as well as the name or names of his assistant or assistants, if there be such, and each wagon used shall have attached, in a conspicuous place, a metal tag showing the number of the license issued therefor. Licenses so issued shall be valid for a period of one month and no longer, and may be revoked by the Department of Health whenever it shall appear that the person doing business by virtue of such license has failed to comply with any of the terms hereof.

Section 9. The Department of Public Health of the City and County of San Francisco shall have power to establish rules and regulations, not inconsistent with this ordinance, governing the collections and disposal of swill, provided that such rules and regulations shall have as their purpose the enforcement of the provisions of this ordinance and the health and sanitary laws and ordinances in effect in the City and County of San Francisco.

Section 10. All members of the Police Department and of the Health Department of the City and County of San Francisco are hereby specifically required to enforce the provisions of this ordinance, and shall have the right to enter any and all places for the purpose of determining the sanitary condition thereof, and any person denying or obstructing such entry shall be subject to the penalty herein provided.

Regulating the transportation and delivery of flammable liquid and the construction and operation of tank trucks, vehicles, apparatus and equipment used for the transportation of flammable liquid.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. Definitions: Whenever used in this ordinance the following words are defined as herein specified and shall be deemed and construed to have the meaning ascribed to them in this section. Words and phrases not defined are to be construed according to the general usage of the language.

(a) "Tank truck" shall be held to mean any automobile truck or other vehicle used for the transportation of flammable liquid having a flash point below one hundred (100) degrees Fahrenheit (closed cup tester) and which, for such purpose, is provided with a tank or tanks mounted on the frame or chassis of such automobile truck or vehicle.

(b) "Approved" shall be held to mean in conformity with the requirements of the Fire Marshal of the City and County of San Francisco.

Section 2. Identification and Registration.

(a) Certificate of approval: It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation to hereafter maintain, operate or use a tank truck in the City and County of San Francisco without first obtaining from the Fire Marshal a certificate of approval for such tank truck. The Fire Marshal may refuse to grant and may revoke a certificate of approval for non-compliance with the provisions of this ordinance.

(b) Serial number: Every tank truck granted a certificate of approval shall be given a serial number by the Fire Marshal, and said number shall be painted in an approved manner in places on the tank truck designated by the Fire Marshal.

(c) Marking: Every tank truck shall have prominently displayed on each side and the rear thereof a trade-mark, trade name, other designating mark or legend substantially descriptive of the contents of said tank truck, and generally known to and recognized by the public as being applied to flammable substances.

Section 3. Construction of Tank Trucks.

(a) Capacity: The aggregate capacity of the tank or tanks on any single vehicle shall not exceed three thousand (3000) gallons, and if the capacity of any tank shall exceed six hundred (600) gallons it shall be subdivided into two or more compartments, no one of which shall exceed in capacity six hundred (600) gallons. A tolerance of ten (10) per cent is permitted for individual compartments or tanks, but in no case shall the aggregate capacity of the combined compartments or tanks, including tolerance, exceed three thousand (3000) gallons.

(b) Material: Tanks shall be constructed throughout of open hearth or blue annealed steel, of a thickness not less than number ten (10) United States standard gauge or other approved material, and all joints shall be put together in an approved manner. Heads shall be bilged, or as an alternative shall be two gauges heavier.

(c) Bulkheads: Where liquids of different classes are carried, double bulkheads shall be provided between tank compartments and provision shall be made for draining and ventilating the space between bulkheads.

(d) Liquid Expansion: Each tank compartment shall be equipped with a dome equal in size to three-fourths (¾) of one (1) per cent of the capacity of tank compartment to which it is connected, or an outage marker set at three-fourths (¾) of one (1) per cent. The dome shall not be filled with liquid and tank compartment shall not be filled beyond outage marker.

(e) Vents: Each tank compartment shall be provided with an approved vacuum and pressure-operating vent with a diameter of at least three-fourths (¾) of an inch, and in addition thereto a vent opening with an area of at least two (2) square inches shall be provided, which normally shall be kept closed by an approved device that will open and relieve such internal pressure as may be created by exposure fires.

(f) Mounting: Only metal or hardwood shall be used for tank sills and bolsters. The entire tank structure shall be substantially anchored to the frame of the truck chassis.

(g) Test: Each compartment of the completed tank shall be tested and proven tight at five (5) pounds per square inch minimum pressure.

(h) Fuel Tank: The fuel tank shall not be placed over or adjacent to the engine. It shall be constructed and mounted in such a manner as to present no unusual hazards.

(i) Bumper: Every tank truck shall be provided with a properly attached rear steel bumper or the chassis frame shall be so extended as to afford protection against collision.

(j) Exhaust System: The exhaust system, including muffler and exhaust line, shall have ample clearance from the fuel system and combustible materials, and shall not be exposed to accumulations of grease, oil or gasoline. The exhaust line shall terminate in an approved location remote from the draw-off valves.

(k) Lighting and Wiring: Tank trucks shall not be equipped with artificial light of any kind other than electricity, and all lighting and low-tension wires shall be in conduit, loom or armored cable. Suitable fuses or other automatic overload protective devices shall be installed in all lighting and low-tension circuits except the ignition and starting motor circuits. All electric lights shall be substantially protected. All wiring shall be supported and protected from mechanical injury, chafing and exposure to or contact with oil, grease or gasoline, and shall be so located as to avoid damage to insulation from heat.

(l) Drag Chains and Bonding: Tank trucks shall be equipped with at least one drag chain or other approved device, long enough to reach the ground, in order to drain off such static electrical charges as may be generated. Spare parts shall be carried on the tank truck and repairs to the chain or device shall be made immediately when not in proper working order. Tank, chassis, axles and springs shall be electrically bonded to take care of static electrical charges.

(m) Draw-off Valves: Withdrawal of flammable liquid from tank trucks shall be by gravity through approved draw-off valves having discharge end threaded or otherwise so designed as to permit of tight connection with hose, and installed in an approved location on the tank truck.

(n) Internal Valves: Each tank compartment shall be equipped with an approved internal valve located inside the shell of the tank in the compartment outlet at the bottom of the tank, and except during delivery operations such valve shall automatically be kept closed. Internal valves shall be operated by an approved method and the controlling device shall be installed close to the draw-off valves. The operating mechanism shall be so designed and constructed as to ensure automatic closing of the internal valves in the event of fire.

(o) Emergency Control: The operating mechanism for such internal valves shall be provided with an approved emergency control remote from the draw-off valves for use in the event of accidents or fire during delivery operations.

(p) Internal Valve Protection: Any pipe work leading from the internal valves shall be so designed as to ensure its failure, in the event of accident, without injury to the internal valves.

Section 4. Miscellaneous Safety Requirements.

(a) Loading Operations: Tank trucks shall be filled from approved storage tanks and equipment only. During filling operations the fill pipe shall be electrically connected to the tank truck by a bond wire attached to a metallic part of the tank. This bond shall be made before removing covers of fill openings. When a funnel is used it shall be so designed as to ensure metallic contact between the fill pipe and tank truck.

(b) Unloading Operations: Delivery of flammable liquid from tank trucks shall be to underground storage tanks or approved portable containers only, and shall be by an approved hose connected to a draw-off valve. Provision shall be made for a continuous electrical conductor between the tank truck and the fill opening of underground tanks and containers. Where delivery by hose is not practical, an approved delivery bucket may be used provided it is substantially made, constructed entirely of metal with a mouth not larger than six (6) inches in diameter and with a capacity not exceeding five (5) gallons. A metallic connection shall be maintained between the bucket and draw-off valve when liquid is withdrawn from tank trucks in this manner. It is prohibited to deliver flammable liquid from tank trucks to fuel tanks of motor vehicles or containers other than herein specified.

(c) Where Deliveries May Be Made: Tank trucks are prohibited inside any building during delivery operations and all containers shall be filled outside of buildings.

(d) Storage and Repairs: Tank trucks are not permitted inside any building except while undergoing repairs or unless the building is used exclusively for the storage of such vehicles. Where flame, fire or other heat is required in repairing any part of the tank truck, tanks shall first be made free of all flammable or explosive vapor and liquid.

(e) Transportation by Tank Truck Only: The transportation by land of flammable liquid with a flash point below one hundred (100) degrees Fahrenheit (closed cup tester) shall be by tank truck only, except when such liquid is transported and delivered in approved sealed containers. Nothing herein shall be construed as applying to the transportation of such liquid in railroad tank cars in accordance with the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

(f) To Whom Deliveries May Be Made: No person, firm, association or corporation shall deliver to another any flammable liquid in violation of the provisions of this ordinance, and no delivery of flammable liquid shall be made unless the person, firm, association or corporation receiving said flammable liquid has the necessary permit for the storing, handling or using of flammable liquid.

(g) Refueling and Shut-Down of Truck Motor: The fuel tank supplying the tank truck motor shall not be filled during the loading or unloading of the tank truck, nor while the tank truck motor is in operation. The tank truck motor shall not be in operation during the loading or unloading of tank truck.

(h) Fire Extinguishers: There shall be maintained on each tank truck at all times at least one fully charged approved portable fire extinguisher located in a readily accessible place.

(i) Leakage: All tanks, valves, pipes, hose and connections shall be tight at all times and shall permit no leakage or spill therefrom. Care shall be exercised while filling underground tanks, portable containers and buckets to prevent the overflow or spilling of flammable liquid.

(j) Smoking and Fire: Smoking is prohibited on a tank truck at all times, and no smoking, flame or fire shall be within twenty-five (25) feet of a tank truck while loading or unloading.

(k) Trailers: It is prohibited to attach a trailer to a tank truck.

(l) Attendance of Operator: The driver, operator or attendant of a tank truck shall be in close proximity to the draw-off valves during unloading operations.

(m) Chock Blocks: Tank trucks shall carry at least one approved choc block, which shall be placed against one of the rear wheels while the vehicle is parked on a grade.

(n) Label on Draw-off Valves: Draw-off valves shall be equipped with a metal tag, plate or label, on which is displayed, in letters not less than one-half (½) inch in height, the name of the particular product in the tank compartment with which such draw-off valve is connected.

Section 5. Rules and Regulations: The Fire Marshal shall have and is hereby vested with authority to make reasonable and necessary rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions hereof, respecting the use, operation, maintenance and construction of tank trucks and the handling of flammable liquid in connection therewith, to carry into effect the intents and purposes of this ordinance.

Section 6. Transport Tank Trucks and Other Vehicles, Apparatus and Equipment Used for the Transportation of Flammable Liquid: The Fire Marshal, in his reasonable discretion, may waive compliance with any of the provisions of this ordinance when affecting tank trucks used either for the transportation of flammable liquid to points outside the City and County of San Francisco or the transportation of flammable liquid into the City and County of San Francisco. However, such tank trucks and vehicles, apparatus or equipment used for the transportation of any class of flammable liquid and for which no regulations are herein provided, shall be constructed, equipped, maintained and operated upon conditions and under such regulations as may be required by the Fire Marshal.

Section 7. Interpretation: The provisions of this ordinance shall be construed to apply equally to tank trucks and other vehicles, apparatus or equipment used for the transportation of flammable liquid in operation prior to the passage of this ordinance; provided, however, that the Fire Marshal, in his reasonable discretion, may waive the reconstructing in whole or in part of such tank trucks, vehicles, apparatus or equipment. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the use, if approved by the Fire Marshal, of any forms of construction, methods of installation, arrangement of design, mode of operation, or manner of delivery which obviously will provide an equal or greater degree of strength, security or safety than called for by the specific provisions of this ordinance.

Section 8. Enforcement: It shall be the duty of the Fire Marshal to enforce the provisions of this ordinance, and to that end he is hereby authorized and empowered to inspect or test a tank truck, or any vehicle, apparatus or equipment used for the transportation of flammable liquid, at any time or place.

Section 9. Penalty: Every person, firm, association or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance or fail to comply therewith, or who shall violate or fail to comply with any rule or regulation made thereunder, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred (500) dollars or by imprisonment in the County Jail for not more than six (6) months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(Code No. 3.041)

Bill No. 137, Ordinance No. 3.04110, as follows:

Imposing a license on dogs and dog kennels, and repealing Ordinance

No. 3277 (New Series) and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to own, keep or have control of any dog except as hereinafter provided.

Every person owning, keeping or having control of any dog within the City and County of San Francisco shall pay an annual license of two dollars for each dog so owned, kept or controlled. Such annual license shall be for the fiscal year or any part thereof during which any such dog is so owned, kept or controlled, and shall be payable in advance. (As amended by Ordinance No. 5188 [New Series].)

Section 2. Upon the payment of such license the Tax Collector shall issue a certificate stating the fiscal year for which such license is paid, the date of payment, the name and residence address of the person to whom such license is issued, the name, breed and sex of the dog licensed and the number of the license tag hereinafter provided for. Such certificate shall be delivered to the person paying such license and a duplicate thereof shall be delivered to the keeper of the public pound. All such duplicates shall be kept in the office of the public pound as a part of the records thereof during the fiscal year for which the same are issued. The Tax Collector shall at the same time issue and deliver to the person paying such license a metal tag of such form and design as the Purchaser of Supplies and poundkeeper shall designate, with the words "San Francisco Dog License" and a serial number and the fiscal year for which issued plainly inscribed thereon. The owner or person having control or possession of the dog for which such license has been paid and such tag issued shall attach such license tag to a collar around the dog's neck or to a strap around its leg.

Section 3. It shall be unlawful for any person to remove any such tag from any dog not owned by him or not lawfully in his possession or under his control, or to place on any dog any such license tag not issued as above provided for that particular dog for the then current fiscal year, or to make or to have in possession or to place on a dog any counterfeit or imitation of any license tag provided for in this ordinance.

Section 4. If any license tag shall be lost or stolen, the person owning, possessing or having control of the dog for which the same was issued shall be entitled to receive a duplicate of such tag by presenting to the Tax Collector the original certificate showing ownership of said tag and subscribing to an affidavit sufficiently showing that such tag was lost or stolen. The Tax Collector, upon payment of fifty cents, shall issue a properly numbered duplicate tag, and shall keep on file in his office the original affidavit upon which said duplicate tags were issued. (As amended by Ordinance No. 4638 [New Series].)

Section 5. The provisions of this ordinance requiring the licensing of dogs shall not apply to dogs under the age of three (3) months, if kept within a sufficient enclosure, nor to dogs owned by or in custody or under the control of persons not residing in said City and County of San Francisco who are traveling for a period not exceeding thirty (30) days, nor to dogs brought to said City and County of San Francisco exclusively for the purpose of entering the same in any dog show or exhibition, and which are actually entered in and kept at such show or exhibition, nor to dogs owned, kept or controlled by any person, firm or corporation having a permit to keep and maintain a dog kennel, as hereinafter provided, and which dogs are kept enclosed within such dog kennel; and provided, further, that no such unlicensed dogs shall be allowed to run at large.

Section 6. The Department of Public Health may grant to any person, firm or corporation, upon application therefor, a permit, authorizing such applicant to keep and maintain a dog kennel within the City and County of San Francisco, subject to the provisions of Section 7 herein, or ordinances regulating the keeping of animals.

A dog kennel is hereby defined to be any lot, building, structure, enclosure or premises whereon or wherein four or more dogs are kept or maintained for any purpose whatsoever. Such permit may be revoked by the Department of Public Health if the kennel license fee provided hereinafter has not been paid or upon proof that such kennel is a nuisance by reason of loud, frequent or continuous barking or howling of dogs kept therein, or that such dogs are allowed to run at large or that such kennel is not kept in a sanitary condition as approved by the Director of Public Health of the said City and County.

Section 7. Any person, firm or corporation in the City and County of San Francisco granted a permit as hereinbefore provided shall pay to the Tax Collector an annual license fee of ten (10) dollars for the privilege of maintaining such dog kennel. Such annual license shall be for the fiscal year or any part thereof during which said dog kennel shall be maintained, and shall be due and payable in advance on the first day of July of each year, and shall expire on the 30th day of June of the next year, provided the above-mentioned permit has not been revoked.

Section 8. It shall be the duty of the poundkeeper and every police officer while on duty to enforce the provisions of this ordinance requiring owners of dogs to obtain a license for the same.

Section 9. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than five ($5) dollars nor more than twenty-five ($25) dollars, or by imprisonment in the County Jail for not less than twenty-four (24) hours nor more than five (5) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 10. Ordinance No. 3277 (New Series) and all ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

EXPLANATION.

This ordinance is practically the same as the existing ordinance, and has been changed to conform with a State law, "An act to restrict the running of dogs at large, providing for the issuance of dog license tags by counties," etc. (Chapter 757, amended in 1929.)

In Section 2 the words "Purchaser of Supplies" has been substituted for the word "Auditor."

In Section 3, at the end of the paragraph, a sentence has been added prohibiting making or using a counterfeit or imitation license tag.

In Section 4 the amendment simplifies the procedure for a dog owner to obtain a duplicate tag as against the requirement in the present ordinance.

In Section 1 the first sentence has been added, and in Section 5 a change from six months to three months has been made, both to conform with the wording of Section 1 of the State law.

In Section 6 the Department of Health is given the authority to grant permits for maintaining a dog kennel. A definition of such kennel is added to this section.

Section 7 is a new section imposing an annual license for maintaining a dog kennel after receiving a permit.

Section 8 is a new section providing for the enforcement of the provisions requiring owners of unlicensed dogs to obtain a license for the same.

The proper enforcement of this ordinance should result in an increase in revenue for the City. It was presented to this committee by the San Francisco Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and they request its enactment.

(In connection with the foregoing, the Clerk was directed to notify Mr. M. McCurrie, of the S. P. C. A., that the matter was deferred pending conference.)

Public Utilities Commission Requested to Reduce Water Rates to Heavy Users.

Supervisor Gallagher presented the following resolution and, on his motion, the matter was referred to the Public Utilities Committee:

(Code No. ——)

Resolution No. 378, as follows:

Whereas, one of the inferred disadvantages against the City and County of San Francisco in the matter of obtaining new commercial and industrial ventures has been a lack of sufficient water for those kinds of commercial and industrial ventures which use a tremendous gallonage; and

Whereas, several efforts have been made to, coincident with the time when the water from Hetch Hetchy will be available, provide for reduced rates to the above-named institutions; and

Whereas, if it were to be made known that the water rates for heavy industrial users would be as low as possible, and lower than competing cities, the persons seeking to induce said industries, manufacturers and concerns to locate here would have an added talking point; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Public Utilities Commission is requested to, coincident with the arrival of Hetch Hetchy water in our reservoirs, declare a reduction of rates to heavy users of water in the commercial, industrial and manufacturing field, effective one year from date.

Transportation of Flammable Liquid.
(Code No. 11.05)

Bill No. 127, Ordinance No. 11.052, as follows:

Regulating the transportation and delivery of flammable liquid and the construction and operation of tank trucks, vehicles, apparatus and equipment used for the transportation of flammable liquid.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. Definitions: Whenever used in this ordinance the following words are defined as herein specified and shall be deemed and construed to have the meaning ascribed to them in this section. Words and phrases not defined are to be construed according to the general usage of the language.

(a) "Tank truck" shall be held to mean any automobile truck or other vehicle used for the transportation of flammable liquid having a flash point below one hundred (100) degrees Fahrenheit (closed cup tester) and which, for such purpose, is provided with a tank or tanks mounted on the frame or chassis of such automobile truck or vehicle.

(b) "Approved" shall be held to mean in conformity with the requirements of the Fire Marshal of the City and County of San Francisco.

Section 2. Identification and Registration.

(a) Certificate of approval: It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation to hereafter maintain, operate or use a tank truck in the City and County of San Francisco without first obtaining from the Fire Marshal a certificate of approval for such tank truck. The Fire Marshal may refuse to grant and may revoke a certificate of approval for non-compliance with the provisions of this ordinance.

(b) Serial number: Every tank truck granted a certificate of approval shall be given a serial number by the Fire Marshal, and said number shall be painted in an approved manner in places on the tank truck designated by the Fire Marshal.

(c) Marking: Every tank truck shall have prominently displayed on each side and the rear thereof a trade-mark, trade name, other designating mark or legend substantially descriptive of the contents of said tank truck, and generally known to and recognized by the public as being applied to flammable substances.

Section 3. Construction of Tank Trucks.

(a) Capacity: The aggregate capacity of the tank or tanks on any single vehicle shall not exceed three thousand (3000) gallons, and if the capacity of any tank shall exceed six hundred (600) gallons it shall be subdivided into two or more compartments, no one of which shall exceed in capacity six hundred (600) gallons. A tolerance of ten (10) per cent is permitted for individual compartments or tanks, but in no case shall the aggregate capacity of the combined compartments or tanks, including tolerance, exceed three thousand (3000) gallons.

(b) Material: Tanks shall be constructed throughout of open hearth or blue annealed steel, of a thickness not less than number ten (10) United States standard gauge or other approved material, and all joints shall be put together in an approved manner. Heads shall be bilged, or as an alternative shall be two gauges heavier.

(c) Bulkheads: Where liquids of different classes are carried, double bulkheads shall be provided between tank compartments and provision shall be made for draining and ventilating the space between bulkheads.

(d) Liquid Expansion: Each tank compartment shall be equipped with a dome equal in size to three-fourths (¾) of one (1) per cent of the capacity of tank compartment to which it is connected, or an outage marker set at three-fourths (¾) of one (1) per cent. The dome shall not be filled with liquid and tank compartment shall not be filled beyond outage marker.

(e) Vents: Each tank compartment shall be provided with an approved vacuum and pressure-operating vent with a diameter of at least three-fourths (¾) of an inch, and in addition thereto a vent opening with an area of at least two (2) square inches shall be provided, which normally shall be kept closed by an approved device that will open and relieve such internal pressure as may be created by exposure fires.

(f) Mounting: Only metal or hardwood shall be used for tank sills and bolsters. The entire tank structure shall be substantially anchored to the frame of the truck chassis.

(g) Test: Each compartment of the completed tank shall be tested and proven tight at five (5) pounds per square inch minimum pressure.

(h) Fuel Tank: The fuel tank shall not be placed over or adjacent to the engine. It shall be constructed and mounted in such a manner as to present no unusual hazards.

(i) Bumper: Every tank truck shall be provided with a properly attached rear steel bumper or the chassis frame shall be so extended as to afford protection against collision.

(j) Exhaust System: The exhaust system, including muffler and exhaust line, shall have ample clearance from the fuel system and combustible materials, and shall not be exposed to accumulations of grease, oil or gasoline. The exhaust line shall terminate in an approved location remote from the draw-off valves.

(k) Lighting and Wiring: Tank trucks shall not be equipped, with artificial light of any kind other than electricity, and all lighting and low-tension wires shall be in conduit, loom or armored cable. Suitable fuses or other automatic overload protective devices shall be installed in all lighting and low-tension circuits except the ignition and starting motor circuits. All electric lights shall be substantially protected. All wiring shall be supported and protected from mechanical injury, chafing and exposure to or contact with oil, grease or gasoline, and shall be so located as to avoid damage to insulation from heat.

(l) Drag Chains and Bonding: Tank trucks shall be equipped with at least one drag chain or other approved device, long enough to reach the ground, in order to drain off such static electrical charges as may be generated. Spare parts shall be carried on the tank truck and repairs to the chain or device shall be made immediately when not in proper working order. Tank, chassis, axles and springs shall be electrically bonded to take care of static electrical charges.

(m) Draw-off Valves: Withdrawal of flammable liquid from tank trucks shall be by gravity through approved draw-off valves having discharge end threaded or otherwise so designed as to permit of tight connection with hose, and installed in an approved location on the tank truck.

(n) Internal Valves: Each tank compartment shall be equipped with an approved internal valve located inside the shell of the tank in the compartment outlet at the bottom of the tank, and except during delivery operations such valve shall automatically be kept closed. Internal valves shall be operated by an approved method and the controlling device shall be installed close to the draw-off valves. The operating mechanism shall be so designed and constructed as to ensure automatic closing of the internal valves in the event of fire.

(o) Emergency Control: The operating mechanism for such internal valves shall be provided with an approved emergency control remote from the draw-off valves for use in the event of accidents or fire during delivery operations.

(p) Internal Valve Protection: Any pipe work leading from the internal valves shall be so designed as to ensure its failure, in the event of accident, without injury to the internal valves.

Section 4. Miscellaneous Safety Requirements.

(a) Loading Operations: Tank trucks shall be filled from approved storage tanks and equipment only. During filling operations the fill pipe shall be electrically connected to the tank truck by a bond wire attached to a metallic part of the tank. This bond shall be made before removing covers of fill openings. When a funnel is used it shall be so designed as to ensure metallic contact between the fill pipe and tank truck.

(b) Unloading Operations: Delivery of flammable liquid from tank trucks shall be to underground storage tanks or approved portable containers only, and shall be by an approved hose connected to a draw-off valve. Provision shall be made for a continuous electrical conductor between the tank truck and the fill opening of underground tanks and containers. Where delivery by hose is not practical, an approved delivery bucket may be used provided it is substantially made, constructed entirely of metal with a mouth not larger than six (6) inches in diameter and with a capacity not exceeding five (5) gallons. A metallic connection shall be maintained between the bucket and draw-off valve when liquid is withdrawn from tank trucks in this manner. It is prohibited to deliver flammable liquid from tank trucks to fuel tanks of motor vehicles or containers other than herein specified.

(c) Where Deliveries May Be Made: Tank trucks are prohibited inside any building during delivery operations and all containers shall be filled outside of buildings.

(d) Storage and Repairs: Tank trucks are not permitted inside any building except while undergoing repairs or unless the building is used exclusively for the storage of such vehicles. Where flame, fire or other heat is required in repairing any part of the tank truck, tanks shall first be made free of all flammable or explosive vapor and liquid.

(e) Transportation by Tank Truck Only: The transportation by land of flammable liquid with a flash point below one hundred (100) degrees Fahrenheit (closed cup tester) shall be by tank truck only, except when such liquid is transported and delivered in approved sealed containers. Nothing herein shall be construed as applying to the transportation of such liquid in railroad tank cars in accordance with the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

(f) To Whom Deliveries May Be Made: No person, firm, association or corporation shall deliver to another any flammable liquid in violation of the provisions of this ordinance, and no delivery of flammable liquid shall be made unless the person, firm, association or corporation receiving said flammable liquid has the necessary permit for the storing, handling or using of flammable liquid.

(g) Refueling and Shut-Down of Truck Motor: The fuel tank supplying the tank truck motor shall not be filled during the loading or unloading of the tank truck, nor while the tank truck motor is in operation. The tank truck motor shall not be in operation during the loading or unloading of tank truck.

(h) Fire Extinguishers: There shall be maintained on each tank truck at all times at least one fully charged approved portable fire extinguisher located in a readily accessible place.

(i) Leakage: All tanks, valves, pipes, hose and connections shall be tight at all times and shall permit no leakage or spill therefrom. Care shall be exercised while filling underground tanks, portable containers and buckets to prevent the overflow or spilling of flammable liquid.

(j) Smoking and Fire: Smoking is prohibited on a tank truck at all times, and no smoking, flame or fire shall be within twenty-five (25) feet of a tank truck while loading or unloading.

(k) Trailers: It is prohibited to attach a trailer to a tank truck.

(l) Attendance of Operator: The driver, operator or attendant of a tank truck shall be in close proximity to the draw-off valves during unloading operations.

(m) Chock Blocks: Tank trucks shall carry at least one approved chock block, which shall be placed against one of the rear wheels while the vehicle is parked on a grade.

(n) Label on Draw-off Valves: Draw-off valves shall be equipped with a metal tag, plate or label, on which is displayed, in letters not less than one-half (½) inch in height, the name of the particular product in the tank compartment with which such draw-off valve is connected.

Section 5. Rules and Regulations: The Fire Marshal shall have and is hereby vested with authority to make reasonable and necessary rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions hereof, respecting the use, operation, maintenance and construction of tank trucks and the handling of flammable liquid in connection therewith, to carry into effect the intents and purposes of this ordinance.

Section 6. Transport Tank Trucks and Other Vehicles, Apparatus and Equipment Used for the Transportation of Flammable Liquid: The Fire Marshal, in his reasonable discretion, may waive compliance with any of the provisions of this ordinance when affecting tank trucks used either for the transportation of flammable liquid to points outside the City and County of San Francisco or the transportation of flammable liquid into the City and County of San Francisco. However, such tank trucks and vehicles, apparatus or equipment used for the transportation of any class of flammable liquid and for which no regulations are herein provided, shall be constructed, equipped, maintained and operated upon conditions and under such regulations as may be required by the Fire Marshal.

Section 7. Interpretation: The provisions of this ordinance shall be construed to apply equally to tank trucks and other vehicles, apparatus or equipment used for the transportation of flammable liquid in operation prior to the passage of this ordinance; provided, however, that the Fire Marshal, in his reasonable discretion, may waive the reconstructing in whole or in part of such tank trucks, vehicles, apparatus or equipment. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the use, if approved by the Fire Marshal, of any forms of construction, methods of installation, arrangement of design, mode of operation, or manner of delivery which obviously will provide an equal or greater degree of strength, security or safety than called for by the specific provisions of this ordinance.

Section 8. Enforcement: It shall be the duty of the Fire Marshal to enforce the provisions of this ordinance, and to that end he is hereby authorized and empowered to inspect or test a tank truck, or any vehicle, apparatus or equipment used for the transportation of flammable liquid, at any time or place.

Section 9. Penalty: Every person, firm, association or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance or fail to comply therewith, or who shall violate or fail to comply with any rule or regulation made thereunder, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred (500) dollars or by imprisonment in the County Jail for not more than six (6) months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 4. All swill as hereinbefore defined in this ordinance shall be placed by the swill producer as herein defined, upon whose premises the same shall have been produced, in a water-tight metal container of not less than ten gallons net capacity, of a design approved by the Director of Health of the City and County of San Francisco, which container shall be kept clean and shall at all times be proof against the access of flies and rodents to the contents thereof. The contents of such container shall be collected not less than three times a week by the collector and oftener if deemed necessary by the Director of Health, and the collector shall transfer the contents of all containers into the wagon provided therefor without spilling any materials on stairs, walks, yards or streets, and shall on the same day as such swill is collected, dispose of it.

Section 5. The swill collector shall remove the swill from the premises of the swill producers as provided in Section 4 without cost to the swill producer unless the swill shall be produced in sufficient quantity to give it a market value, in which case the price to be paid by the swill collector to the swill producer shall be arrived at by negotiations or by contracts now in force or to be entered into.

Section 6. The body of any vehicle used for the collection of swill shall be metal lined, shall be constructed so as to prevent the contents from falling or spilling therefrom, and shall be provided with a wooden or iron cover. For the business of collecting swill, and/or conveying or transporting the same through the streets, alleys or public ways of the City and County of San Francisco, the license shall be $250 per month, which said license shall be issued by the Tax Collector of the City and County of San Francisco upon a permit obtained from the Director of Health, who shall issue such permit only upon being satisfied that all of the requirements of this ordinance shall be met.

Permits so issued shall be valid for a period of one month and no longer, and may be revoked by the Director of Health whenever it shall appear that the person, firm or corporation doing business by virtue of such permit has failed to comply with any of the terms hereof.

Section 9. The Director of Health of the City and County of San Francisco shall have power to establish rules and regulations, not inconsistent with this ordinance, governing the collections and disposal of swill, provided that such rules and regulations shall have as their purpose the enforcement of the provisions of this ordinance and the health and sanitary laws and ordinances in effect in the City and County of San Francisco.

Section 10. All members of the Police Department and of the Health Department of the City and County of San Francisco are hereby spe-

Imposing a license on dogs and dog kennels, and repealing Ordinance No. 3277 (New Series) and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to own, keep or have control of any dog except as hereinafter provided.

Every person owning, keeping or having control of any dog within the City and County of San Francisco shall pay an annual license of two dollars for each dog so owned, kept or controlled. Such annual license shall be for the fiscal year or any part thereof during which any such dog is so owned, kept or controlled, and shall be payable in advance. (As amended by Ordinance No. 5188 [New Series].)

Section 2. Upon the payment of such license the Tax Collector shall issue a certificate stating the fiscal year for which such license is paid, the date of payment, the name and residence address of the person to whom such license is issued, the name, breed and sex of the dog licensed and the number of the license tag hereinafter provided for. Such certificate shall be delivered to the person paying such license and a duplicate thereof shall be delivered to the keeper of the public pound. All such duplicates shall be kept in the office of the public pound as a part of the records thereof during the fiscal year for which the same are issued. The Tax Collector shall at the same time issue and deliver to the person paying such license a metal tag of such form and design as the Purchaser of Supplies and poundkeeper shall designate, with the words "San Francisco Dog License" and a serial number and the fiscal year for which issued plainly inscribed thereon. The owner or person having control or possession of the dog for which such license has been paid and such tag issued shall attach such license tag to a collar around the dog's neck or to a strap around its leg.

Section 3. It shall be unlawful for any person to remove any such tag from any dog not owned by him or not lawfully in his possession or under his control, or to place on any dog any such license tag not issued as above provided for that particular dog for the then current fiscal year, or to make or to have in possession or to place on a dog any counterfeit or imitation of any license tag provided for in this ordinance.

Section 4. If any license tag shall be lost or stolen, the person owning, possessing or having control of the dog for which the same was issued shall be entitled to receive a duplicate of such tag by presenting to the Tax Collector the original certificate showing ownership of said tag and subscribing to an affidavit sufficiently showing that such tag was lost or stolen. The Tax Collector, upon payment of fifty cents, shall issue a properly numbered duplicate tag, and shall keep on file in his office the original affidavit upon which said duplicate tags were issued. (As amended by Ordinance No. 4638 [New Series].)

Section 5. The provisions of this ordinance requiring the licensing of dogs shall not apply to dogs under the age of three (3) months, if kept within a sufficient enclosure, nor to dogs owned by or in custody or under the control of persons who are non-residents of the City and County of San Francisco, traveling through said City and County, or temporarily sojourning therein for a period not exceeding thirty (30) days, nor to dogs brought to said City and County of San Francisco exclusively for the purpose of entering the same in any dog show or exhibition, and which are actually entered in and kept at such show or exhibition, nor to dogs under treatment in the custody or control of animal hospitals, nor to dogs on sale in duly licensed pet shops, nor to dogs owned, kept or controlled by any person, firm or corporation having a permit to keep and maintain a dog kennel; provided, that such dogs are kept enclosed within such dog kennel; and provided, further, that no unlicensed dogs shall be allowed to run at large.

Section 7. Any person, firm or corporation in the City and County of San Francisco granted a permit for the maintenance and operation of a dog kennel shall pay to the Tax Collector an annual license fee of ten ($10) dollars for the privilege of maintaining such dog kennel. Such annual license shall be for the fiscal year or any part thereof during which said dog kennel shall be maintained, and shall be due and payable in advance on the first day of July of each year, and shall expire on the 30th day of June of the next year, provided the above-mentioned permit has not been revoked.

Section 8. It shall be the duty of the poundkeeper and every police officer while on duty to enforce the provisions of this ordinance requiring owners of dogs to obtain a license for the same.

Section 9. If any section, sub-section, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or invalid, such decision shall not affect the remaining portions of this ordinance. The Board of Supervisors hereby declares that it would have passed this ordinance and each section, sub-section, sentence, clause and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, sub-sections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional or invalid.

Section 10. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than five ($5) dollars nor more than twenty-five ($25) dollars, or by imprisonment in the County Jail for not less than twenty-four (24) hours nor more than five (5) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 11. Ordinance No. 3277 (New Series) and all ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

EXPLANATION.

This ordinance is practically the same as the existing ordinance, and has been changed to conform with a State law, "An act to restrict the running of dogs at large, providing for the issuance of dog license tags by counties," etc. (Chapter 757, amended in 1929.)

In Section 1 the first sentence has been added to conform with the wording of Section 1, Chapter 757, of the State law, amended in 1929.

In Section 2 the words "Purchaser of Supplies" have been substituted for the word "Auditor."

In Section 3, at the end of the paragraph, a sentence has been added prohibiting making or using a counterfeit or imitation license tag.

In Section 4 the amendment simplifies the procedure for a dog owner to obtain a duplicate tag as against the present ordinance.

In Section 5 a change from six months to three months has been made, to conform with the wording of Section 1, Chapter 752, State law, and animal hospitals and licensed pet shops are included in the dog license exemption provision of this section of the ordinance.

Section 6 is a definition of a dog kennel.

Section 7 is a new section, imposing an annual license for maintaining a dog kennel after receiving a permit.

Section 8 is a new section, providing for the enforcement of provisions requiring owners of unlicensed dogs to obtain a license for the same.

Note: The proper enforcement of this ordinance should result in an increase in revenue for the City. It was presented to this Committee by the San Francisco Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and they request its enactment.

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Brown, Canepa, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, McSheehy, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Stanton—12.

On recommendation of Joint Charter Installation and Health Committee.

Bill No. 141, Ordinance No. 3.04112, as follows:

An ordinance imposing a license tax on wholesale peddlers of vegetables and other food products, defining such wholesale peddlers, providing for identification of vehicles operated by such licensed wholesale peddlers, requiring a permit to be issued by the Chief of Police and a bond to be filed by each such licensed wholesale peddler, exempting growers and producers from certain provisions of said ordinance, providing for the renewal and the revocation of said permits, providing for certain penalties for violation thereof, and repealing Ordinance No. 8374 (New Series), entitled "An ordinance imposing a license tax on wholesale peddlers of vegetables and other food products," approved March 7, 1929.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of a wholesale peddler, peddling vegetables, butter, eggs, cheeee, poultry, dressed meats, fish, shellfish, game, berries, fruits, nuts and other perishable foodstuffs at wholesale, shall pay an annual license to the City and County of San Francisco in the sum of five hundred ($500) dollars. Said license shall be paid at the time of issuance thereof.

Section 2. For the purpose of this ordinance a wholesale peddler is defined to be and include all persons, both principal and agent, and all firms, corporations, partnerships or any other joint or singular enterprise engaged in by a person or persons not having a regular fixed and established place of business in the City and County of San Francisco, who travel from place to place or have a stand upon any public street, sidewalk or alley or any other place, doorway of any room or building, unenclosed or vacant lot or parcel of land, and who sells, or exhibits or offers for sale, any of the commodities or products mentioned herein to dealers for the purposes of resale, or to any restaurant, hotel or public institution within the City and County of San Francisco. The person or firm so engaged shall not be relieved from the provisions of this section by reason of association, temporarily, with any local dealer, trader, merchant or auctioneer, or by conducting any temporary business in connection with, or as a part of, or in the name of any local dealer, trader, merchant or auctioneer. Any sale by a peddler to a dealer, for the purpose of resale, or to a restaurant, hotel or public institution, shall classify him as a wholesale peddler, and in addition to being guilty of a violation of this ordinance, he shall be liable for the difference between that which he paid for a license as a peddler and what he should pay as a wholesale peddler.

Section 3. Each such peddler shall have his name, address and number of his license printed conspicuously on both sides of his truck or other vehicle in letters and figures not less than three (3) inches in height, and he shall always carry the permit hereinafter provided for with him and shall exhibit the same whenever required by any police or other officer authorized by the laws of the City and County of San Francisco. Every wholesale peddler peddling exclusively any of said commodities or products produced or grown by him shall, in addition to the foregoing requirements, and in lieu of a license number, print the word "grower" in letters of like height in connection with the lettering and figuring herein required, and the permit hereinafter provided for issued to every such peddler by the Chief of Police shall have the word "grower" printed in conspicuous letters thereon.

Section 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to engage in the calling of a wholesale peddler within said City and County without having first obtained a permit from the Chief of Police thereof upon a written application and after a hearing thereon, and without first having filed a bond and paid the license fee provided for in this or other ordinances.

Section 5. Upon payment of the license fee to the Tax Collector of said City and County he shall issue a numbered license to such wholesale peddler, but no license shall be issued by the Tax Collector to any such wholesale peddler until and unless the aforementioned permit has been issued and such applicant shall have first filed with the Controller of the City and County of San Francisco, and the same has been approved by said Controller, a liability insurance policy or bond, executed by the applicant, as principal, and a surety company, qualified and authorized to do business in California, as surety, in the sum of $5,000, to adequately protect the interests of said City and County and the public in the particulars hereinafter set forth; which policy of insurance or other bond shall bind the obligors thereunder that such applicant shall fully comply with the provisions of this ordinance and with the provisions of all other applicable ordinances of said City and County and the statutes of the State of California regulating or concerning the sale of the commodities or products in this ordinance mentioned, by peddlers, and shall pay all judgments rendered against such applicant for any violation thereof to the person recovering such judgment, and shall pay all judgments rendered against the applicant for injuries to persons and loss or damage to property resulting from the negligent operation of the business of such peddler within said City and County of San Francisco, and shall pay all judgments recovered by any person against said applicant arising out of any misrepresentation or deception practiced upon any person transacting business with said applicant as such peddler within said City and County; and any person injured by such negligent operation of said business or having a claim or cause of action as herein provided shall have a right of action directly on said policy or bond.

Section 6. Sections 1, 2, 4 and 5 of this ordinance shall not apply to any grower or producer of any of the commodities specified herein who peddles said commodities or products produced and grown by him, except as in this section provided. Such grower or producer shall be required to obtain the permit herein provided for, but shall be entitled to such permit without the payment of said license fee; provided, however, that such grower or producer shall first file with the Chief of Police of the City and County of San Francisco, in connection with his application for a permit, an affidavit setting forth his name and address, the amount and variety of produce he proposes to sell, the place where said produce is grown or produced, and that said produce was actually grown and produced by him; provided, however, that any peddler, as herein defined, or grower, as herein defined, who shall engage in the business of such peddling, shall not remain in any one place upon a street, alley or sidewalk in the City and County of San Francisco, or between the same two (2) blocks on any street in the City and County of San Francisco, or opposite the same block on the same street in the City and County of San Francisco, or within the same block upon any alley in the City and County of San Francisco, or within the area of any market district where wholesalers of the commodities or products herein specified, having a fixed and established place of business, are concentrated for the purpose of transacting their business, in the City and County of San Francisco, for more than thirty (30) minutes at one time while actually engaging in such business of peddling.

Section 7. Any permit issued under and pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance shall remain in force for the period of one year from and after the date of its issuance unless sooner revoked, and any person, firm or corporation desiring to renew any permit issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance shall make application to the Chief of Police of the City and County of San Francisco for the renewal thereof, which application for renewal shall be made in the same manner as for the issuance of said original permit.

Section 8. Any permit issued pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance may be revoked by the Chief of Police for any violation of the conditions of said permit or for any violation of this ordinance by the holder of said permit. Before any permit shall be revoked by the Chief of Police, notice in writing shall be given to the holder of said permit of the time and place of hearing the matter of the revocation of said permit, which said notice shall briefly state the reasons for revoking said permit, and shall be mailed to the holder of said permit at his place of business or residence, as the same appears on his application for said permit, and when said notice is so mailed the Chief of Police shall have power, upon hearing the matter of the revocation of said permit, to revoke the same or make any order in the premises as may be proper.

Section 9. Any person, firm or corporation that shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed five hundred ($500) dollars or by imprisonment in the County Jail for not more than six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Each day or fraction thereof any person, firm, association or corporation shall be engaged in such business without a license shall be considered as a separate and distinct offense.

Section 10. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The Board of Supervisors hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Section 11. Odinance No. 8374 (New Series), entitled "An ordinance imposing a license tax on wholesale peddlers of vegetables and other products," approved March 7, 1929, is hereby repealed.

ROLL CALL FOR THE INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS, BILLS AND COMMUNICATIONS NOT CONSIDERED OR REPORTED UPON BY A COMMITTEE.

Conference for Action on Appropriation of $350,000 for Agricultural District 1-A.

Supervisor Gallagher presented:

Resolution No. 383, as follows:

That, Whereas, the Legislature of the State of California did, at its last session, enact Senate Bill No. 339, which was, by the Hon. James Rolph, Jr., Governor of the State of California, signed on the 9th day of June, 1931, and

Whereas, by said enactment of said Legislature, there was appropriated to Agricultural District 1-A, comprising San Francisco and San Mateo counties, the sum of $250,000, to be used for the construction of a suitable building for livestock exposition purposes, and

Whereas, said appropriation is not available for said use and purposes until

(1) A like amount has been subscribed and paid into Agricultural District for said purpose by either public or private subscription, and

(2) The said district owns in fee a site for said exposition building, and

Whereas, the City and County of San Francisco has not, up to this time, appropriated any sum of money whatsoever for said purpose, and in accordance with the plain intent and spirit of said statute, and

Whereas, no subscription has been made for said purpose to said district by any private individual, firm or corporation, and although serious and determined effort has been put forth by the trustees of said district to secure private subscriptions, it is now well understood that procuring said private subscriptions at this time, owing to the present financial condition, is impossible, and

Whereas, a determined effort will be made by certain State Senators and Assemblymen from other districts of California to have said enactment repealed and said sum of $250,000 put back into the general fund of the State of California, and this because of the present agitation for economy in government and lower taxation, and the desire of said legislators to make use of said return of said money for the purpose of lowering said State tax rate, and

Whereas, there is imminent and immediate danger of this sum of one-quarter of a million dollars being lost to the counties of San Francisco and San Mateo unless immediate action be taken by the Board of Supervisors to avert this great loss to our City, and

Whereas, the only way that this can be done is to provide a sufficient sum to purchase a site for said exposition, estimated to be $100,000, and $250,000 to match the amount of money so appropriated as aforesaid, and

Whereas, James Rolph, Jr., the Governor of the State of California, has, in recognition of his interests in this project, appointed 8 representative and prominent citizens of said counties as trustees of said district, who have met, organized, and by the election of officers under the law, are now functioning, and in all respects fully capable of economically expending said money to the best interests of the public of the State of California, and of constructing said exposition building, and

Whereas, said proposed improvement is permanent in its character, and is of great educational value, not only to the citizens of both counties, but particularly to the school children thereof, and

Whereas, livestock expositions and horse shows are most popular in San Francisco, and are enjoyed by the great body of our citizens as well as by the wealthy members thereof, and

Whereas, the erection of said building for livestock purposes and the holding of livestock shows therein will be of tremendous and lasting importance to the livestock industry of San Francisco and the nation, and

Whereas, the livestock industry is the third largest basic industry in the State of California, and

Whereas, the very center and heart of said industry is located in our City, and

Whereas, the following named associations, civic and improvement clubs and private and public institutions have endorsed this project, and are most insistent that San Francisco immediately provide said appropriation of $350,000 and make sure of this project for our City by the aforesaid appropriation:

Park-Presidio Improvement Association,
Haight-Ashbury Improvement Association,
Glen Park Community Association,

Excelsior Merchants Association,
Southern Council of Civic Clubs,
Central Council of Civic Clubs,
Eureka Valley Promotion Association,
The 23rd Assembly District Club,
East & West of Castro Improvement Club,
Visitacion Valley Improvement Club,
San Francisco Chamber of Commerce,
Down Town Association,
San Francisco Advertising Club; and

Whereas, by and from the experience of other cities in our nation, such as Chicago, Kansas City, Denver, Colo., Omaha, Portland, Ore., and Los Angeles, it is proven that the revenues to the business interests of our City by reason of the holding of international livestock and horse shows, exhibitions and expositions, in said building to be so erected, will exceed $1,000,000 per year, all of which incoming capital will be expended in our City by not only the exhibitors at said shows, but the visitors as well, and

Whereas, in this time of stress and unemployment, starting construction of this project will not only encourage and hearten our citizenry, but will provide 125,000 days of labor for the unemployed of our City, and

Whereas, it is the policy of the trustees of said district to maintain popular prices upon the sale of tickets to said shows and expositions to the end that the public can enjoy these shows at a minimum cost, and

Whereas, the said building under the present plans and specifications tentatively under consideration will house 2000 head of cattle, 600 head of fine show and trotting horses, 1000 head of sheep and 1000 head of swine. This building will have permanent seats for 12,000, and upon occasion, when necessary, can be conveniently enlarged to seat 17,000 people, affording each patron a clear and unobstructed view of the exposition, there being no posts or pillars in this vast structure, and

Whereas, San Francisco has not kept pace with other cities in providing buildings of this character to care for a crowd of such proportions and is now sorely in need of such a structure, not only for livestock purposes, but for general and sundry uses, and

Whereas, there is now before the people of San Francisco a proposed bond issue of $6,500,000, which will be voted upon and favorably, for the relief of the unemployed of our City on the 30th day of August, 1932, and

Whereas, if said bond issue is carried there will be available the sum of $700,000 out of the million dollars heretofore voted by this Board of Supervisors for unemployment relief, out of which said appropriation of $350,000 for said district can be appropriated for the above and foregoing purpose without increasing the tax rate 4.04 per cent; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That his Honor the Mayor be and he is hereby requested to immediately call a conference of the members of this Board, the trustees of Agricultural District 1-A, and representatives of civic and improvement organizations and clubs and associations, which have heretofore endorsed this proposed appropriation, to the end that as a result of said conference the Finance Committee of this Board may, within a period of one week, recommend to the Board measures calculated to make the sum of $350,000 available to Agricultural District 1-A, and thereby avert the imminent danger of the loss of this fund and splendid project to the communities of San Francisco and San Mateo.

Referred to Joint Finance and Public Buildings Committee.

Clerk was directed to send copies of foregoing resolution to organizations listed therein and to each director of Agricultural District No. 1-A.
